Mr. Vallakbieram replied that when the gentlement occasional exposition of what it styles "such eminent Douglas Democrats as Forney and Hickman," but its want of comprehension, in this particular, is easily accounted for. No one but a political pedlar would be so shameless as to classify the two privateers alluded to, among the followers of the lamented Douglas. That statesman was never ambiguous; he never masked, nor did he countranance "the winding and stealing into place," which has marked the conduct of HICKMAN, and FORNEY. If Judge Douglas' teaclings he held responsible for the well-tief. The Gazette expresses surrrise at our which has marked the conduct of HICKMAN and FORNEY. If Judge Douglas' tenclings be held responsible for the political decet and treachery of the demagogues mentioned, it is a most striking illustration of Mark Antheny's position, that "the evil that men do lives after them." A fellow detected in the dark, with a lamb upon his shoulder for which he never paid, would not be more audacious than the two adventurers alluded to claiming to be Douglas Democrats. They and their treachery are entirely too acceptable to the profli-gate wing of the Abolitionists; they are entirely too deep in Abolition secrets and plottings against the restoration of the Union, be permitted to mingle with the followers of the departed Douglas, who at the present serious period of our nation's existence, constitute its sole breakwater, seeking to save the country from open rebellion in the South, and from secret treachery by the sgitators of the North. It is an unpardonable slander of the dead patriot to say that such vile politicians as HICKWAN and FORNEY are the exponents of his principles and teachings.—Pittsburg Post.

SIMON CAMERON ENDORSED! MESSAGE PROM THE PRESIDENT.

War, Simon Cameron, to make all necessary arrangements for the transportation of troops and munitions of war, in the aid and assistance of the rangements for the transportation of troops and munitions of war, in the aid and assistance of the officers of the army of the United States, until communication by mails and telegraph should be completely re-established between the cities of Washington and New York. No security was required to be given by them, and either of them was authorized to act in the case of inability to consult with the other. On the same occasion I authorized and directed the Secretary of the Treasury to advance, without requiring security, two millions of dollars of public money to John A. Dix, George Opdyke and Richard M. Blatchford, of New York, to be used by them in meeting such requisitions as should be directly consequent upon the military and naval measures necessary for the defence and support of the Government, requiring them only to act without compensation, and to report their transactions when duly called upon.

The several departments of the government at that time contained so large a number of disloyal persons that it would have been impossible to provide safely, through official agents only, for the performance of the duties thus confided to citizens favorably known for their ability, loyalty and patriotism. The several orders issued upon these occurrences were transmitted by private messengers, who pursued a circuitous way to the seaboard cities, inland across the States of Pennsylvania and Ohio, and the Northern lakes. I believe that by these and other similar measures taken in that crisis, some of which were without any authority of law, the Government the House of Representatives has consured. It is due to Mr. Cameron to say that, although he fully approved the proceedings, they were not moved nor suggested by himself, and that not only the President, but all the other Heads of Departments, were at least equally responsible with him for whatever error, wrong or fault was committed in the premises.

Mr. Morehead, (Pa.,) moved that 2,000 copies be printed.

The subject was referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Wadden and the printed extra copies of the late Secretary's speech, in which the latter said that he could buy Congress.

On metion of Mr. Holman, (Ind.,) the message was referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

The House went into Committee on the bill to purchase a hospital in the District of Columbia, when Mr. Dawes, (Mass.,) replied to Mr. Voorhees' remarks on a former day, when the latter condemned in his review what he characterized as me unsound, false and ruinous system of finance imposed on the people within the last twelve months. After reading Mr. Voorhees' array of figures as to his assumed public debt and its increasing and alarming magnitude, Mr. Dawes remarked that from reliable data the expenditures of all the departments of the Government outside of the war and navy since the Administration came into power are as follows:

For the Interior Departments, Indians and pensions, to the 22d of May, $3,681,860; civil list, foreign intercourse and miscellaneous, $21,685,010—making a total of nearly $25,367,000. The expenditures of the War Department during that time amounted to $374,472,000; Navy Department for the same time, $42,055,000, or a total of $416,227, to 00. The average daily expenses of the War Department has been $897,295, and adding the daily average for both departments of $998,147. No requisitions are unpaid excepting a few thousands for illegality or disloyalty. The payments last Thursday were only $864,917, yet the day after, when the paymasters came in, the expenditures were $2,000,000, but on $441,500,000 from the 4th of March, 1861, till the 22d of May, when the public debt, including $40,000,000; for the navy, $42,000,000; and all other expenditures, $25,000,000—a total of $441,500,000 from the 4th of March, 1861, till the 22d of May, when the public debt, including $40,000,000; for the navy, $42,000,000; and all other expenditures of the

tures under the former Administration and the present, showing, as to the civil list, that this Ad-ministration has been far more honest and economical than that.

In this connection he referred to the traitorous efforts of Cobb to destroy the credit of the Government, and complimented Secretary Chase, showing that the latter has managed affairs with considerable ability. Not a dollar has been lost to the treasury by default or wested in profligacy. The result is that the credit of the Government is unshaken both at home and abroad. In further reply to Mr. Voorhees he said, for every dollar plundered by Republicans, he could show a corresponding plundering by Democrats since this Administration came into power, and concluded with remarks in no degree complimentary to the loyalty of Mr. Voorhees and his party friends.

Mr. VALLANDIGHAM, (Ohlo,) replied, alluding to Mr. Dawes' figures, and saying that the Secretary of the Treasury does not affix his name to the statement. It came from some clerk. The censor of this administration had authorized a telegraphic despatch, stating the expenses of the Government do not exceed, if they equal, a million of dollars per day.

Mr. Dawes replied that the gentleman had no authority to say his statement did not bear the signature of the Secretary of the Treasury, nor was it true that the data was farnished by a clerk in the Treasury Department.

Mr. VALLANDIGHAM replied that when the gentle. cal than that. In this connection he referred to the traitorou

Treasury Department.

Mr. Vallandigham replied that when the gentle shake the credit of the people who have determined to carry on the war until the stars and stripes shall everywhere wave.

Mr. VALLANDIGHAM replied that he voted to pledge the public faith to the extent of $150,000,000,000, but had voted against the Tax bill because its details did not suit him.

Mr. VOORHEES, (Ind.,) said that the speech to which the gentleman from Massachusetts replied had but one object in view, namely, to give to the people of the country the information to which they were entitled from the best lights before him. Let some other man than one from Massachusetts lecture him. It had not been fifty hours since Governor Andrew, on being called upon for troops, gave a halting evidence of patriotism by annexing conditions infamous to him, and to Massachusetts, and to an American citizen. The gentleman (Mr. Dawes) ectod here to pluck the mote from his eye, instead of the beam from the eye of Massachusetts.

Mr. DAWES said the Governor of Kentucky had refused to respond to the call for troops.

Mr. WOERLIFE, (Ky.).—Oh, let Kentucky alone.

Mr. WOERLIFE, (Ky.).—Oh, let Kentucky alone.

Mr. VOERLIFE, (Ky.).—Oh, let Kentucky alone.

Mr. VOERLIFE, (Ky.).—Oh, let Kentucky alone.

Mr. VOERLES—It was a bad example for Massachusetts to follow. The Governor of Kentucky resorted to no such infamous conditions. The gentleman from Massachusetts to-days said that the expenditures were not a million a day, yet hissame member, in a speech on the 13th of January, remarked that it takes two millions a day to support the army in the field. Nobody then cried out treason against the gentleman. Had not the gentleman further said, on that occasion, that sixty days would bring about a consummation, as by that time it would be impossible for the Treasmy to meet, and continue to meet, this state of things? Where was such a statement at that in his (Mr. VOORMERS') speech? He looked upon the gentleman's speech as an attempt to reconcile his Republican friends and heal their to reconcile his Republican friends and heal their to reconcile his Republican friends and heal their to form the country. He also referred, in support of the country. He also referred, in support of his former statement, to the remark of Mr. Fyryvas, the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, who said the expenditures were three millions a day.

Mr. Wadsworth, he said that when the capital was menaced the freemen of Massachusetts were first and foremost with their blood on the way hither.

If Massachusetts had paused when Kentucky paused, this city would have been in the possession of the Goths and Vandals. He showed the expedition with which the Governor of Massachusetts issued his proclamation, and the haste with which the troops responded to the call. The letter in reply to Secretary Stanton could not be construed into an implication of conditions. Massachusetts will not tire of this war. She has no blood, no treasure, that she will not freely offer on the altar of the whole that she will not freely offer on the altar of the whole country. She will give her last man and the last drop of her blood before she will tire of the war for constitutional liberty and freedom.

The committee then rose.

From the Indianapolis Sentinel, April 26. HOW THE SLAVES WENT SOUTH. The Boston Gazette, published in old Mas-achusetts, and dated July 17, 1758, contains the following advertisement:

"Just imported from Africa, and to be sold on board the brig Jonney, William Ellery commander, now lying at New Boston, a number of likely negro boys and girls, from twelve to fourteen years of age. Inquire of said Ellery on board said brig, where constant attendance is given.

"Note.—The above slaves have all had the small pox. Treasurer's notes and New England rum will be taken as pay." There is a good text for a long sermon.

But the subject requires but few words.—

Massachusetts, now so piously hostile to slavery, was at that date, and for half a century ater, the great slave trader of the Western Hemisphere. Her ships, her men, her money and her enterprise took to that trade as naturally as a duck takes to water. There were thousands of her people who engaged in the "sum of all villainies," as John Wesley denominated the slave trade, but not the ownership of slaves. Massachusetts money and Massachusetts ships invaded the barracoons and the coasts of African mainland, and thousands of " boys and girls from twelve to fourteen years of age," were brought to New England for use there, or for sale to the fathers of the present rebels of the South. New England people were the "man stealers" for the colonies of Britain, and for the States which now comprise rebellious Dixio.

There was money in the business—there was

No. 478 BROADWAY. when the vile trade was abolished, no one ever heard of a Massachusetts man denouneing this trade in human beings. When her old slave ships were worn out, and she could | Europe, over strung bass, French grand action, harp pedal, turn an honest penny at some other traffic, she | full iron frame, for pecame suddenly conscientious and has continued to kick up a fuss generally with those who own the negroes which she sold to them. Her conscience, which seems to be an India rubber one, has been drawn into many shapes on this vastly mischievous subject.

Captain Ellery seems to have had a sharp eye to business, and he gives the gratifying announcement that "all the slaves have had the small pox." To show the vast philanthropy of Massachusetts—she was always full of RE-LIGIOUS sentiment—he proposed to take New England rum as pay! This rum he would sell or trade on his next voyage, to pay for a new batch of negroes, adding to his profits on both species of property. It was a sharp dicker, to e sure, and eminently worthy of some people who don't live quite a thousand miles from Boston. Massachusetts fetters were placed upon the limbs of the slave, and New Engand rum debased the soul of the captive. Lord save the world from hypocrisy, and ransom those who deserve the contempt of aan and the dire judgment of Heaven!

Could they (the Democracy,) succeed in grasping the reins of government it is quite probable they would end the war.—Journal. And not only is it probable that "they would end the war," but they would also end the sacrifice of our young men, end the wasting and stealing of millions of the public treasure, end the growing of our public debt, end the increase of the people's taxes, end this nigger legislation, and devote attention to the white man's interests. They would end secession South and Abolition North; they would end the violations of the Constitution the trampling under foot of the laws of the land, the violation of the rights of the American citizen. In short, if the Democracy could "succeed in grasping the reins of Government," they would bring back the olden times of peace, plenty, prosperity, the Union restored, the Constitution maintained, and the Liberties of the people. Such would be the fruits of Democratic rule? Are they not worth gathering, men of Ohio .- Dayton Empire.

AF Among the many apparent trifles continually being brought to the surface from the ideal under-world of the unknown, there are occasionally simple articles costing but little in detail, but whose combined benefits, usefulness and economy of time and money, agregate on the basis of millions. Such an article is SPAIDING'S PRIPARED GLUE. Its uses are innumerable, and as its cost is next to nothing, the demand for it is universal. HARMERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTER-ARMERS, LOOK TO VOUR INTEREST:—The old, reliable Reaper and Mower in the market for 1882. McCORMIOK'S WORLD-RENOWNED BEAPER AND MOWER. Simplicity, strength, durability, with ease of working, are its cardinal points. It cuts wider, cannot be chosed or clogged, is light draught, has no perceptible side pressure, does not chafe the horses' neeks, is easy to rake from, turns square corners, and as a Reaper, as a Mower, and as both, is warranted superior to any now in use. We present, therefore, for the coming season a machine one foot wider than those of most makers, with a light draught for two horses, in reaping and mowing—lighter than is required for much narrower machines; also, one with the strength and capacity for four horses, where such are desired. The machine of 1882 embodies marked improvements.

All machines warranted to work well in grass and grain, to be well made and durable, and in addition we say that to be well made and durable, and in addition we say that farmers, who may desire it, are at liberty to work our machine through the harvest with any other, and keep and pay for the one preferred. We deem it unnecessary to give any references, as the machine will recommend itself.—

It is a cruveniently arranged BELT, containing a Medicated Compound, to be worn around the body, about the waist, EQUALLY EFFECTING ALL PARTS, wherever the disease may be, it can be worn without injury to the most delicate person, and no change in the proper habits of living is required. It mentirely removes the disease from the system, with wout the fallacious use, in such cases, of powerful internal medicines, which weaken and destroy the confliction and give temporary relief only by stupifying the system and deadening its vitality. By this treatment, the medicinal properties contained in the BAND, being of a highly aromatic and volatile nature and capable of being readily absorbed, through the Boors of the skin, come into direct contact with the Blood and general circulation, without first having to pass through the atomach, which would tend not only to detract from their curative powers, but to impair the internal organs and derange the digestion. Selection is result of internal remedies, and effecting a perfect cure by purifying and equalizing the circulation result of internal remedies, and effecting a perfect cure by purifying and equalizing the circulation of the vital fluids and restoring the parts affected to a besithy condition. Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes; "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsquarilla micst excellent siterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Frank Diseases of the Scroulous distillated. I have cured many invaterate cases of Loucorthea by it; and some where the complaint was caused by iteration of the uteries. The uteration itself was soon cured. Nothing within thy knowledge equals it for these female derangements."
Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Als., writes, "A dangerous overian timeor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ; has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extingention could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remody eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

New Onleans, 25th August, 1869.
Dr. J. C. Affer: Sir, I cheeffully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects. I have realized with your Saraquarilla:
I have endired with your Saraquarilla:
I have endered with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the care of Veneral and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitle ulcers in his throat, which were censuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Saraparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his mose, and the ulceration had eaton away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, and of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by neverny was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered grentered entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Prejamion from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised inc.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1882.

Dr. J. C. Affel. Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chroule Rheumatism for a long jime, which baffied the skill of physiciaus, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, nutil I tried your Saraqaarilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Jules Y. Getchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Saraparilla, because be said he knew yon, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF FOR THE MATERICA, HOARSENESS, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Con-sumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of threat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonnry disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.
