R A. 2 Z /Court Proceedings? I Monday .- An adjourned Court of Quarter Sessions commenced this morning, Judges

Long and Brinton on the bench. The attendance is not large, not much interest being manifested in the proceedings. The major part of the morning session was taken up with the transaction of Com-mon Pleas and Orphans' Court business. The bonds of several persons who had been granted license for keeping tavern, &c., were presented to the Court for confirmation. These bonds were not presented within the time required by the Court. The matter was strongly pressed by the attor-neys having the matter in charge, who gave as a reason for this neglect that the Court was not in session on the last day of the time limited for confirming the bonds Several suggestions were presented. The Court finally granted a rule to show cause why the bonds should not be confirmed. Com. vs. John Markley. Selling liquors to minors. The defendant lives at May town. On trial at the time the Court ad

Com. vs. Martha Oakey alias Brown charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. On the 6th of April, 1865, the defendant, it appears, became belligerent and attacked Elizabeth Smith with a razor, cutting her throat but not reaching the jugular. The assault was without much apparent cause. Both parties are denizens the classic locality of Tow Hill in Columbia, and of very dark complexions. The plea of the defence was that she was crazy when she attempted the act, having just recovered from a fever which injured her mind, and made her act foolish in many ways, such as imagining herself pursued by children, laughing immoderately without apparent reason, and altogether upset in the "upper story." It appeared that liquor aggravated her complaint and produced the attack upon her bosom friends, who never hesitated in taking a drink with her, as they were all capable of swallowing a good deal of the juice of the rye. Her language also assumed a strong emphasis on the occasion, not very pleasing to lovers of the more subdued King's English; she was also suspicioned of getting an occasional attack of the mania potu, and attempted to commitsuicide in the walls of the jail, which place enclosed her fragrant form previous to trial. The testimony howeve was very strong against her, it appearing that her mind was not out of the way at the time she engaged in the affray, the witnesses not having noticed anything wrong abouther immediately previous or subse quent to the suit. She was thought competent to run about and make purchases of liquor, her common beverage, and was considered a reasonable being in all respects, She was found guilty of one of the charges and sentenced to ten month's imprison Com. vs. Gessie Windler. Assault and battery on a small boy by the name of Tonor, aged between 8 and 9 years. His mother, who lives in Mulberry street, testified that Mrs. Windler, her neighbor, struck her child twice on the back with stones without any cause. The child was not produced in court as his mother said he was unwell. The boy it was alleged was in his own yard at the same time and not in Mrs W's, which was argued also as a tresspass. The defence was that the boy was very mischievous, breaking off the pails from the fence and entering into Mrs. Windler's property, destroying her tomatoes, &c. He spied him and pursued him, but committed pronounced very good by a number of the small boy named Toner. Com, vs. Hiram Shank, charged with the involuntary manslaughter of H. D. Good, at Marticville, last fall. In this case the panel of jurors was exhausted, on account of the challenges made, and a special venire was issued, summoning a new panel. This process occupied nearly all the morning and Tobacco Packing.-We would call at tention to the advertisement of Jacob Evans, vertising columns. which appears in another column. There is no doubt of the correctness of the statement there made, that by lying over a season tobacco will lose more in value than would twice pay the price of packing. Mr. Evans has had much experience in the business, and has been engaged in preparing for market the last year's crop of some of our largest producers. All who have employed him have been entirely satisfied with his method, and regard it as decidedly superior.

SUNDAY SCHOOL STATISTICS.—The following report of D. W. Harlan, State Superintendant of Missionary Work of the American Sunday School Union, was read before the Sabbath School Convention held in St. Paul's Reformed Church in this city, on Thursday last, has been handed to us the 11th inst., Alderman Shoemaker, of Philadelphia, held a man named Wilson to bail in the sum of $300 to answer at Court the charge of appropriating an umbrella that did not belong to him. This information will, no doubt, he interesting to those numerous persons who seem to imagine that umbrellas do not cost anything and "nobody doesn't own them." It is interesting to us, also, who have lost several of that kind of property, lately, for we can now get at least satisfaction on the thieves.

How to RESTORE COLOR IN SILES.—A writer in the Technologist gives the tollowing for the removal of acid stains from colored silks: Brush the removal of acid the part with tineture of iodine; after a few seconds, saturate with hydrosulphic of sode and dry gradually. The color wil be perfectly restored. This process is en tirely new. The reagents, mentioned may be procured at any good arrog store.

A Good Joke on Lancaster.—A good joke was lately pleyed off on the Lancaster cops, by some of the native wags of that political benighted region. The story was circulated that Jeff. Davis would be carried through that city on a railroad train, and instantly a crowd gathered at the dippol, to see "the stemptstesman" in petitioning, it is further related that Sanderson, Hiester, Swarr, Old Buck, Dr. Carpenter, Woolf Kautz, and a few kindred cops were in waiting with their hearts in their hands, to condole with Jeff, on the unconstitutionality of his arrest, and to join with him in condole with jet, on the unconstitutionality of his arrest, and to join with him in denouncing "our Government" for so re-lentlessity pursaing women and children. But, alas, for the sympathizers, Jeff. did not pass—the whole story soon showing itself to be a silly hoax.—Harrisburg Telegraph

We hate to spoil "a good joke on Lancaster," got up for the occasion by that pimp of purity, honesty, virtue and loyalty, Vien Forney, the editor of George Berg per's Hessian sheet. Not one of the gentle men named in the above item was present at the depot, and but one or two of them knew anything of the joke played off on a good-natured Republican auctioneer and ellman by two or three wags of this city. The truth of the matter is, that mostly the only persons sold were Republicans, a of whom eagerly flocked to the depot "to see ' the stern statesman' in pettiats." Cannot the Tele-LIE-graph get up some other equally funny "good joke on

TO KEEP BUTTER IN WARM WEATHER. -A simple mode of keeping butter in warn veather where ice is not handy. Invertis common flower-pot over the butter, with me water in the dish in which the butter s laid. The orifice at the bottom may be orked or not. The porousness of the arthenware will keep the butter cool.

MAILS FOR THE SOUTH .- The Post Office Department having lately reopened the ffices in the following places, mails are now despatched to them from the office in this city: Richmond, Va., Petersburg, Va., Wilmington, N. C., Charleston, S. C., Savannah, Ga., Mobile, Ala. Arrangements are being made to re-establish the offices in other large cities and towns in the South. A QUERY?-Why is it that the good peo ple of Lancaster are so villainously imposed upon in the extravagant price they are orced to pay for the article of flour? In Philadelphia, vesterday, we see extra sppertine, (fully equal to the best we get in Lancaster county,) quoted at $6.75@7.35an average of about 87 per barrel: whilst re we are compelled to pay from $10 to $11! Is there no remedy for this outrageous extortion? Would it not be well for ouseholders to get their flour from Philadelphia? They could have it delivered here at about $7.50, thus saving at least $3 upon very barrel, and then it would be an inected article from which good bread could made. I hope my neighbors will think of this, and no longer suffer themselves to be swindled by flour dealers and heartless speculators in the staff of life.

A SUFFERER.

THE THIRD SERIES OF SEVEN-THIRTIES THE THIRD SERIES OF SEVEN-THIRTIES.

The great success of the 7-30-Loan must always be looked upon as one of the most powerful evidences of the strength of the United States Government, and of its strong hold upon the confidence and affections of the people. On Saturday, May 13th, the subscriptions were over thirty millions dot: lars, and for the week ending on that day, over vinctuscialt million dallars and in the Lurs, and for the week ending on that day, over ninety-eight million dollars, and in the three months that Loan has been in charge of Mr. Jay Cooke, over five hundred million dollars. These large receipts will enable the Secretary of the Treasury to pay off our armies as they are disbanded, and to rapidly discharge the various obligations that have been incurred during the war.—History will show that a great war-debt to individuals has never before been so promptly paid; and we think all will agree that Mr. McCulloch deserves great credit for the ability he has manifested, not only in securing the means, but for the financial in securing the means, but for the financial skill he has displayed in so directing these vast receipts and disbursements as not for property, destroying her tomatoes, &c. He was engaged in this business when she spied him and pursued him, but committed no assualt. Mrs. W's character was also pronounced very good by a number of the neighbors, they saying that she was a quiet, inoffensive person and good neighbor. inoffensive person and good neighbor.

time would necessarily have been lost in popularizing a new loan that the great property is a popularizing an experience of the property of the Government with an increase of the property of the Government with an increase of the property of the Government with a property of the great propert object of the Government, viz: an immediate supply of money sufficient to pay all the debts incident to the war, would have been defeated; and besides, the difference of interest would not have been equal to with county for costs, was rendered in the case of the assault of Mrs. Windler, on the of interest would not have been equal to three days' expenses. The policy may have looked "penny wise," but the best financial authorities, as well as common sense, pronounced it "pound foolish." On Monday the Secretary of the Treasury authorized Jay Cooke, the general Subscription Agent for U. S. The latest accounts from the Mexican side of the Rio Grande show that all is confusion along that river, owing to the presence in the vicinity of Matamoros of both Republican and Imperial forces. A fight for the possession of the town had taken place, but with what result has not yet been ascertained, though there have been rumors both that the Republicans had captured it and that they had retreated from before it. Business, however, there, as well as at Bagdad, was at a complete standstill, and the people were fleeing across the river to Texas, carrying with them their portable property. Imperial reinforcements for Matamoros were said to be on the way from Vera Cruz; but the adherents of Maximilian were much troubled over reports that Kirby Smith, with his rebel army from Texas, was coming over to fight for Juarez.
