The chards are the contractors and the results of the results Olympiate The distribution of the on rupt organization that has been formed at Washington, for the purpose of festivoying the inflaence of the Congressional Investigating Committee, which has exposed so many frauds on the public treasury. The leaders in this movement are Mesers. Stavens. of Pa, and Counting, of N. Y., both prominent Republicans The latter, in his speech, declared that the Committee had perpetrated more frauds. than it had discovered. This false and ridiculous amertion immediately called forth the following overwhelming speech from Mr. WASHBURNE, of publican. Like the remarks of Mr. Dawss, this suggest to our readers that when they are through with it, they place it in the hands of their neighbors.

Mr. WASHBURER said it was the "unkindest out of all" when the Chairman (Mr Streens) of the Committee of Ways and Monns, the leader of the House and bolding the purse strings of the nation, recently rise in the libuse and attacked the Committee in their absence, charging that they had committee bad been notified that they should feel the briling sarcasm and blasting investive, and today they had listened to what might be called a pituid initiation, from the extraordinary member (COMELING) from New York, who had attacked the Committee for the benefit of thieves, contractors and plunderers, who had for two weeks been holding high carnival in auticipation that the Committee were to be destroyed. It would have been but fair to give the Committee notice of the contemplated anuithlation, that they might be prepared to die with d ceacy. Why did not the member from New York make his charges like a man and not like a skulking coward? The gentleman from New York has attempted to hold us up here as costing the Government more than we have saved it. He has good about, figuring up the expenses of the Committee, and sneaked into the Clerk's office to ask how much each member had been paid. That member said that to Committee before ever took anything for traveling expenses. If he (Mr. COKELING) knew auguiting, he must know that his statement was faise; for never was a Committee was always paid; and if there is a man here who complains at what has been paid, or what was paid to each of my colleagues, let him stand up and say so. When our fellow-members of Congress were pursuing their avocations and several professions at home with their families, this Committee had given up everything in order to discharge the duties with which they were instructed, and now a clamor is raised by the member from New York have this Committee will which has led them to be attacked by the member from New York, and by every plunderer, and by ev document ought to have a wide circulation, and we suggest to our readers that when they are through with it, they place it in the hands of their neighbors his constituents. He, sir, is a pretty man to come here and lecture this Committee! He to inquire into the expenses of the Committee in relation to what it has saved, and what it has expended! Sir, the history of this Western Department will show that in St. Louis alone we have saved the Government two millions of dollars by our investigation; and, Sir, in connection with these army contracts—one of which the gentleman of New York sought to obtain—we were told by Mr. Holt that if Congress and the Government would sustain him he would save eight millions more. There are ten millions saved by the Commission on ordnance contracts, appointed on the evidence taken by this Committee and on its recommendation. Among other things we will save a sum of two millions. Thus a sum of twelve millions will be saved to the country by the Committee—as large a sum as it cost to carry on the Government of John Quincy Adams for one year.—And yet we are held up here as spending the people's money. Yes, and how much have we expended? Twenty thousand dollars. But i will not talk about it. If any man wants to complain, let him stand up here. I soom to talk about the trivial expenditures for travel. That we should be met with opposition, with all this obloquy, we very well understond. We knew whose paths we crossed; we knew that the contractors and the thieves, and the plunderers, who had the Treasury by the throat would be at our heels, and we well knew also, who were their sympathizers and abettors, both in this House and out of this House, we of course did not expect their approval. They do not like the Committee and its labors! O, no!

"No thiefe'er felt the halter draw, With good opinion of the law."

" No thief e'er felt the halter draw, With good opinion of the law." With good opinion of the law."

These are the men that proposed to crush us down. But let me say a few words to my Republican friends who listened with silent attention, if not with seal interest, to the attacks upon the Committee. Let me talk to them, in all kindness, for a moment. I believe this is a Republican House. I believe the Committee was appointed by a Republican Speaker, for a specific purpose. Do you believe we, as a Committee, were base and vile and dishonest chough to bettay the trust reposed in us? I fix to the brand us with your instant condemnation. But it send we must not break down the Republican party. I have been in Congress some little time. it is said we must but break down the Republican party. I have been in Congress some little time, and I have seen various investigating committees, when the Republicans were not in power in the Administration, and in those days I found my Republican Hends always on hand, in season and out of season, to detect and publish these frauds. It frauds were detected, they went before the country, and the country burled from power themen who had committed them. What was then said in relation to these matters? Why, when we announced to the country that these frauds were committed, the party in power said that the frauds were committed, the party in power said that the frauds were committed by men for whose sots the party was not responsible. What was our reply to this? What the reply of the Republicans? It was, to be sure you would not be responsible in the first instance, but when your lovestigating Committee disclosed all the facts, and placed the particulars on record, instead of your coming out and viting upon them, you are found on the record supporting and sestaining them. I do not propose to place myself in that pleases ament. When I suspect a Republic in of committing a fraud, I feel vastly more inclined to expose and punish him than I would a Democrat, for he brings disgrace and dishonor upon the party to which belows. pose and punish him than I would a Democrat, for he brings disgrace and dishonor upon the parity to which he belongs. And are we to imirate this example? Are my Republican friends willing to stand on the record as the indursers of these frauds? Or will they go with me, and say to their constituents, when we found these frauds existed what did we do? As Republicans we appointed a Committee, as Republicans we made an investigation, and as Republicans we would condemnation on the thieves, and the jubbers, and the plunderers of all parties, wherever we found them. How should we stand before ever we found them. ever we found them. How should we stand before the country as a party, if we act otherwise? It is foreshadowed by the member from New York, who clamors to have the Committee disbanded. Let that clamors to have the Committee disbanded. Let that gentleman (Mr. Conkline) come up. I here call upon him to introduce his extraordinary resolution, and if the Committee have not the confidence of the House and of the Republican party, let it be voted down. It may be a very harmless thing to punish fraud and robberies in time of peace, but in time of war, when the National Treasury is betrayed, when it is reeling under the attacks of thieves and plunderers, can we, as the representatives of a confiding and loyal people, stand here and support these robbers and jobbers? Whatever other goutlemen may do, whatever it may seem fit for the party to do, I for one do not propose to stand on the record in that do, whatever it may seem fit for the party to do, I for one do not propose to stand on the record in that way. As the oldest member present, representing a constituency for ten years, I should deem myself but a miscreant representative of that noble constituency if I stood here as the defender of the robberies and if I stood here as the defender of the robberies and the plunderings now going on against the public treasury. The gentleman from Pennsylvania, (Mr. STEVENS.) our leader in this House, a great and shining light in our Republican party, brought in his Tax bill the other day—a bill so large that it would require the use of a wheelbarrow to get it here; but almost on the next day we find him assailing the Committee, because, indeed, it steps in between the thieves and the Treasury.

The country will look with some interest to the vote of the gentleman from Pennsylvania, when a vote is taken as to who are the indorsers of the schemes and jobs of these plunderers, because it is schemes and jobs of these plunderers, because it is nothing more nor less than an indorrement of these nothing more nor less than an indorement of these robberies to vote for the discharge of the committee. This Tax bill, which was supported by the gentleman from New York, is to enable them to pay these robbers and plunderers with the taxes to be screwed from the humble working men of the country.—When I think upon whom this tax will fall heaviest, I would call myself a miscreant representative, unworthy of the confidence of my people, if I did not throw myself, with all my feeble influence, between the Treasury and these public plunderers. In reference to matters connected with Gen. Fremont, and the administration of the Western Department, the House will bear witness that the Committee has not drawn Gen. Fremont into this discussion. While speech after speech was being made by the friends of Gen. Fremont, we said nothing, and had the matter been allowed to rest we did not intend to say anything. And I must add, that when this report was not at the head of of Gen. Fremont, we said nothing, and had the matter been allowed to rest we did not intend to say anything. And I must add, that when this report was drawn up, Gen. Fremont was not at the head of an army. He is there now, and while there, we did not intend to enter into any discussion upon matters connected with his late department. Gentlemen are extremely sensitive when anything is said in reference to another General in the field, not very far from here, I and these gentlemen are not at all quite so sonsitive. I intend to leave the Generals of the army where they are, on the field; but when they return from the field. I am willing to try the cas of one of them with my friend from Indiana, (Mr. Colara.) I am willing to go to the country with that report, and am ready to defend the action of the Committee again at all comers, and when the time for lurther discussion arrives, I will say to my fried from Indiana. "Geme on, Macduff, and damned be be who first cries—hold, enough!"—[Laughter] What does the member from New York ween, with reference to the Sacchi contract—this Star of Bethlehem of his? Does he find full: with the Committee for exposing the fraud of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars? If so, let him get up and say so Let him say so at once, and not go beating about the bush, and dealing in contemptible intenders against a Committee constituted especially to de cot those frauds, and when we expose them, turn around and abuse us. Such was the rottenness and corruption of the Sacchi contract, that, when exposed, although there were five thousand six hundred dollars due to these one in the fear of further exposures, these men never appeared to claim the amount that the them of it. Yet the Committee have been assailed for exposing this fraud, which in one instance alone saved nearly six thousand dollars to the country. The gentleman from New York, who has had the face to assail the Committee for their affort to

FORCIBLE REMARKS OF THE HON. WM.A.RICHARD-03, OF ILLINOIS, Delivered in Congress on Monday, the 19th day of May. 1862

Mr. RICHARDSON, of Illinois, proposed to discuss a few points relative to the conduct of the government in the present war. He said some time ago the distinguished Secretary of State fixed as the law of the land that the negross, within thirty days after the termination of the Court, who were not convicted, should go free. He did not allude, to this for the purpose of fliding fault with that order, but to contrast it with another. White men cannot visit our camps without obtaining a pass, but negroes can go without one. Why are these things so? The Abolitionists, by their action in this Congress, have abolished slavery in this District, and laid a large annual tax upon the people of the United States. You are issuing to day rations for eighteen thousand negroes. Where are you issuing rations to the white people? The people of Illinois were selling their corn for eight cents per bushel to pay the taxes. The government has four hundred negroes employed as teamsters, paying them more than the soldiers who are fighting the battles. Employing these negroes in positions where the white men of this country would like to be employed. The givernment are issuing rations to negroes in this District for their support at an enormous expense, as much as it would take to support everal of the State governments. He had it from the best information that the government was issuing rations for five thousand negroes in a first one of the Synthesis States in a fort in one of the Southern States, at a cost of forty-four cents a head. They are supported everywhere at the expense of the government, where there is a General that will do it. Gen. Hunter has withdrawn his support from the loyal men and given it to negro. The government are cothing the negroes everywhere, and furnishing them with the best employment they have to give, and the white man goes without. This Congress has been in session for six months, and Congress has made no appropriation to pay a bounty to the widows and children of soldiers who have been killed upon the battle-field .-It will appear before the American people that this Congress has legislated for the negro everywhere. The cost of rations issued to these negroes amounts to one hundred and ferty-four thousand dollars per annum.— Where do you find that rations have been issued to poor white people? What have you done for the white man? What have you done for the children whose fathers fell on the bloody battle-field? A few days ago he saw one hundred negroes marched through the street by an army officer; he inquired where they were taken from, and the reply was that they were going to work for the government. He would ask the gentlemen upon the other side of the chamber (Abolition) whether it was their purpose to make the negro equal to the white man? No race, no people, were ever made equal to that of the white man .-The Almighty made the white race to command the earth. The white man is placed as much above the Indian as the Indian is above the negro. Some gentlemen say the reason why the regro is not elevated is because he has not had a chance. Who gave the white man a chance? The Almighty who created man a chance? The Almighty who created him, and created him superior to the negro.—
He trusted that the time would come when all these ultra men would be driven from the change and not where they and do not the complete and not where they are left of white at $13.69121. By the last sale of White at $13.69123 $1.09123 $1.09124 $1.09125 chief Illinois was tired of such legislation as had been brought forward by his colleague. A FAITHFUL Dog - Lieutenam Pfieff, killed at the battle of Shiloh, was buried at Chicago a few days ago. In speaking of the funeral, the Times, of that city, remarks:

A beautiful and touching incident is consected with the manner in which Mrs. Pfieff was enabled to discover the place where her nusband had been buried upon the battle field She visited the field, armed with a pass from General Halleck, but no one could possibly aform her of the place where he had been buried, as such a large number, of both friend and foe, had been interred upon the same ground. She remained about balf a day, and was about giving up in despair, when she espied, at the distance of nearly half a mile, large dog coming rapidly towards her, which she immediately recognized as the same which had accompanied her husband to the war. He approached her with the most intense manifestations of joy, and immediately indicated to her, as well as he was able, his desire that she should follow him. She did so, and he led the way to a distant part of the ield, and stopped before a single grave. She caused it to be opened, and there found the body of her dear husband.

It appears from the statement of some of the soldiers that at the time Lieutenant Pfieff fell, this dog was by his side, and there remained licking his wounds, until he was taken from the field and buried. He then took his station by the grave, and nothing could induce him to abandon it but for a sufficient length of time each day to satisfy his hunger, until, by some means, he was made aware of the presence of his mistress. Thus had he watched for twelve days by the grave of his slain master. This is certainly one of the most wonderful instances of canine sagacity on record.

HEARTLESS ROBBERIES OF HOSPITAL STORES. -A wholesale theft of government stores has been detected in Cincinnati. Supplies sent to our wounded soldiers by the Ladies' Aid Society and the Sanitary Commission have been stolen on their way to Tennesee by an organized gang of plunderers. Two men, named Daniels and Hinds, are under arrest The Cincinnati papers state that so extensive have been these thefts that at Lima, Ohio, the officers have secured ten tons of hospital and army stores, upon which there are railroad charges of five hundred dollars. The authorities in Cincinnati are also in possession of similar packages. The evidence is positive that a grand thieving combination has been in successful operation for many months, and that a large portion of the contributions of the benevolent societies throughout the country have served no other purpose than to fill the pockets of certain individuals, without ever reaching the soldiers for whom they were intended. - Boston Courier.

TARNIERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST!—The old, reliable Reaper and Mower in the market for 1862 McCORMICK'S WORLD-RENOWNED REAPER AND MOWER. Simplicity, strength, durability, with ease of working, are its cardinal points. It cuts wider, cannot be choked or clogged, is light draught, has no perceptible side pressure, does not chafe the horses' necks, is easy to rake from, turns square corners, and as a Reaper, as a Mower, and as both, is warranted superior to any now in use. We present, therefore, for the coming season a machine one foot wider than thore of most makers, with a light draught for two horses, in resping and mowing—lighter than is required for much narrower machines; also, one with the strength and capacity for four horses, where such are desired. The machine of 1802 cm bodies marked improvements.

All machines warranted to work well in grass and grain, to be well made and durable, and in addition we say that farmers, who may desire it, are at liborty to work our machine through the harvest with any other, and keep and pay for the one preferred. We deem it unnecessary to give any references, as the machine will recommend itself.—Apply personally or by letter to they stimulate the functions of the body into vicerous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the holy, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surroinding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangement, take Ayer's Pilli, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the bodyant feeling of health sgain. What is true and as apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many, of the deep-cated and dangerous distempers. The same

Dn. Aven: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cared my little drugsteer of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mather has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her akin and in her hair. After our child, was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have oured her.

ASA Mondardoz. As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Curturight, New Orleans.
Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpase any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease. Headache.SickHeadache.Foul Stomach. From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimer.

Drin Bro. Arm: I cannot answer you what complaints I cannot answer you what complaints I be deer than to say all that we deer treat with a purpositive medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

Dr. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dese or two of your Pilk. It seems to arise from a four stomach, which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBER, Clerk of Sheamer Clarion. Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperiont, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is werthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

Your Pills have lad a long trial in my practice, and I hold thom in esteem as one of the best aperionts I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makethem an excellent remedy, when given in small does for billious dysentery and diarrhea. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.
From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.
Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costineness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself; is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe custiseness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston. From Arts. E. Schart, Physician and Midwlf, Boston. I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to clause the stomach and expetinorms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church. Putaski House, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.
Honord Six: I should be ungusteful for the relief your skill has bought use it I did not report my case to you. A coil settled in my limbs and brought on excrudating neurologic points, which ended in chromic rhemotism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advise of your excellent agent in Bullimore, Dr. Mackenzio, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well. PULASKI HOUSE, Savannoh, Go., Jon & 1850
