Report of the Secretary of War. The report of the Secretary of War.

The report of the Hon. Simon Cameron, Secretary of War, occupies nearly fourteen closely printed cotavo pages. It sets out with a statement of the entire estimated strength of the army, both volunteers and regulars, as follows: Three months' men 77,875, and for the war 640,637—aggregate 718,512. Maryland is put down at 7000 for the war, the District of Columbia 2823 three months and 12,000 for the war; Yirginia 779 three months and 12,000 for the war; Pennsylvania 19,199 three months and 94,760 for the war; New York 10,188 three months and 100,200 for the war; Massachusetts 3435 three months and 26,760 for the war, and other States in months and 26,760 for the war, and other States in proportion.

The strength of the regular army, including new enlistments under the July act of Congress, is estimated at 20,334, making an aggregate of volunteers and regulars for the war of 650,971. The several arms of the service are estimated as follows:

640,637 20,334 660,971 The appropriations asked for the service of the fiscal year are computed for a force of 500,000 men. The numerical strength of the cavalry force is now greater than is required, and as it can only be maintained at a great cost, measures will be taken for its gradual reduction.

Congress, at its late extra session, authorized the acceptance of 500,000 volunteers, and appropriated $500,000,000 for their support, but so numerous were the offers of volunteers it is believed 1,000,000 men could have been obtained, had there been authority to accept their services. It will, says the Secretary, be now for Congress to say whether the army shall be further augmented, with a view to a more speedy termination of the war. If confined to the present limit fixed by law, it is proposed to consolidate such termination of the war. If confined to the present limit fixed by law, it is proposed to consolidate such of the regiments as may from time to time fall below the regulation standard, and thus reduce the number of officers and expenses of the army.

The report speaks in high terms of the efficiency already shown by the volunteers; refers to the wonderful strength of our institutions in the people so readily gathering together such an immense army, without resort to conscriptions, levies, drafts, or other extraordinary expedients; says the rebellion extends over an area of 733,144 square miles, possessing a coast line of 3523 miles, and a shore line of 25,414 miles, with an interior boundary line of 7031 miles in length. miles in length.

The battle of Bull Run is briefly referred to, and

The battle of Bull Run is briefly referred to, and the result declared to be "the natural consequence of the premature advance of our brave but undisciplined troops, which the impatience of the country demanded." Other early reverses, some of no permanent advantage to the enemy, are referred to; but he says, "the possession of Western Virginia, and the occupation of Hatteras and Beaufort, have nobly redeemed our transient reverses."

The early position of Maryland, Delaware, Kontucky, Missouri and Western Virginia, is next reviewed, and their present condition pointed to with pride, as showing the increasing progress of loyalty to the Union. No doubt is entertained that the army on the Potomac, under its able leader, will soon on the Potomac, under its able leader, will soon nake such a demonstration as will re-establish its make such a demonstration as will re-establish its authority throughout all the rebellious States.

It is suggested that the President be empowered to send commissioners with the army with power to enforce obligations of contracts and the collection of debts due to loyal citizens, in districts where the civil power has ceased to exist.

The deficiency of arms and munitions of war at the commencement of the rebellion is alluded to, and the measures taken to procure a supply are set forth. In addition to the large contracts made in this country, two millions of dollars were sent to Europe forth. In addition to the large contracts made in this country, two millions of dollars were sent to Europe for further additions, a part of which has been received. The policy of the War Department, however, has been to encourage the capital, enterprise and skill of our own people in this direction.

Congress is urged to authorize the establishment of a national foundry, at some point of facility, for the manufacture of heavy artillery. The reorganization of the millitia of the country upon a uniform basis is also recommended. The States should, it is urged, be aided in organizing, arming and disciplining them.

The naval expeditions were, it seems, planned after receiving the reports of a board of officers, who deliberated on the best points to be attacked and seized. This board consisted of Captains S. F. The Secretary reports that Flag-officer A. H. Foote, of the navy, has organized an efficient naval force in the Mississippi, auxiliary to the army.

Of privateers, the report states that "such of these cruisers as eluded the blockade and capture were cr cruisers as eluded the blockade and capture were soon wrecked, becaused or sunk, with the exception of one, the steamer Sunter, which by some fatality one of the passes of the Mississippi, and after a brief and feeble chase by the latter was allowed to proceed on her piratical voyage. An investigation of this whole occurrence has been ordered by the Depart ment.

The Secretary fully sustains the act of Capt.
Wilkes in capturing Mason and Slidell. He says The prompt and decisive action of Captain Wilkes on this occasion merited and received the emphatic approval of the department, and if a too generous forbearance was exhibited by him in not capturing the vessel which had these robel emissaries capturing the vessel which had these robel emissaries on board, it may, in view of the special circumstances, and of its patriotic motives, be excused; but it must by no means be permitted to constitute a precedent hereafter for the treatment of any case of similar infraction of neutral obligations by foreign vessels engaged in commerce or the carrying trade. There were, on the 4th of March last, in commission and at the service of the Secretary of the Navy, only 42 vessels, carrying 555 guns, and 7600 men.—There are to-day in commission, 246 vessels, carrying 2557 guns, and over 22,000 men. This is an immonse work to do in little more than eight months. Besides this, there will be ready very shortly, fifty-two

On the slavery question the Secretary says nothing, but the following, "on the employment of fugitives," will show that he proposes to protect loyal men, and arrest insurgents, without asking if they be black or white. He says:

"In the coastwise and blockading duties of the navy, it has not been unfrequent that fugitives from insurrectionary places have sought our ships for refuge and protection, and our naval commanders have applied to me for instruction as to the proper disposition which should be made of such refugees. My answer has been that, if insurgents, they should be handed over to the custody of the Government; but if, on the contrary, they were free from any voluntary participation in the rebellion, and sought the shelter and protection of our flag, they should be cared for, and employed is some useful manner, and might be enlisted to serve on our public vessels or in our navy yards, receiving wages for their labor. or in our navy yards, receiving wages for their labor. The appropriation for defences in 1861 was $5.391,-300 63, while the amount estimated to be required from the Treasury for 1860, is $3,145,000.

The whole number of ordinary dead letters received and examined during the year was about 2,550,000.

The number of these letters containing money, which were registered and sont out during the year ending June 30, 1861, was 10,580.

The number of dead letters returned unopened to foreign countries during the fiscal year was 111,147, which, added to the number of domastic letters (103,880,) sent out as above, gives the whole number sent out from the dead letter office for the year, 215,033.

Much other valuable data is given on this subject, and it is worthy of remark that out of 76,769 letters, before alluded to, originating in the loyal States, and addressed to residents of disloyal States, 40,000 could not be returned, either because the signature of the writer was incomplete, or because the letter contained no clue to his residence. The experience of the Department shows that a large proportion of domestic letters written by educated persons, and particularly women, are deficient in one or both of these respects.

In view of these and other facts the Postmaster General suggests that valuable dead letters, when returned to their owners, should be charged with treble the ordinary rate of postage, comprising one rate for return transportation to the dead letter office, one rate for registration there, and one rate for return transportation to the dead letter office, one rate for registration there, and one rate for return transportation to the dead letter office, one rate for registration there, and one rate for return transportation to the dead letter office, one rate for registration there, and one rate for return transportation to the dead letter office, one rate for return transportation to the dead letter office, one rate for return transportation of the dead letter, with distinct of the dead letter office, one rate for return transportation of the dead letter, with other useful provisions.

The Postmaster General has accepted the offer made in 1857 by Great Britain for a reduction of the international rate between the two countries on letters from twenty-four to twelve cents, which, however, has not yet gone into operation, as it awaits the response of the British office.

It is recommended that the law making obligatory the discharge of minors, who may enlist without the consent of their parents, should be repealed, and the subject left to the regulations of the War Department, or to the civil tribunals of the country. Ag Age and Debility.—As old age comes creeping on, it brings with it many attendant infirmities. Loss of appetite and weakness impair the health, and want of activity makes the mind discontented and unhappy. In casas where old age adds its inflence, it is almost impossible to add vigor and health, and aithough many remedies have been tried, all have failed, until Euchare's Holland Bitters were known and used. In every cass where they have been employed, they have invariably given strength and restored the appetite. They have become a great agent for this alone, and are used by many people who are suffering from loss of appetite and general debility. In cases to long standing chronic diseases, they act as a charm, invigorating the system, thus giving nature another opportuoity to repair physical injuries.

All who are suffering from Sore Throat, Coughs and Colds, should use the Makora Arabica, discovered by a missionary in Arabia.

All who are suffering from Asthma, Scrofula and Impurities of the Blood should use the Makora Arabica, discovered by a missionary in Arabia.

It cures Consumption.

It cures Sore Throat, Coughs and Colds.

It cures Sore Throat, Coughs and Impurities of the Blood. This unequalled remedy is now for the first time introduced to the public.

It was providentially discovered by a missionary while traveling in Arabia. He was cured of Consumption by its use after his case was pronounced hopeless by learned physicians in Europe.

He has forwarded to us in writing, a full account of his own extraordinary cure, and of a number of other cures which have come under his observation, and also a full account of the medicine.

At his request, and impelled by a desire to extend a knowledge of this remedy to the public, we have had his communication printed in pamphlet form for free distribution. Its interest is enhanced by an account which he gives of some of the scenes of Syrian massacres, which he obtained from those who suffered in that awful tragedy.

This pamphlet may be obtained at our office, or it will be sent free by mail to all who apply for it.

We import the MAKORA ARABICA direct from Smyrua, shrough the house of Cleon & Gylippus, and we have always on hand a full supply put up in bottles ready for use with full directions.

Price one dollar per bottle. Sent by mail, on receipt of price, and 22 cents for postage.

HIGHLY USEFUL INVENTION

A HIGHLY USES --WM. ELLMAKER, of New Helland, Lancaster county, Chained Letters Patent the 22d of October, 1861, for a WM. ELLMAKER, of New Helland, Lancaster county, Pa., obained Letters Patent the 22d of October, 1861, for a valuable improvement in a SELF-ACTING CARRIAGE BRAKE.

This is just the thing wanted on our hilly roads. The arrangement is so simple, cheap, and performs its duty with such certainty, locking just in proportion to the steepness of the hill, by the pressure of gravitation, and that, too, by a gradual bearing, relieving the horse from a sudden jerk, as well as to prevent the raising of the shafts, and again re-acting with equal case to the horse, by means of a spiral spring, making it altogether the most complete and desirable appendage that could be applied to carriages.

The simplicity, cheapness, and certainty of performing its duty faithfully, without being liable to get out of repair, and its ready adaptation to all classes of vehicles, makes this Invention peculiarly desirable, and will not fail to recommend it to every beholder, and bids fair to come into general use.

37 Rights can be had by calling on or addressing the subscriber at New Holland, Lancaster county, Pa.

J. C. Ayra & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to seknowledge what your Saraparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infaction. I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomech. Two, years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and lostinome beyond description. I tried many medicines and servard physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grow worse. At length I was reduced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fall off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tall you, that I hold you to be one of the spottles of the age, and remain ever gratefully.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes; "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Saraparilla a most excellent alterative in the nuncrous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Funde Disease; of the Scrotulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhear by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was some cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements?

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous overrian tumor on one of the Gemales in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

New Obleans, 25th August, 1869.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Veneral and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilite ulcars in his threat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his month. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulcaration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I beliave the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcars healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excurded entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours,

G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

INDERSDENCE, Prestoi Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. Ayer. Str. I have been afflicted with a gainful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Saraaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Antes Y. Getchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and overy thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

This is a renely so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of threat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmenary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth.
Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtlet and dangerous disorders of the threat and lungs.
As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of his remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.
