

The printing press shall be free to every citizen... The right of free speech and free press is one of the most sacred and inviolable rights of the citizen...

It is announced that Col. Lamon, Marshal of the District of Columbia, intends to resign because the perquisites of his office have been cut down to a low figure. We do not think that he intends to refund the thirty thousand dollars entrusted to him for the formation of a loyal Virginia regiment...

Peace Rumors. The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, writing under date of the 18th, says: The proposed appointment of commissioners to make peace propositions to the rebels grows in popularity...

Mr. Lincoln's non-rejection, before the war, of the slightest possibility of a compromise with traitors, has become still, we hear, repeated whistlings of peace. These utterances come, not from Vallandigham or Fernando Wood, nor from the New York Herald, but from Ben. Butler, heard of late from the Tribune, the Chronicle, the Press, and the Commonwealth. What does this mean?

It would be difficult to induce the people of the revolted States to listen to the slightest possibility of a compromise with traitors. Butler, they have strong antipathies against these men, and we know that even reason itself is often overruled by such feelings.

Our Republican friends have promised to close up the war by bringing an end to the rebellion in a very short time. All the Democrats will rejoice at it all its own way—the men and money it calls for—the same as in the past three years. No Democrat is so stupid as to obstruct its progress...

THE FALSEHOODS AND FRAUDS by which the Black Republican party has lived and thrived are not a new number; but they will forever remain unnumbered unless they are exposed by some sufficient stamp of their infamy. They found this nation, when they began their malignant and fanatical party existence, free, united and prosperous. They divided it with the devilish skill of a juggler...
