closures, one of them having no less than 203. The close and multitudinous relations of this country with America have, in fact, been entangled and twisted in inextricable confusion, and these voluminous letters and inclosures are probably but an inadequate representation of the innumerable knots which Lord Lyons has had to untie. Questions of blockhas had to untie. Questions of block-ade and of nationality, complaints from British subjects, demands by the British government, the valuable despatches of Mr. Seward, and his incessant demands and representations—all these com-bined have taken the energies of the mission and the supervision of the Minister to a probably unprecedented extent. But the amount of the busithus transacted must, after all. have been the least part of its burden. The anxiety of the office must have been far more trying than its labor. Seldom has there been a more important post at a more critical time. The sequences which have depended for the last few years on the due conduct of our relations with the United States conduct have been momentous in the extreme, and there has scarcely been any mo-ment within that period at which those relations might not have been compromised by a failure in courtesy or disetion. Mr. Lincoln's government indeed has, it must be confessed, displayed a credi-table or a prudent self-control under the various excitements of the time, yet the temper of the American public has constantly been such that a slight indiscretion on our part might have made it impossible for the President and his Minister to be more moderate than the peo-ple whom they represent. It reflects the greatest credit on Lord Lyons, that during this critical and difficult period he has uniformly smoothed the rough-ness and adjusted the difficulties which arose, and that Mr. Layard could say the other night that "in no instance has he not received the entire approval of her Majesty's Governmen."

The more satisfactorily, however, he has filled his difficult post the greater our regret at his enforced retirement particularly at a moment when clouds on all sides threaten a difficult if not a stormy course to the pilot of our interests in America. Lord Lyons has seen the ship of the American State drift from a safe harbor into the unknown waters of a dangerous and tempestuous sea. It is no wonder if he is overwearied by the but he resigns a difficult and uncertain task to his successor. It is, indeed, extraordinary to reflect upon the changes which his comparatively short term of office has witnessed. A period is not always to be measured by the mere lapse of time and a succession of carents. of time, and a succession of events has been crowded into the six years of Lord Lyons' employment which would have been thought not long ago, too many and too vast for the lifetime of one man. He was appointed in 1858, yet what an era has passed since then! Three short years have witnessed the violent disruption of the greatest power in the New World, the growth of a war almost unexampled in its magnitude, and, whatever may be the ultimate result of the struggle, the utter subversion of all the most cherished institutions of Lyons went to Washington the United States stretched in peaceful and prosperous dominion from the Gulf to the St. Lawrence, and from the Pacific to the Atlantic they were the favorite model of free and republican institutions, they scarcely possessed an army, they had an absolutely insignificant debt, and the whole energy of their industrious and vigorous population was devoted to commerce, to agriculture, to learning and the arts. Lord Lyons leaves them in the convulsions of a political earthquake. One vast chasm yawns from East to West, dividing by blood and fire two hostile sections of a scarcely kindred race; republican institutions are rapidly becoming imperial in almost all but the name, personal freedom is a memory of the past; enormous armies, like swarms of locusts, devour the face of the country; a debt un-paralleled for its growth and threatening aspect overshadows the resources of the nation, and the whole energy the people is withdrawn from the life giving exercise of peace to the exhaust-ing fever of war. When Lord Lyons first went to his mission the country he was accredited to was the United States. It is difficult to say what it should be called now, impossible to foresee what it will be. Those six years in fact have seen the rise and the development of a be successful in another. Perhaps, in the surging sea which American poliics represent at the present time, an intimate acquaintance with the recent traditions of our Ministry at Washinge of less importance than it would have been otherwise. The movements have been so rapid, the influences so uncertain that the course pursued at one moment may have to be forgotton the next. But though, Sir F. Bruce has not been recently employed in any post connected with his new office, he is not entirely inexperienced in American affairs. His first employment was when attached to the late Loyd Ashburton's special mission to Washington in 1842, when the fame Ashburton treaty was negotiated. Sub-sequently, for a year, he was Lieuten-ant Governor of Newfoundland and from 1847 to 1851 he was employed in various posts in South America. Four years after this he went with his brother Lord Elgin to China, and has since been entirely employed in that country.

By a fortunate coincidence he will arrive in America just when Mr. Lin-

A wild fancy had a little while ago possession of the American mind, that England and France contemplated a sort of underhand recognition of the Confederacy on the 4th of March by ac-knowledging Mr. Lincoln as President those States which had taken part in his election. prise with which this announcement of intentions was received on this side of the water would have been sufficient to convince the public of both countries of their mistake. But the Americans are peculiarly hard to convince against their will and it may be fortunate, therefore, a marked refutation will be given to their delu-sion. The arrival of a new Minister, accredited to the government whose accredited to the government whose authority we still acknowledge, will be a more conspicuous evidence of the fallacy of these strange anticipations than the return of Lord Lyons. It may, perhaps, be made more evident that, instead of in any way slighting their government, we are paying it the distinct attention of selecting a new Minister to represent us.

represent us. Gen. Palmer has ordered "the sup-pression of all slave-pens." The order bears upon the radical editors. Their pens are slaves to the Administration.

Correct Transcript of the Sentence of Death Pronounced Against Jesus

Christ. The following is a copy of the most memorable judicial sentence which has ever been pronounced in the annals of the world—namely, that of death against the Saviour, with the remarks which the journal Le Droit has collected, and the knowledge of which must be interesting in the highest degree to every Christian. It is word for word as follows: Sentence pronounced by Pontius Pi-

Galilee, that Jesus of Nazareth shall suffer death by the cross. In the seventeenth year of the reign of the Emperor Tiberias, and on the 25th day of the month of March, in the most holy city of Jerusalem, during the pontificate of Annas and Caiaphas. Pontius Pilate, intendant of the province of Lower Galilee, sitting in judgment in the presidential seat of the prætor, sentences Jesus of Nazareth to death on a cross between two robbers, as the numerous and notorious testimonies of the people prove: 1. Jesus is a misleader.

2. He has excited the people to sedi-

3. He is an enemy to the laws. 4. He calls himself the Son of God.

5. He calls himself falsely the King of Israel. 6. He went into the temple, followed by a multitude carrying palms in their hands. Orders the first centurian, Quirilius Cornelius, to bring him to the place of execution. Forbids all persons, rich or poor, to revent the execution of Jesus.

The witnesses who have signed the execution against Jesus are-1. Daniel Robani, Pharisee.

2. John Zorobabel.

3. Raphael Robani.

4. Capet. Jesus to be taken out of Jerusalem through the gate of Tournes. This sentence is engraved on a plate of brass, in the Hebrew language, and on its sides are the following words 'A similar plate has been sent to each tribe." It was discovered in the year 1280, in the city of Aquila, in the kingdom of Naples, by a search made for the discovery of the Roman antiquities, and remained there until it was found by the commissaries of art in the French army of Italy. Up to the time of the campaign in Southern Italy, it was preserved in the sacristy of the Carthusians. near Naples, where it was kept in a box of ebony. Since then the relic has been kept in the Chapel of Caserta. The Carthusians obtained by their petitions that the plate might be kept by them which was an acknowledgement of the sacrifices which they made for the French army. The French translation was made literally by members of the commission of arts. Denon had a fac simile of the plate engraved, which was bought by Lord Howard, on the sale of his cabinet for 2,890 francs. Thereseem to be no historical doubts as to the authenticity of this. The reasons of the sentence correspond exactly with those of the Gospel.-Translated from the Kolnishe Zeitung.

Popular Science. Cornelius O'Dowd, in the last Blackwood, indulges in a humorous protest against popularizing science, especially as it effects Mrs. O'Dowd. He comes home and finds that estimable lady in tears because she has learned at the Scientific Congress that the coal fields cannot last over twelve thousand years, and that the earth's crust is a seventeenth of an inch, thinner than it was at the time of Moses. And then he asks, What right has Sir David Brewster or Professor Faraday to fill my wife's head with speculations about the first man? I am, or at least ought to be, the first man to her." But even this is not so bad as the dismal information thrust upon him regarding the constituents of which both are composed. "I do not desire to have it impressed on meso forcibly that I am only a compound of neutral salts, gelatine, fibrine and adipose matter. It is no pleasure to me to regard Mrs. O'Dowd as a vehicle for phosphate of lime, various carbonates and an appreciable ortion of arsenic."

Exports of the Sandwich Islands. The following reports of the exports from the Sandwich Islands, which we elip from the Hondlular Advertiser of January 21st, shows how rapidly those far off Islands are increasing in wealth and material prosperity. They are one of the finest sugar producing regions in the world. The Advertiser says: A small table will show how rapidly our exports have increased 1863, 5,292,121, 89,764 123,415,598,291 477,422 43,646 133,171 3,122 425,081 282,640 279,158 233,165

Bruce has greatly distinguished himself by his with in Washington, yet a man who has been energetic, acute and successful in one place will probably be energetic as marked during 1865 as in the previous year, and our total crop will not be

Rice and paddy amount to about the

the paddy is cleaned before being exported, thus giving to the country the

It is generally acknowledged in foreign markets, that our cleaned rice is the best article to behad, rivalling in every respect the far-famed South Carolina rice of former years. With the high price it commands in California, its cultivation must increase during the present year.

The pulu shipments have been large, and about the average of former years. Fungus still affords to Chinamen a good means of remittance to China. Cotton begins to figure among our exports, but occupies an humble place. Several new articles of product will be found in the list, among them, sandal-wood, rags, taro, peanuts, &c. taro, peanuts, &c.

In liquors, the consumption has increased about twenty per cent., which is about the increase in the foreign population, which mainly consumes it.

Altogether, the statistics present a very satisfactory exhibit of the commercial condition and prospects of the island, and we see no reason to anticioate any change for the worse during ne present year.

A reply to Governor Curtin's letter upon the subject of computing quotas has been sent to the President by Attorhas been sent to the President by Attorney General Speed, in which the Governor's suggestions are refused and his arguments attempted to be overthrown. The document is very long and very obscure. The period of service, it is contended, is the proper way, under the law, of computing quotas, and not that of estimating the number of men in of estimating the number of estimating the number of men in service. For instance, if Pennsylvania has fifty thousand one year's men in service at the time the quotas are assigned for a draft, and Massachusetts has fifty thousand Belgians and negroes has fifty thousand Belgians and negroes in for three years, Pennsylvania will get credit for fifty thousand while Massachusetts will be credited with one hundred and fifty thousand, by multiplying her men by the term of service. It is easy, under these circumstances, to see how our State has been figured into furnishing forty-nine thousand and odd hundreds, against the eight thousand of Massachusetts.—Patriot and Union.

A New Island.

The Commercial Advertiser, published t Honolulu, on the Sandwich Islands, in its issue of January 21st, has the following notice of the discovery of a new island in the Pacific. It says:

On the passage of the missionary packet Morning Star from the Micropacket Morning Star from the infer-ncesiar Islands to this port, Capt. Gelett discovered a new Island, located in North latitude 24° 4', and East longi-tude 154° 2', or about 800 miles N. N. E. from Guam. On the evening of December 16 he observed numerous land late, intendant of the province of Lower birds, which increased in number the next morning, and remarked that land must be near by, which was discovered at 3 P. M. of the 17th. The Island is about five miles long, densely covered with trees and shrubbery, with a white sand beach, and rises in a knoll at the centre, perhaps two hundred feet above the sea. The brig passed within three or four miles of it about sunset, and breakers were seen all around. There were no signs of inhabitants living on it, oirds, which increased in number the no signs of inhabitants living on it. though all hands on board kept a close lookout. A reef extends to the North of the island. On the old Admiraity charts a doubtful Island is noted in th vicinity of the one discovered, but or Wilkes' American chart and on Luray! London chart none is laid down within 100 mlles of the spot. The discovery of this fertile island is important, and is reliable. We propose to name it Gelett Island, in honor of the Captain of the brig. It ought to be visited by some war vessel, and fully explored. It lies directly in the track of whalers bound from Ascension to the Ochotsk or Arctic.

Westmoreland Oil Regions. There seems to be no end to the Oil territory of this State. The Westmoreland Republican has following notice of matters in that county:

Recent investigations direct increased attention to this County. Several distinguished geologists have been examining the soil, and have arrived at the conclusion that Westmoreland is the centre of the great oil basin, whose outcrops extend, on one hand, to West Virginia, and, on the other to Venango. The greater portion of the land in this county, is sold or leased to those who intend to operate in oil. It is true that the boring must be deeper in this county, than in Venango, because it is the centre of the basin, but in return, we will be compensated with more en during wells of petroleum. Every citizen should endeavor to develop the resources of his own county. Why should our citizens expend their time and money in other States and counties, when they will be just as well compensated in Westmoreland? Here labor is not half as high, and fuel does not cost the onetenth of what it does on Oil Creek.— Citizens, at their own homes, can super-intend their own operations, and bore for the lubricating fluid in the presence of their own household deities. Economy would be thus consulted, expenses curtailed, and the whole country bene fitted.— $\acute{R}epublican$.

Shooting Affair at Bladensburg. Sunday afternoon a young man named Hiram Dowden was shot and killed at Bladensburg by a cavalry soldier on the portico of Howell's restaurant, under the following circumstances: Young Dowden, who was a clerk in the shoe store of C. F. Cummings & Co., Seventh street, near New York avenue, has been in the habit of visiting his grandfather, Mr. Clements, at Bladensburg every Sunday. Last Sunday afterburg, every Sunday. Last Sunday after-noon, being ready to return to the city he went to Howell's restaurant with some acquaintances and took a sext on the back portico to await the arrival so the cars. Conversation ensued among the young men, and the subject was the situation of South Carolina, and young Dowden claimed that she was not whipped yet. According to one account he hurrahed for South Carolina and Jeff. Davis, but this is denied by his friends. The cavalry soldier walked up nim, put his hand on him and remarked 'I want you!" Young Dowden denied the soldier's right to arrest him. oldier told him he was under arrest, but Dowden still refused to acknowledge it, and still maintained his position on the chair. The soldier drew his revolver, presented it and fired, the ball entering Dowden's forehead about half nch above the eye, and passed through he head, causing death in a few min utes. The soldier immediately mounted his horse and left the village in haste, by the old bridge road. Upon reaching by the old bridge road. Upon reaching the guards near the camps, he was halted by a sentinel who inquired the cause of his haste. He only replied, "I have shot some one!" and passed on to Fort Baker, where, we hear, he was arrested by the officer of the day, and is now in custody for trial.— Washington Star.

The Tunkhannock Democrat says William Larkins and his accomplices in the murder of Isaac Sickler, are still kept from the civil authorities of thi county, under the pretense that he will be tried by military law, which our rulers give us to understand, has super-seded the civil laws. Does any sane man doubt that we are the servile subjects of a military despot? Mark the contrast. But a few months since, a nigger deserter while in the act of deserting was shot by those who had him in charge. The military authorities very properly refusing to interfere, the civil laws were enforced and the offender is now expiating his offence in the peni-

A few days since a deputy Provost Marshal with three or four reckless vagabonds, in making a triumphal tour through our county out of mere wanthrough our county, out of mere wan-tonness, and without the slightest pro-vocation or justification, shot down in he road a peaceable, unarmed citizen. In this case the functions of the civi law are suspended! The victim was only a white man, and a democrat!

The murderer will probably have a mock military trial, and will doubtless be fully acquitted, and turned loose upon society to continue his pistol practice upon other human targets! Being careful, only, not to injure nigger deserters! A Victim to Mr. Seward's Correspondence. From the evidence produced from the British Foreign Office it appears that Lord Lyons was utterly broken, and so compelled to resign his post of British Minister at Washington, in consequence of the unparalleled task to which he was subjected in his efforts to keep up with Mr. Seward's voluminious diplomatic correspondence. The letters connected with her Majesty's Washington embassy for one year filled sixty large folio vol-umes. Lord Lyons has succumbed to the pressure and retired, and Sir Frederick Bruce, thoroughly trained in the long-winded diplomacy of China, comes to take his place. We congratulate Lord Lyons, and we sympathize with Sir Frederick Bruce.—V. Y. Herald.

No. 1. A lease for the term of ninety-nine years of a tract of land, containing ninety-one-deres, situated in Jefferson county, Pennsylvania, on the south bank of the Clarion river, near Clarington, and is subjective only one-tenth royalty. There is an extensive Bed of Bituminous Coal on the tract, and the greater part is covered with very heavy Timber. The use of all the Coal and Timber has been secured by the Company. There is also, a Salt Spring and a Gas Spring on the premises, which with the dark color, and light specific gravity of the Oil found in the vicinity are considered sure indications of Oil in very large quantities. The surface indications are of the most reliable character. Oil and Gas Springs are numerous, surface indications are of the most reliad character. Oil and Gas Springs are numerous and the oil in many places is found percolation through the surface of the ground. About Acres is low bottom land extending along t through the surface of the ground. About 20 Acres is low bottom land extending along the edge of the river, about three-fourths of a mile, affording excellent facilities for anking a number of wells, and of shipping the oil by water, without resorting to any conveyance by land, which is always an item of very great expense. The Clarion river is a large stream navigable for fatboats and raits capable of carrying on each boat one thousand barrels o oil, westwardly, direct to Pittsburg and the Ohio river, and eastwardly to Ridgway on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, only a few miles distant. The completion of this great thoroughfare through our State to the great West, which has been opened within the last few months will, by affording facilities of communication and travel, insure the rapid development of this whole region. Proposals for running a new Railroad directly through this locality to Venango country are now being made. The valley of the Clarion river is fast becoming the most popular and valuable Oil Territoryin the United States.

A number of years ago a few experienced and practical oil men noticed the great deposits of Asphaltum, and beds of Bluminous Coal and Bluminous Limestone, which abound in Jefferson, Elk and Forrest counties, and from their formation and the declination of the slopes of the strata, became convinced that Jefferson county was the great oil basin of Penn-lopes of the strata, became convinced that Jef-erson county was the great oil basin of Penn-sylvania, they accordingly purchased large quantities of land, and are now disposing of it sylvania, they accordingly purchased large quantities of land, and are now disposing of it at fabulous prices.

We cannot point out a number of wells yielding great quantities of oil in this immediate vicinity, from the fact that no efforts have hitherto been made to develop it; but a little further down the river a large number of the most valuable wells in the country have been obtained, with more flattering results the nearer theylapproach this location, and by comparing the geological formation of the country with that of the best oil-producing territory, no doubt exists in the minds of scientific men that it will be at least equal to the best.

No. 2. A lease for twenty years of a tract of land known as the "Patton Farm," containing eighty acres in Hocking county, Ohio, on the west side of Hocking river. Raccoon creek and two other sreams that empty into the river runs through this tract. This river is navigable for Flat boats patt of the year. The property fronts on the river, about one-third of a mile and is distant only one-fourth of a mile from the Hocking Canal, which intersects the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad, at Athens. There is an abundance of bituminous coal on this tract; the land is, hilly and has deep ravines with every indication of an abundance of oil. There is a spring on the farm which cannot be used for watering stock on account of being so strongly impregnated with oil.

No. 3. A lease for twenty years of a tract of

No. 3. A lease for twenty years of a tract of land known as the "Henderson Farm," containining seventy-five acres in Hocking county, Ohlo, on the Big Raccoon Creek, distant about two and a half miles from the Canal.—The Newark Rallroad runs through it. A large portion of this tract is bottom land and the balance hills with plenty of coal in them and good indications of oil,

No. 4. A lease for twenty years of a tract of land known as the "Crosby Farm," containing seventy-nine acres, in Hocking county, Ohio, about one and a quarter miles from the Canal. This tract lying on Big Raccoon Creek is mountaineous, and has deep ravinee with good prospects for oil.

mountaineous, and has deep ravines with good prospects for oil.

No. 5. A lease for twenty years of a tract of land known as the "McAllister Farm," containing fifty Acres, in Hocking county, Ohio, half a mile from the Canal. The locality of this Tract is as good as the Patton lease having every indication of a good supply of oil.

The last leases are subject to one fifth royalty and secures to the Company the right to all the Oil, Coal, Iron and other valuable substances found thereon.

5. The fee simple of a tract of land known as the "Moore Farm," containing Fifty-six acres on Five-mile creek, in Hocking county, Ohio, distant three miles from the canal. The Newark railroad runs through the farm. There is a mountain on each side of the tract—the one has an abundance of excellent iron ore, and the other a large quantity of coal, and there is a furnace within half a mile.

This is a valuable investment, independent of the oil we expect to obtain from it, the indications of which are very strong here. There was a well dug on the farm several years ago for the purpose of watering cattle, but there is so much oil in the water that cattle will not driak it. The oil found on the Ohio lands is the "Lubricating Oil," which is much more the "Lubricating Oil," which is much more valuable than that found in Pennsylvania. There are a number of valuable producing weils in close proximity to all of the above properties; but the regions are only beginning to be developed, and have every indication of being located in the very best oil territory. The great excitement now only commencing to rage in regard to oil territory on the Clarion and Hocking rivers and their tributaries, and the fact of the Company having so large an amount in different locations, leaves no doubt in the minds of the Directors that the Company will be able, in a short time, to dispose of a portion of its property at prices far exceeding the original cost, thereby securing large dividends to the stockholders, even before any oil is obtained; as, after disposing of a large portion, the Company will still have amply sufficient territory for the purpose of development. In calling the attention of capitalists and the public generally this enterprise, the Directors have determined to spare no efforts to push the sinking of weils of capitality and the strokholders, excended the strokholders are as as as as as so so the control of th

Compounded from Roots, Barks and Leaves!

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Infammation of the Riadder, Infammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhea, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus for Whites in females, where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfals three times per day. It is diuretic and alternative in its action purifying and cleansing the blood, causing to flow in all of its original purity and vigor thus removing from the system all pernicloicauses which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an all all y or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY etherwise in the Cherokee Remedy and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhea, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding heat, and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections. By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the lwo medicines at the same time—all huproper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedi-ly restored to full vigor and strength. IRON IN THE BLOOD.

It is well known to the medical profession that IRON is the vital Principle or Life Element of the blood. This is derived chiefly from the food we ent; but if the food is not properly digested, or if, from any cause whatev r, the necessary quantity of iron is not taken into the circulation, or becomes reduced, the whole system suffers. The bad blood will irritate the heart, will clog up the lungs, will stupely the brain, will obstruct the liver, and will send its disease producing elements to all parts of the disease producing elements to all parts of the lisease producing elements to all parts of th ystem, and every one will suffer in whateve organ may be predisposed to disease.
