Miscellaneous.

The depreciation of our National currency, until its value is but about 40 on the dollar, has been the means of ending up the price of sugar to from 25 to 30 cents per pound, thus placing this article which is among all civilized people considered as one of the prime necessaries of life-beyond the means of all but the rich · men of the country. In order to get rid of our dependence upon foreign nations for our sugar, which must be paid for to them in gold or its equivalent, many experiments are making to manufacture sugar out of timore, and Washington, had beer the Sorghum or Chinese Sugar Cane which heavy sufferers. Some six weeks since can be grown in any of the northern States where maize and Indian corn will come to maturity. But all these experiments can result in nothing but loss of time, labor and money. The saccharine juice of the Chinese Sugar Cane can be converted into a tolerable syrup or molasses, but can never be convertedinto cane sugar; and if those whose zeal has led them to experiment in this direction had paid any attention to chemical science, they could not have become infatuated with the idea of supplying the demand of this country for sugar from the Chinese Sugar Cane.

Chemical science has thus far developed four kinds of sugar, viz: Cane Sugar; Fruit Sugar, Grape Sugar and Milk Sugar, or in chemical language, Sucrose, Fructose, Glaeach other in chemical equivalents. Th equivalents of each are as follows: Sugar Cane, Carbon 12 Hydrogen 11

Grape Sugar, " 12 Milk Sugar, " 24 Cane Sugar or the Sugar of Commerce found in the juice of the Sugar Cane, ir Beets and in the sap of the Maple-tree From no other source has has it yet have found in sufficient quantities to justify its extraction. The Saccharine juice of Soi ghum contains no cane sugar, but grap sugar abounds in it. The sweetening pr erties of the latter, when compared with the former, is as 1 to 25, and by no means y known to chemical science can grape sugar be converted into cane sugar, although it may be made to granulate and chrystalize the same as cane sugar. a sugar from the Sorgham, it is probable that a supply might be obtained from Suga Beet, a species of Beet devived according t Theor from the Beta Vulgari. The presence of cane sugar in the beet was first dis covered by Margraff, about the close of the last century, and Achard of Berlin first at tempted its extraction on a large scale. But it was during the reign of Napolean I, when France all British Colonial produce, that the manufacture of sugar from the beet attait ed such perfection, as to make it profitable and its manufacture is still carried on there and in some of the German States, and em ploys a vast number of laborers and in mense capital. The variety of beet grown for this purpo. is White Silesian, and it flourishes in al most any soil that is sufficiently fertile. The quantity of beets raised per acre, varies from 10 to 15 tons. These are rasped, and the pulp subjected to the pressure of a powerful hydraulic pump; the juice is then much into sugar in the same manner as the juic of the sugar cane. The yield of sugar about 4 per cent, of the weight of the root The amount of sugar yielded per nere roots is therefore about 1,000 pounds which at present prices of sugar would pay both the agriculturist and manufacturer hand some profits, if it were engaged in ascenda ness in this country.

The amount of capital required in secing the buildings and procuring the an chinery requisite for the manufacture sugar, where the farms are as small as its are in the Northern and Middle States, will for ever prévent its manufacture by il farmers themselves. It is only where the manufacture is carried on upon a large scalthat the profits will justify the outlay money necessary to carry on the busines successfully. An establishment for the manufacture of beet sugar, favorably lagated which farmers could ship their roots: moderate expense, could not fail to prov profitable to those, who embark their cap tal in the enterprize as well as to open a nereap as large a share of profits from the cal tivation of the sugar beet, as from any source of agricultural labor and skill.

In England where the cultivation of beeand turnips as food for cattle forms a prom inent feature of their agriculture, it has been ascertained by repeated experiment that to manage an acre of land under beeor turnips, from the breaking of the ground to the storing of the crop, requires fodays of a man and 14 days of a horse, as the amoura of labor required. Allowing $1 per day labor of man, 16 days $50, and 75c, per day for labor of horse 14

We have as the total cost ff an acre of Boots Allowing one-half of the sugar yielded by an acre of Beets to the manufacturer, have 500 pounds of sugar per acre, for the farmers share which at the present price say of 28 cts per pound amounts to 8140.0 Deduct the cost of labor. 56.5

Profit per acre to farmer It is plain, from the foregoing, that, when we had a specie standard of currency, and sugar rated at from 7 to 9 cts per poundthat the profits arising from the crop would not pay the cost of labor. But under ou present system of finances and the consquent prices of all imported commodities it is equally plain, that no more lucrative business could be engaged in by the acr culturist than the raising of Sugar Beet provided, he Thad a market convenier. where, he could dispose of them for the manufacture of Sugar.

Another important consideration conneced with the manufacture of Beet Sugar, is the fact that only about three-fifths of the sugar contained in the Beet is extracted, the balance remaining in the pulp. This pulp is as valuable for food for cattle, as tirextracted.

While there are in this section of country. quite a number of persons engaged in the manufacture of syrup from the sorgham, it is doubtful whether their enterprize would lead them to engage in the manufacture of sugar from the beet. The distance from the railroad, and the high price of coal as a fuel for evaporating the saccharine juice of the beet, will prevent first experiments in this direction being made at points so remote from public improvements as this. Trusting that this suggestion, herein containmay awaken further inquiry upon this important subject. I shall defer further remarks, for my next communication and subscribe myself. A GRICOLA.

EXTENSIVE FORGERIES.

The Alleged Authors Arrested—Banks in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington Victimized. [From the New York World of yesterday.] The detective police of this city have just succeeded in ferreting out the authors of one of the most extensive series of forgeries ever perpetrated in this country. They were taken yester-day before Judge Dowling, at the Tombs Police Court, and one of them turning state evidence, disclosed an organize plan of forgery, which showed that some of the banks of this city and it which showed that various parts of the State, as well as in the cities of Boston, Philadelphia, Bal Superintendent Kennedy was notified of the existence of extensive forgeries that had been committed on certain banks, some of them to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars, and detailed detectives Eustace, Farley, and Tieman to work up the case. The rations of these were so successful that the following named parties were sus pected of being concerned in the busiss: W. Patterson, M. O'Brien, Ira Garvadier, alias Garvadie, Geo. F. Coughlin, Ilugh McNellis, John St. Clair and Spencer Pettus. The first four were promptly arrested, but the remainder are at large. The complaint upon which they were brought before Judge Dowling is one involving the signing of a check for $25,127.50 in the name of Richard D. Lathrop, a well known merchant of New York. It is supposed that numerous other complain ill be made before the present case is li-posed of. A lengthy examination of the witnesses was made yesterday, and the case was adjourned until to-day, the prisoners being remanded to the Tombs in the meantime. The detectives obtained some of the anteredents of the parties, which will be found of interest. They state that Patterson, who is a man of about forty years of age, is a native of Philadelphia and that he has been known for twenty ve years past as a forger of the mo dangerous description, being a bold and skilful operator, a most excellent imitative penman, and a sharp business n. He has served several terms in Pennsylvania and New York State prisons, and is now under indictment uathis city for forging the name of Simion Draper, present Collector of the Port, to a check for $1,000. For this he was arraigned vesterday in the Court o teneral Sessions, and pleaded not guilty O'Brien has been known to the police for some years past as a suspicious character operating about hotels and banks. He is a sagacious individul, quiet and eserved in manner, but has often been rrested by the police. He is brother to lonora Shepard, the most successfu and skilful female counterfeiter that ver operated in this country, and who has served two terms in the State pris-Gavadier has been previously arrested in Washington, but no case was made out against him. Conkling was formerly a clerk in a arge firm in this city. This gave him knowledge of the banking business and brought him into contact with rominent business men, and it was for his purpose that he was admitted to the circle of the forgers. Spencer Pettus has been known to the olice for years past as a nicknooled police for years past as a pickpocket, hotel thief, and bank-robber. He was arrested, tried and convicted, and serv ed a term in England, for picking pock-ets at the Crystal Palace, in London.— McNellis and Le Clair have been known s forgers for some time past# The evidence accumulating against he suspected parties shows that a most extensive series of forgeries has been committed in Albany, Troy, Scranton,

Washington, Philadelphia, Jersey City, Baltimore, and other cities. In addition to the forged check for 225 000 as above stated one has been iscovered for $3,140 on the Mechanic Bank of this city, the check being signed by L. N. McCready & Co., and dated December 23, 1863. A second forged check on the same bank for $14, gion, dated September 16, 1863, and signed William M. Weeks, is in the hands of the detectives. A third forged check on the same bank for 89,000. igned E. H. Ludlow, dated July 20, 1863, was deposited in the Sixth National Bank in this city, and drawn against Bank for the sum of $20,365,42 dated June 4, 4864, and signed J. S. Gilber was made by the forgers, and deposited in the Ninth National Bank in this city, and drawn against. Another for-gery was perpetrated on the Pacific Bank to the amount of $3,000, the name of C. Grinnell & Co., being signed to the

These checks all appeared to be duly stamped and certified to, and had every appearance of genuineness. It is supposed the aggregate amounts of monies hus obtained will not fall short of from $250,000 to $300,000. George F. Conking turned State evidence.

Military Resources of the South. "Druid," the Baltimore corresponlent of the N.Y. World, has shown a wonderfully accurate acquaintance with the state of affairs in the South, and has made many predictions since the war began which have happened, somehow or another, to be better fullfilled than those of Secretary Seward. The following is his estimate of the available military resources of the South at the present time: PRESENT EFFECTIVE STRENGTH OF THE SOUTHERN ARMIES.

The armies of the South now in the cld are composed of the following bodies of troops: Longstreet's corps, A. F. Hill's corps, and the troops recently under Beauregard, holding the lines letending Richmond and Petersburg 5,000 infantry, 10,000 cavalry, and 300 cuns, in all 61,000 troops; Early's corps n the valley, 15,000 men; total of Lee? in the valley, 15,000 men; total of Lee's army proper, 76,000 men. Breckin-ridge's force in Southwestern Virginia, 10,000 men; militia at Lynchburg, 8,000 men; at Wilmington and Weldon, 8,000 men; total under General Lee's immediate orders, 102,000 men. Troops under Resurgerard and Hood in the under Beauregard and Hood, in the West, 50,000; in Arkansas and Mis-souri, under Sterling Price, 20,000 men; beets themselves were before the sagar was at Charleston and Savannah, 15,000 men; in Texas and Louisiana, 15,000 men; at Mobile, 12,000 men; total, 112,000 men. Grand total of troops of the Confederacy in the field, 215,000 troops. AVAILABLE MILITARY STRENGTH OF THE SOUTH.

The above is the present actual strength of the confederate armies, but it is by no means the extent of the available military power of the South. The South has had in arms, since the begining of the war, eight hundred and fifty thousand men (including the above two hundred and fourteen thousand, and fifty or sixty thousand more, who are now prisoners in our hands, and five hundred and seventy-six thousand men who have been killed and disabled during the progress of the war.) If the tables in my letter of September 15 are correct, and their accuracy has never been disputed, the South still has, therefore, a reserve of nine hundred and tifty thousand white men of the Friends at Baltimore and North Andrew W. Smith applied for an attachment against General Butler, he being a non-resident debtor. The plaintiffs in their complaint aver that in May, 1862, they were private bankers, doing business under the firm and name of Samuel Smith & Co., at 27 Camp street, New Orleans. On the 10th of dent, he will probably go on a visit to street, New Orleans. On the 10th of May, General Butler, it is alleged, for-cibly entered their establishment, took away all their funds, private accounts, and $60,000 in gold coin. All this property was kept from them until July, when the defendant returned all their property except the gold coin, which the plaintiffs allege he converted to his own user and returned all their property except the gold coin, which DESTRUCTION OF RESIDENCES ON THE JAMES RIVER.—On Monday the gunboats on the James river were engaged in destroying all the houses within reach of their shells, the rebels having made use of many of them for signal stations. ITS OWN MERITS.

Some of the most respectable and substantial citizens of Lauenster county, have been treated and cured, as can be seen by reference to themselves, or the books of the Institute.

of every kind have been treated successfully, and in a number of instances, after all other systems and medicines had failed, and the individuals had been pronounced incurable and GIVEN UP TO DHE.

Pulmonary Consumption, Liver Diseases, Diabetis, Piles, Dyspepsia, Catarth, Paralysis, Hemplegia and Paraplegia, Hemeopia, Aphonia, Laryngitts, Trachelismus, and all diseases of the throat and vocal organs, Bronchitis and Pleuritis, Neuralgia, Sciatic, Spinal Weakness, Epilesy, when arising from functional disturbance, complaints incident to Females, and especially PROLAPSUS UTERI. PROLAPSUS UTERI or falling down of the Uterus, can be perma-nently cured, and all nervous affections yield to the action of the Galvanic and Electric cur-nemy cired, and all nervous affections yield to the action of the Galvanic and Electric currents, when properly applied.

One would be led to suppose, from the practical demonstration given of the wonderful healing properties of Galvanism in the above diseases, that its efficacy as a Therapeutic would be doubted by no one, and yet we occasionally come across an individual who will not believe, simply because the Medical Faculty, as a general thing, have not taken hold of it, to them we would say that there is hardly a Braithwalt's Retrospect published but what refers to the healing properties of Electricity, and that if the faculty understood more about it they would prefer it to all other remedies, also, that some of the best Physicians in the United Stafes have adopted it. Hereafter, however, in order to gratify all, there will be at the Institute an eminent Physician of FORTY YEARS ACTUAL PRACTICE. and we cordially invite the diseased of all classes to call and examine into the merits of this system, as consultation and advice, to gether with pamphlets, will be given Free of Charge.
