CITY OF MEXICO, May 16. The Emperor is now at Orizaba. On his way thither he passed through Tlascala, Nopalucan, San Andres, Chal-chicamula, and other small places, stop-ping in each to ingratiate himself with the inhabitants by handsome donations to the poor, the hospitals, schools, &c., an operation which I need not say conrasts decidedly, and agreeably to the native mind, with the "forced loans" and calls for forage to which they have heretofore been accustomed whenever a ruler of the land happened to pass that way. It is due to Marinii in the that way. It is due to Maximilia say that he is kind-hearted by nature as well as by policy. He is a hard-working Emperor, too, and takes his duties very much in earnest. He has sent for the minister of foreign affairs sent for the minister of foreign affairs and for the prefects of Puebla, Oojaca, Orizava and Cordova, to meet him at Orizava. His present object is to secure the rapid development of a complete of internal communications. system of internal communications, which is certainly one of the first needs of this distracted country. The French have given an impulse in this direction; and it is a curious fact that while not more than forty kilometers of railway had been built in all Mexico down to had been built in all actors have been 1862, 110 additional kilometers have been built since the French arrived here, two years ago.

Colonel Talcott, the engineer of the Vera Cruz road, is understood to be on his way out from England. He has engaged between eight and ten thous-and laborers, English and Irish, to work on that road. They are to have reserva tion and settlements of land, and form the nucleus of a new colonization. On the Pacific the imperialists are making steady progress. Gen. Lozada has just defeated there the Juarist forces under Corona near Tepic. Juarez himself has been driven out of Chihuahua and, faithful to his policy of keeping hundred leagues or so between the French and himself, is believed to have struck out in the direction of Paso del

The only serious organized resistance to the empire, so far as I can learn; is that offered by Negrete, Cortina, and Carbajal in the northeast. Negrete was driven away from before Matamoras, without a shot fired, by the arrival of a small Belgian force, but he has occupied Saltillo and Monterey. Escobedo, who had joined Mejia, has left the Imperialists again, and united his fortunes with Negrete, who has made him "gov-ernor of Nueva Leon." Saltillo and Monterey have to pay for the honor which Negrete does them. A "forced loan" of $170,000 was raised in the former place, and one of $150,000 in the latter. Carbajal has set up a kind of private custom-house at China, and evies duties according to a tariff of his own on all the commerce of that region, not much to the pleasure of the mer-not much to the pleasure of the merchants and the people.

The great question of foreign immigration has been taken up by a society here, under the presidency of Senor Fonseca. They hold their meetings at the rooms of the Geographical and Statistical Society of Mexico; and they are in intimate relations, I believe, with the "American Emigration Company "American Emigration Company of Mexico," represented here by a certain Mr. Bernard Caulfield, to which the Emperor has just granted, by a decree dated April 27, very important con-

The political prefect of Zacatecas is organizing an immigration into that rich department, and the same thing is to be done at once in the Pacific depart-

The prefect of Vera Cruz has been ordered to prepare a kind of "Castle Garden" in that port for the reception of emigrants, where they may be cared for and sent on their way rejoicing. The number received during the month of March, I understand, was a little over five hundred. Emigrant trains are also running on the Vera Cruz road, and the Emperor is making arrange-ments at Orizava, I learn, to facilitate settlements in that region for newly arrived emigrants.

The French company who own the are pushing work on that line vigorous-The rails are laid also on the Chalco

ly. The rails are laid also on the Chalco Railway from Chapultépec to the Pruente de los Insurgentes.

The post office system has also been taken in hand energetically. A complete postal map of the empire is at present drawing up, under the supervision of Senor Ganayalde; and for the first time in the history of Mexico we have a city post office, with two designs of the property of the state of the control of the state of the control of the state of the control of th have a city post office, with two de-liveries per day, in the capitol.

From Jalapa, French and Mexican engineers report the discovery of veins of coal equal to the best English. This is good news, if true, and will help the Government immensely in the work which it has undertaken, and, as you will see by the above details, is pushing as hard as circumstances will permit, of developing the internal resources of the OBSERVER.

The Capture of Jefferson Davis -- Another Story.

The New Orleans Picayune, published under Union control, gives the following version of the capture of Jefferson Davis, which as it differs so entirely from the accounts already published in our columns, we copy:
"Several old citizens of New Orleans, who have recently arrived in this city give a very different version of the lleged capture of Jefferson Davis from that which has been telegraphed from the North. The statement vouched for by these gentlemen represents Mr. Davis as voluntarily surrendering him-self, instead of being captured in dissen, instead of being captured in dis-guise. From their relation, it appears that Mr. Davis was escorted from North Carolina to Georgia by two brigades of cavalry. On arriving at the Georgia line, Mr. Davis, having received the in-telligence of the surrender of General Taylor, had his cavalry escort drawn up in line, and after addressing them in a brief speech, ordered their dispersal to up in line, and after addressing them in a brief speech, ordered their dispersal to their homes. He further directed that a small sum of gold, which he had saved from the allowance made him by the Congress, should be divided among the men. He then mounted his horse, and, accompanied by five or six persons accompanied by five or six personal friends, proceeded to Irvington, Ga. No disguise or evasion was used by him. He was everywherek nown and recognized as the President of the Confederate States. On his arrival at Irvington, Mr. Davis was shown the proclamation of President Johnson, charging him with com-plicity in the assassination of Mr. Lin-coln. He immediately informed his friends that he should send to the nearest Federal commander and inform him of his purpose to surrender and meet the this was done, and a detachment of Gen. Wilson's command came to Irvington and Mr. Davis and his aids surrendered to him."

THE CONSPIRACY.

[Special Despatch to the New York World.] WASHINGTON, June 6.

The evidence before the military commission to-day was brief, and of very little importance. The sudden change in the weather was a great relief to the prisoners, who appeared to be in very fair spirits. During the reading of the letter nicked up at Morehead its fair fair spirits. During the reading of the letter picked up at Morehead city, in which allusions are made to "Red Shoes," and "Old Gray," in speaking of the work of the assassination, one could discover an expression of self-consciousness on Payne's countenance. There was even a gleam of sarcasm mixed with an appearance of being amused. O'Laughlin was without coat, waistcoat, or neck-cloth, and his face was as pallid as his shirt. He seemed nervous, and occasionally shivered as if was as pallid as his shirt. He seemed nervous, and occasionally shivered as if he was growing cold. Arnold seems more cheerful than any of the rest, which may be owing to the fact that he has enjoyed a seat near the open window throughout the trial. The first part of the testimony to day was to break own that the estimony to ruth was declared to be very bad. It was then testified to by Mudd's neighbors that he (Mudd) was at home on the 3d of March, and consequently could not have been in the National Hotel with Booth on that days. There are indications that the evidence will last for two or three days more, and the arguments will probably prolong the trial into next week. At though Reverdy Johnson has not appeared, in court as counsel for some peared, in court as counsel for some peared, in court as counsel for some pearing, it is well known that he is preparing an elaborate argument to deliver at the conclusion of the evidence.

Miss Kate Vanderslice, of Pottsville, says: "I was benefitted more by using the Phomix Pectoral than any other medicine I ever used." Elias Oberholtzer, of Lionville, Chester coumity, was cured of a cough of many years' standing by using the Phemix Pectoral.

Joseph Lukens, of Hall street, Phemixylile, certifies that he was cured of a cough of two years' standing, when all other medicines had falled, by the use of Phemix Pectoral.

Jacob Powers certifies that he has sold hundreds of bottles of the Phemix Pectoral, and that all who used it bear testimony of its wonderful effects in curing cough, John Royer, editor of the Independent Phemix, having used it, has no hesitation in pronouncing it a complete remedy for cough, hoarseness and irritation in the throat.

The West Onester Jofteroniam says: "We have known Ir. Oberholtzer personally a number of years, and it gives us the greater pleasure to recommend his medicines, inasmuch as the public rarely have the benefit of family medicines prepared by a physician of his acquirements and experience."

Dr. Oberholtzer is a member of the Alumni of the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania, at which institution he graduated in 1834.

The Reading Gazette says: "This cough remedy is made by Dr. L. Oberholtzer, of Phemixville, Pa., and it has acquired an unsurpassed reputation in curing coughs. It is carefully and skillfully prepared from Wild Cherry Bark and Seneka Snake Root: "Its action is specially directed to the lungs."

The proprietor of this medicine has so much confidence in its curative powers, from the testimony of hundreds who have used it, that the more will be peak back to any purchaser who is not satisfied with its effects.

M'CORMICK'S IMPROVED SELFRaking Combined Reaper and Mower for 1885, one of the greatest labor-saving machines of the age, It is superior to all others, because it is made of the best material, and for field work strong enough to be safe, durable and reliable at all times. It has the advantage of making a perfect separation by the Rake, in all kinds of grain, whether tangled or lodged, long or short, by reason of the operation of the Rake in revolving over the reel, and making the separation in the uncut grain, or before the sickel. The certainty of a clear cut apparatus and platform at the making of each sheaf, no matter how tangled or short the grain may be.
The grain may hang over the resparator to the left and be out of reach of other Rakes and make a trail certain, while ours cannot fall to clear all out every time. The motion of the Rake and Sickel can be stopped at pleasure.
It rakes the grain off the side of the Machine, and deposits it in a most excellent shape for binding. Yet so loosely does the gavel lay on the top of the stubble that there can be no heating if it has to lay there a longer time than usual, and the bundles being less compact than others, will dry up after a shower of rain. This is a very important feature of our Machine, warranted. Farmers who want to secure a Machine, should order early.

HANOVER, Pa., Feb. 16, 1859.

DEAR SIRS: Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—It affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of the contents of the bottle there was a great improvement in her health. I have, in my individual case, made frequent use of your value able medicine, and luve also been benefitted by it.
