By Rev. John Chambers, D.D., on Thanksgiving Day, at the Independent Church, Philadelphia. The Press of yesterday has the following report of a sermon delivered by that distinguished Divine, Rev. John Chambers, on Thanksgiving Day. Poor as the report is, we gladly give it a place in our columns.

The lesson of the day was read, being the 86th Psalm, commencing, "Thou hast been favorable unto thy land." The fifth chapter of Paul's First Epistle to the Thessalonians was read, after which the speaker in compliance with the request of the Chief Magistrate of the United States, and of the Chief Magistrate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but their influence upon us is not very powerful. I did suppose a large majority of our countrymen respected at least the request of the President, magistrate or king upon the earth, has a right to interfere with religious worship, when he is an always disposed to respect the request, when it is respectfully made of the Chief Magistrate of the State, or of the municipal authorities.

We are here at the request of the State, one of the most frightful, cruel, bloody, destructive and damning wars that ever God's land if any people ought to be grateful to God for its peace. While we should be grateful for this there are many things we have to deplore. The consequences of war are so fraught with evil and only before God in penitence.

Mr. Chambers then addressed the throng, and gave thanks for the return of freedom, and glorified God that the writ of habeas corpus had been restored, and that men could not now be torn from their homes without due process of law. He then proceeded to deliver the sermon—"Can we discern the signs of the times?"

No man certainly ought to be an idle, inattentive spectator of passing events in his relation to the signs of the times. Comparatively few of us are able to know their own hearts; hence they are the slaves and the dupes of others. It is known to the world that there is no class of men on earth, or any nation of men on earth, who make the same amount of boast and triumph about their liberties as the people of this country. At the same time the many are carried by the few. There are comparatively few men in this country who are in the hood in any of the general walks of life, or in business associations, to think fairly, conscientiously and honestly for themselves, and to act from a firm conviction of duty. This is unfortunately true, religiously and civilly, in our country.
