payment of the public debt. The Judge boldly declares this legislation ernor who will restrain hasty and unconstitutional legislation by the power which the Constitution places in his hands, and thereby people may repose on the assurance that no be committed upon the public treasury. If the report of a Committee of the Housesuch a hand had exercised the veto power, in corrupt and illegal influences.) He was sol. times past, millions of dollars would have that it would be RUINOUS TO THE PARTY been saved to the people of Pennsylvania.

The fourth Section of Article XI of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, being the first at home by their constituents. He admitted sion, after the adoption of this amendment create a sinking fund, which shall be sufficient to pay the accruing interest on such debt and annually to reduce the principal thereof, by a sum not less than two hundred and fifry thousand dollars; which sinking fund shall consist of the net annual income of the pub-State, or the proceeds of the sale of the same, or any part thereof, and of the income or proneeds of sales of stocks owned by the State. together with other funds or resources that may be designated by law. The sinking fund may be increased from time to time by as signing to it any part of the taxes, or other resources of the State, not required for the ordinary and current expenses of the Govern- copy of it. ment, and unless in case of war, invasion or sum of five millions of dollars." * *

" Let us see what has been done :-- " "When the State sold her canals to the Sunbury and Eric Railroad Co., in pursuance of the Act of 21st April, 1858, the entire proamendment, but by the express terms of the sixth Section of the Act of Assembly.

These proceeds were represented by three and a half millions of bonds executed by the company to the State and by a mertange of that it was a public record; and that it disseven millions on the entire road of the company. * * * Of the seven millions of any knowledge on his part as to the man in onds recited in, and secured by the mortgage, three millions and a half had gone into the sinking fund attended by the lien of the mortgage. To that extent the mortgage, as to its lien, force and effect must be considered as in the sinking fund"— * * * * * * *

"Let us now see how the mortgage has been dealt with by the Legislature. By the act of 7th March, 1801, Sec. 5, they provided that on the surrender and cancellation of three and a half millions of bonds secured by the mortgage, which are not in the sinking fund, the trustees shall forthwith enter satisfaction on the record of the mortgage, and the lien of it shall thereupon be discharged and forever extinguished. This was not in deed the taking of the three and a half millions of bonds out of the sinking fund, but it was the destruction of their value." * * 'The substance and effect of this legislation was to annihilate the value of the three and half millions of bonds in the sinking fund. The whole price indeed which the people of Pennsylvania had received for their cauals of course, I consider it a gross and palpable of the Constitution. The Legislature on the 13th of April, 1860, passed an act by which it was provided, that f any Judicial sale of the Sunbury and Erie answer that you please. shall, or may hereafter be made the amount due contractors for work and materials furnished, on certain sections of the road between the 1st day of August, 1859, and the first day of April. 1860, should be preferred to the mortgage held by the Commonwealth, provided the amount so preferred should not exceed six hundred thousand dollars

The Judge says: "Now I hold that there was no such preferred lien, and could be none. To admit the power of the legislature to create such a preference over the State's mortgage would be to admit the legislative power of invading the sinking fund. If under pretence of administration the legislature can thus destroy the trust, the people have no constitution, and the sooner they know it the better." * * * What is this but taking so much money out of the sinking fund, and sinking the Political Control of the sinking fund. giving it to Railroad contractors? My oath f office forbids me to sanction such legislation. If the Constitution be not competent to prevent such practices, it may as well be buried and forgotten. To sum up my conclusions in order, I hold 1st, That the trustees named in the seven million mortgage held it in trust for the State, as to one-half the real debt of said mortgage, that the bonds constituting that moiety of the real debt, having passed into the sinking fund. the trustees were compellable in equity to hold the mortgage for the purposes of the sinking fund; and as the legislature could not impair the sinking fund, their authority to cancel the mortgage was unconstitutional and void. I would decree a restoration of crime. With Andrew G. Curtin as Governor the mortgage, with all its primitive legal efthe mortgage, with all its primitive legal el-fect, so far as concerned the three and a half millions of bonds in the sinking fund. millions of bonds in the sinking fund.

3d. I hold the substitution of a four million mortgage with interest from the 1st of Janu-

1858, to be a further infraction of the Constitaken in connection with the lease that has

For these reasons, I would enjoin against

By this time, we think, you ought to be convinced that the party with which you have acted of late, is not the same party that followed the lead of Clay and Webster. you are not convinced of this, it is certainly not for want of evidence, for a thousand facts are at hand to prove it. Did Clay and Web ster ever affiliate with such men as Phillips, Garrison and Beecher, John Brown, &c.? Never. Yet, if you have any ordinary knowledge of our political contests of late years. and of the present party leaders in power, you must now know the present party you helped to elevate to power is led and governed by such men as Garrison, Phillips, Lincoln, Stevens, Chase, Seward, and Beecher & Co. All of you, then, who disclaim to be Abolitionists, ought now to forsake them, for it was through them that our country has been brought to its present ruinous condition.
Will you cast off your prejudices and do your honest duty openly and boldly? If you will, you must fall into the ranks of the Democracy.

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

The N. Y. Tribune admits that the war "has saddled us with a debt that will take bread from the mouth of every laboring man's for generations, and send million But what of this? What if the policy of this Abolition administration needlessly extends the duration of the war, and adds millions daily to this crushing debt? What if it does "take bread from the mouth of every laboring man's child, and sends millions hungry to bed ?" That is a trifle to GREELEY and those of his political school. It is an Abolition administration, and to keep politi-Abolition administration, and the country should be turned into a desert and the poor starve, Greeley, and Currin, and Stevens, and every howling Abolitionist in the land millions of bonds in the sinking tund.

2d. I hold the attempt to prefer contractors of the Sunbury and Eric Railroad over the lien of the Commonwealth, to be a gross and palpable violation of the Constitution.

With the imbecile Curtin as Governor, Pennsylvania was left open to a rebel army, and her gallant people had to rely upon the soldiers of a sister State for the very safety of their capital. With the imbecile Curtin as Governor, Horatio Seymour had to deplete his own State of soldiers, but for whose absence ary, 1872, for the three and a half millions of the mob here could never have got six hours bonds, in the sinking fund with interest from headway.
