Fortress Monroe: Jeff. Davis, of whom we of the North have heard so much and seen so little for the past four years, is a man about six feet in height, rather lean, and not of the finest figure by any means. I should take him to be somewhat above fifty years of age, prematurely gray. He has full whiskers, rather stunted in growth, and, like his hair, sprinkled with gray, His gray eyes (one of which is blind) have an undefined and un-fathomable look, and his mouth, of the Grecian mould, is occasionally jerked out of all proportion by a sepulchra laugh or forced smile. He is confine to his bed a great deal of the time, and it requires all the nursing of his strong nerved wife to keep him from giving way to despondency. He is a pitiful sight, and the last man one would have supposed to be a fit subject for Presi dential honors.

MRS. DAVIS AND CHILDREN. Mrs. Davis is the second wife of the MIS. DAVIS IS the second wife of the ex-President, by whom he has had four children. The eldest is a smart little black-eyed girl, Maggie, of some four-teen summers, and the next a boy, of about twelve or thirteen, who goes by the euphonious cognomen of "Young Jeff." He is a chip from the old block, and we would suppose from his actions and temper, shown on various and sundry occasions, that he too, like his traitorous sire, would in after days be fit for "treason, stratagem and spoils." The next is a smart little fellow, with bright eyes and flaxen hair, too young to have the least appreciation of his condition, and the fourth is a nursing child. Mrs. Davis is a member of the Howell family, of Georgia, and has a great many relatives at Augusta. She is a pretty woman, of probably forty years of age. When I first saw her, at years of age. When I first saw her, at Macon, and conversed with her on the cars, I thought her pretty and agreeable; but to look at her now it seems as though twenty years had been heaped upon her head in one short week. Her pride and vivacity have forsaken her, and truly she is but the wreck of her former self.

MISS HOWELL her sister, is a young lady hardly out of her teens, if we are to judge from her appearance. She has black hair and black eyes, with a ruddy complexion She is affianced to Lieutenant Hathaway, one of the prisoners.

Having thus hurriedly sketched the outlines of the Davis family, I will leave the imaginations of my readers to fill the background and supply the lights and shades, and proceed to portray the personnel of the other notables ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS, the rebel Vice President, is one of the most singular men in appearance you will meet with in a lifetime. I should take him to be about five feet six inches in height, and almost as slim as a skele-ton. He appears to be nothing butskin, bone and cartilage, and is so feeble as to be hardly able to move about. His face is entirely devoid of beard, and his lips extremely thin. He is what is commonly termed lantern-jawed, and has a high, smooth forehead. His eyes are bright, but, after looking at them straight, during a somewhat lengthy conversation, I am unable to tell what color they really are. He was dressed in plain back clothing, and wears a heavy gold fob chain. The amber stem of his meerscham pipe is al-ways seen, either in his mouth or protruding from his vest pocket. He conversed very freely about the events of the past four years. He maintains that he was always in favor of the Union and opposed to secession, though he advocates the inherent right of a State to withdraw from the Union under the constitution. He vindicates his course in accepting the Vice Presidency of the confederacy by saying that he did so in order to prevent the horrors of disorganized warfare, and to try to bring about reconstruction. He is not on good terms with Davis, and I have not seen them exchange words during the trip Both keep their staterooms closely, and neither seem to pay much attention to what is transpiring around them.— The next character of note in the programme is the late POSTMASTER GENERAL REAGAN. This individual was formerly a representative in Congress from Texas, and endeavored to make himself notorious on the State rights question by challenging debate with several prominent Republican members. None, however saw fit to indulge him, and he made but little reputation, except among the fire-eaters of his own State. Being a personal friend of Davis, and one of his chief co-workers in iniquity, he received the appointment of Postmaster General, in which capacity he served until the rebel bubble bursted.

then volunteered his services to pilot his lord and master through the ountry to Texas; and, securing a ship-nent most of the rebel funds (which he had been for some time converting into specie,) in a blockade runner to Europe, specie,) in a blockade runner to Europe, for deposit, subject to the draft, he undertook his perilous journey. You are already apprised of the result. He is a thick set, black haired, tawny man, such as the climate of Texas usually produces.

COLONEL LUBBOCK was formerly Governor of Texas, but has been serving for some time as aidde-camp to Davis, with rank of colonel of artillery. He is also a heavy set individual, with gray hair and imperial, and gray, cold eyes. He is rather of a jovial disposition, however, and is disposed. posed to take his capacity rather as a joke" than otherwise.

COLONEL JOHNSON occupied the same rank and position .-He is a very tall, muscular man, and is also gray. He is much of the disposialso gray. He is much of the disposi-tion of Lubbock, and the two pass most of the time playing cards or spinning

PRIVATE SECRETARY HARRISON. is a very good looking man, and is very well informed on political matters. He does not, however, express an opinion openly on any topic connected with the defunct confederacy, and is much reserved in his manner. He is very at-tentive to "the President," as he in-variably calls him, and would consider it an honor to black his boots. This is all of the Presidential cortege that I consider worthy of special mention, and so I will pass to

CLEMENT C. CLAY AND LADY. Before I proceed, however, I will append the following copy of the letter sent by Mr. Clay to Gen. Wilson, previous to his arrival and surrender in person at Macon: LAGRANGE, Ga., May 10, 1865-4 P. M. evet Major General Wilson, United States Army, Macon, Georgia:

Army, Macon, Georgia:

GENERAL: I have just seen a proclamation from the President of the United States offering a reward of one hundred thousand dollars for my arrest on a charge of having, with others therein named, incited and concocted the murder of the late President.

Conscious of my innocence, unwilling even to seem to fly from justice, and confident of my entire vindication from so foul an imputation upon the full. fair and imdent of my entire vindication from so foul an imputation upon the full, fair and impartial trial which I expect to receive, I shall go as soon as practicable to Macon, to deliver myself up to your custody.

I am, respectfully,
C. C. CLAY, Jr.
P. S.—This will be delivered by Hon. P. Phillips, of this place.
C. C. C., Jr.
I first met Mr. Clay and lady on the cars at Macon, and they both converse cars at Macon, and they both converse cars at Macon, and they both converse very freely. They are both very intel-ligent, but of the two, to use a common expression, the madame is the best man. I should take Clay to be about thirty-five years of age and his wife about thirty. They were dressed plainly, but assumed an air of ostentation and superiority. Mrs. Clay jocularly re-marked to Colonel Pritchard and myself, that as she brought Mr. Clay in she should claim the reward offered to his arrest. They both talked a great deal about "political tricks" at Wash-ington, and assumed to believe that his arrest was only a ruse, to carry out the designs of President Johnson for the gratification of personal vengeance. MAJOR GENERAL WHEELER is hardly worthy of a special paragraph. He is a very ordinary looking individual, about thirty years of age, with light brown hair and whiskers, ind hazel eyes. He was always the laugh-ing stock of our cavalry, who have so often placed him hors du combat, and since his capture the poltroon sticks out of his every feature, and is displayed in his every action. He shrinks like a whipped puppy from contact with his captors, and is seldom seen out of his

CHEAP FERTILIZERS. The Fertilizers prepared by the Agricultural Chemical Company, (a Company chartered by the Legislature of Pennsylvania with a capital of $250,000,) have proved in practice to be the cheapest, most profitable and best, for the Farmer, Gardner and Fruit-grower, of all concentrated manures now offered in any market. The Company's list embraces the following: DABULETTE....This Fertilizer is composed of night soil and the fertilizing elements of urine, combined chemically and mechani-cally with other valuable fertilizing agents and absorbets.

It is reduced to a pulverulent condition ready for immediate use, and without loss of its highly nitrogenous fertilizing properties.

Its universal applicability to all crops actions, and its durability and active qualities are well known to be all that agriculturists cardesize. Price $30 per ton. CHEMICAL COMPOST.—This Fertilizer in largely composed of animal matter, such as meat, bone, fish, leather, hair and wool, together with chemicals and inorganic fertilizers which decompose the mass, and retain the nitrogenous elements.

It is a very valuable fertilizer for field crops generally, and especially for potatoes, and garden our poses. den purposes.

Its excellent qualities, strength, and cheapness, have made it very popular with all who have used it. Price $40 per ton. COMPOSITE FERTILIZER .--- This highly phosphatic fertilizer is particularly adapted for the cultivation of trees, fruits, lawns and flowers. It will promote a very vigorous and healthy growth of wood and fruit, and largely increase the quantity and perfect the maturity of the fruit. For hot-house and household plants and flowers, it will be found nousehold plants and nowers, it will be found an indispensable article to secure their greatest perfection. It will prevent and cure diseased conditions of the peach and grape, and is excellent for grass and lawns.

It is composed of such elements as make it adapted to the growth of all kinds of crops in all kinds of soils. all kinds of soils.

The formula or method of combining its constituent f-rtilizing ingredients have received the highest approval of eminent chemists and scientific agriculturists. Price, $50 per Ton.

PHOSPHATEOF LIME .-- The Agricultura Chemical Company manufacture a Phosphate of Lime in accordance with a new and valuable formula by which a very superior article is produced, so as to be afforded at a less price than other manufacturers charge. Practical tests have proved that its value, as fertilizer, is equal to the best Phosphate of Lime in the market. PRICE, $60 PER TON.

M'CORMICK'S IMPROVED SELFRaking Combined Reaper and Mower for 1865, one of the greatest labor-saving machines of the age, It is superior to all others, because it is made of the best material, and for field work strong enough to be safe, durable and reliable at all times. It has the advantage of making a perfect separation by the Rake, in all kinds of grain, whether tangled or louged, long or short, by reason of the operation of the Rake in revolving over the reel, and making the separation in the uncut grain, or before the sickel. The certainty of a clear out apparatus and platform at the making of each sheaf, no matter how tangled or short the grain may be. The grain may hang over the separator to the left and be out of reach of other Rakes and make a trail certain, while ours cannot fail to clear all out every time. The motion of the Rake and Sickel can be stopped at pleasure. It rakes the grain off the side of the Machine, and deposits it in a most excellent shape for binding. Yet so loosely does the gavel lay on the top of the stubble that there can be no heating if it has to lay there a longer time than usual, and the bundles being less compact than others, will dry up after a shower of rain. This is a very important feature of our Machine. Warrandel, Farmers who want to secure a Machine, should order early.

TO FARMERS: WHITENACK'S IMPROVED

NEW JERSEY MOWER AND REAPER, WITH DORSEY'S SELF-ACTING RAKE. WITH DORSEY'S SELF-ACTING RAKE.

The manufacturers of this machine have the best reason for believing that it is the best Reaper in use. The advantages claimed for Borsey's Self-Acting Rake on the Jersey Reaper are these: It is of lighter draught than any other Machine known. It is extremely simple in construction; compact and durable. It dispenses with the Reel entirely; the Revolving Arms serving a far better purpose, gathering the grain gently to the cutters.

When sufficient straw has been cut to form a proper sized sheaf, the Rake, in an easy, grace-nul manner, removes it from the platform by side delivery, leaving the track perfectly clear, so that an entire field may be cut, if desired before binding a single sheaf.

No straw will be found seattered between the so that an entire field may be cut, if desired before binding a single sheaf.

No straw will be found scattered between the sheaves. The sheaves are delivered with regularity. Their compact and neat appearance cannot be equalled by any hand-rakes, from reaping macciline or cradle swaths.

B M I S H L E RW. S These Bitters are rapidly winning their way to public favor, and before long will be the only ones in popular demand. The cures they have effected for years past has induced the propriet to to bring them more particularly before the people. They are not a new remedy, the recipe for making the "Bitters" having been in the possession of the proprietor for many years. The ingredlents are composed of the following medicinal herbs and roots; all possessing well known curatty e bowers and are wellor making the Bitters' naving been in the possession of the proprietor for many years. The Ingredlents are composed of the following medicinal herbs and roots, all possessing well known cursitive powers, and are warranted not. to contain any other article: Elecampane, Burridock, Spikenard, Soapwort, Peruvian Bark, Buchu, Spicewood, Minlein, Slippery Elm, Sassafras, Sarsapartilla, Gentian Root, Juniper, Spirits Nitre, Balsam Copavia, Cubebs, Dandellen, Pure Spirits and Barberry. The Bitters have been used by persons afflicted with various diseases for some years past, and such has been their success in curing the most obstinate diseases, that the proprietor is now induced for the first time to offer them to the public, with the full confidence and a willingness to guarantee that if properly used they will effect permanent cures in the most obstinate cases of diseases. They are a certain remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Loss of Appetite, Nervous affections, Intermittent Fever, Fever and Ague, General Debility, or Weakness caused by exposure, imprudence or excess, Coughs and Colds, Diarrhea, Headache, Cholera Morbus, Rheumatism or pains in the limbs, Cramp in the Stomach, Neuralgia, Diseases of the Skin, such as Scrofula, Ulcers, etc. Also, Piles, Worms, especially Seat Worms, and all other diseases arising, from a disorganized or diseased stomach or impurity of Blood. As a Blood Purifier and Tonic or general Appetize these Bitters are also without a rival, and should be kept in every family. These Herb Bitters are warranted to cure all venerial diseases, no matter of how long standing. The manufacturer recommends it for this class of diseases particularly, and can produce certificates can produce the sense of the most remarkable cures. Those who are suffering with any of these unpleasant complaints, should be without it.

LADJES IN DELICATE HEALTH, suffering from Irregularities from whatever canse, will find this medicine a safe and certain remedy; but like all other remedies of this class, should be used the dose only being from one to two teaspoon-fuls three times per day.

It is diviretic and alternative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhea, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demutenet; removing all scalding heat, and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections.

By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the lwo medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

IRON IN THE BLOOD. It is well known to the medical profession, that IRON is the vital Principle or Life Element of the blood. This is derived chiefly from the food we eat; but if the food is not properly digested, or if, from any cause whatev r, the necessary quantity of iron is not taken into the circulation, or becomes reduced, the whole system suffers. The bad blood will irritate the heart, will clog up the lungs, will stupefy the brain, will obstruct the liver, and will send its disease producing elements to all parts of the system, and every one will suffer in whatever organ may be predisposed to disease. he Bitters.
