ue of crimes which the courts of justice take cognizance of, and then enumerated others, equally as bad; which could not be reached by any such means, but which alone the Day of Judgment would reveal, and the hand of Omnipotence properly deal with. Hypperisy, ingratitude and the unfilial conduct of children to parents were the principal of the latter crimes dwelt uponand forcibly illustrated. The sermon was replete with beautiful thoughts, clothed in chaste and eloquent language. The manner of the speaker is subdued, solemn and pleasing. His voice is good and his gestic ulation graceful. Mr. R. is a young gentle man of first-class abilities. He has lately entered the ministry of the Presbyterian Church, and we hazard nothing in saying that he will soon rank among the first of pulpit orators among the many able preach ers of that denomination.

LANCASTER HORSE MARKET-MONDAY. Feb. 20, 1865.—There are fewer horses in the Drove Stables to-day than at the date of our last report. The arrivals have been quite limited, whilst sales to a fair amount have been made. TROUT'S .- Trout's stables are pretty well cleaned out, not more than twenty-five or thirty head of horses remaining in them Phil, Morgret is expected to " reinforce the garrison" with a car-load to-morrow. Three car-loads left Trout's this morning for Washington, being taken for the government by Price. At the same time two car-loads were shipped for Philadelphia by Copeland & Cline. Altogether, about seventy-five head were taken away from Trout's this morning, Another car-load, made up out of Trout's and Funk's stables, will leave for Philadelphia this afternoon.

FUNK's .--- The only arrivals reported at Funk's during the past week, were Hammond & Skinner 15 head, and David Skinner 10-all from Franklin county. From forty to fifty head were sold out of Funk's stables during the week, and about one hundred and twenty-five head remain on hand.

The whole number of horses left over at Trout's and Funk's at the date of our last report, (one week ago,) was about two hundred. The number on hand to-day is about one hundred and fifty, showing a reduction of fifty in the course of the week. Among the number on hand may be found all ages all sizes, all styles and many colors. There is a remarkably handsome horse for light driving at Funk's. The prices vary as much as the horses differ in size and appearance. LEMAN & MURPHY'S .- We found sixteen head of horses in Leman & Murphy's Livery and Sale Stables this morning. Among them is a pair of bays of medium size, that match very well and look like fine, serviceable animals. Most of the horses in this stable have a good appearance, and some of them look as if they might display considerable style in driving.

THE OTHER LIFE .- The Knickerbocker quotes from some unknown divine this thought concerning the future life, and the beautiful illustration which follows it: "What the other life may do to me, I beautiful illustration which follows it: "What the other life may do to me, I know not," says the eloquent man, "but this I know and feel; I shall awake in God's likeness and see Him as he is; and out of every longing I hear him say, Oh, thirsty, hungry soul, cone to me." "If a child had been born and spent all his life in the Mammoth Cave, how impos-sible would it be for him to comprehend the upper world! Parents might teil him of its life, and: light, and beauty, and its sounds of joy; they might heap up the studies, how grass and flowers and trees grow out of the ground; till at length, with laborious thinking, the child would fancy he had gained a true idea of the mknown land. And yet, though he longed to behold it, when the day came that he was to go forth, it would be with re-gret for the familiar crystals and rockhewn rooms, and the quiet that reigned therein. But when he came up, some May morning, with tea thousand birds singing in the trees, and the heavens bright and blue, and full of sunlight and the wind blowing softly through the londscape are ching any green, beauti-ful to the horizon, with what rapture would be gaze about him, and see how poor were all the fancyings and interpretations which would wonder that be could ever have rewhich grew and lived without; and how he would wonder that he could ever have re-gretted to leave the silence and dreary darkas of his old abode. So, when we emerge ress of his old abode. So, when we emerge from this cave of earth into that land were spring growths are, and where is eternal summer, how shall we wonder that we have clung so fondly to this dark and barren life!'
