

Poetry.

One Year Ago. What stars have faded from our sky? What hopes unfulfilled yet to die? How dreams so fondly pondered o'er, Now faded like the bubble on the shore.

Literary.

Adam's Fall. A favorite temperance lecturer down South has been lecturing on the influence of bad example in the formation of habits ruinous in their effect.

Slender.

I have known a country society which withered away all to nothing under the dry rot of gossip only. Friendships once as granite dissolved to jelly and then ran to water, only because of this.

Miscellaneous.

The Poisoned Flower. An incident in the life of one of the early Kings of France. There are various traditions as to the origin of the Golden Lily as the shield of France.

The Country Church.

We clip the following bit of sentiment from the Lancaster Daily Intelligencer. It brings to mind the country church that was old when we were young.

The Beauty of Old People.

Men and women make their own beauty or their own ugliness. Sir Edward Bulwer Lyton speaks in one of his novels of a woman who was older than he had any business to be.

Oysters on Quillies.

The Professor instructed the class in the art of preparing oysters in a most delicious manner, to be eaten out of the shell.

Rupture Between Jefferson and John Handolph.

Handolph being invited to play chess on one occasion, refused, and gave the following reason: "I have not played at chess for the last seventeen years."

Discovery of the Supposed Murderer of the Joyce Children.

The City, and How the Case was Followed up. The mystery which has so long shrouded the tragedy which occurred in West Roxbury in June last, involving the brutal murder of Isabella N. and John S. Joyce, only children of a widow lady residing in Lynn, seems to have been cleared up.

Horrible Revelations.

The Round Table of last week has an article calculated to create a great sensation in fashionable circles, as it lays bare what is well calculated to shock the most fastidious beholders.

The Spring of Fashion.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles. The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Remarkable Case of France—A Lady Bites Her Tongue.

A lady, residing within sixteen miles of Raleigh, says the Progress, who has been in delicate health since the loss of her tongue, which she lost in a fit of rage.

The Jews.

An Israelite of Bavaria thus writes of the restoration of the chosen people to their native land.

Expectations.

Who shall tell the hopes and fears that are stirring in the hearts of the young? All the world over, the quiet, thoughtful brow of expectant womanhood bends over their silently.

A Peculiar People.

There is a peculiar people at Wallingford, Connecticut, who style themselves as "Mormons." They know run, tobacco, tea, coffee, pork, swearing, quarreling, wrangling, gossiping, backbiting, lying, cheating and defrauding—all of which it is well as far as they are concerned.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles.

The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Horrible Revelations.

The Round Table of last week has an article calculated to create a great sensation in fashionable circles, as it lays bare what is well calculated to shock the most fastidious beholders.

The Spring of Fashion.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles. The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Remarkable Case of France—A Lady Bites Her Tongue.

A lady, residing within sixteen miles of Raleigh, says the Progress, who has been in delicate health since the loss of her tongue, which she lost in a fit of rage.

The Jews.

An Israelite of Bavaria thus writes of the restoration of the chosen people to their native land.

Expectations.

Who shall tell the hopes and fears that are stirring in the hearts of the young? All the world over, the quiet, thoughtful brow of expectant womanhood bends over their silently.

A Peculiar People.

There is a peculiar people at Wallingford, Connecticut, who style themselves as "Mormons." They know run, tobacco, tea, coffee, pork, swearing, quarreling, wrangling, gossiping, backbiting, lying, cheating and defrauding—all of which it is well as far as they are concerned.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles.

The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Horrible Revelations.

The Round Table of last week has an article calculated to create a great sensation in fashionable circles, as it lays bare what is well calculated to shock the most fastidious beholders.

The Spring of Fashion.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles. The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Remarkable Case of France—A Lady Bites Her Tongue.

A lady, residing within sixteen miles of Raleigh, says the Progress, who has been in delicate health since the loss of her tongue, which she lost in a fit of rage.

The Jews.

An Israelite of Bavaria thus writes of the restoration of the chosen people to their native land.

Expectations.

Who shall tell the hopes and fears that are stirring in the hearts of the young? All the world over, the quiet, thoughtful brow of expectant womanhood bends over their silently.

A Peculiar People.

There is a peculiar people at Wallingford, Connecticut, who style themselves as "Mormons." They know run, tobacco, tea, coffee, pork, swearing, quarreling, wrangling, gossiping, backbiting, lying, cheating and defrauding—all of which it is well as far as they are concerned.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles.

The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Horrible Revelations.

The Round Table of last week has an article calculated to create a great sensation in fashionable circles, as it lays bare what is well calculated to shock the most fastidious beholders.

The Spring of Fashion.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles. The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Remarkable Case of France—A Lady Bites Her Tongue.

A lady, residing within sixteen miles of Raleigh, says the Progress, who has been in delicate health since the loss of her tongue, which she lost in a fit of rage.

The Jews.

An Israelite of Bavaria thus writes of the restoration of the chosen people to their native land.

Expectations.

Who shall tell the hopes and fears that are stirring in the hearts of the young? All the world over, the quiet, thoughtful brow of expectant womanhood bends over their silently.

A Peculiar People.

There is a peculiar people at Wallingford, Connecticut, who style themselves as "Mormons." They know run, tobacco, tea, coffee, pork, swearing, quarreling, wrangling, gossiping, backbiting, lying, cheating and defrauding—all of which it is well as far as they are concerned.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles.

The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Horrible Revelations.

The Round Table of last week has an article calculated to create a great sensation in fashionable circles, as it lays bare what is well calculated to shock the most fastidious beholders.

The Spring of Fashion.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles. The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Remarkable Case of France—A Lady Bites Her Tongue.

A lady, residing within sixteen miles of Raleigh, says the Progress, who has been in delicate health since the loss of her tongue, which she lost in a fit of rage.

The Jews.

An Israelite of Bavaria thus writes of the restoration of the chosen people to their native land.

Expectations.

Who shall tell the hopes and fears that are stirring in the hearts of the young? All the world over, the quiet, thoughtful brow of expectant womanhood bends over their silently.

A Peculiar People.

There is a peculiar people at Wallingford, Connecticut, who style themselves as "Mormons." They know run, tobacco, tea, coffee, pork, swearing, quarreling, wrangling, gossiping, backbiting, lying, cheating and defrauding—all of which it is well as far as they are concerned.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles.

The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Horrible Revelations.

The Round Table of last week has an article calculated to create a great sensation in fashionable circles, as it lays bare what is well calculated to shock the most fastidious beholders.

The Spring of Fashion.

Notes for Writing—Newspaper Articles. The fashion-makers are not less prompt than the seasons. The first day of spring brought the first opening of the new in the autumn.

Remarkable Case of France—A Lady Bites Her Tongue.

A lady, residing within sixteen miles of Raleigh, says the Progress, who has been in delicate health since the loss of her tongue, which she lost in a fit of rage.

The Jews.

An Israelite of Bavaria thus writes of the restoration of the chosen people to their native land.

Expectations.

Who shall tell the hopes and fears that are stirring in the hearts of the young? All the world over, the quiet, thoughtful brow of expectant womanhood bends over their silently.

A Peculiar People.

There is a peculiar people at Wallingford, Connecticut, who style themselves as "Mormons." They know run, tobacco, tea, coffee, pork, swearing, quarreling, wrangling, gossiping, backbiting, lying, cheating and defrauding—all of which it is well as far as they are concerned.