of C. Chauncey Burr, Esq., before the Young Men's Democratic Association, on Wednesday evening, at Fulton Hall, was a able and thorough an exposition of the doctrine of State rights and the great and undying principles of the Democratic party as we have ever heard. For more than two hours and a half he held the audience chain-bound with his unanswerable arguments in favor of the sovereignty of the States, and the limited power of the General Government under the Federal Constitution, and he dealt some gigantic blows upon Mr. Lir coln and his subordinates for their open and shameless infractions of that sacred instrument. He showed that the present was not a war for the Union and was never intended as such, but for the obliteration of Statrights and the elevation of the negro. He cited instances of where the leaders of th party in power were at one time the greatest sticklers for State sovereignty, and counselled resistance to the laws because they be lieved they infringed upon the same. He contended, and very truthfully too we think that if the Democratic party had remained true to its faith and principles this war would never have commenced, and if com menced could not have been carried on, He urged upon the Democracy the absolu essity of standing fast and immovable upon the basis of the Constitution, and the luty of resisting unto the death, if necessary all attempts upon the part of the Abolition ist to destroy the Union by trampling under foot the sacred guarantee of their personal liberties. His conclusion, by the recital and application of Gen. Morris' famous song, "Woodman Spare that Tree," to the present condition of our country was a sublime and thrilling flight of eloquence, and the audience were carried away as if by storm. The lecturer was repeatedly and warmly applauded during the course of his remarks. The audience was select, intelligent and appreciative, and we were glad to notice the large attendance of ladies who took the deepest interest in the lecture

We do not pretend to give sis of this masterly address. We learn from an introductory remark of the distinguished lecturer that it is to be published in pamphlet form, at the request of a Democratic States' Rights Association in the city of New York, and we cannot do better than advise all our readers to procure copies of it when issued, as it will furnish them with a volume of arguments to overthrow all the sophistry and false reasoning of the Abolitionists. DEATH OF DR. LEIB,-Dr. Charles Leib formerly of this city, author of "Nine Months in the Quartermaster Department of West Virginia," died recently in Arizona.

He was a Pennsylvanian, from Schuylkill county. In 1860 he published the Railsplitter, a campaign paper, in Chicago. In 861 he was in charge of the Quartermaster's Department at Clarksburg, West Virginia, as Captain and A. Q. M. The next winte the Senate rejected his appointment, as he afterward said, "on the ground that he had million of dollars unaccounted for.' Captain John M. Huntington, A. Q. M Captain Leib then went to Marietta and wrote his book, "How to Make a Million." He went to New Mexico, and there published the New Mexican. Last July he was a candidate for delegate to Congress from Arizona, but was defeated by C. D. Poston. He was a man of generous impulses, of a restless disposition, and we learn that he as Rev. David Rush, of Pequea township, was leaving the city in his carriage he met with a very serious accident. As he was driving over a crossing, in South Queen street, a little below the Odd Fellows' Hall. the coupling of the vehicle gave way and he was thrown out with great violence. His forehead struck the front axle of the carriage with such force as to tear loose the entire scalp from the eyebrows to the top of the head. It was as cleanly done as if a knife had been employed. He was conveyed into the residence of Mr. Walter Clarke, and Dr. Henry Carpenter was called in. The scalp was drawn to its place and sewed up. Hopes are entertained that he will speedily

BUILD HOUSES .- There is a great scarcit of and demand for tenement houses in this city. We do not think our men of means and capital could better invest their surplus funds than by erecting such. The Messrs. Norris could give employment to at least 500 mechanics at their extensive Locomotive Works, but, of course, men do not feel like coming here to reside unless they can bring their families along and get them comfortable houses to live in. It is well never so much promoted as by having among its inhabitants a great number of first-class mechanics. One improvement begets another, and as our city is now again on the road to prosperity, let our business sene lamp, with the wick turned down, in on the road to prosperity, let our business men and capitalists see to it that they do nothing to retard it. Let houses be built, therefore, this spring. Plenty of tenants

DEATH OF COL. HENRY KYD DOUG-Ass.-Col. Henry Kyd Douglass, of the 'onfederate Army, was killed in a recent skirmish in Virginia. Col. Douglass was well known in this city, having graduated with the highest honors at the Annual ommencement of Franklin and Marshall College in 1858. He was a native and resilent of Virginia, and entered the Confedrate service at the breaking out of the war, and held a position on Gen. (Stonewall) Jackson's staff until that officer's death rom wounds at the battle of Chancellorsille. His rank at that time was that of Major. He was wounded and taken prisner at the battle of Gettysburg, and a number of our citizens who visited that attle-field saw and conversed with him in me of the hospitals. He was afterwards exchanged, and promoted for meritorious ervices. He was a gentleman of the highest intellectual culture, of fine social qualities, and was a brave and accomplished

MARCH I, 1865. FATAL AND HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.-Mr. Jeremiah McCracken, a well-known citizen of this city, met with a horrible and fatal accident, on Thursday last, under the following ircumstances. He had gone to the Depot n company with his brother-in-law, who esides at Marietta, and stepped on the train o bid him good bye. Meanwhile the train ommenced moving, and Mr. C. on getting off, in front of the Fulton House, slipped und fell. His right arm caught on the rail and his body was dragged under the wheels. The head was almost severed from the body and the arm completely crushed and aken off just below the elbow. e met with instant death. The mangled body was taken into the Baggage Room of the Depot, where Deputy Coroner Snyder with the above facts was rendered. Mr. McCracken was one of the oldest and nost prominent members of the Segar Makers' Association of this city. He was one of the kindest hearted men we ever knew, and his sudden and horrible death has cast a shudder and gloom over all who knew him. He was a devoted husband and affectionate father. His family consists of a wife and six children, and his wife, we earn, is very ill at the present time. His oldest son, John C. McCracken, who was orderly Sergeant of the Union Guards, 1st Pennsylvania Reserves, died in the month of August, 1862, from wounds received in the battles before Richmond under General McClellan. Alas, poor Jerry. How sad and horrible his death has been. God help the afflicted family and relatives.

Another Warning.—We cautioned our eaders a day or two since, says the Harrisourg Union, against the too common pracice of burning oil wick low in the socket or the purpose of either saving consumpion of the fluid or moderating the light stating the evil consequences that might esult. We now have a late incident to relate-out of many that have fallen under our notice-which we hope will convince the most skeptical that not only health, but life is even endangered by burning the lamp wick low in the socket. The Lansing Journal mentions the fact that a woman in that neighborhood was found dead in her bed, having died in consequence of the her chamber. With the lamp properly trimmed, the wick at a proper height, the gas is consumed, and there is no danger; but when the wick is turned down too low the gas escapes and poisons the air.

ARRESTED.—On complaint of Daniel A. Shiffer, a late Underkeeper of the Lancaster County Prison, George Long, one of the Inpectors of said prison, residing in Mount oy township, was arrested and taken be fore Alderman Wiley, charged with misdemeanor in office, in accepting a bribe of $15  $\,$ from Henry Shubert for his influence and vote for the office of Deputy Keeper. He was held to bail for a hearing.

Officer Baker yesterday arrested a Yankee ounty-jumper, named Regan, for passing ounterfeit money. He was taken before the same Alderman, and searched. Two $10 notes, altered from $1's, on the Montgomthe Provost Marshal, and was sent to the

The engine was also considerably damaged, and was number of horses remaining at Trout's is learned, was severely injured, having some of a people whom they have so awfully

THE SUSQUEHANNA .- It often happens that the Susquehanna, after being ice-bound for months, suddenly bursts the barriers which have restrained it. Fed as it is by almost innumerable streams, draining vast and very mountainous region, it is liable to great and sudden floods. What is but its most insignificant tributary, a mere brook, which you may step across in summer, becomes a raging mountain torrent when swolen by the swiftly dissolving snows of winter. Thousands of these pouring into every creek that is tributary to the Susquenanna, swell these comparatively insignificantstreams almost to the magnitude of rivers. These, emptying into the Susquehanna cause the waters to rise, until every rocky obstruction is covered, and the river sweeps along a smooth swift stream of majestic proportions. But, when the first flood comes after a severe winter there is often a wild scene along the whole river, as the firm ice that has been forming for months is broken up and swept downward in vasi quantities. It is a grand sight to see one of these wild spectacles. The whole bed of th river is gorged with the accumulated ice. which is often from two to three feet thick. The noise is startling as the wild waters sweep on with resistless and majestic force. Often a jam occurs which dams the water back for miles, and sometimes considerable damage occurs. Saturday night and early on Sunday morning the people of Columbia, Marietta and Bainbridge were not a little alarmed. The river rose to a height not equalled since the old Columbia Bridge was swept away. The railroad track was covered with water and huge blocks of ice, and all the freight and other trains had to be run by way of Mount Joy. The Canal was seriously damaged. It is reported that two buildings were swept away at Bainbridge. To-day, we believe, the waters have subsided, and in a few days more the river will be open for navigation by the

How MUCH MILK DOES IT TAKE TO MAKE A POUND OF BUTTER?—It seems that this question is just now exciting the dairy farmers of Bucks and Montgomery counties, residing on the lines of railroad running to Philadelphia. The Norristown Herald, in discussing this matter, says that ourteen quarts of milk to a pound of buter is too liberal an estimate. Jacob Craft, of Gwynedd, says repeated trials have shown that ten quarts will make a pound. Hugh Forman, of New Britain, says he has sometimes made a pound of butter from nine quarts of milk, and that his neighbor, Henry Weisel, upon one occasion, produced it from a little less quantity, but he thinks from a long experience that twelve quarts is a fair average, and will be found to be necessary in most cases of ordinary cows, fairly fed. The same quantity was the experience of the late Charles sive dairyman. Much depends, of course apon the manner of feeding, and there is a reat difference in cows, some giving very ich milk, and others vice versa. The price of milk at present obtained by farmers along the line of the North Pennsylvania Railroad, is 8 cents per quart, delivered at

On Saturday last, while loisurely opening a pile of exchange papers, the Democratic Sentinel (published at Kittanning, Armstrong county) of February 23d, came into our hands. We had just torn off the wrapper and were proceeding to spread the sheet out before us, when a diminutive speck, which appeared to be endued with life, attracted our attention. Taking for granted that it could be nothing but one of the vermin which are so annoying to tidy house-keepers, and for which "Costur's Exterminator" is highly recommended, we were about to shake it off in disgust, with no high opinion of the cleanliness of the Armstrong county Printing Offices, when suddenly the supposed crawling insect took wings and flew toward the window—and, to our surprise, we saw that it was a tiny fly! Our organ of destructiveness was immediately quieted, and mentally repenting the memorable words of Linel Toliv. On Saturday last, while leisurely opening quieted, and mentally repeating the memor able words of Uncle Toby : able words of Uncle Toby:

"Go, poor devil, I will not hurt thee:
The world's wide enough for you and me"— we concluded that a fly that could survive three days' sepulture in the close folds of a newspapar, and the rough handling of the mail bags, (in the winter, too) deserved to live. Andit does cling to life with a tenacity that would deny the correctness of classing the fly in the order of ephemera. As we write (Thursday) it still buzzes in the sunlight against the panes of our ording window light against the panes of our office

Frightful Picture.

The country is weary of bloodshed; the weight of taxation is becoming enormous; the tide of suffering and sorrow is every month rising higher and higher over the whole country. Every skirmish sets tears to flow in a hundred households that will not be dried for a many year tocome. Art, science, literature, and civilization itself are suffering from this prolonged concentration of all the energies and all the attention of one of the foremost nations of the world on the work of destruction. Every consideration that, can or ought to move Christian men calls upon us all to make a great effort now to bring this awful struggle to a close, to seal up forever this great fountain of misery and bitterness.—N. Y. Times.

The Times is the leading Administra-The Times is the leading Administration organ in New York; indeed, it is understood to be its official mouth-piece. The above frightful yet truthful picture of the condition of country and the effects of the war, is therefore remarkable and significant. The truths it utters are such as its allies have heretofore characterized as "loyal," "coppery" and "treasonable;" and it is a hopeful sign when we see them thus endorsed and re-iterated by such "loyal" authority. It gives hope that the "supporters of the Government" are beginning to realize the effects and inevitable tendency of the atrocious policy and conduct of the Administration. And when that takes place, they will set resolutely to work "to bring this awful struggle to a close,-to seal up forever this fountain of misery and bitterness." And when that time comes, woe to the bad men who have caused all the terrible horrors of the last four years!

Better were it for them that a millstone were hanged about their necks and they were cast into the sea, than that they live to realize the terrible indignation

There is nothing of importance from he Army of Northern Virginia. seriers in great number are coming into our lines from Grant's army, which is an indication that they are in expectation of a battle. Doubt Entertained of Grant's Inten-tion to Move on the Rebel Right.

From the Richmond Dispatch, March 3.1 Everything remains quiet in these lines, and is likely so to continue while the rain and mud lasts, and of those there seems to be no end. There is no doubt that Grant will make another heavy movement on our right so soon as the condition of the roads will permit.

Affairs in Lee's Army.

Deserters and absentees from the Confederate armies are returning to their commands in large numbers from all sections of the country, and availing themselves of General Lee's ing themselves of General Lee's amnesty proclamation. A deserter under sentence of death in the Army of Northern Virgtnia was released on the day appointed for his execution, the proclamation having been received about two hours previous to the time fixed for his being shot. He remarked, upon being set free, that if he lived for a hundred years his life belonged to his country, and he should, by his devotion to his country and to duty in the future, show that elemency in his case had not been misplaced.
