TURNED UP AGAIN.—Sometime last winter or early in the spring we wrote an obituary notice on the death of Colonel Henry Kyd Douglas, of the Confederate States quently we learned that the Colonel was alive and well, and had read our notice of his "shuftling off this mortal coil" with 'occupation gone" in that respect, has tresumed the practice of his profession, the mares, law, to which he has added that of an agency for the sale and nurchase of real estate in the Shenandoah Valley, at Winchester, Va. He is a gentleman of ability and integrity and will doubtless have his handsfull o business. Success attend him.

WE have frequently spoken of the pleas ures of a visit to the quiet and beautiful village of Litiz and its picturesque surroundings; and such pleasures are heightened, it seems to us, when the company consists of congenial spirits, ladies and gentlemen, whose sole object is to make the visit of each other as agreeable and pleasant as possible. Well, just such a party as this proceeded to that village Wednesday afternoon, and relished the copious shower of rain on the way, which instead of dainpening the ardor or nthusiasm of any one made all feel de lightfully refreshed, and better prepared to enjoy the festivities awaiting their arrival at the hotel of those princes of landlords, the Messrs. Lichtenthaler. Stopping at Hoffman's Hotel, Neffsville, until the shower ceased, the omnibuses were cleaned and put in order, while the company recuperated by lemonading!

PASTORAL CHANGE -The Rev. A. C. Wedekind, for nearly three years past pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, this city tendered his resignation on Monday evening last, which has been accepted. we learn, received a call from St. James Lutheran Church, in the city of New York: His resignation takes effect on the first of October, but he will officiate for the last time in St. John's Church on Sunday, the Sth of October.

- At a meeting of the Church Council c St. John's Lutheran Church of this city, on the evening of the 13th inst., the Committee to whom the resignation of Rev. Mr. Wedekind, as pastor of said congregation was referred, reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Our pastor, Rev. A. C. Wede-kind, has placed his resignation in the hands of the Church Council of this congregation, in order to accept the call tendered him some weeks ago by the congregation of St. James in the city of New York, therefore, Resolved, That whilst from the peculiar Resolved, That whilst from the peculiar circumstances connected with the congregation in New York, we feel it our duty to accept the resignation of our much loved and esteemed pastor, we cannot refrain from expressing our sincere regret that the pastoral walking formed learning than these very toral relation formed less than three years ago, and which has been attended with sucl ssed results, both temporal and spiritual.

AN EARTHQUAKE. On Sunday after-noon last, about 3 o'clock, the shock of an earthquake was very distinctly and sensibly felt in this city. The like of it was never before experienced in this vicinity. It sounded as if there had been a tremendous fall of some heavy body, and then a rumbling noise succeded which lasted for fully one minute. All the buildings in the city were more or less shaken, and persons on the streets imagined that the houses were tumbling down over their heads. At first it was supposed to have been an explosion of Dupont's Powder Mills at Wilmington, distant in a straight line some fifty miles from here, but the shock and its effects were too tremendous and lengthy to admit of it resulting from that. The shock was felt in different parts of the county. We confess our inability to comprehend or give any cause for this sudden convulsion of nature in this region. Our impression has alwaysbeen that earthquakes have been confined generally to volcanic regions, but the ways of Providence are " past finding out." A Second Shock .- Same night, a few minntes before 11 o'clock, a second shock was experienced, but it was not so distinct or engthy as that of the afternoon.

Copeland & Kline's.—The arrivals were 24 head, purchased in the county. 16 head were sold to farmers in the county, and 16 were shipped to Philadelphia market.-There remains on hand 37 head.

SAD BEREAVEMENT.—We regret to an nounce the death of Miss Rebecca C. Magraw, daughter of the Hon. Henry S. Magraw, damen of the state of Pennsylvania. We learn that she died on Tuesday noon last, after a brief illness, at her father's country seat, near Port Deposit, Maryland. The deceased was a young lady of rare personal gifts and intellectual endowments. She was beloved by all who knew her, and her sudden death will occasion the deepest grief in a circle where her, presence was always greeted with the tenderest affection. No words of human consolation can lighten the sorrow that darkens the liousehold of her stricken family. In this sad hour of their affliction, they can only find comfort in Him "who doeth all things well."—

Phitad-liphia Age.

—We merely add our sad tribute to the above. Miss Magraw was well known and graw, formerly State Treasurer of Pennsyl-vania. We learn that she died on Tuesday o'clock train. Most of these, however, were has cast a gloom over all her friends, prevailed upon to stay during the night, and the family have the sincere condolence of all in this sad hour of affliction,

> How bo the Republicans like President Johnson's speech? He calls himself a Southern sympathizer! Several of our leading Republicans fainted away, yesterday, in this city. Things are looking quite encouraging, as they always do when the Republicans look blue!

Sudden Death.-Mr. P. J. Barry, a younger brother of Mr. Michael Barry, of this city, died rather suddenly at Harrisburg Thursday last. He had been to placing two of his children at school, and as slightly ailing from an attack of diarrhora. He left Messrs, S. H. Reynolds and panied him from Emmitsburg, at York, and proceeded to Harrisburg alone, where e suddenly grew worse and died of choleramorbus, Mr. Barry was associated with iness at Mahanoy City, Schuylkill county, and was a thorough-going business man. Like his brother he was one of the most de-voted fathers and kind-hearted friends.

FALL FASITIONS, #It may be interesting a ladies in pursuit of the latest fashions to know that the bonnets now being introduced in New York are made lower in the neck, leaving less room for "waterfall, which will probably be tabooed altogethe before Christmas. Gilt ornaments are in vogue, many of the designs representing Cloaks are to be worn full in the back Small sleeves still predominate; some are closely fitting at the hand. The regular fall fashions, however, will not "open" till the first of October.

THE CRY OF A ROASTING REPORTER,-The local reporter of one of our city exchanges, who has been suffering and swearing ever since September began, gets off the following: There is a peculiarly oppressive and allogether uncomfortable quality about this burning weather that we did not have durourning weather that we did not have dur-ing the summer. It makes one feel as if he were totally-depraved, capable of becoming a Common Councilman, or a Mormon, or any other monstrous thing Which men must shudder at and gods condemn

SAVE YOUR SEEDS.—Secure those already ripe, and make suitable provisions for the others. Few persons are fully aware of the superiority of seeds ripened from the best selected vegetables and flowers over the mixed lots obtained at the stores. Let a person try for a few years and save the largest and earliest pods of Lima beans from the most prolific vines, the largest corn from stalks with two ears, the best mellon, squash and other seed, and note the constant improvement rather than the two frequent degeneration of sorts. One row or a part of a row of peas and beans, should always be marked off for seed, and none be picked from it until fully ripe. It is a too nmon practice to save seed from what is oft after the family have eaten the earliest and best. At the time of housing the vegetables, lay by the finest for seed, instead of depending upon the culls in the spring. The strings around the ears of sweet corn is a mark that they are not to be plucked green. Save seed of the earliest and smoothest Fegee tomatoes rather than depend upon a volunteer crop of plants next spring; and if you want cabbages that will head, save heads rather than stumps for seed. PODERCE HUMBUG AND NATIVE HON FOREIGN HUMBUG AND NATIVE HON-ESTY.—With all our cuteness, we are annu-ally swindled by foreign humbugs who paim themselves on us as medical men and university graduates. Mr. A. Speer, how-ever, comes out flat-footed and tells us he is no doctor—but a plain, practical man, with a good property in New Jersey which he has turned to account in making his Samburg port wine, which he does not wish the public to regard as a patent medicine, but simply to give it credit for whatever medicinal virtues scientific upon effirm it posses. cinal virtues scientific men affirm it posses

"BRICK" POMEROY ON MOSQUITOES.-'Brick" Pomeroy gives the following a his experience in getting mosquitoes intoxicated. These "animiles" are remarkably plentiful in this city and vicinity this season, more so than we ever knew them to be before, and, by reason of their affectionate habits, have well earned the appellation of "sticking closer than a brother." "Brick's" description of "Mosquitoes on a Bender is inimitable, and without further prefatory remarks we give it to our readers entire:

MOSQUITOES ON A BENDER. Night before last, in order to sleep, v placed a piece of raw beefsteak on a plate at the head of our bed. In the morning it at the head of our bed. In the morning it was by the mosquitoes sucked as dry of blood as an old sponge, and our skin saved at least two thousand perforations. All about the room in the morning were mosquitoes, plethoric with blood, loaded till they could not fly. We killed a few, but the job was too sanguinary, so we left them to their feast.

Last night, in order to get even with the serenading devils, we steeped half a pound of fresh beefsteak in some old rye whisky, and left it on a plate near the bed. Nothing like being hospitably inclined. In ten and left it on a plate near the bed. Nothing like being hospitably inclined. In ten minutes after the light was extinguished a swarm of these back-biting bill-posters made an advance movement. One of them caressed us sweetly on the nose—he sent in his bill—there was a slap—a diluted damn—a dead mosquito! Soon we heard a tremendous buzzing about the whiskey-soaked beef. The entire mosquito family came singing in, and such an opera—good Lord deliver us! But they did not disturb us with bites—we fell asleep to be awakened in ten minutes by the worst mosquito concert ever editor, mortal, dewil, angel, divine, cert ever editor, mortal, devil, angel, divine, Dutchman or any other man listened to Dutchman or any other finan listened to. We raised a light, and the greatest show of the season was there to be seen. Every mosquito was drunk as a blind fiddler, and such an uproarious night as the long-billed whelps had, never was seen before this side of—seluh! The worst antics! Some were playing circus on the plate. One big fellow, with a belly like Falstaff, full of blood and whisky, was dancing juba on the Bible, while a fat friend of his tribe lay on her back beating the devil's dream on an invisible tamborine with one hind leg! Two more were wrestling on the foot-board of more were wrestling on the foot-board of the bed, each with his bill stuck fast in the timber. Another was tying the legs of our pants into a bow knot to the about the neek of Anna Dickinson, which hangs against the wash-stand, while another red-stomached customer was trying to stand on his hea in the wash-bowl.

All over the room were drunken mosqui-All over the room were drunken mosqui-toes! One long bill, gaunt representative was trying to ram the mucilage bottle full of newspaper chippings. Another chap was drilling a hole threw a revolver handle and singing "My Mary Ann," while another was limping across the window sill in search of fresh air, to the agonizing tune of—tramp— —tramp—tramp! One little ram of a skeet was trying to jam the cock out of Ben. But-ler's eve with a tooth brush, as his picture was trying to jam the cock out of Ben. But-ler's eye with a tooth brush, as his picture hung beside that of Kidd the pirate and a few other thieves. Another drunken states-man of the mosquito family, reminding us of Zach Chandler, was talking Russian to a lot of drunken companions as they lay in a freap on a plate, while another one sat on the handle of our bowie knife, doubled up with cramp in the stomach, and trying to untie his tail with his bill, which seemed like Lincoln's back-bone when Anna Dicklike Lincoln's back-bone when Anna Dickinson said it wanted stiffening. He was a sick looking skeeter, and died in three min-

Pritadetphia Age.

Arriving at Litiz, we found a party of Columbians, congenial spirits also, who had run out the Reading and Columbia Railroad in the early part of the afternoon for a little recreation in strolling over the Seminary and Spring grounds, take tea at Lichtenthaler's, and then return in the solutions of the solutions. Here untimely death by cost a right of the scheme to die!" Poor skeeter, A nice skeeter, but, "twas a pity thee drank." An old veteran with a paunch full of 'e!' and 'alf—blood and whisky—sat on the greatly beloved in this city, where her father formerly resided. But a short time since she was on a visit to some friends here, and was then the very picture of health and happiness. Her untimely death his hair with a paper of pins, tied a piece of paper about his neck, pasted a five cent infernal revenue stamp on his runno, and died fernal revenue stamp on his rump, and died like a loval citizen. His last words were—

"Tell the traitors all around you," etc., etc. "Tell the traitors all around you," etc., etc.
Another drunken scamp has just started out of the window for John B. Gough, or a stomach pump. A worse behaved set of bummers we never saw. They have acted fearful. About two thousand lie about dead, but sadness scened not to break in upon their hilarious rioting upon blood and whiskey. Half a dozen of them set on our new hat playing draw poker, using worm lozenges for checks, while one of the party got ges for checks, while one of the party got clean busted by making a fifty dollar blind good on a four flush, which didn't fill! He will be apt to wear cotton socks next win-ter and keep away from church collection days. Another one sat on top of a brandy Daniel Attick, of this city, who had accomsober, it is not safe to bet on his being dang-led. They have eaten the beef—drank the blood and whiskey—drilled the platefull of holes—and on the centre-table organized a Son of Malta lodge, using a five-cent shin-plaster for blanket in the act entitled "The plaster for blanket in the act entitied "The Elevation of Man."

Another red-bellied leader of the Miss Keeter family had a battalion of drunken bummers on the edge of a spittoon watching him jam a fur overcoat into his left ear. He was foolish—foolish enough for a Brigation (Language of Congress, A. lier General or a member of Congress. dier General or a member of Congress. A little cuss with black legs, crimson stomach and double-jointed bill, was vomiting in a satin slipper, while his wife, a sickly looking lady of her tribe, was gnawing at the bed post, thinking it a bologna. Another one, evidently an old maid, sat under the sofa milking the cat, while her sister was crowding a pair of woolen drawers into her water-fall, singing in a subdued strain:

"Come rest in this bosom" "Come rest in this bosom!"

We have applied for a season ticket—front eat.

Another one, with a certificate of marriage over his head in the shape of a welt he size of a candle mold, was dancing a fandango with two mosquito virgins on a watch crystal, while a deacon in one of their water crystal, while a deacon in one of their churches sat playing old sledge with a cork-screw, to see which should go for a gin cock-tail. An artistic delegate was standing on his head in a champagne tumbler, one hind leg run through his under jaw, while with the other he was pointing out the road to Richmond to a lot of skeets still drunker than himself, which were sitting dog fashion on the pillow. We should say it was a gay party—quitely so!

Talk about shows, concerts, dog fights, Talk about shows, concerts, dog fights, amputations, circuses, negro funerals, draw poker, sparking, or other amusements, there is nothing to be compared to a flock of mosquitoes on a bender. If you don't believe it, fix them up with a piece of beef steak soaked in whisky, and laugh your sides sore at the anties the drunken warblers cut.

ON THE WAY .- The new Steam Fire Engine, built for the Union Fire Company, No. 1, of this city, by Mr. L. Button of Waterford, N. Y., was shipped on Friday last, and will arrive at the Norris Locomotive Works on Friday morning next. They have given universal satisfaction, and have never known to failed on any occasion. They are capable of throwing a stream of

THE NEWSPAPER .- An exchange says the newspaper has become a great "institution" in this country, and is read by all classes, the highly cultivated as well as hose occupying a more humble sphere. Newspaper reading, in fact, forms about all the knowledge a great many,—may we not say a majority,-have the time or inclination to acquire. Yet we will venture to say there are none who earn their daily bread by mental labor, that are subject to so many annoyances and vexations in the multifarious duties which they are compelled to per form, and who for such services receives ittle remuneration, as editors. "He pencils aud scribbles all day and all night, While Sleep holds the earth in her chains; And a pain in the neck and a bur in the eye Is all the reward he obtains."

The South Carolina Convention.

HE CONVENTION AND ITS COM-PLEXION.
The delegates to the convention which as in its hands the restoration of South Carolina to the Union assembled in this city this morning, and have already effeeted an organization. The election of these delegates took place last Monday in the various parts of the State, and a very respectable body of men—respect-able in size and appearance—has been gathered together. As to their condi-tion in other respects you must weit tion in other respects, you must wait for time to develop. Their antecedents are not good. They were all bona fide, bitter and original secessionists and rebels. The thoroughness with which these men embraced the crime of seces-sion, to whose deformities thirty years' amiliarity had blinded them, nly virtue they have as yet developed. But this is a wonderful age of transformations, and this convention may un-expectedly develop something akin to patriotism. If they have none of this, you may rest assured that they have the oump of selfishness thoroughly develped, and in like proportion also the nump of caution. They are going to do hat which will benefit themselves, in dividually and collectively; and as they have enough sense left to see and enough honesty and candor to acknowledge that slavery is dead and only requires decent surial to afflict us no more, you may safely conclude that they will rapidly follow the example of Mississippi and reorganize with an altered co recognizing that slavery is dead. hether they will take the other absolutely necessary step in addition and prohibit slavery henceforth and forever lepends on circumstances and the Presdential pressure. THE MEMBERS OF THE CONVENTION.

Some of the members of the convention sit without any certainty that they are eligible. Numbers of them have never been pardoned. Wade Hampton, who used to be a rebel lieutenant-general, is a prominent member. James Conor, who lost a leg in the same service as brigadier general, is also a delegate from the Charleston district. Alfred Huger, the old postmaster of South Carolina, was the head of a family all of whom induled to average in the same series. of whom indulged to excess in treason. Charles H. Simon was Colonel or Lieutenant Colonel of the Twenty-fifth Eutaw) rebel fegiment, and fought in lefence of Charleston. In short, it may be said, without exaggeration, that the convention represents the rebel army But you will best know them by their works of the future and not the past.

THE ORGANIZATION.

The Convention met in the Baptist Church of this city. You will remember that Sherman's troops left the capital in a condition not proper for habitation. The organization was effected by THE ORGANIZATION. tion. The organization was effected by the selection of David L. Wardlaw, o Abbaville district, as President protein. Governor Perry was then notified of the organization of the Convention. On the receipt of his reply, stating that he would send in a communication to the Convention on Thursday, the Convention adjourned, to meet at noon to-mo-

> The Prospects in New York. The N. Y. Herald says:-It will not be so easy for the republicans to regain power as it was for the democrats in 1862. An overwhelming triumph now will decide the next Presidential election in advance and put the democrats in possession of the government for many years to come. The victories won by the republican politicians during the war were merely temporary; but a victory now is a permanency. Thousands of democrats left their party in the war times because all other issues were sub-Thousands sidiary to the war issue that now they are marching home to their old political quarters, just as our veterans are returning to their farms and their stores. We see some of their names conspicuous upon the democratic State ticket, and we shall see nearly all of them voting this ticket at the polls. When the country is in danger we all join the national army and the national party; but when the war is over the army and the party are disbanded together, and our citizens resume their old political affiliations with their old avocations, or else they strike out for themselves new parties and new occupations. The republicans must learn that we will have no standing parties and no standing armies. The democratic party is now as national as the republican, and if the radicals prevail at Syracuse they will make the republican organization as sectional as it was when it first took the field. We should not be surprised, in that event

to see the democrats become the admin-istration party, and, assisted by Presi-dent Johnson, put the republican opposition to total rout

A Loud Call on Gen. Butler. The New Orleans Picayune, of the 27th, notices the fact that Gen. Butler has been interceding for the restoration to Mrs. Slocomb of certain private property taken from her during his (Butler's) occupancy of that city, and says: General Butler went all the way from Lowell to Washington to ask it as a personal favor that his promise to Mrs. Slo-comb should be carried out. The favor was granted, and Gen. Butler was thus released from this obligation. How about the thousand other and simila lemands of the ladies, whose jewels books, plate, family memorials, etc., have been appropriated and withheld in like manner with Mrs. Slocomb's property? Does the General recognize it as pledge and obligation of honor and to aid these ladies in the recovery of their property We trust that hissensibility to appeals of the character of Mrs. Slocomb's will not be satisfied with this act. There are a great many other claims on his honor and faith, quite as strong as Mrs. S's—to which it is hoped, he will give his early and earnest attention.

· New York Hotels.

A correspondent says: During the last four years twenty-five new hotels have been opened in New York, and yet the public houses were never more thronged than they are at present. It seems that the more hotels there are, the more they are crowded; and it is the more they are crowded; and it is reported that two immense establishments larger than the Fifth Avenue are to be erected next spring, one near the corner of Broadway and Twenty-fifth street, and the other on Fifth Avenue and Fourteenth street. Stewart, the calico Crœsus, it is said, is to be interested vector vector of them. ested pecuniarily in one of them, and the Lelands of the Metropolitan in the other. No doubt they will make for-tunes for their proprietors, for there has been no more remunerative business for years in this city than that of hotel keeping. I learn from what I deem good authority that during the last twelve months the Fifth Avenue has cleared $175,000, the Metropoliton, $160. 000, the St. Nicholas $150,000, the Astor $125,000, and the others in the same proportion. Sar A Modern Miracle!
FROM OLD AND YOUNG, FROM BICH and poor, from high-born and towly, comes the universal voice of praise for HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILLIAN HAIR RENEWER.
It is a perfect and miraculous article. Cures baidness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or "pomatum. Softens brash, dry and wiry hair into beautiful sliken Tresses. But above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR.
Use it a few times, and PRENTO CHANGE!
The whitest and worst-looking hair resumes its youthful beauty. It does not dy the hair, but strikes at the root, and fills it with new life and coloring matter.
It will not take a long, disagreeable trial to prove the truth of this matter. The first application will do good; you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and BEFORE YOU KNOW IT the old gray discolored appearance of the Hair will be gone.
