The enemy's position was too formidable to be arried by assault. The great difficulty of keeping p the supplies of the troops at this season of the ear at any distance from the railroad, as well as the impracticability of the carrier for military and appracticability of the cavalry for military ope-s, prevented a more extensive movement, and he army returned to the north side of the Rapidan. e falling back to our present position was accom-shed without loss of men or property.

Judge Ould replied as follows:

Judge Ould r would have secured the assent of the Confederate authorities to a proposition so flagrantly unequal. We are ready to relieve your Government from the burden of supplying "food and clothing as heretofore" to our people in your hands, and if they are sent to us, yours shall be returned to you—the excess, one side or the other, to be on parole. I hope you will 'urge' on General Hitchcock the acceptance of this proposition "as due to the most solemn considerations in the face of the civilized world" We are content that the "civilized world "should draw its own conclusions when it contrasts the two fofers.

It is reported by doserters, as well as by citizens arriving here, that Gen. John C. Breckinridge has died of the wounds he received at the fight at Ringgold. A son of Breckinridge and one of his cousins are among the prisoners captured in the recent engagement. Latest from Gen. Banks.

General Banks has captured Corpus Christi and other places on the coast of Texas. One of the principal points taken by him is Arkansas City, near the pass of that name. This is the place where Taylor landed, previous to the occupation of Point Isabel. The capture of Arkansas City, was made by a force which marched overland from Brownsville. They met with but little opposition. By this move Gen. Banks secures possession of nearly one-third the coast of the State of Texas.

GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimo Sup writes, on the 23d of November, as follows: "As the opinion is semi-officially promulgated and reiterated that the estimates of the budget for and reiterated that the estimates of the budget for the next fiscal year will be $1,200,000,000, (those for the Navy Department alone being about $150,000,000, we can approximate the total Government expenditure from the beginning of the war to the end of the fiscal year in 1865. For the several sessions they are as follows for definite objects: For extra session of 1861, $265,150,000; for regular session of 1861, $394,900,000; for regular session of 1862-3, $973,120,000—total, $2,133,170,000; add for estimates for the next fiscal year, $1,200,000,000—total, $3.333,170,000."

estimates for the next fiscal year, $1,200,000,000—total, $3,333,170,000.

We beg our readers to dwell for a moment on these figures. Our appropriations under Mr. Lincoln's Administration already amount to two thousand one hundred and thirty-three millions of dollars. one hundred and thirty-three millions of dollars.—
The next fiscal year, beginning on the first day of July, 1854, is to cost us twelve hundred millions; making a total of upwards of three thousand three hundred and thirty-three millions. This may be set down as the cost of Mr. Lincoln's Administration —eclipsing the entire expenditures of the Government from its first organization, under Weshington, down to the close of Mr. Buchanan's term!

The total expenditures of the Government during the seventy-two years preceding the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln's Administration was $2,235,677,161.—
The sum of $424,516,447, included in this amount, was for the reduction of the public debt, and should be deducted in order to arrive at the factual expenditures of the Government. Making this deduction we have, as the total actual expenditure, $1,811.—

161,714. This is what it cost us to support our Government, carrying it through two foreign wars, from the day on which George Washington was inaugurated down to the day on which James Buchanan left the Presidential office—a sum much smaller than has already been expended by Mr. Lincoln, and then but little more than half as large as his Administration will have cost us when he retires from office, on the 4th of March, 1865.

These are startling figures, but they should be pondered by the American people. Are we not paying dearly for four years of Abolition rule?—Providence Post.

USED UP. The New York Tribune thus describes Secretary Seward as he appeared passing through that city: The Secretary, never very robust or radiant with health, looked uncommonly thin, pale and careworn, as though the labors and responsibilities of office were making inroads upon his constitution.

And yet this palsied, broken-down political back, trembling on the very verge of the grave, dared at his home in Auburn, to threaten the people of the North with anarchy, revolution and bloodshed, if they refused to elevate Lincoln anew to the Presidential chair. He declared that if the election went against them, his partizans would not submit, -and talked as if he were destined to live forever, and for him there was no judgment and no just people nor avenging God!

Previous to Lincoln's election, he said it was the road to tranquility and peace. Previous to his now swift coming defeat at the next Presidential elecswift coming defeat at the next along the swift coming of tion, he proclaims that it will be the beginning of Corn, old greater and wider convulsions. VOTING IS NOT ENOUGH. The New York Times says:

The New York Times says:

The people have pronounced grandly for breaking down the rebellion by war. Now let them see to it that the government has the means wherewith to do it. Mere voting, without corresponding action, would be hardly less than a mockery. If Valandigham and Woodward and Seymour had been elected, there might have been some consistency in hesitating to respond to the call of the President for more men. Such results might have been plausibly held out as such a condemnation of the war policy of the administration as to make any further increase of the army inexpedient. But the people having sanctioned the policy, are bound to aid in its consummation. The same ardor which they exhibited at the polls, they should now apply to the raising of volunteers.

We fully agree with the Times. Mere voting,

Mashington City, Nov. 13, 1863.

Brig. Gen. S. A. Meredith, Commissioner for Exchange of Prisoners:

Sir. I am not yet informed whether any, or how far, relief may have reached our unfortunate prisoners of the Secretary of War to send supplies to them of both food and clothing.

Mr. Ould should be notified, for the information of his Government, that whatever steps may have been or may be, taken to extend relief (to the prisoners of war at Richmond), must, on no consideration, be appealed to by the enemy to relieve him from the obligation to treat the prisoners according to the laws of civilized warfare. If, in other words, our prisoner is in Richmond must be informed that it will not be considered a valid explanation of excuse for them to appeal to the fact, should it exist, that supplies from us have not reached them. The action of our Government on this matter is dictated purely by humanity, and is only an effort to relieve our prisoners of sufficing inflicted upon the meanth of the war and the laws of overnment on this matter is dictated purely by humanity, and is only an effort to relieve our prisoners of sufficing inflicted upon the laws of own of war, and must not be understood as relieving the authorities of Richmond from responsion and you will propose to Mr. Ould that in this case of the authorities of Nichmond from responsions and you will propose to Mr. Ould that in this consummation.', and it is not an appeal to the case, and it is an a mockery. If Valandity is without corresponding action, is no been plausibly of the administration as to make any further increase of the authorities of Richmond and the value of civilized works.

IMPROVED DUPLEX IN FULL RUBY ACTIONS. A first class Huoting Time Piece of silver material, over which is electro fine plated 18 k. gold, most durably wrought, making the imitation so faultless that it cannot be detected from the solid material by the most experienced judges; acids will not affect it. London made movement. Improved Duplex in full ruby action, has sweep seconds, and is not to be excelled in general appearance. This is decidedly one of the best articles ever offered for traders and speculators. Engineers, emigrants, and persons travelling, will find them superior to any other; alteration of climate will not affect their accuracy. Price, packed in good shape and good running order, only $35, or case of 6 for $200.

$200. SILVER DOUBLE TIME HUNTING LEVERS. Best quality eliver cases, over which electro-fine plated 18 to goid, similar to our Improved Duplex, and superior adjusted movement with "Stop," to be used in timing horses, etc.; has Four Indexes for Washington and Greenwich time, sweep second, and all the improvements. All in all, taking its beautiful and faultless appearance and its superior movement into consideration, we regard it as decidedly the chapset article of the kind in the market. Price, in good running order, $35, or case of 6 for $200. decidedly the cheapest article of the kind in the market. Price, in good running order, $35, or case of 6 for $200.

Bonds may run for 20 years, yet the Government has a right to pay them off in Gold at par, at any time after 5 years.

The Interest is paid half-yearly, viz: on the first days of November and May.

Subscribers can have Coupon Bonds, which are payable to bearer, and are $50, $100 $500, and $1000; or Registered Bonds of same denomical may an in addition, $5.000 and $10,000. For Banking purposes and for investment of Trust monies the Registered Bonds are preferable.

These 5 20's cannot be taxed by States, cities, towns or counties, and the Government tax on them is only one and a half per cent, on the amount of income, when the income of the holder exceeds Six Hundred dollars per annum; all other investments, such as income from Mortgages, Railroad Stock and Bonds, etc. must pay from three to five per cent, tax on the income.

Banks and Bankers throughout the Country will continue to dispose of the Bonds; and all orders by mail, or otherwise, promptly attended to.

The inconvenience of a few days' delay in the delivery of the Bonds is unavoidable, the demand being so great; but as interest commenced from the day of subscription, no loss is occasioned, and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds, and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock and Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock Bonds and every effort is being made to Jank Stock Bonds and e
