"SUPPORTING THE GOVERNMENT." The New York papers bring us the report of a lecture delivered by Wendell Phillips, in New York city, on Monday evening last, at the Cooper Institute, before a very large audience, on "The State of the Country." The lecture was one of a series bebanks of Jordan. As our readers may be curious to clean across the cheek and jaw. The assis-hear what style of language is held by Mr. Phillips tant superintendent of the road, John Canby, before a Republican Association in New York, at a Ohio for speaking contumeliously of the military and civil authorities, we think it proper, as belonging to the history of the times through which we are pass. ing, to cite the following extracts from the speech of the orator as we find it reported in the New York Tribune of Tuesday last :

Tribune of Tuesday last:

EXTRACTS.

I do not believe in the Government at Washington. I believe in the nation; I believe in events; I believe in the inevitable tendency of these coming ten years toward liberty and Union. But it is to be done as England did it in 1640, by getting rid gradually, man by man, of those who don't believe in progress, but believe in the past. And as man by man of that class retires, and we bring to the front man who are earnest in the present, victory, strength. man of that class retires, and we bring to the front men who are earnest in the present, victory, strength, and peace are to be the result ** **

We want carnestness, ideas, a willingness to sacrifice everything, a readiness to accept the issue, courage and industry in thinking. We have got now two Generals-in-Chief and two Commanders-in-Chief. They both live in Washington. The sad news reaches us to-day that one means to take the field. [Laughter-] Lincoln and Halleck—they sit in Washington, Commanders-in-Chief, exercising a somewhat disastrous influence, that even a Bonaparto would exercise on a battle if he tried to fight it by telegraph a hundred miles distant off. But now it is said one of them means to take the field. it is said one of them means to take the field.

Heaven forbid! [Applause.] Now, the difference between Halleck and Fremont is just this. One has not learned anything since he graduated at West Point, and does not want to. He does not mean to not learned anything since he graduated at West Point, and does not want to. He does not mean to undertake the labor of thinking. He is too indolent to go about to examine a new idea. It is enough for him that it was not in the text book when he graduated. [Laughter.] Battles were not fought so when he was taught, and if he is beaten according to the book he is willing to be beaten. [Laughter.] The German commanders complained of Napoleon, when he first launched into the battle-field, that he violated all the rules. Now, his Missouri rival occupied the nineteenth century, and thought out the issues for himself—had the labor of meeting a new contingency. He went to the head of the army a living man—not a dead, printed book. In my opinion, I am beyond likes and dislikes. The day is to serious for antipathies or likings. All these men are nothing but dead lumber, to be thrown into the gulf, that the nation may march with flowing incense to liberty and peace. [Applause.] But never will this rebellion be put down while West Point rules at Washington. [Applause.] It does rule. The second Commander-in-Chief cuts of everything that outgoes his own routine. The are two great distinctions to be made in the army and in the State; one is, such a man as Halleck hates negroes, spurns novelties, distrust ideas, rejects everything but red tape. The others are Hamilton, Butler, Phelps and Fremont. [Loud applause.] Sigel is in the field, and I hone he will drag in the rest. [Applause.] novelties, distrusts ideas, rejects everything but red tape. The others are Hamilton, Butler, Phelps and Fremont. [Loud applanse.] Sigel is in the field, and I hope he will drag in the rest. [Applause.] The cook takes an onion and peels off layer after layer till she gets to the sweet sound vegetable. So you will have to peel off Seward and Halleck [laughtor] till you get to the sound national-flement of civil and military purpose, the earnest belief, the intense devotion to victory, the entire belief in justice, which can cope with "Stonewall" Jackson. [Applause.] Never till then shall we succeed. * * I want somebody to occupy the Presidential chair who believes in the Government and in the people, who will act without easting his eyes over his shoulder to see how far the people will support him. We want leaders that initiate—that actually lead. Friends, my belief is, that you and I are bound to create an expecting imperative public opinion that shall compel the Government to the adoption of such measures and such men. I say such men, because, though I believe in events, which are stronger than Cablnets, and are bearing us onward whether we will or not, I believe also in mon as harmonizing the issue of events. Let me make the Generals, and I don't care who makes the proclamations. Only let me out at the head of the advancing columns of the Cabinot at Washington may shut themselves up and go to sleep with Rip Van Winkle tiff 1872. [Laughter] For I know men, one blast of whose bugle-horn were worth a million of men—only put them in the heart of the rebellion, where our armies ought to be * * * Why? Because Abraham Lincoln is not President of the United States: because behind not President of the United States; because behind him, ourbing his purpose, making conditions that balk his designs, making him doubt the purpose and the strength of the North, standing around him in civil and military positions, are men who do not mean that this battle shall be bravely and gallantly fought through. Cromwell never succeeded until the Long Parliament sloughed off every man that believed in the lords, and left nothing but democrats behind. We shall never succeed until we slough off everything that believes in the past, and bring to the front everything that believes there is but one purpose—that is, to save the Union on the basis of liberty. [Cheers.]

lon't care who makes the proclamations.

AMALGAMATION ADVOCATED.

The regular anniversary meeting of the American Anti-Slavery society was held in at New York on Tuesday. The principal feature of the occasion was the speech of Mr. THEO DORE TILTON in favor of a speedy and general amalgamation. The following are a few of the sentiments uttered by the speaker:

Mr. Tilton spoke of the relative position of the Ethiopian race as higher than several other races in the world, and then entered into an elaborate argument in favor of amalgamation as the great feature of this country and race—its highest perfection coming when the amalgamation is most complete. Great nations get the fibre of their strength out of mixed blood. It is a stoppage of the world's growth to prevent a union of races. The history of the world's progress, the history of the civilization of all empires, is written in one comprehensive word, which many men are afraid to speak and many others afraid to hear, and that word is—AMALGAMATION.—
[Whispers, "Oh, good gracious!" Applause.]

The speaker hoped to see before he died, a black man governing the State of South Carelina, lifted up to that office by the people. The negroes should sit side by side with the white man in the church, in the cars; he should come into the white man's parlor and be admitted into entire fellowship. God ordains it. The palm of the negro's hand was made white to meet the white man's. AN ITEM FOR THE LEAGUERS.

Parson BrownLow, the lion of the Abolitionists during his late tour through the North, and who pecketed their dimes and quarters to almost a government contractor's income, uses the following language in a letter to an Abolition Loyal League meeting at Chicago a few days ago. It will be an excellent addition to the Book which the Abolitionists purchased of him so liberally, and we recommend them to paste it in:

"You citizens of Chicago call yourselves loyal; you glory in your loyalty; you pro-claim it upon the streets, and herald it in your press, and declare it from every plat-form; but it costs nothing to be loyal here in Chicago, so far away from danger. Loyalty leads to the field."

This was pretty hard on the stay-at-home Abolition patriots. If the Parson talks that way, he will be very soon ranked among those whom the Abolitionists are pleased to call

THE DRAFTED MEN .- An order has been issued from the War Department to the following effect:

"Under the enrolment act, drafted men will be actually in the United States service as soldiers from the fact of being drafted; it is therefore ordered that they be put in upiform and provided with knapsacks, haver-sacks, canteens, tin cups, &c., as soon as they report to the district provost marshals. The quartermaster-general will fill the requisitions of the provost marshal general for clothing, &c., for this purpose, to be delivered at such points as the latter may designate."

FEARFUL TRACEDY. —A terrible tragedy oc. REGISTER'S NOTICE. -- The Accounts Moses Sahm, Peon township. By Joseph Greiner, Administrator. curred on the Bellefontaine Railroad on Thursday night. The full particulars we have not been able to obtain, or the names of the wounded. It appears, as the train neared Bellefontaine, a soldier on board, infuriated with anger or laboring under delirium tremens attacked a lady and cut her across the breast, fore the Sixteenth Ward Republican Association, and its President, Mr. Bussell, introduced the orator as officer, a Captain of volunteers, sprang forthe man who had done more than any other, except ward to save her, and the maniac struck at John Brown, to bring the American people to the him, the knife entering the mouth and cutting was the next victim. He was cut across the time when Mr. Vallandigham is undergoing trial in abdomen, it is supposed mortally. The conductor, John Sipe, at length got hold of the knife, after receiving a severe wound, and the man was secured. The wounded and the prisoner were left at Bellefontaine.—Indiana Sentinel.

Pleasant as it is to recall the natural excellencies of departed ones, soothing as may be the sympathies of friends in seasons of sorrow and siffiction, yet to the heart longing for satisfactory, solid comfort these are but as shifting sand. In contemplating the life of him whose death we moure, many are the beautiful traits of character which arise in the mind and affect the heart, whether considered socially or as the kind Physician, with an inherent gentleness, administering relief in the sick chamber by the bedside of suffering and pain. Yet how vain and unsatisfying would considerations such as those be to zorrowing friends—how mourning hearts would ever bleed could they not look upward and with rejoicing confidence know and feel that with him "all is well." But whence this confidence. Why not only say we trust, and not we know that all is well? Ah! 'tis not from earth—the consolations of the glorious gospel—the unchanging faithfininess of a prayer-hearing God—the riches of the grace of Christ—the enlightenion, sustaining, assuring influences of the Holy Spirit—the accompanying providences of his dying hourthi, this is the confidence. What shall we render unto the Lord for his unspeakable mercy?

Gone before—released from temptations against which he prayed and struggled—no longer receiving with tearful gratitude the kindly offices of scothing hands in times of sickness and suffering—no longer treading with veary feet the thorny path of earth—may we not think of him as waiting to welcome loved ones who shall follow after.

oct 23 ly 41 "THERE IS NO SUCH WORD AS FAIL." ARRANT'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF

CUBEBS AND COPAIBA. This preparation is particularly recommended to the MEDICAL PROFESSION and the PUBLIC, as combining, in the most convenient and efficacions form, the well-established virtues and properties of Gubebs and Copaiba. For the speedy and effectual relief and cure of all SEXUAL DISEASES, it may justly be considered one of the greatest and most valuable discoveries in the annals of medicine, frequently effecting a cure in three or four days. In its preparation as an extract or a paste, the usual nauseous taste is avoided, and it is, consequently, never found to interfere with the digestion, while, from its greater on contration, the dose is much reduced. It may be relied on as the best mode for the administration of these remedies in the large class of diseases of both sexes to which they are applicable. 7

A. J. GLOSSBRENNER.

FRANCIS J. GRUND.

WILLIAM H. WELSII.

"THE AGE" will advocate the principles and policy of the Democratic party, and will, therefore, necessarily favor the restoration of the Union as it was, and defend the Constitution of the United States, and that of ihis Com-ponential transfer of the Control of the Control of the United States, and that of this Com-ponential transfer of the Control of the Control of the United States, and that of this Commonwealth.

It will freely and fairly discuss all legitimate subjects of newspaper comment, including, of course, and pre-eminently at this time, all questions connected with the existing unhappy condition of our country.

It will fearlessly criticise the public acts of public servants, and defend the legal and constitutional rights of individual citizens of sovereign States, against assaults from any quarter.

any quarter.

It will seek to awaken the minds of the people to a proper searce of the actual condition of the Ropublic—to present to them, truthfully, the fearful perils in which we stand as a nation—to exhibit the magnitude of the task that is before them, if they would check our downward progress—and to inspire them with patriotic determination pregress—and to Inspire them with patriotic determination to apply THE ERECTY for our national ills.

In brief, it will, in all things, aim to be the faithful exponent of Democratic principles, and to render itself worthy to be an organ of the Democratic party, under whose auspices our country prespered so long and so well. The restoration of that party—the party of the Constitution and the Union—to power, in the legislative and executive governmental branches of the States and of the Union, we believe to be necessary to avertanarchy, and the utter ruin of the Republic. To contribute to that restoration will be our highest aim.

The News, Literary, Commercial, and other departments, will receive due attention, and will be so conducted as to make "The Age" worthy of the support of the general reader.

make "THE AGE" worthy of the support of the general reader.

As The many difficulties now surrounding an enterprise of the magnitude of that in which the undersigned are engaged, require them to appeal to the public for a generous support, and ask for "The AGE" a liberal patronage and extended circulation.

The present state of the preparatory arrangements warrants the expectation, that the first number of the Daily will appear before the close of the coming month, (February, 1863.) The Weekly will be issued soon thereafter.
