DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION. Every Township Represented

Great Enthusiasm and Harmony. The Democracy of Lancaster County Stand by Andrew Johnson, the Union and the Constitution.

The Democratic County Convention met Wednesday, at 11 o'clock, at Fulton Hall, to nominate a county ticket. There was a full attendance, every township in the county being represented. The Convention was called to order by A. J. Steinman, Esq., Chairman of the County Committee, and on motion of Henry Shuffner, Esq., of Mount Joy, P. Martin Hestler, Esq., of Ephrata, was chosen President.

Mr. Heitler, on taking the chair, tendered his thanks for the honor conferred in a very happy and eloquent speech. He said the duties of the position were new to him, but he would discharge them with impartiality and to the best of his ability. The Democracy were called together in perilous times to sustain and strengthen the arm of the President of the United States. The Demoeracy sustained and supported Andrew Johnson because he had backbone, and had planted himself firmly on the ramparts of the Constitution. He was the prototype of Andrew Jackson, and because he had to fight a howling, fanatical, Disunion Cou gress the Democracy and Conservative men verywhere would sustain him. It was the most natural thing in the world for the Democratic party to do so, because Andrew Johnson was true to the Union and the Constitution. Under the Constitution and country had been the wonder and admiration of the world. Mr. H. was enthusiasti cally applauded during the course of his eloquent remarks, of which the above is but an imperfect sketch.

The organization of the Convention was then completed by the selection of the fol-

AFTERNOON SESSION. The Convention again assembled at dock, and was called to order by the esident, Mr. Heitler. The Committee on Nominations not being ady to report, on motion of George Nauan, Esq., Hon. I. F. Hiester was request ed to address the Convention. On Mr. H oming forward, he was warmly greeted. He said that he was glad to meet so man f his Democratic and Conservative friends It augured well for the future of the country. He spoke of the fatality of the elec ion of Republican Presidents. He referred o the nomination of General Geary, and said that were he elected he would, no doubt, lesert and betray the Republican party. It was not six months before his nomination that he had sought the nomination of the Democratic party for Governor. He said that two years since, when he last addressed n audience in Fulton Hall, we were in th midst of a civil war, and engaged in a gigan the struggle for the Union and the Con-stitution, 7-Now, the Radical Congress were keeping out of the Union ter States of the Union, and were using their endeavors instead to secure equal rights to the negro. Thad, Stevens, the leader of hese radicals, was for "equal rights for the Irishman, German, Negro and Turk,' and the object of the radicals was universal negro suffrage throughout the country. Mr. H. argued this particular point with great force, and showed conclusively the designs of the radicals. He spoke of the Maine election, and humorously alluded to the question of the radicals, "Have you heard he news from Maine?" He replied by asking if the radicals had vet heard from Kentucky, Idaho and California? In concluding he referred to the military services of General Geary, speaking of him as a highly respectable soldier, but not one to compare with Grant, Shermanor Hancock. He said, however, that he would say nothing were elected he would act with the Demo-cratic party. Mr. H. was warmly applauded during his remarks.

Col. F. S. Pyfer then arose and stated that he Committee on Nominations had been nable to agree, and therefore brought the natter again before the Convention, and loved that the Committee be discharged. After some little discussion, the motion against Geary, because he believed if he

You have or-dered otherwise, and I will not refuse to obey the call to duty—though the instinct of self-preservation and self-love bids me shrink from a contest in which defeat is so certain.

Turn. To be the candidate of the great—Demo To be the candidate of the great Demo-cratic party at this time for an office so im-portant, is worthy the ambition of our great-est and best men. Never in the history of this mation was a political contest pregmant with such mighty issues. We are struggling to vindicate the rights and lib-erties of the white men of America, to re-establish Ropublican institutions among ourselves under a constitutional govern-ment—to restore the Union of our fathers under a Constitution which was framed inder a Constitution which was frame v their united wisdom-to annihilate th by their united wisdom—to annihilate the bold bad men who laugh at reason, justice and law, the traitors and disunion-ists of the Radical Congress who are attempting to defeat the purpose for which a long and bloody war was fought by refusing to allow the States lately in rebellion to resume their places in the Union, who demand negre-cuantity and nearo suffrage to accomplish

The Democratic party sustains President Johnson in his wise policy because they believe him to be right; claiming the privilege of freemen to denounce the wrong, we are proud when occasion offers to applaud the right. The reconstruction policy of President Johnson has struck the popular bases, and arraised it too determined action neart, and aroused it to a determined action which makes the Radicals tremble "as i which makes the Radicals tremble "as if 'mid earthquakes." The honest masses, seeing in him their liberator, have raised the ery—" Well done, good and faithful servant, faithful to the Constitution and the Union, we will be faithful to you."

ever to say my friends, that if the white men of Pennsylvania desire legislation for their prosperity and happiness, they must defeat such men as Mr. Stevens. If they deteal such men as Mr. Stevens. If they are opposed to negro equality and negro suffrage they must declare against this revolting proposition at the polls in October. If they are opposed to the reckless expenditure of public money, and in favor of reform, they must support the Democratic ticket. If they want an honest administration of the affairs of our State they must vote for Hiester Clymer, our noble and patriotic standard bearer.

for Hiester Clymer, our noble and patriotic standard bearer.

Of my distinguished opponent, Mr. Stevens, "I nothing extenuate or ought set down in malice." As a gentleman I regard him with high esteem; he was one of my earliest acquaintances in Lancaster, and has ever been personally my friend. Bold and fearless as the leader of a wicked party, his children commands my reparet as fully is ability commands my respect, as full is his principles command my contempt Between him and me this contest shall be Between hini and me this contest shall be conducted with fairness and manliness. Representing as we do principles which are antagonistic and irreconcilable we enter the field and await the verdlet of the people, who looking to a higher object than the spoils of office, or the elevation to power of a political favorite, must decide between us. Again I thank you for this evidence of your regard and earnestly hope that I may never by word or deed forfest your confidence.

THE DASTARDLY OUTRAGE BY THE RAD-CALS AT MARIETTA .-- A correspondent sends us the following additional particulars of the dastardly and outrageous conduct of the Radicals at Marietta on Thursday evening. He was an eye-witness of the whole affair:

MARIETTA, September 11, 1866. MARIETTA, September 11, 1866.

Messrs. Editors: On Thursday evening ast the Radicals held a meeting at the Town last the Radicals held a meeting at the Town Hall Park. Everything passed off quietly there, not even a word of disapprobation from the opposite party, either by man or boy. The so-called "Boys in Blue" from Columbia arrived about half-past 8 o'clock, and had a torch-light procession. They paraded through several of the streets, and then marched to the Town Hall Park, when they broke ranks. Not one word of insult or molestation was given them from the opthey broke ranks. Not one word of insult or molestation was given them from the opposite party, which can be proven by a number of Radicals who were in the procession. A squad of these so-called "Boys in Blue," or rather a part of "Brownlow's Second Division," who are to do the burning, left the meeting, and went to the Democratic Club Room, and began with their torches to set fire to the building. Fortunately, there were some of the real "Boys in Blue" in the vicinity, who defended the mately, there were some of the real "Boys in Blue" in the vicinity, who defended the building. A few of "Brownlow's Second Division" were knocked down on the spot. Reinforcements were sent them, and they then commenced an assault upon Mr. Abner McMichael, a Democrat, by knocking him down and kicking him in the face. Had it not been for the cries of his daughters, they would have killed him on his own premises. They also put the torch to his house, when one of his younger daughters begged of the rowdies not to burn them out. One of them replied, "that for her sake he would put the fire out," which he did. In the meantime the crowd of burners increased in front of the Democratic Club Room, threatening to "burn the d—d building down." Luckily there happened to be ng down." Luckily there happened to be an old Union gun about, which was brough an old Union gun about, which was brough into requisition, and its contents discharged among the rioters and burners, hitting in all nine persons. Unfortunately, a few in-nocent persons were slightly wounded. The rioters and burners were completely routed, and left town in squads. I have the best authority for stating that the whole thing was concocted before hand. There is rumor that these so-called "Boys in Blue" are coming to Marletta soon again to mob the Clymer Club. Ever ready, ever willing, is our watchword.

RECIPE FOR PICKLING CUCUMBERS.—An esteemed friend sends us the following esteemed friend sends us the following recipe, for publishing which we know our many readers will thank us:

To Pickle Cucumbers.—Make a strong salt-water that will bear an egg, and boll it nine successive mornings and pour over the pickles hot. Then put them in clear water for a day and night. Then put them in alum water for two days. (Take one pound of alum for 1,000 pickles.) Then green them. Tollgal. of vinegar, add 3 cloves of garlic, cloves, allspice, mustard seed, horse radish and tarragan to your taste. You can cut up green peppers and mix them in the jar with the pickles to make them hot.

In every respect i completely eclipsed the Radical mass meeting held at the same village on the 8th inst The delegations came on foot, on horseback in wagons, carriages and other vehicles and made the welkin ring with their enthusiastic cheers for Johnson, Clymer, the Union and the Constitution. There was a delegation from Drumore and the surrounding townships composed of 390 carriages and wagons, besides one on horseback, 150 from Strasburg, Bart, &c., and an equally large one from Colerain and the other lower townships. It is estimated that there were 3,000 people present, and a gratifying feature was the large attendance of ladies, who manifested their hearty co-operation in the proceedings by their smiles and waving of handkerchiefs. Three bands of music were in attendance. The meeting was organized by the selection of the following officers:

IMPORTANT REVENUE DECISION RELA TIVE TO MANUFACTURERS.—The new Inernal Revenue Law, as passed by the late Congress, differs very materially from the Revenue Act of June 30, 1864, consequently there are questions arising from day to day, the answers to which are very important, Below we publish a decision that concerns every manufacturer throughout the country. Under the old law manufacturers were allowed to deduct for packing boxes, expenses of packing, drayage, commissions, etc. These are under the present act dis-AHOWEG.

SIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE WASHINGTON, Sept. 10, 1866. Sir: In reply to your letter of the 7th inst., I have to say that under the new law manufacturers, in making their returns, are not allowed any deductions for freight, commissions, or other expenses of sale. Under the act of July 13, 1866, packing boxes, and tin cans used for preserved meats, ish, shell-fish, fruits, vegetables, jams, jellies, paints, oils and spices, are exempt from taxation. But no deduction for the cost of lottles or boxes will be allowed under the obttles or boxes will be allowed under the new law.

THE Managers of the Home acknowledge the following donations which have been gratefully received since Aug. 22d: From the Inspectors of Lancaster County Prison, 50 yards carpet; Mrs. Horace Rath-von, a cook stove; Mr. Frantz, Pequea, 7 pdirs woolen stockings, b bushel apples, 1 bushel potatoes and lot of cabbage; Mr. Boetner, 12 loaves bread; Mr. Harry Locher, 5 bushels tomatoes.

At a Fair held at the Home recently, by the Misses Wiley, Margie Gast, Annie Pearsol, Annie Forney, Eva Rengier, Lulu Bell Ellie Musser and Agnes Pearsol, the sum of seventeen dollars and ten cents was realized. The young Misses certainly deserve great commendation for the patient perseverance and untiring industry they manifested towards accomplishing the praise-worthy object of assisting the institution, which maintains the poor and friendless children in our midst.

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR.

DEPARTURE FROM DOUISVILLE.
CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—The Presidential party left Louisville for Clincinnati last night at 8.0 clock, and took passage on the steamer United States, where every care and attention was bestowed by the President of the Mail Line to render the trip comfortable and pleasant. The band of the Second United States infantry accompanied us.

At nine o'clock we were in full view of the city. The suspension bridge uniting Covington and Cincinnatt is decorated with covington and Cincinnati is decorated with dags from one end to the other. While the salutations were going on a scene of thrilling interest and dreadful apprehension was presented. Between the bridge and the railroad office, and over the old canal, was a plank covering a platform, on which probably four or five hundred men, women, and children were closely gathered. Those of us who were on the platform of the last car, were witnesses of the giving way of the structure on which they were standing. First one section of it fell, precipitating the occupants to the ground, a height of apparently twenty feet. The second part soon followed, and in less than thirty seconds these persons were thrown one upon another or buried beneath the ruins. Women screamed, and many excited men rushed to the immediate location of the disaster for the relief of their friends. The women and children were seen with their faces blackened with coal dirt against

The train was obliged to move to keep up the time table right and to avoid accidents and there was, therefore, no opportunity afforded to ascertain the extent of the accident. The President instructed Deputy Marshal O'Beirne to remain at Johnstown to learn the particulars, and to extend all possible aid to the sufferers.

Stoppages were made at the various stations along the line, and everywhere the President and party were most cordially greated by large assemblages of people.

At Altoona the crowd was huge, and the air resounded with cheers for the President, Grant, Farragut, Wells, Custer and others of the party. The President made a telling and eloquent speech here, after which the party partook of a fine banquet.
