A GREAT BATTLE FOUGHT. A telegram from the Southwest reports : very bloody battle having been fought at Somerset, Kentucky, on Saturday last, between the Union forces under Gen. Schoep and the rebels commanded by Gen. Zollicoffer.-The battle lasted all day, with heavy loss on both sides-among the killed was Gen. Zollicoffer. The Rebels were defeated, and retreated in confusion. No particulars given.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION. The Democratic State Committee met at Buehler's Hotel, in Harrisburg, on Wednesday last, agreeably to the call of the Chairman, and adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the next Democratic Convention be held in the City of Harrisburg on Friday, the 4th of July next, at 10 o'clock,

We have always regarded | Congress clearly showed its hand on Tuesday that day as entirely too early to open the campaign; and in the present unsettled state of the Nation, when new questions are constantly springing up, and when the rebellion The speech of Mr. DAWES, of Mass., which requires the undivided attention of the people, there were the strongest reasons against hasty action. By the Fourth of July we may be able to see our way clearly out of existing complications. The Convention will be called upon to nominate candidates for Auditor General and for Surveyor General."

THE CHANGE IN THE CABINET. The appointment of EDWIN M. STANTON to the head of the War Department, will be hailed with joy all over the Union. Able, honest and incorruptible, he will infuse new energy into the Army, and we may now hope that omy are established in all the high places of is the restoration of the Union. Convince the the war against rebellion will be conducted in earnest. He will also, doubtless, dispense with the services of numerous contractors and peculators, and thus infuse confidence into the minds of the people, who will cheerfully contribute of their means to sustain the Government when they know that it will be honestly expended. President LINCOLN, in thus changing the head of the War Department, has shown his good sense and conservatism, and his determination to cut loose from the Abolition wing of his own party in order to save the country. He will be sustained by the honest and conservative masses of all parties, and his administration will become popularized before the cavalry regiments, at an expense of half a country. The President himself is, doubtless, an honest man, and with an honest Cabinet he will be able to conduct the Government with credit to himself and advantage to the Nation.

THE CHANGES IN THE CABINET. ; The Boston Courier, under the head of "Gratifying News," in a double leaded editorial, says: "The resignation of Mr. Cameron will give profound satisfaction to almost all classes of American citizens. For a very long period the event has been hoped for, and indeed loudly called for, by men of every class of political opinion. The cry has been moderate, at times, but never completely smothered. It is unnecessary to recapitulate reasons so generally understood, affecting Mr. Cameron official conduct in a way to excite extraordi nary comment and indignation. But, at the time of the manifest disagreement between the President and himself, and of certain action in regard to his Report which seemed incapable of palliation, and for which none that we know of was ever offered-it was felt that his retirement was unavoidable, even if deferred for a time, upon reasons of a public nature. * * * * We can but express the hope, that Mr. Cameron's resignation will be followed by that of others, so that eventually, and before long, the President may have a Cabinet acting in concert with him, and held back, neither by party relations nor fallacious personal schemes, from heartily adopt ing that clear and honestly patriotic policy, which would soon win the general confidence, and lay the foundations of restored Union." The Boston Daily Advertiser thus quietly announces the retirement of Mr. Cameron :

"The resignation of Mr. Cameron will take the country by surprise. Indeed, we are disposed to take it as one of the important events which it has been universally predicted the this week must bring forth. It has been reported that of late there has been some division in the Cabinet, but its extent or grounds have been wisely kept private; and is merely a conjecture that now as Mr. Cameron's resignation to any such cause.

It is too early yet to judge his administration of the department, but we need hardly say that it has been the subject of severe criticism and even suspicion. What real ground there has been for the latter we do not know, but it certain that there has long been a want o absolute confidence in the Secretary, which in England would probably have led to his resig nation some time since.". The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, under date of January 14 telegraphs:

"Washington has not been in such a fernent since the day after Bull Run as it has last night and to-day. The crowds who are here for good or evil still stand agape at the great change which has darted across the political firmament like a meteor. The suddenness of the change, and its fitness, are fruitful sources of discussion on every corner. "It is of course impossible to give all the improbable and extravagant stories that are affont from mouth to mouth. Mr. Lincoln has not been unmindful of the popular dissatis faction with the administration of the War Department during the nation's struggle for its existence. Charges have been made, evidence has been produced, and conviction forced on the reluctant mind of the Executive, that the War Office was a quicksand that would absorb every dollar that a prostrate and writhing nation could throw into it. The trouble has been to muster courage to make the change. But the voice of the oole ha at last forced a change which is for the lasting good of the Republic. There are many who attempt to defend Secretary Cameron from honest and economical administration, or they ship for both is shown in the annexed extract any complicity with the corruptions which festered in his Department; but allowing him the most charitable exculpation from any personal interest in such matters, the fact still exists that he permitted a horde of sharpers and plunderers, whose names had become infamous at Harrisburg, to stand around his lobbies and frequent his apartments with suspicious intimacy, ready to sell their own honor and the best interests of the nation.

"It is now pretty well settled that Caleb B. Smith; of Indiana, will take a seat upon the Supreme Bench as soon as the bill for its reorganization passes Congress. Schuyler Colfax will no doubt take his place as the of the nation. The selection will give satisfaction to the people, and add to the confidence now felt in the Administration. There seems

Lest there should be any weak kneed Demcrats, whose patriotic impulses incline them Auditor General for 1861, the following stateto enter the trap about to be set by the Republican leaders, we direct their attention to the following terms of admission to the new party, as stated in the columns of the Harris-$ 1.858 68

Therefore, a union with 120 00 that wing of the Democracy is of the most 66 49 simple as well as practical character. It re-quires no invitation on the part of the Republican party, provided the men who thus boast of their adhesion to a principle are honest, and 88 50 if there is any renunciation to be made, it must be declared by these same Democrats, 84.770 29 who would be expected to give up all their own preferences with regard to men, all their corrupt 4.765 32 predilections on the subject of organizat and come into the enthusiastic ranks of the Republican party, with those principles of high regard for the Union and respect for the Con-114 00 368 75 stitution, which have so far rendered these men decent in the eyes of their countrymen, 38 00 and which act would give them a position in the politics of the Union which no struggle or 591 85 covenant of their own, as a separate organization, could possibly accomplish. But to ask 365 72 the Republican party to give up one idea of its sublime principles—to ask them to surrender a 383 03 842 00 single feature of its creed or compromise its or-1.265 14 ganization to conciliate any man or set of men. 402 40 would be as ridiculous and as unholy as the emendation of the Lord's prayer, by omitting 101 27 the injunction against stealing to conciliate the

We commend the above to the particular 180 00 consideration of the Union Democrats in the House of Representatives, who were treated to so many sugary words before the officers 10 00 and patronage of the Legislature were distri-buted. The terms of admission to the new 10 00 party are quite easy, providing the applicants 10 00 are honest-that point is insisted upon-and 50 00 are willing to give up their principles and come into the Republican party. Of course 250 00 there will be a perfect rush for admission upon such accommodating terms ! We think that we see Democrats by scores and by hundreds petitioning for admission into the Republican

3 68 THE WAR UPON THE TREASURY.

In the U.S. Senate on Tuesday week, 7 42 pending the consideration of the West Point Cadet bill,

Mr. WILSON, of Mass., was ready to abandon the bill, on the ground of economy. He thought we should immediately begin to economize, and, if necessary, reduce all the salaries in the army. But on no other ground would he vote against the bill. Mr. NESHITH, of Oregon, was glad to hear an argument for the sake of economy. We had the gratifying spectacle of half a million of men ready to make war on the rebels, and another half million waiting to steal something. He thought it would be better to emulate the example of Napoleon and elevate

47 56 the thieves on the Treasury by the neck. Mr. HALE, of N. H., said there was an army 25 36 ready to war on the Treasury, and they had already made a brilliant campaign. He (Hale) said it with shame, that many of the 1.102 78 676 11 highest officers of the government were not exempt from the censure which ought to rest on this army. He thought it would have to come to punishing the thieves on the Treas-4.212 44 ury by death. We must practice economy. He (Hale) would do anything to wake the 37 17 500 Ŏ0 government to the sense of the evil of the 100 00 attacks; on the Treasury. Something must be done to purge the government of the thieves and robbers on the Treasury, or else 2 00 we should have a rebellion in the North. He 140 80 declared that if the war was not against the rebels on the other side, it should be against the plunderers on this side. He called on every man who thought he had a country to defend it against blows more deadly than those struck by the rebels. The peril is at ourselves. He thought we home among should immediately levy a tax of two hundred million dollars, and see to it that it was

BISHOP STEVENS.—The Philadelphia North American, speaking of the ordination of Rev. FRANCE D. HOSKINS, of this city, says: Bishop Struxus is already warm in his responsible seat as assistant bishop of this important diocese. Since his ordination he has several times administered the rite of confirmation. On Sunday morning (12th inst.) he performed his first task in ordain-ing a candidate for the ministry of the Gospel. The ordi-nation took pisce at Grace Church, corner of Twelfth and Cherry streets. The licentiate was Rev. Francis D. Hos-kins, of St. John's Free Church, Lancaster, elevated from deaconship to the preisthood. The church was crowded at an early hour, and the services were conducted with all that solemnity which marks the beautiful ritual of the Church of Eugland. Bishop Struxus was assisted by a number of the clergy. The Bishop is a speaker, as every one knows, of rare acquirements. To hear him read the service, aside from its devotional advantage, is in itself a treat. If inarything can inspire a man with derontness, participation in prayers led by a voice of such sweetness, and marked with such sincerity of manner, should cer-tainly do it. THE UNKNOWN DEAD.—A telegram from Louisville, to the Adams' Express Agent in this dty, an-nounces that the corpse marked H. Lishey, received hare on Saturday week, should have been sent to Greencastle, Franklin county, Pa. Messra. Lewis Haidy and George L. Boyle, who had generously taken charge of the body, re-mored it from the receiving valit at Woodward Hill, where it had been placed by them on Tuesday, and for-warded it to its proper destination. The friends of the deceased will no doubt feel very grateful to those who dealt kindly with the remains of the stranger, and ceased not from their efforts until the soldier's corpse had been restored to his own family.

THE HOWARD ETENNES.--MP. B. H. HER-SHET, of Millersville, delivered the last locture before the Howard, and it was an able defence of Political Parties when used for wise purposes. UNITED AGAIN.

The meeting of the Democratic State Committee, says the Harrisburg Patriot, was harmonious re-union of temporarily estranged political friends. The leading supporters of DougLAS and BRECKINRIDGE, in the unfortunate contest of last fall, met together as brethren, forgetful of past dissensions, and solicitous for the success of those great constitutional principles which form the basis of the Demoest degree calculated to mar the harmony of spirit of investigation and anxiety which will the proceedings. The same spirit manifested in the Committee prevails throughout the Democratic ranks in Pennsylvania. It is once more a united and harmonious party; and when it is thus united it is invincible.

A GOOD MOVEMENT.

On Tuesday last, Mr. HOPKINS, of Washington county, offered the following resolution in the House, which was adopted :

Resolved, That the Committee on the Judiciary be instructed to bring in a bill for the repeal of the act of last session, entitled "An Act for the Commutation of Tonnage Duties." We are sincerely rejoiced that Col. HOPKINS has made an early move in this matter. When the bill is reported, as contemplated by the resolution, it will be seen who are in favor and who against the interests of the Commonwealth. There can be no dodging on the question of repeal. Certain Senators and Representatives will then have to show their hands, and let their constituents know where they stand.

extravagant expenditures of the War Department, says that the Secretary of the Treasury is in the habit now-a days of speaking very boldly as to the extraordinary disbursements which he is called upon to make, and has no hesitation in declaring that a large proportion is wasted in fraud and peculation, while another great share is expended idly by reason of negligence and gross inattention. The same correspondent states, that forty more million each, than Gen. McCLELLAN has any use for, have been authorized. Also he says that Mr. CAMERON has made contracts for 17, 000,000 dollars' worth of ordnance, in regard to which the Bureau in the Department having that business in charge, know nothing whatever. And again, as though Secretary CAMERON believed that his occupation was to get rid of money, he, this same spendtbrift Secretary, made last week another contract. with parties in Cincinnati, for 3000 tons of shot and shell, in regard to which also there was no knowledge on the part of the proper bureau. These extravagances, together with many others, showing similar propensities on the part of Mr. CAMERON, are awakening a develop itself shortly by such action in the Senate as must cause his retirement from the public service. THE CAVALRY SPECULATION.

A difficulty is presented at Washington, as to the disposition of all the cavalry regiments accepted into the service. The commanding General asked for TWENTY-SEVEN regiments, and the whole number accepted and authorized to be raised by General CAMERON, the late Secretary of War, is SEVENTY-THREE! This is forty six more than Gen. McClellan either wants or knows how to dispose of. This excess will cost the Government just about $46,000,000 of needless expense, but what of that? It gave SIMON CAMERON's friends an opportunity to buy up about FORTY THOUSAND OLD HORSES and sell them to the government at an enormous profit. The government now owns so many horses that they don't know what to do with them, and the animals have been put out to board, by the thousand, among the farmers

He goes further, and seeks to "weaken public confidence in the administration" by charging that, so far as reconstruction is concerned, graph "the Cabinet do not intend it." And his speech is published in full in Republican jonrnals, and he is designated a friend of the administration and the Union! This is a paradox which most persons will be unable to reconcile. On Wednesday evening, the 9th inst., Gen. AMES SHIELDS, recently returned from Northern Mexico, was serenaded by the Fifth Regi ment, Irish Brigade, at Washington,

After being introduced, the General return ed his thanks for the compliment. A few weeks ago, he said, he was wandering in Northern Mexico, supposing himself to be orgotten by his countrymen. As soon as the call of our Government reached him, he cast aside every personal consideration, and hast-ened to the North to perform any duties that would be assigned him, so far as his ability enabled him.

He spoke of his attachment to his country and again pledged his fidelity to the oath which he had already taken. While compromise was possible and honorable, he was in favor of it, and while peace was honorable he was also in favor of it; but now that we were in the midst of civil war, he was in favor of prosecuting it to a successful conclusion at every national sacrifice, and at every peril to his life.

TAXATION IN THE CITY. The Union attempts an apology for the County Commis-sioners adding two per cert. to the City raluation on the rround that the monies at interest are not all returned by the Assersors. But is that any justification for adding the increase to real estatic? If there are rich men in the differ-ent wards who have more money than was returned, and the Commissioners know the fact, let them add to that, but, in the name of all that is fair and honorable, let them mot saddle the owner of every house and lot of ground, many of whom are poor men, with an additional burthen to that which he is now scarcely able to bear. The sum total in the South East and North East Wards of monies at interest, is evidently transpused in the pub-liahed table—bence the large amount set down to the first, and the small amount to the scend.
