WAR NEWS.

Interesting from New Orleans-The Fight at Morganzia--Losses Considerable---The Grand Advance.

The Grand Advance.

New Orleans, Oct. 3 — Evening.
I wrote you by the Locust Point some particulars of a fight at Morganzia, on the Mississippi, on the afternoon of the 29th. The town was completely burned, as I then informed you. Since then I have conversed with a gentleman who was an eye witness to the whole affair. The fight was much more serious than at first supposed. But the accounts vary so materially that I am at a loss to state correctly. The nearest I can get at the result is, that our forces were repulsed and driven to the river, under protection of the boats. They have since been reinforced, with what change in our favor I do not exactly know, though I have heard that our loss was quite large there—some say 1,500 to 2,000. This must be taken with many grains of allowance, however.

The rebels will not have it long their own way in that quarter; for, if our forces succeed on the Bayou Teche, where they now are, after having crossed Berwick's Bay, all the rebels on the Mississippi will be needed for the reinforcement of Generals Dick Taylor and Magnuder. The grand advance of the National army will commence in from six to eight.

Our army last night was in line of battle. The whole baggage and transportation train was sent to the rear, and the studers were ordered to Alexandria. The skirmishing yesterday was principally for position, and the report is that in every instance Gen. Meade has succeeded in getting the advantage. The 192 prisoners of war captured on Wednesday last, near Bristow Station, reached the city last night, and were committed to the Old Capitol Prison.

A scouting party under a lieutenant from Wolford's command was captured to-day.

The situation in the east is eminently satisfactory. A skirmish occured near the Blue Ranges late yesterday afternoon. The enemy retreated and will probably fall back to the Watanago river before risking a fight. This force is estimated at from 6,000 to 10,000.

FORTHESS MONDER, Oct. 14.

The steam transport Yankee, from Charleston Bar, 10th instant, (Saturday), arrived here this morning. She had in tow the wooden gunboat Madgie, coming North for repairs, which sunk off the Frying Pan Shoals on Sunday last. Her crew were all saved. They report the result of the rebels attempted to destroy the Ironsides, on the night of the 5th inst., by approaching her in a small steamer and exploding a torpedo amidships. The concussion was tremendous, knocking down a bulkhead, and injuring one man. The Ironsides' hull was uninjured, and she is considered torpedo-proof. The enemy's steamer was hadly damaged, and several of her men knocked overboard and drowned. On the night of the 6th another attempt was made to destroy the frigate, but the enemy were discovered and driven off. A heavy reward is said to have been offered by the citizens of Charleston for the destruction of the Ironsides.

Washingron, Oct, 13.

Parties who arrived from the front this morning say there was considerable skirmishing yesterday between the cavalry on either side, and that smart musketry firing was heard yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of Rappahannock Station. It is presumed here by persons generally well informed that the movement of Gen. Meade was, in fact, one previously desided upon in case of certain contingencies, as indicated by the sending to the rear, some time since, of articles of a cumbersome nature.

One hundred wounded from Gen. Kilpatrick's cavalry division reached here this morning. One hundred and thirty sick from the same corps (the Second) have also arrived. They were distributed among several of the hospitals.

A number of prisoners of war, captured near Raccoon Ford on the 10th inst., have reached here from the Army of the Potomac.

The Evening Star says the skilful mancuvre by which General Meade checkmated his astute adversary, and without any loss of any sort, to any appreciable extent, placed himself on the other side of Jordan, and in a position where he preferred to accept battle, seems to have considerably bothered the rebels, who do not seem inclined to fight, unless with the Indian like advantages of a surprise and ambuscade. The change of position made by our army was effected without the slightest confusion, and the amount of stores destroyed or left behind beyond Culpepper, would not make a car load.

THE GREAT AMERICAN TEA

Since its crganization, has created a new era in the history of Wholesaling Teas in this Country.

They have introduced their eslections of TEAB, and are selling them at not over TWO CENTS (O2 Cents) per pound above Cost, never deviating from the one price saked.

Another peculiarity of the Company is that their Tea Taster not only devote his time to the selection of their TEAB as to quality, value, and particular styles for particular localities of country, but he helps the Tea buyer to choose out of their enormes stock such Teas as are best adapted to his particular wants, and not only this, but points out to him the best bargains.

It is easy to see the incalculable advantage a Tea Buyer has in this establishment over all others.

It is easy to see the incalculable advantage a Tea Buyer has in this establishment over all others.

It he is no judge of Tea or the Market—if his time k valuable—he has all the benefits of a well organized system.

This enables all Tea buyers—no matter if they are thousands of miles frem this market—to purchase on as good terms here as the New York merchants.
