BOLD ATTEMPT AT ROBBERT AND DES-PERATE ASSAULT .-- A bold and partly successful attempt at robbery was made on Saturday morning, between one and two o'clock, at the residence of Dr. F. A. Muhlenberg, on South Queen street, this city. The burglar effected an entrance by climbing up the awning in front of Dr. B. S. enberg's drug store, and from there upon the balcony fronting the Doctor's office on the second story. He then entered the office and took therefrom a sponge. which he saturated with chloroform. ceeding to the chamber of Mr. Frank, Muhlenberg, the Doctor's youngest son, he threw the sponge into the room, through the tran som above the door, which fell upon the bed. He then crawled through the transom, and, after lighting the gas, ransacked the drawers of the bureau, from which he took about $40 belonging to the young man .-The noise awakened him, when he instant ly raised up and was assaulted by the urglar. The burglar drew a knife, and seizing him by the throat, struck at him, making a cut along the neck. Frank then com menced to struggle with him upon the bed. Some six other stabs were made, one for the heart, which was fortunately avoided by the struggie and the haste of the burglar. Mr. M. fell behind the bed and called for help, when the burglar took alarm and His escape was effected by the chamber door, and out through the from

SUDDEN DEATH .-- On Saturday last, an elderly man, named Benjamin Pennell, who resides in East Orange street, on the corner of the alley running through to East King street, died very suddenly. He had been ill for some time past from an attack of the diarrhoea, and, being in a feeble condition, went into the cellar, contrary to the wishes of his wife and others, to split some wood, in the act of which he dropped over dead. He was observed lying down, with the axe in his hand by a young lad named Alfred Snyder, who was passing at the time, and who made the fact known to the in mates of the house.

> APPLE CHAMPAGNE. (A VALUABLE APPLE CHAMPAGES.—(A VALUABLE BECIPE.)—We have recently learned of a very simple and cheap process of making Champagne Wine directly from apples; and as the coming fall will furnish an abundance of the necessary material, the abundance of the necessary material, the recipe may prove interesting to farmers and profitable to dealers. The juice is pressed directly from sound apples without previous grinding, because the bruising of the fruit, in a short time, discolors the juice, and produces such other chemical changes, by exposure to the atmos-phage as to prevent the practical working chemical changes, by exposure to the atmos-phere, as to prevent the practical working of the process, while the juice pressed from sound apples is nearly as limpid as water. The juice runs directly from the press into a tilter, consisting of a suitable box about a foot deep by six inches square, filled with a mixture of pulverized char-coal and clean sand or fine gravel, about half and half. A thin layer of straw is put into the box before it is filled with the fil-tering material and the bottom of the box

Into the lox below it is hard with the hor tering material and the bottom of the box is perforated with the holes. The juice passes through this filter into bottles, which should be immediately corked to exclude the atmosphere which gives it the appearance of the real champagne; and our informant who has used the process. our informant who has used the process, assures us that the wine after remaining in the cellar a while presents the action and flavor of the imported article, with the adrantage of being a much more healthy beverage, while its cost does not exceed two cents a quart bottle where apples are plenty. Imported champagne of the commonest quality cannot be bought in this market for less than two to three dollars a bottle. the kingdom of her Son, in which she received from Him a crown of immortal glory, and a throne above all the other saints and while its genuineness and purity are very questionable, to say the least.

The Story of a Faithless Husban of the Accidents of Society --- A Dis owned Son-A Political Prisoner, Runaway Husband, and a Levanting Lover. [From Monday's N. Y. World]

A very complicated case, exhibiting remarkably curious phases of human insture, and showing to what lengths infatuation may lead intelligent and highly educated women, was partially developed in a complaint made by a lady whose name and whereabouts are suppressed at her special request, and in deference to the feelings of the members of her family, before Judge Led-with, at the Jefferson Market police courton Saturday afternoon. A portion of the facts in this remarkable case came A portion nto possession of the reporters at the time, but at the special request of Police Inspector Dilks, the case was kept back rom publication until to-day, startling levelopments having shown themselves n the course of the examination before Judge Ledwith. We publish the facts. omitting the names of the principal acors for reasons stated above. From the circumstances we have been enabled to glean from various sources, it appears that some fifteen years ago a oung son of an aged millionaire, well nown throughout the United States and whom we shall describe as Goccupied a prominent position in one of the departments at Washington. He was handsome, had graduated with nonors at one of our colleges, petted by his father with an almost unlimited in come, and was altogether an agreeal and fascinating lady's man. During his sojourn at Washington he paid his addresses to a niece of an ex-President of the United States, a beautiful and accomplished young lady, the belle of Washington, and in due course of time was accepted by her. They were mar-ried, and lived in peace and harmony for some years, until the wife discovered that her husband had become infatuated with a guilty passion for a young woman, celebrated in operatic circles as a cantratrice, and whose brother has been intimately connected with politics in the City of Churches, and who has gained a brigadier general's star, a fortune, and a deputation. Mrs. G—, to her sorrow and humiliation, learned that her husband was lavishing large sums of money, drawn from his legitimate income and other sources, on this woman Mrs. (4—pleaded with her hushand to induce him to exorcise this guilty passion, but in vain, and, as last resource, her father-in-law was in formed of his son's course of life and conduct. The millionare father stormed and raged, and finally threatened to disinherit his recreant son unless he re formed, but all to no purpose. Jr., followed his evil inclinations. ne glecting his family, until the indulgent father carried his threat into execution and disinherited his son. The paren died about three years ago, disposing of his wealth in such a manner son could not lay his hand on a solitary ent.

G— still kept up his flame for his operatic inamorata and left Washington for Baltimore, where he fell in with some of the "secesh" politicians of that some of the "secesh" politicians of that city, and falling under the ban of the war department was confined for two years in the "hotel deold Capitol." What his crime was does not appear in this case, but G---- served out his term of imprisonment, and on his release bade his family farewell and left hurriedl for the friendly shores of Canada. Her he caused to be inserted in the journal matrimonial advertisements, and thus engaged in correspondence with several sound addies. He also attracted the at-tention of a lady styling herself Mrs. Florence Ennily Elliott, of Niagara, Canada West, with whom he procured an interview. Mrs. Elliott is a young wonword, when the procured and momentiab woman of education and accomplish ment, beautiful and engaging, and re-fined manners. DARING ROBBERY .--- About 91 o'clock on Monday morning, three persons, a man, woman and child, appeared at the residence of Rev. Father Keenan, adjoining St. Mary's Church, on Vine street, and the man requested permission to see one of the priests. He was told that he could see Rev. Thomas Marion, but not Father Keenan, as he was confined to bed. He then remarked that "it would do some other time." and left. Afterward ascertaining that Father Marion had gone out for a short time, one of the party returned, and by some means gained access to that gentleman's room, from which a black dress coat, a pair of black pantaloons and a cassock were stolen. The above articles are all that are known to be missing, but there may have been others taken. Father Marion describes the persons whom he saw, and supposes to be the theives, as a medium-sized man, with sandy whiskers and wearing a linen duster; woman dressed in black, and a child.

DEATH OF CAPT. SHROAD. Capt. John C. Shroad, late of Co. A, 77th Regiment P. V. V., died, after a lingering illness, at his residence on South Prince street, this city, on Monday, in the 27th year of his age. Captain S. was taken prisoner at the battle of Chickamauga, and contracted the disease from which he died while in Libby Prison at Richmond. He was a brave, gallant and faithful officer, and owed his promotion from the ranks to merit alone, having succeeded to the command of the company upon the promotion of Colonel Pyfer. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him, and leaves a wife and family to mourn his early demise. He was a brother of Police Officer Shroad, of the South East Nard.

SOLDIER DEAD .--- Mr. G. W. Wincour member of the 77th, and a resident of the N. W. Ward, this city, died in one of the hospitals at New Orleans, on the 1st inst., of chronic diarrhœa. He was well known in the western part of the city, and the death of "Lucas" Wineour will be regretted by many who admired his kind-hearted, obliging disposition. He leaves a wife and one or two children to mourn his loss.

-We learn that quite a number of the 77th are sick in the hospitals at New Orleans.

AN AMUSING LETTER.-The "Letter from Ireland" on our outside to-day is very amusing, being full of "Irish bulls." It was written many years ago by Alderman Donnelly, of this city, who has a keen appreciation of Irish wit and humor, and was extensively published. A number of the friends have prevailed upon him to have it re-published, and we are sure our readers will almostsplit their sides and tear off their vest buttons in reading it,

SHOULD REGARD THEIR CUSTOMERS' IN-TERESTS .- Why is it, asks the Philadelphia Ledger, that so few mechanics learn their business thoroughly, that is to construct an article not only neatly, serviceably, and durably, but also to show that the economy as well as the comfort of the user or purchaser of the article was studied? In the matter of the construction of chairs, there is not only an absence of comfort in most of them. because not made from any scientific knowledge of the human frame, where needs support and where relaxation, while in a sitting posture, but that which is intended as an ornament or embellishment is converted into a nuisance, Virgin Mary. Thou-

Still the stupid old custom of making chairs in the same way is continued to try customers clothing and temper. A mechanic who will make a chair to injure the pockets in more ways than one of his customers, does not deserve to thrive at his business, and he will not in comparison with one who studies the interests of his customers, and gives

NEW RAILROAD.-The Pottsville Miners

Journal of last week, says: "We understand that measures are being taken to immediately build the Lebanon and Pinegrove Raifroad, on the line of the Union Canal Feeder. The distance from Union Canal Feeder. The distance from Pinegrove to Lebanon is only 27 miles, and it is also proposed to extend the road via the Lebanon and Cornwall Railroad, to con-nect with the Reading, Lancaster and Co-lumbia Railroad, a distance of eighteen miles. By this route all the iron works in Lebanon and Lancaster counties could be supplied with coal at a much cheaper rate than they are now receiving it via Lebanon Valley Railroad and from the Susquehanna Region. The distance from Pinegrove to Region. The distance from Pinegrove to Lancaster by this route is only 63 miles, and to Lebanon only 27. This would give a great impetus to the trade of that section of the Schuylkill region where the Frank-lin Coal Company is located.

fashions in hair :

WHAT FASHION DOES .- Red hair is fashionable in France, because the Empress has a carrotty poll. But as the color of the hair cannot be assumed as easy as the color of a dress, the ladies of Paris go to a great deal of voluntary endurance for the sake of changing their natural black into the desirable red. An artist is employed who begins by separating every hair. Then he pours over the head a phial of "water," (probably a deadly poison.) He saturates each hair. This occupies two hours. After fifteen minutes he soaks the whole hair in ice-water. He then kneads the hair with his hands. Again ice-water is applied .-

He moves the "gooses" within a few inches of the hair, and it turns red. The whole operation lasts five hours, and leaves the lady with red hair, and intolerable head ache, mangled nerves, and $80 less in pocket

This was made No. 831 Broadway. This was made known to Mrs. Elliott, and armed with a letter of introduction to Chief John S. Young, of the detective force of this city, she returned to New York. Chief Young instructed Mrs. Elliott to call at the Union Square post office and wait until Mr. G— should call for his letters. This she did, and after waiting a short time in the private office G—made his appearance, and Mrs. Elliott confronted him. The case was given in charge of Detective Timothy Golden, of this city, and he accompanied Mrs. G— to the office of Mr. Kallock, where the necessary documents were made out and the affidavits were sworn to before Judge Ledwith, at the Jefferson Market police court, and a warrant was issued for the arrest of G----This warrant was intrusted to Officer all diseases of the full man system with their OXYGENIZED MKDICATED INHALA-TION. The inhalations are breathed directly into the lungs, and through them carried into the blood, expelling all impurities from the sys-tem and healing any and every disease with which it may come in contact. A few inhala-tions will change the color of the blood from a dark to a bright red. In cases of partysis the circulation can be restored immediately, in al-most every instance. In cases of consumption this method has been attended with the best results; its action upon the lungs being direct and in-mediate, it gives the patient just what he wants, viz: oxygen, of which he cannot get enough from the atmosphere, owing to the clogged and congested condition of the lungs. Of course there are cases which cannot be cured. Yet there are hundreds that have been given up as incurable, who have only to breatheoxy-gen to have new life infused into them. This is a compound medicated inhalation. It is perfectly harmless, having been administered to thousand of patients with the happlest re-sults. The e inhalations are unlike any other ever given for remedial purposes, and can be obtained only at the offlex which we have es-tabilished in various parts of the country.
