LANCASTER HORSE MARKET, MONDAY MAY 8TH, 1865.—The arrivals and sales during the past week have been unusually slim. The trade is apparently dull to some extent, and as the Government has no fur ther need of horses, the trade, we fear, will continue so for a short time at least. Trout's.-There have been but few ar rivals during the week, which were to Sharp & Co., mainly bought up in lots of twos and threes in the county. foreign arrival was a pair of fine, superior and handsome Northern Blooded Horses about six years old, named in honor o Gens. Grant and Sherman. They were brought by Chas. Underwood from New York for Sharp & Co. A cac-load was shipped on Tuesday, and several were sold to parties in lots of ones and twos. 28 head remain on hand. Sharp & Co. will ship another car-load on Wednesday.

Funk's .- The arrivals during the week were Steckman, with 17 head, from Bedford county, and Logan & Steckman, with 13 head, from Franklin county. The sales and shipments amount to about 60 head. There remains on hand about 22 head.

Leman & Co.'s .- Arrivals were but 18 head, bought up in the county, and were shipped for the Government to Harrisburg.

There are 6 head in the stable. Copeland & Cline's .- No arrivals. About 16 head were bought up in the county, and 12 head were sold, leaving 8 head remaining in the stable.

A SOLDIER'S TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF HIS COMMANDER.—We take pleasure in recording a remarkable act of gratitude which we learned this morning, upon the part of a private soldier, to the remains of the late, lamented General John F. Reynolds. Shortly before the battle of Gettys burg, in which the General lost his life, this soldier, then a member of Co. E, 1st Regiment Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, had occasion to ask a favor of the General which was granted. The thanks of the soldier were returned, and before leaving, he said: "General, I shall never forget you!" After the death and burial of his beloved commander and the expiration of his first term of service he re-enlisted in the 1st Regiment of the Veteran Reserve Corps, and shortly after was taken prisoner with a number of his comrades. After a long con-Camp Parole, at Annapolis, Md., where he learned of the interment of the remains o the General in this city. He procured a leave of absence for a few days and, after arriving in this city, proceeded to the residence of ex-Mayor Zimmerman, in company with another soldier, and purchased a very rare, costly and handsome rose, which he conveyed to the cometery and planted upon the grave of the General. The of this soldier is Addison Gish, who is well known throughout the city.

ACCIDENT ON THE PENNSYLVANIA RAIL ROAD.—On Saturday morning last, between 2 and 3 o'clock, a serious accident occurred to a freight train, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, between Collin's Station and Middletown, which resulted in severely injuring the fireman, the killing of eight horses badly crippling four others, and the destruc tion of several cars. An axle of one of the stone cars gave way, while the train was moving very rapidly, which caused the cars behind to run in. They were upset into the canal and destroyed. One of the cars contained 15 head of horses, brought from the Western part of the State by Mr. Wirkemuth, of Elizabethtown, this county who succeeded in saving only three of the number. The name of the injured and unfortunate fireman we were unable to learn.

I. O. of O. F.—The complimentary supper, given to the Officers of the Grand Lodge, I. O. of O. F., upon the occasion of Lodge, I. O. of O. F., upon the occasion of their visit to this city, by the Lodges of this District, on Saturday evening last, was a grand affair. The supper was served up in recherche style at Solomon Sprecher's Exchange Hotel, East King street, and the evening was passed very pleasantly and harmoniously.

MARIETTA.-We paid a hasty business isit on Friday to the flourishing borough of Marietta. The town just now, however, is exceedingly dull. The spring trade in lumber has amounted to hardly anything, in consequence of the damage done to the canal by the recent heavy freshet, and because sellers seem disposed to hold on, waiting for an advance in prices. The business men, notwithstanding, still expect a "rush," and we hope they may not be

After transacting our business, and having a little spare time on hand, we strolled around awhile, and have come to the conclusion that Marietta is a rather pretty town. There are several private residence which would do credit to any city. That of our old Democratic friend, Col. James Duffy, on Market street, we consider one of the handsomest in Lancaster county. It is furnished throughout in magnificen style, and is lighted with gas manufactured from benzine by an apparatus in the cellar. The arrangement of the grounds and outhouses exhibit the highest degree of taste and beauty. The Colonel and his accomplished wife dispense the hospitalities of their elegant home in genuine, hearty style.

The residence of Dr. William B. Fahnestock, whilom of this city, is also a beautiful specimen of architecture, and the arrangement of the grounds is in every respect admirable and pleasing. Whilst in Marietta we "put up" with

Mr. Lewis Houseal. If any person wants the best of fare, polite attention and the various other et ceteras pertaining to a good stopped there once, our word for it they will call a second time. In brief, he "knows how to keep a hotel."

Our thanks are due Col. James Duffy, Dr. John Huston, Mr. James McCann, Dr. W. B. Fahnestock and Mr. Lewis Houseal for courtesies extended. "May they live a thousand years, and their shadows never SPRING BONNETS AND FALSE HAIR,-The fashions this spring for ladies' bonnets are monstrously absurd in that most capricious of all articles of female covering. Heretofore the thing has retreated from the forehead, with a high, rather capacious front piece. This has been the repository of flowers and all sorts of things vegetable The new Spring bonnet abandons all attempts at rising above the head of the fair wearer. It clings close to the cranium, and is little else than a delicate bit of gauze or similar material, wrapped over the top of the head and united in a huge bow under the chin. If flowers are used they adopt the exterior, not the inside of the bonnet, for that is incapable of embracing anything, except the beautiful adornment which nature gives as a covering to the head. It is a noticeable fact, too, that curls have droped down upon the shoulders of the fair sex, and splendid tresses now adorn people formerly almost destitute of hair. Such is the demand for artificial curls that even the animal kingdom is brought in to supply this fashionable female necessity. It is an old and a very true saying that beauty unadorned adorned the most.

WILD PEPPERMINT AS A RAT EXTERMI. NATOR.-Alexander Robertson, writes to

the Canada Farmer:

I have for the last four years proved to my satisfaction that the "Wild Peppermint" is a sure and reliable exterminator of rats. In proof of the fact, I will state the result it has had with me. Four years ago my barn was regularly infested with rats; they were so numerous that I had great fears of my whole grain being destroyed by them, after it was housed; but having about two acres of Wild Papper. having about two acres of Wild Pepper mint that grew in a field of wheat, after th wheat was harvested, the mint wa bound with it, and it drove the rats from bound with it, and it drove the rats from my premises. I have not been troubled with one since, nor am I at present, while my neighbors have any quantity of them. I feel confident that any person who is troubled with these pests, could easily get rid of them by gathering a good supply of the mint and placing it round the walls or base of their barns. hase of their barns.

Speaker of the House of Representative
WM. J. TURRELL,

Speaker of the Senate Approved the 16th of March, 1865. A. G. CURTIN. JOTTINGS FOR SUMMER .- We cut "from Hall's Journal of Health a few words of advice, satirical and otherwise, to those who may be preparing to visit the country during the hotter months. They are very generally available, and may be at any rate profitably considered by those they do not hi too strongly:

1. In going to the country to spend your summer, leave business behind, but take with you your entire stock of patience. courtesy, self-respect, and religion. Go as plain "John Smith, gentleman." 2. If you have the first claim to be wellyou will be the last person in th subject. If it must be told, let it be by your conduct; let your entire deportment prove that you are a lady or a gentleman.

3. Do not profess that you "know" Mr. Astor, Mr. Grinnell, Mr. Minturn, or other distinguished citizens, when your entire pointed out to you on the street. Avoid claiming acquaintance with this or that family of note, when you only hap or that lamily of note, when you only happen to have spoken to them on a rail-car or steamboat, or in some purely business transaction. An enterprising individual once claimed that he knew a distinguished judge very well. On inquiry, it was found that the said judge had once sent him to the penitentiary. 5. If you have the first mite of common

5. If you have the first mite of common sense, and fully go to the country for recreation, enjoyment, and health, leave your best and second-best clothing at home; take only your common wardrobe, and but a small part of that; not only that the persons you "stop with" may feel more easy, but that you may feel freer yourself to scale fences, climb trees, scramble up mountainsides, wade across creeks, penetrate forest tangles, and jump Jim Crow generally.

6. Never turn up your nose at anything angies, and jump Jim Crow generally.

6. Never turn up your nose at anything at the table; if you have the slightest disposition to do so, you may be sure it is a pug, and isn't long enough to turn. If you don't like a thing, let it alone; eat nothing, and by the next meal you may be glad to get anything.

7. Remember that is gains to the state of the st anything.

7. Remember that in going to the country a sensible man's object is neither to dress nor eat, chiefly, but to obtain mental repose, pure air, and unrestrained exercise.

8. Endeavor to conform, without apparent effort, to the arrangements of the family with whom you board, and to the manners and customs of the people around you, as fur as they do not compromise your principles of good morals and good taste.

9. Be cheerful, be kind, be considerate, be accomodating.

accomodating. 10. Do not obtrude your political or religious sentiments. 11. Shun argument and controversy on any and all subjects. 12. Let your courtesy come out naturally and if religious, don't be a Pharisee.

NATIONAL DEBTS AND U. S. STOCKS.— The creation of national debts is not a modern improvement, but the ability of a great nation to provide for a great debt, and to make it the most convenient and pest form of personal property, is a modern wonder. The debt of Great Britain was wonder. The debt of Great Britain was begun by raising a million sterling by loan in 1692, and when her great contest with Louis XIV. was terminated, the debt had reached fifty millions. Many statesmen and economists were then alarmed at the great burden which had been imposed upon the industry of the country, but when the war of the Austrian succession had swelled this amount to eighty millions. Macanlay this amount to eighty millions, Macaulay says that historians and orators pronounced the case to be desperate. But when war again broke out, and the national debt was rapidly carried up to one hundred and fo millions, men of theory and business b millions, men of theory and business both pronounced that the fatal day had certainly arrived. David Hume said that, although, by taxing its energies to the utmost, the country might possibly live through it, the experiment must never be repeated—even a small increase might be fatal. Granville said the nation must sink under it unless some portion of the load was under it unless some portion of the load wa borne by the American Colonies, and the borne by the American Colonies, and the attempt to impose this load produced the war of the revolution, and, instead of diminishing, added another hundred millions to the burden. Again, says Macaulay, was England given over, but again she was more prosperous than ever before. But when at the close of her Napoleonic wars in 1816, this debt had been swelled up to the enormous sum of over eight hundred. enormous sum of over eight hundre the enormous sum of over eight hundred millions sterling, or four thousand three hundred million dollars, or nearly one half the entire property of the United Kingdom, the stoutest heart, the firmest believer in national progress and national development, might well have been appalled. But in the very face of this mountain of obligation—to say nothing of her vast colonial possessions—the property of the nation has been more than trebled, and her debts is now a charge of but 124 per cent, against it. now a charge of but 124 per cent, against it All that Great Britain has done in paying All that Great Britain has done in paying her debt, we shall do, and more, with ours. We have vast territories untouched by the plow, mines of all precious metals of which we have hardly opened the doors, a population full of life, energy, enterprise and industry, and the accumulated wealth of money and labor of the old countries pouring into the lap of our giant and exertables. ing into the lap of our giant and ever-to-be united republic. During the fiercest and united republic. During the fiercest and most exhausting of all possible wars, we have demonstrated our national strength—and all the world over, national strength is but another name for national credit. "As good as United Stocks" will soon be synonymous the world over with "as good as Bri tish Consols." For our part, we think a U. S. Treasury note, bearing seven and three-tenths annual interest, is just as much better than British Consols as the rate of interest is higher. Some of our timid brethterest is higher. Some of our timid breth ren, who shipped their gold to London and invested in consols, are now glad to sell ou and invest at home at a round loss—and serves them right. ONE DOLLAR STORE.—Look here. It is where you get your money back. TO FARMERS! WHITENACK'S IMPROVED NEW JERSEY MOWER AND REAPER, WITH DORBEY'S SELF-ACTING RAKE.

The manufacturers of this machine have the best reason for believing that it is the best Reaper in use. The advantages claimed for Dorsey's Self-Acting Rake on the Jersey Reaper are these: It is of lighter draught than any other Machine known. It is extremely simple in construction; compact and durable. It dispenses with the Reel entirely; the Revolving Arms serving a far better purpose, gathering the grain gently to the cutters.

When sufficient straw has been cut to form a proper sized sheaf, the Rake, in an easy, graceful manner, removes it from the platform by side delivery, leaving the track perfectly clear, so that an entire field may be cut, if desired before binding a single sheaf.

No straw will be found scattered between the sheaves. The sheaves are delivered with regularity. Their compact and neat appearance cannot be equalled by any hand-rakes, from reaping machine or cradle swaths.

M'CORMICK'S IMPROVED SELFRaking Combined Reaper and Mower for 1845, one of the greatest labor-saving machines of the age. It is superior to all others, because it is made of the best material, and for field work strong enough to be safe, durable and reliable at all times. It has the advantage of making a perfect separation by the Rake, in all kinds of grain, whether tangled or lodged, tong or short, by reason of the operation of the Rake in revolving over the reel, and making the separation in the uncut grain, or before the sickel. The certainty of a clear cut apparatus and platform at the making of each sheaf, no matter how tangled or short the grain may be.
The grain may hang over the separator to the left and be out of reach of other Rakes and make a trail certain, while ours cannot fall to heating if it has to lay there a longer time than usual, and the bundles being less compact than others, will dry up after a shower of rain. This is a very important leature of our Machine. Warranted, Farmers who want to secure a Machine, should order early.

For sale by JOHN B. ERB, Agent, Littz, Lancaster county, Pa. The agent will be at Lancaster, Cooper Hotel, Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturday, Repairs of all kinds on hand. [apr26 to jy 1]
