LANCASTER HORSE MARKET, MONDAY SEPTEMBER 4TH. 1865.—The trade has been a little better during the past week in the way of arrivals; but not much doing in that of sales. The arrivals and sales are as Trout's .- Arrivals were 6 head to Messrs Sharp & Co., from Mr. Brindley, of Harri son county, Ohio. The shipments were 16 head to Philadelphia market on Tuesday last, and the sales amount to 7 head to far mers throughout the county, leaving 22 head vet in the stable. These are very fine and bandsome horses. Funk's .- The arrivals were D. W. Vandray, with 5 head, and Wm. Skinner, with S head, from Franklin county, Penn'a; Tobias Kauffman, with 15 head, from Washington county, Penn'a, and John Sener, with 15 head, from Ohio. The sales amount to 18 head to different parties in the county, leaving 42 in the stables.

Leman, Murphy & Co's .- Here the arrivals were only 4 head, bought up in the county; and the sales 2, leaving 2 yet on hand, one of which is a very handsome and extra horse—a good mover—named "Black Hawk Morgan."

Copeland & Cline's-The arrivals were but 8 head, bought up in this county. There have been no sales during the week. With 7 head at last report, there are now remain ing in the stable 15 head. Messrs. C. & C. are expected to arrive from Canada on Thursday next with a lot of superior working and trotting horses.

Fire. -- A fire broke out on Thursday night last, between 8 and 9 o'clock, in a barn belonging to the estate of the late James Evans, dec'd, on the Old Factory Road, on the extreme limits of the S. E. Ward. The barn was burned to the ground with its entire contents, which consisted of four head of borses, several sheep, (two of which were sayed,) about 100 bushels of wheat five agree of pats in the straw, threshing machine, etc. The stock belonged to a man named Shenk, (who farmed the place, and who is in limited circumstances, except one of the horses, which was the property of a neighbor named John Lichty. The fire companies were promptly on the ground goes through the ground. with their apparatuses, but were unable to save the barn. By their exertions, however, the dwelling was prevented from taking fire. The hose of two or three fire companies, we are informed, was cut in differ-

He was on board the steamboat Kenton. which was on its way to that city, and went below deck in company with Mr. Benj. Meyers for the purpose of fishing. AN IMPORTANT INVENTION.—The Scranton Register says that Mr. David Lister, of Carbondale, Pa., has recently obtained a patent for an invention which will prove of the utmost importance. It is a simple and efficient apparatus for cleaning steam boilers. A great trouble hitherto experienced by those having engines in charge has been the mud and other sediment which is sure to collect in the bottom of boilers, and various means have been employed to remedy the evil, but without success. The simple ap paratus invented by Mr. Lister obviates the difficulty altogether; and by keeping the bottom of the boiler entirely clean, saves the vast quantity of fuel necessary to heat the sediment before the water can be reached. Among its many good qualities may be mentioned the saying of wear and tear to machinery, the lessening of the danger of explosion, the securing of an even generation of steam, the preventing of loss of valuable time in clean ing boilers, and the preventing of scale or the inner surface of the boiler. The apparatus has received the highest commends tions of the best Engineers both of New York and elsewhere. A great beauty o the apparatus is its simplicity. It cannot possibly get out of order, and a good me chanic can put it in any boiler in a few hours. Once in it can be worked readily by the most ignorant coal heaver.

THE CLOSING SALES.—The Government will hold its closing out sales of horses and mules during September. The animals yet to be disposed of are superior to any that have been sold. They are sound in every respect, and the sales to be held should be attended by all who want good stock. A large number of sales will be held in various States the ensuing month. Among them are the following for Pennsylvania:

AN INVALUABLE MEDICINE.-Henry Hoyt, Esq., contributes to the Boston Journal the following prescription for what he says is an unfailing remedy for Cholera-Morbus, Diarrhoya, &c. Mr. H. says that during the terrible raging of Cholera in that city a few years since, in no case did the remedy fail where a patient could be reached in season. It is no less effective in cholera-morbus and ordinary diarrhora. A remedy so easily procured and so vitally efficacious should be always at hand. An ordinary vial of it can be had for 25 cents or so, and no family should be without it over night. The writer of this received the recipe a few days since, and having been seriously attacked with the cholera-morbus the past week, can attest to its almost magic influence in affording relief from excrutiating

Mr. Joseph White, an old and well-known citizen, died rather suddenly on Friday last at the residence of his son-in-law, General Henry A. Hambright, on East Chestnut street. He had been ailing for a day or two with an old complaint, a hacking cough, which had somewhat troubled him for many years, but nothing serious was thought to be the matter with him. Indeed, we met him on Tuesday evening apparent-ly in the best of health. Mr. White was in the 76th year of his age, and served his country faithfully in the war of 1812. He was a quiet, unobtrusive, genial old gentleman, and was beloved by all who knew him. This slight tribute to his memory will be read with a tear of regret by many who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

The other night while we lay musing, and our weary brain confusing o'er the topics of the day, suddenly we heard a ratting, as of serious hosts a battling, as they mingled in the fray. "What is that?" we cried, upstarting, and into the darkness darting, slap! we ran against the door.—"Oh, 'tis nothing," Edward grumbled, as o'er a huge arm chair we stumbled,—"'tis a bug, and nothing more." Then said we, our anger rising (for we thought it so surprising that a bug should thus offend) "Do you think a small insect; sir, thus would all the air infect, sir? No, 'tis not a bug my friend."

Now becoming sorely frightened, round our waist our pants we tightened, and put on

Now becoming sorely frightened, round our waist our pants we tightened, and put on our coat and hat—when into the darkness peering, we saw, with trembling and much fearing, the glaring eyes of Thomas Cat, Esq. With astonishment and wonder we gazed upon this son of thunder, as he sat upon the floor—when resolution taking, and a rapid movement making, lo, we opened wide the door. "Now clear out," we horsely shouted, as o'er head our boot was flouted. "Take your presence from my floor." Then with air and mien majestic, this dear eature, called domestic, jestic, this dear eature, called domestic made his exit through the door. Made his exit without growling, neither was his voice howling, not a single word he said. And with feelings much elated to escape a doom so fated, slowly we went back to bed.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.—In the Cour of Common Pleas, on Saturday, on motion of W. W. Brown, Esq., Mr. A. J. Sanderson, of this city, was admitted to practice law in the several courts of this county. We understand the young gentleman passed a highly creditable examination. Success attend his efforts to master and expound the intricacies of Blackstone, Coke, Story and a host of lesser lights of legal

FINE POTATO CROP.-Decidedly the finest crop of potatoes that ever we have seen, is now being taken out of a piece of ground on the farm of Mr. Amos Funk, (proprietor of the Merrimac House in this city,) opposite "Wheatland.". THE ERA OF CRIME. - A New York co emporary declares that it never knew a ime when there was such a lawlessness everywhere, and adds : "Society seems to be esolving itself in its original element, and every man is becoming a law unto himself. Murders, riots, outbreaks, drunkenness, rapes, garrotings, robberies, thefts, rowdy sm, etc., are of daily occurrence. A spirit of hate and vengeance seems to pervade the land. The teachings of the last four years have educated a generation of cut-throats. Pulpits and piracy are synonymous terms. and there is not even an intermediatestage etween diapers and desperadoism."

John Brown the "Martyr.": We find in an evening paper the folowing note of acknowledgment, written by the Secretary of State to an artist

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, July 12, 1865. DEAR Sir: I pray you to accept my thanks for your admirable portraits of the President of the United States, and also for your kindness in giving me what, according to my recollection, is an excellent likeness of John Brown, whose name has become historical as a martyr in the cause of human nature.

Faithfully, yours,
WILLIAM H. SEWARD,
Mr. John W. Dodge. The notorious John Brown, who, it would seem from this letter, was a per-sonal acquaintance of Mr. Seward's, and is called by him a "martyr in the cause of human nature," was a thief, robber, and murderer, who justly paid the penalty of his crimes on the gallows. His canonization by the Republican party, shows what a set of canting hypo-oritos they were, when, in fanning the crites they were, when, in fanning the fanaticism which brought on the war, they disclaimed any intention to dis-turb slavery in the States where it ex-isted. To call old John Brown, a saint, a martyr, a "christ" and what not i the strongest expression of approval and admiration of the deed which made him notorious. It is in vain for the Republicans to deny that their party was ormed and nursed in a spirit of provocation and aggression when they blazon the evil deeds of that old cut-throat and consecrate his crime.

We may be quite sure that President Johnson never looked upon John Brown as a "martyr in the cause of human nature." On the contrary, he regarded Brown's crime with detestation and horror. He was shocked by the blasphemy of making a saint and Christ, of a man whom he denounced as an "old felon," reprobating the apologies made "for the infamy." this was his language, "the murders, the thieving, the treacherous conduct of this old man Brown, who was nothing more than a murders are below. ing more than a murderer, a robber, a thief, and a traitor." In wha kind of esteem Mr. Johnson holds those who make a martyr and a "christ" of John Brown may be inferred from the following further extract from his speech: "I have got another idea in ethics," said Mr. Johnson, "and that is, that there was never any people on the face of the earth greater than the the face of the earth greater than the god they worshiped; and if John Brown becomes the christ, and his gallows the cross, God deliver me from such people as they, whether they are fanatics, Democratic or Republican, or any other description of persons—I care not by what name they are called."—N. Financial and Commercial.

New York, Sept. 2.—The money market has been easy during the week. Yesterday and to-day, first-class borrowers on prime collaterals other than railway share's were supplied at three and a half to four percent, as the extremes. Business notes are more plentiful; first-class are discounted at six and a half to seven per cent., and good names at seven to nine per cent. To what extent the present ease in the money market is caused by the movements in the Treasury Department, the people have no means of is caused by the movements in the Treasury Department, the people have no means of ascertaining. In order to form an intelligent opinion on this matter, it is necessary to know the daily balances of currency and gold held in the national depositories, with the receipts and disbursements.

The New York assistant treasurer professes to publish a statement of the movements in his office, but, in so doing, counts the gold coin with the surrency, and gives the total to the public as the balance of lawthe gold coin with the surrency, and gives the total to the public as the halance of lawful money. This practice is a deception, which deprives the statement of its shief value. In order to guide their legitimate business operations intelligently, the people ought to know daily the changes in the Treasury Department's balances; because, under the greenback system of finance, government is a gigantic bank of issue and credit mobilier.

The Secretary of the Treasury can make The Secretary of the Treasury can make

The Secretary of the Treasury can make the money market tight or easy, and put prices up or down just as he pleases. For example, it was worth many millions of dollars to rich stock-jobbers and gold-gamblers in June and July to possess the information that the Treasury Department was accumulating gold in its vaults until July 31st, when over $25,000,000 were locked up and withdrawn from the open market. The advance from 12% to about 148 was the legitimate result of the withdrawal of this gitimate result of the withdrawal of this large amount of gold from the open market by government. Mr. Morris Ketchum's son has been a bull in gold since May, and his gold bull-speculations have, of course, paid a large profit, as the market quotason has been a butn in gold since May, and his gold bull-speculations have, of course, paid a large profit, as the market quotations plainly show. The bulls in gold, since May, when it was selling at 1284, are those who have realized the profits on gold gambling. The people will do well to note that these bull-clique operators are the Loyal League patriots popularly known as the Treasury Department clique of stock-jobbers and gold-gamblers, whose information in regard to Government financial movements has always been singularly correct. These gold-gamblers and stock-jobbers held the closest confidential relations with the Department under Mr. Chase, and although Mr. McCulloch personally cannot be controlled by them, as Mr. Chase was, yet they do not hesitate to boast that they can manage the Treasury Department now just as profitably for their own interests as as they did when Mr. Chase was Secretary.

own interests as as they did when Mr. Chase was Secretary.

Again, in regard to the course of the gold market. There is no speculation in it, only a trilling foreign demand for gold, an overstocked cotton market, and receipts largely in excess of the corresponding period in every preceding year, and yet in the face of these commercial causes, for a decline in the price of gold, it continues to advance steadily. Is the advance caused by accumulations of gold coin in the national depositories, or by shipments of gold coin to the iy. Is the advance caused by accumulations of gold coin in the national depositories, or by shipments of gold coin into the Southern States to buy cotton? Mr. McCulloch, as a banker and business man, knows the importance of correct information on these points. What is Mr. McCulloch's motive for withholding this information from the mercantile community? Gold gamblers and stock jobbors, Loyal League men it is true, and professed personal friends of the administration and Mr. McCulloch, are the only parties benefited by the concealment policy of the Treasury Department, while the great mercantile interests of the country are reduced to gambling ventures from working in ignorance of what Mr. McCulloch knows. Is it possible that Mr. McCulloch intends to play into the hands of disreputable gold gamblers and stock jobbers by keeping the movements of his department a sealed book to the people?

The stock market is strong, with an upward tendency. The standard of prices is advancing steadily under the intenses of

The stock market is strong, with an upward tendency. The standard of prices is advancing steadily under the influence of government and bank expansion. The large and profitable fall trade transacting by our merchants assists materially in strengthening mercantile confidence, and the disposition to hold all securities for higher prices. It is argued that the opening of trade with the South will add at least $200,000,000 of new wealth, and the profits of the trading based thereon will enrich New York city more than in any year of its history. Business men are making so much history. Business men are making so much money that it is quite likely that they will take a turn in speculations of some kind or other this fall. The leading operators in railway shares are making are other this fail. The leading operators in railway shares are making arrangements for a speculative turn for higher prices, which is quite likely to be successful. The general trade of the city is the most active and profitable on record.—World.

The Ketchum Affair. According to the letters read at the meeting of the creditors of Ketchum, Son & Co., it appears that so long since as the 1st of June last Mr. Swan, one of the junior partners, was aware of the abstraction of securities belonging to the firm by Edward B. Ketchum for purposes of private speculation on his part. Mr. Thomas Belknap, Jr., another of the partners, in a letter dated August 28, said, "In looking over the loans and securities about the 1st of June, Mr. Swan found that there was missing some $430,000 United States seven and three-tenths per cent notes and $195,000 five-twenty United States bonds. * * * Upon being taxed by Mr. Swan with the abstraction, Edward admitted it, and that he was speculating on his own account; but asserted that the securities were within his control, if a little time was afforded him." He then goes on to say that "Mr. Swan informed me of the case at once;" and further, that "Mr. Swan and myself were both of the opin ion that by holding over him the threat of exposure he would be induced to re-tire from speculations and make good his photostropics. his abstractions;" and so, he continues, we permitted the matter to run along but apparently without informing the senior member of the firm of the condition of affairs; for Mr. Morris Ketchum, in his letter to the creditors of the firm, dated August 31, says:

"Till the morning of the day after he absconded I never had the slightest doubt of my son's integrity; I never supposed him capable of doing wrong to any one, and least of all to me; even now his conduct is inexplicable, and I cannot believe he was in his right mind when he so cruelly wronged you and me. Since the failure of the firm the two following letters have been put into my hands; they explain themselves. The writers could never have supposed that the amount taken was beyond the ability of the house to replace, and the secrecy, therefore, was the dictate equally of good sense and kindness. I do not blame them, for they acted according to their best judgment, and under trying circumstances. They have filled prominent positions in my house for many years, having, deservedly, my entire confidence, unimpaired by the decision dated August 31, says:

they came to in their efforts to regain the securities abstracted." The policy of the two junior members of the firm in keeping secret from its senior member facts of such grave importance to the house and its credi-tors as were here involved is open to serious criticism, and the subsequent unqualified approval of their course by Mr. Morris Ketchum sounds strangely enough, coming from a banker of his experience and position. It is more than probable that on the 1st of June last Edward B. Ketchum had misappropriated only a small portion of the $2,600,000 which he is now known to have abstracted, and the forgeries of ave abstracted, and the forgeries of cold checks were of a more recent date. The inference therefore is that had the defaulting member of the been brought promptly to an account as soon as elinquencies became known he ot have become the forger he is, and the house of Ketchum, Son & Co., would not have failed and been com-pelled to offer a settlement with its reditors at sixty cents on the dollar. The examination of Edward Ketchum, at the Tombs, is set down for to-morrow morning.—Herald (Mon-

The inhalations are breathed directly into the lungs, and through them carried into the blood, expelling all impurities from the system and healing any and every disease with which it any come in coutact. A few inhalations will change the color of the blood from a dark to a bright red. In cases of paralysis the circulation can be restored immediately, in almost every instance. In cases of consumption this method has been attended with the best results; its action upon the lungs being direct and i : mediate, it gives the patient just what he wants, viz: oxygen, of which he cannot get enough from the atmosphere, owing to the clogged and songested condition of the lungs offcourse there are eases which cannot be cured. Yet there are hundreds that have been given up as incurable, who have only to breathe oxygen to have new life infused into them. This is a compound medicated inhalation. It is perfectly harmless, having been administered to thousands of patients with the happiers results. The e inhalations are unlike any other ever given for remedial purposes, and can be obtained only at the offices which we have established in various parts of the country. An office will be established in every city in the State.

The Treatment of Diseases by Inhalations—Some two months ago, Drs. Carpenter and Turner, who have won for themselves a high reputation, bo hin. New YorkandTrenton, by tacir i reatment of diseases, visited our city and commenced a practice of the Oxygenated Medicated Inhalations with great benefit to many of the afflicted, both of our city and surrounding country, and with no doubt considerable pecuniary advantage to themselves. Having heard of some remarable cures performed by them, and being somewhat incredulous, we availed ourselves of a spare hour one afternoon and visited Dr. Carpenter at his rooms, on Pine street, we were shown into the reception room and there found quitted large number in waitting, when finally we got to see the man of physic, and talked to him about his system of treating diseases. We made bold as to inquire relative to a number of patients we saw in the reception won. In the reception popular properties to inquire relative to a number of patients we saw in the reception popular. Dr. Carpenter informed us that we were at perfect liberty to gonshit with any or all, as our pleasure should promipt, of which we availed ourselves of the opportunity. Among the most ponspecuous was a gentleman who, from his present appearance, indicate the informed us that for some time previous to his commenoing treatment with Dr. Carpenter, he had been pronounced beyond all hopes of recovery. He had resigned his position as teacher and given up all hopes his right arm perfectly useless declared that he had as perfect would account for his teacher and given up all hopes his right arm perfectly useless declared that he had as perfect with relumatish, repatering a treatment with Dr. Carpenter, he and we would account for his discount and had, however applying to Dr. Carpenter, and had exhauted the has been; and did space and time recent. Illaristicia, May 26, 1865.

As a beneficial act to my fellow creatures am induced to make the following statement: For eight years I have been striving against that insidious but fatal disease, consumption. "Unlike many" finate may be medically seen that insidious but fatal disease, consumption. "Unlike many" fination of those who had a right to know, I had become thoroughly convinced of my situation, and concluded, with my informants, that my stay here was limited, especially so as I had exhausted all known remedies within my reach without any relief. On the contrary I was losing a pound of flesh per week. In consequence of which I was obliged to respiration in any position at teaching. In this situation: saw for Carpenter a Turner's advertisement, and as drowning men cling to straws, I called on Dr. Turner, who, after examining my case, informed methat he had a remedy which would alleviate, and, in many cases, had cured similar afflictions to mine. With this encouragement from him I commenced treatment, for which I shall ever feel grateful. And now, after the expiration of a month, I am so far recovered as to induce me to hope for a perfect cure. I am attending tomy business, which is an active one, without any inconvenience. I have no cough, I sleep well at night, my appetite is good, and I have gained ten pounds of flesh during my treatment. For which I cannot but feel thankful to Dr. Turner and his system of inhalation, believing and I may say from experience, knowing that it is the only correct treatment for the vario's a affections of the lungs. This I give for the kenefit of others, and know of no reason why they, like myself, may not be benefited by the same treatment. I say to them, in all cundor, that I had exhausted all known renedies before trying this treatment without any benefit whatever.

Respectfully. The Lerkinten.—This is to certify that I have been affilted by a weakness of the lungs.

To the Afflicten.—This is to certify that I have been afflicted by a weakness of the lungs, attended by rheumatic pains of an inflammatory character, more especially about my neck and shoulders; so much so as to draw my head down to the left shounder, with the improbability of my returning it. After trying all the usual remedies, I applied to Dr. Carpenter, and concluded to try its medical inbalations. I experienced relief from the first inhalation, and am now happy to state, after ten days' treatment, I am entirely free from pain, with my head erect, subject to my will, and in general health as well as I have been for years. I take pleasure, therefore, in recommending the afflicted to try the inhalations of Dr. Carpenter, and be relieved.

To the Editor of the State Gazette:

Please publish the following for the benefit of those who, like myself, have suffered from afflictions without being able to find relief.

Some seven years ago I was unfortunate enough to be sun struck, from the effects of which I have suffered to a greater or less extent, every day since, and so nervous had I become of late, together with a constant pain in the back part of my head and neek, as to compel me to keep my room.

I have employed all the medical skill within my reach, without any effectual relief whatever. Seeing Dr. Carpenter's advertisement, I sent for that gentleman, who called upon me and so clearly stated my feelings as to induce me to give his treatment a trial.

I am happy now to state after a course of his treatment, that I am free from all pain. I have no unpleasant sensations about my head, I rest well at night and have not been detained by sickness from my business one hour since I commenced his treatment, all of which I have not experienced for some years.

I consider his mode of treatment not only pleasant but effectual, and highly recommend him as a gentleman who is enabled to accompilish all that he professes.

Respectfully yours, SAMUEL PRIOR, No. 51 Stockton street, where any and all who destre, can consult me for further information. To THE AFFLICTED.—Last October I was suddenly taken sick. I called upon a doctor, who informed me that my sickness arose from an effusion of water around my heart; he gave me medicine for some months, but it grew worse instead of better.

I tried three other doctors with the same result. I was then advised to consult Dr. Carpenter, at the Tremont House.

I called upon him, and he gave me a thorough examination, stating that imy liver was torpid and inactive, and that my blood was devoid of red globules, and my whole system in an amhemia condition, or a comparatively bloodless state, all of which I could readily believe, for my face had a ghastly, corpse-like hue, and the most violent rubbing or slapping failed to red-

I commenced treatment with Dr. Carpenter on February 8th, and to-day, March 15th, I am happy to say I am a well man.

The inhalations seemed to act like a charm; they havegiven me a good appetite, strength, color and vitality, and I now feel as well as ever I did.

Please publish the following for the benefit of the suffering:
About six months ago I was taken with a scrofulous affliction of the head, which gathered and broke several times. I employed the best doctors that I could find in this city; I also consulted an eminent doctor of Princeton, who gave me no encouragement. My head stopped running when I felt a difficulty in breathing. I grew worse rapidly, and soon lost the use of my limbs; I could not raise or turn in bed, and could not move my arms; my back became very stiff and painful; I-could eat nothing; I had a very high fever and a constant diarrices.

MISS MARTHA DOUGHTY.

MISS MARTHA DOUGHTY.

DOCTOR CARPENTER—Dear Sir; It is with much pleasure that I publish this certificate, not only from gratitude for being rescued from a speedy death, but to show to others that they may hope to be cured of a disease here-tofore regarded as knourable; I mean consumption, with which I have been sick since March, 1862. I kept failing and growing weaker until about four months ago, when I grow worse rapidly; my cough became very severe; I had heavy night-sweats and profuse expectoration; my appetite was all gone; a diarrhoasse in, and it seemed as though I could not survive long; my lungs were very sore from the incessant cough which never left me, night or day. I had the attendance of doctors, took cod liver oil and other remedies, but all to no purpose, for I failed every day. Hearing of Dr. Carpenter, I commenced treatment with him, and in a few days found my self insproying; in a month my pulse came down from 146 to 80; my appetite returned, I gained fiesh, and my cough grew easy, and now with less than three months treatment, I am feeling first-rate, all my bad symptoms have vanished, and I feel that I am a well man once more.

MEDICAL INHALATION.—Since the location

Eagle Hotel, Trenton, N. J.

MEDICAL INHALATION.—Since the location of Dr. Carpenter at the Tremont House, numbers of obstinate cases have been treated with success. There is no disputing his method of treatment since the victims of painful and of chronic diseases are now to be seen and talked with in our city, who, through this treatment have been fully recovered. A case of paralysis of long standing, viz: Mrs. E. Conway, of Fair Haven, has been absolutely cured; and cases of inveterate dyspepsia, of rheumatism, and of asthma, have been brought under and cured by this treatment, which is simply the inhaling of medicated gas which is neither unpleasant nor dangerous to take. His rooms are daily thronged with patients, and some of the Doctor's cures are wonderful. Consultation free.—New Haven, Palladium.

More Testimony.—Dr. Carpenter, who still remains at the Washington House, is no less successful in curing diseases than at first in another place he gives new testimonials of cures in this city. In the face of many evidences in the Doctor's favor, the incredulous can scarcely longer doubt his skill, or the success of his method of treating diseases. It is a fact that since he has been in Lowell he has performed cures that would redound to the credit of any physician in the land.—Lowell Courier, Aug. 2.

Medical Inhalation.—A few days since we had occasion to visit Doctor Carpenter, at his rooms at the Tremont House, on some business, and while there the Doctor explained to us his apparatus, &c., and insisted, much against our will, in our taking a few pulls at the inhalation tube. We done so after some persuasion, and were surprised and delighted at the effect of it. We also saw a patient undergo the operation of it while there. It is very simple, and the feeling produced very fine. As one of his patients, who left the room and came away with us explained it, "You feel as if you were bound heavenward, with no desire to return." Since then we have seen and conversed with several of his patients, one of whom, a well known merchant in State street, informed us that for a long time previous to his going to Doctor Carpenter, he had been in a sad state, his nervous system was all out of order, he could not sleep at nights his appetituewasgone his health falled him; and, in fact, he was a nearly used up man. He tried Doctor Carpenter's remedies, and the effect was wonderful. His nerves became steady and quiet, his appetitue returned, he slept as well as he ever did, he gained four pounds of flesh per week, and bids fair now to be a man again.

Another cure is that of Mr. Hawthorne, just below fur folice, in warring the provided and contest of the provided and contest the Doctor Carpenter's results has great and not over the provided and contest the provided and contest the provided and cont More Testimony.—Dr. Carpenter, who emains at the Washington House, is no sept 6 tsw 35

ASTONISHING! Ay, what is that so astonishing? And yet not so astonishing, after all—Dr. Carpenter's new method of treating diseases—for it does not require very extensive philosophical, physicological or pathological research to ascertain the fact that the "blood is life," and that if this fountain of life, from any cause, becomes impure or inactive, disease is sure to follow; and too, that any treatment that will purify, energize and vitalize the blood, must necessarily be the rational method for the treatment of diseases human fiesh is heir to. Having personally witnessed in numerous cases the effects of Dr. Carpenter's "Oxygenated Medicated Inhalations" upon diseased functions, and, after more than twenty years of pretty extensive experience, study and observation as physician, am well satisfied that the human system, however diseased, may be soon restored to a normal condition under this treatment.

O. P. BACON, M. D.

Lowell.

Dr. Carpenter: This gentleman still remains at the Washington House, and is called upon by many visitors, who seek his advice or make application of his method of curing certain diseases. Thus far, we have reasons for believing he has not failed in accomplishing all he professed to do in his advertisements when he came to Lowell. While there are some cases that are beyond his reach, many yield to the treatment he prescribes with the happiest results. One thing is true: He does not publish certificates given by persons residing in the West or in the South, in California or in England, but he gives the names of persons in Lowell; their occupation, the number of the street where they reside, and every guaranty that they have been his patients, and the effect his method of treatment has had upon them. This is certainly "open and above-board:" for persons need not consult the Doctor unadvisedly, if they chose to learn the facts of those who have visited him. In another place are to be found new certificates of cures he has effected. Daily Courier, Lowell, Mass.

Dr. Carpenter would respectfully state for the benefit of those who wish to know, that his Inhaliations consist of five gases drawn from as many different substances, medicated and combined. Physicians wishing to learn this system of treatment can do so by applying at Cooper's Botel.

The Lancaster Office is intended to be permanently located. Hundreds of certificates can be seen at Dr. Carpenter's rooms.
