The resolution of congress proceeding against pardons by foreign Government of persons codvicted of infamous offences, on condition of emigration to our country, has been communicated to the States with the communication of the states of the heen communicated to the States with which we maintain intercourse, and the practic, so justly the subject of complaint on our part, has not been renewed.

The congratulations of Congress to the Emperor of Russia, upon his escape from attempted assassimation, have been present-ed to that humane and enlightened ruler, and received by him with expressions of createful appropriation. and received by him with expressions of grateful appreciation.

The Executive, warned of an attempt by Spanish-American adventurers to induce the emigration of freedmen of the United States to a foreign country, protested against the project as one which, if consummted, would reduce them to a bondage even more oppressive than that from which they have just been relieved. Assurance has been received from the Government of the State in which the plan was matured, that the proceeding will meet neither its encouragement nor approval. It is a question worthy of your consideration, whether our laws upon this subject are adequate to the prevention or punishment of the erfine thus mediated.

In the month of April last, as Congress is aware, a friendly arrangement was made between the Emperor of France and the President of the United States, for the withdrawal from Mexico of the French expeditionary military forces. This withdrawal from Mexico in three-deinchments, the first of which, it was understood, would leave Mexico in November, now past, the second in March next, and the third and last in November, 1807. Immediately upon the completion of the evacuation, the French Covernment was to assume the same attitude of non-intervention, in regard to Mexica, as is held by the Government of the United States. Repeated assurances have been given by the Emperor, since that agreement, that he would complete the promised evacuation within the period mentioned, or sooner.

It was reasonably expected that the pro-It was reasonably expected that the po-ceedings thus contemplated would produce a crisis of great political interest in the Ro-public of Mexico. The newly-appointed Minister of the United States, Mr. Camp-hell, was therefore sent forward, on the 9th Minister of the United States, and the 9th day of November hist, to assume his proper functions as Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to that Republic. It was also thought expedient that he should be attended in the vicenity of Mexico by the Lieutenant General of the Army of the United States, with the view of obtaining such information as might be important to determine the course to be pursued by the United States in re-establishing and maintaining necessary and proper intercourse with the Republic of Mexico. Deeply interested in the cause of linerty and humanity, it seemed an obvious duty on our part to excreise whatever influence we possessed for the restoration and permanent establishment in that country of a domestic and republican form of government. can form of government.

Such was the condition of affairs in re-Such was the condition of amars in the grad of No-gard to Mexico, when, on the 22d of No-vember last, official information was re-ceived from Paris that the Emperor of Erange but some time before decided not France had some time before decided a withdrawn detachment of his forces month of November past, according to the month of November past, according to engagement, but that this decision was unde with the purpose of withdrawing the whole of those forces in the ensuing spring. Of this determination, however, the United States had not received any notice or infimition; and, so soon as the information was received by the Government, care was taken to make known its dissent to the Engager of France. Emperor of France.

I cannot forego the hope that France will econsider the subject, and adopt some esolution in regard to the evacuation of Mexico which will conform as nearly as Mexico while will combine engagement, and thus meet the just expectations of the funted States. The papers relating to the subject will be haid before you. It is beheved that, with the evacuation of Mexico by the expeditionary forces, no subject for serious differences between Franco and the United States would remain. The expressions of the Emperor and people of France warrant a hope that the traditionary friendship between the two countries might in that case be renewed and permanently restored. cable with the existing engagement,

A claim of a citizen of the United States for indemnity for spoliations committed on the high sens by the French authorities, in the exercise of a belligerent power against Mexico, has been met by the Government of France with a proposition to defer settlement until a mutual convention for the adjustment of all claims of citizens and subjects of both countries, arising out of the recent wars on this Continent, shall be agreed upon by the two countries.—The suggestion is not deemed unreasonable, but it belongs to Congress to direct the manner in which claims for indemnity by foreigners, as well as by citdirect the manner in which claims for indenmity by foreigners, as well as by citizens of the United States, arising out of the late civil war, shall be adjudicated and determined. I have no doubt that the subject of all such claims will engage your attention at a convenient and proper time. It is a matter of regret that no considerable advance has been made towards an adjustment of the differences between the United States and Great Britain, arising out of the depredations upon our national ut of the depredations upon our nation commerce and other trespasses committed during our civil war by British subjects, in violation of international law and treaty obligations. The delay, however, may be believed to have resulted in no small degree from the domestic situation of Great Britain. An entire change of ministry occurred in that country during the last session of Parliament. The attention of the new ministry was galled to the subject at an early day, and there is some reason to expect that it will now be considered in a becoming and friendly spirit. The importance of an early disposition of the question cannot be exaggerated. Whatever might be the wishes of the two Governments, it is manifest that good-will and friendship beof international law and treaty be the wishes of the two Governments, it is manifest that good-will and friendship between the two countries cannot be established until a reciprocity, in the practice of good faith and neutrality, shall be restored between the respective nations.

On the 6th of June last, in violation of our neutrality laws, a military expedition and enterprise against the British North American Colonies was projected and attempted to be carried on within the territory and jurisdiction of the United States. In obedience to the obligation imposed upon the Executive by the Constitution, to see that the laws are faithfully executed, that the laws are faithfully executed see that the laws are nathting execution, all citizens were warned, by proclamation, against taking part in oraiding such unlawful proceedings, and the proper civil, military and naval officers were directed to take all necessary measures for the enforcement of the laws. The expedition failed, but it transit here without its eninful conseof the laws. The expedition failed, but it has not been without its painful consequences, Some of our citizens, who it was alleged were engaged in the expedition, were captured, and have been brought to triat, as for a capital offence, in the Province of Canada. Judgment and sentence of death have been pronounced against some, while others have been acquitted. Fully believing in the maxim of government, that severity of civil punishment for misguided persons who have engaged in revolutionary attempts which have disastronisty failed, is unsound and unwise, such representation has been made to the British Government, in behalf of the convicted persons, as, bein behalf of the convicted persons, as, being sustained by an enlightened and humane judgment, will, it is hoped, induce it heir cases an exercise of elemency, and a judicious amnesty to all who were engaged the movement. Council has been ployed by the Government to defend citi-zens of the United States on trial for capital offences in Canada; and a discontinu

and onences in Canada, and a discontinuance of prosecutions which were instituted in the courts of the United States against those who took part in the expedition, has been disconding been directed.

I have regarded the expedition as not only political in its nature, but as also in a great measure foreign from the United States in its causes, character, and objects. been directed. The attempt was understood to be n sympathy with an insurgent party in Ire land, and, by striking at a British Province land, and, by striking at it British Province on this Continent, was designed to aid in obtaining redress for political grievances which, it was assumed, the people of freland had suffered at the hands of the British Government during a period of several centuries. The persons engaged in it were chiefly natives of that country, some of whom had, while others had not, become citizens of the United States under our general laws of naturalization. Complaints of misgovernment in Ireland continually engage the attention of the British nation, and so great an agitation is now prevailing in so great an agitation is now prevailing i Ireland that the British Government hav Ireland that the British Government have deemed it necessary to suspend the writ of habeas corpus in that country. These circumstances must necessarily modify the opinion which we might otherwise have entertained in regard to an expedition expressly prohibited by our neutrality laws. So long as those laws remain upon our statute books, they should be faithfully executed, and if they operate harshly, unjustly, or oppressively, Congress alone can apply the remedy, by their modification or repeal. Political and commercial interests of the United States are not unlikely to be affect ed in some degree by events which are transpiring in the eastern regions of Europe, and the time seems to have come when our Gonvernment ought to have a proper diplomatic representation in Gree This Government has claimed for all This Government has claimed for all persons not convicted, or accused, or suspected of crime, an absolute political right of self-expatriation, and a choice of new national allegiance. Most of the European States havedissented from this principle, and have claimed a right to hold such of their subjects as have immigrated to and been naturalized in the United States, and afterwards returned on transient visits to their native countries, to the performance of military service in like manner as resident subjects. Complaints arising from the claim in this repect made by foreign States, have heretefore been matters of controversy between the United States and some of the European Powers, and the irritation consequent upon the failure to settle this question increased during the war in which Prussia, Italy, and Austria were recently engaged. While Great Britain has never asknowledged the right of expatriation, she angaged. While Great Britain has never tecknowledged the right of expatriation, she has not practically insisted upon it. France has been equally forbearing; and Prussia has proposed a compromise, which, al-though evincing increased liberality, has not been accepted by the United States,— nco is now prevailing everywhere in Eu once is now prevaining very where in Par-ope, and the present seems to be a favora-le time for an assortion by Congress of an principle, so long maintained by the xecutive Department, that naturalization y one State fully exempts the native-born abject of any other State from the per-ormance of milliary service under any ormance of military service under any oreign Government, so long as he does no oluntarily renounce its rights and bene In the performance of a duty impose

In the performance of a duty imposed upon me by the Constitution, I have thus submitted to the Representatives of the States and of the People, such information of our domestic and foreign affairs as the public interests seem to require. Our Government is now undergoing its most trying ordeal, and my carnest prayer is, that the peril may be successfully and finally passed, without impairing its original strength and symmetry. The interests of the nation are best to be promoted by the revival of fraternal relations, the complete obliteration of our past differences, and the linuguration of all the pursuits of pence. Directing our efforts to the early accomplishment of those great ends, let us endeavor to preserve harmony between the co-ordinate Departments of the Government, that each in its proper sphere may cordinate contains. in its proper sphere may cordially co-oper-ate with the other in securing the mainte-nance of the Constitution, the preservation of the Union, and the perpetuity of our free

The Meteoric Shower in England. London—The Scotta brings full accountof the shower of meteors observed in Enghand and Scottand, on the morning of the l4th inst. The display was magnifectat, especially in London, where the sky was vered with flashing meteors in such num covered with flashing meteors in such num-bers as almost to defy computation. In other parts of England the number was smaller, and at Liverpool astorm prevented observations; but wherever the shower was visible, the most brilliant effects of color were produced, and some singular phenomena attended the course of the motors.

The Times of the 15th has the following The Times of the 15th has the following account of the display observed in the neighborhood of Paddington Green:
The flery shower forefold by the sclenes of America and Europe for the nights of the 15th and 14th of November of this year, was seen in full splendor yesterday morning, between the hours of 12 and 2. between the hours of 12 and 2.

From Paddington Green, a fairly open position, 207 meteors were counted between 12 and 12.30, and of these the greater number fell after 12.20. The next hundred was counted during the six minutes that succeeded the half hour. Soon after this it became impossible for two people to count the whole that were yisible from this station, and doubtless from positions with a purer and doubtless from positions with a pure atmosphere and a wider horizon, the spec nele must have been one of surpassing nacle innst have been one of surpassing splendor. Indeed, from a window at Highgate looking N. N. E., but with a circumscribed view, an observer counted 100 meteors, in the four minutes between 12.32 and 12.36, and no less than 200 in the two minutes between 12.57 and 12.59.

As the constellation Leo rose over the house north of Paddington Green and cleared itself of haze, the divergence of the meteor paths from a point within it became obvious, not merely in the directions of the streams that shot from or through the streams that shot from or through the zenith, but in those that left their phos zenith, but in those that left their phos-phorescent-seeming trails in the sky towards every point of the compass. Sometimes these rocket-like lines of light would glide out like sparks flying from an incandescent mass of iron under the blows of a Titanic hammer, but with the distinc-tive features, first, of those lingering lines of illuminated haze in their track, and sec-oudly of their rarely appearing as if they ondly, of their rarely appearing as originated in the region of the sk which their courses evidently diverged Sometimes the meteor was orange an almost red in its color, whereas the luminous trail seemed almost always, probably by contrast with the surrounding light, of a bluish hue. In one splendld instance the trail, after having nearly disappeared, together with the rocket-bead that had produced it, became again lit up and visible coincidently with a sort of resuscitution of brightness in the body of the meteor. Now and then a little illuminated pulf-ball would appear in the middle of the constellation Leo, generally more or less clongated or elliptic in form, as it seemed to be more or almost red in its color, whereas, the lur liptic in form, as it seemed to be more less distant, and at the same time conver gent from an imaginary point that seemed about 3 deg. S. by E. of the star gamma about 3 deg. S. by E. of the star gamma Leonis; and one, as near as could be esti-mated to such a point, was simply a star that waxed and waned and disappeared as one looked at it. Sometimes a minute point of light, like a ire-fly, would dart with an angular, jerking motion and zig zag course bither and thither, but still as if away from Leo.

ing one hour and a half to take a direction manifestly opposed to that of these diverg-ing multitudes. The meteors which shot towards the western horizon seemed more brilliant and larger in their courses than those which dropped into the eastern; indeed, very few seemed even to reach the roofs of the houses from behind which Leo had arisen. This was possibly only an effect of perspective, or it may have arisen from the curtailment of the view. As regards the long lines of light that Imgered in the paths of the meteors, it seemed that generally they were more dense and brightest towards the middle of the visible path of the meteor, while the meteor itself seemed wards the western horizon seemed more est towards the middle of the visible path of the meteor, while the meteor itself seemed brightest just before its extinction; an effect possibly due to an obscuration in the middle of its course by matter thrown off from it. The meteors seemed also to lose velocity as they went, but this might have been the result of perspective in those passing through the zenith.

One singular feature in these celestial fireworks was the rapidity with which the maximum of frequency came on and went off again. About two o'clock the meteors seemed to have become as scarce as they cemed to have become as scarce as the vere at twelve, though they continued maller numbers till the verge of daybreak smaller numbers till the verge of daybreak. From half-past twelve or a quarter to one until about a quarter past or half-past one, the heavens seemed veritably alive with stars rushing in many parts of the sky, in groups of two or three together or in immediate succession on each other, seeming as though racing over the blue wallt, except that their courses so rapidly diverged.

Butler and Morrissey. The Montreal Gazette republishes, from a Wisconsin newspaper, an interesting account, by an eye-witness, of the behavior of Dr. B. F. Butler at Charleston in 1860, when that individual did the dirty work of Toombs and Slidell, and after trying in vain to secure the nomination of Jefferson Davis, assured the Southern secessionists that, in case of a war, he, Butler, and his followers at the North, would stand by the South. outh.

He is in favor of the "equality of the races," and, we judge, of amalgamation also; as we are unable to perceive how negro equality could legitimately be lauded in dissertation on "The Family Tie," unless in advocacy of the commingling of the ruces in that relation. We trust, for the honor of his Alma Mater, that Mr. F, will not reduce his theory into practice Mr. Geary was announced to speak about the Oath," but did not do so "muchly," as Artemus says. The orator attributed the apid growth of our country, to the profound espect which its people entertain for "The Oath." This respect was evidenced, he thought, by the small number of desertions which occurred in our army during the reent conflict. Those who have seen the large lists of deserters from Pennsylvania egiments, which the Commonwealth bas urnished to the clerks of the Courts Quarter Sessions in the different countles and those who are accustomed to sit in our courts during Quarter Sessions week, will ear that Mr. Geary is flattering us over nuch; for they will have reason to doubt ne truth of both his fact and its example. "Spiritualism," by Jos. H. Kershner, was ell-conceived, but he spoke in an entirely oo low a tone of voice. His gesticulation was appropriate; better, perhaps, than the

Mr. Gross took for his subject "The German Conflict," and did himself much credit ov his effort. His matter was good, and his lelivery graceful. He modulated his voice with a good deal of skill, but might we hought, have thrown a little more feeling nto his tones.

Mr. Nevin's performance we may very ruthfully say, was extraordinary. The bow, with which he opened, was an index tion was perambulatory, his action gyratory. He looked for all the world at times as parlor skates. It may be that this was wing to the fact that the Hamlin Bros. had been advertised to perform their muscular bute last evening on the same stage, and the young gentleman may have supposed hat it was incumbent upon him to supply their places, to those of the audience who and been drawn to the Hall by the Hamlin oosters. "No pent up Utica" will ever conline Mr. Nevin's powers; we doubt indeed, whether a boundless continent will suffice him. Mr. Shaeffer delivered a very good and a very earnest address on the "Martyrs of Science," and was the only one of the orators who seemed to feel right earnestly, the truth of what he was saying. Mr. S. in our udgment, had the best written oration, deivered with most feeling. Mr. Gross excelled all, ingraceful elocution and easy de-College orators always err in grasping at a too ambitious style-in essaying to do what their abilities will not enable them to accomplish; and our friends, the Seniors of '67, were not free from this fault.

The exercises of the evening were con siderably marred by the distribution among the audience of a filthy sheet of printed matter intended for a witty caricature of he speakers, but which fell far short of its mark. It was the production of blackguards, and its whole character shows a great lack of refined wit in those who concocted it. It is shocking, that so vile a sheet should be offered to the perusal of the ladies of our city, while in attendance at an honord college exercise.

It was written by students who are no fit to be received into the polite society of our city. Their names have been whispered on the street, and we hope, for the credit of our town, that their acquaintance will be dropped, and their presence among us entirely ignored, by the respectable portion of our caszens. They are a disgrace to Frank lin and Marshall College, and amply merit expulsion from its walls. Interesting Presentation, -- How nany of our readers have ever visited the Halls of the Literary Societies connected with Franklin and Marshall College? Those who have not, we would advise to do so, and we feel certain they will be amply repaid for the walk. On Saturday, by in vitation, we were present at the presentation of three beautiful walnut chairs, turned and carved in gothic style, in keeping with the hall, to the Gothean Literary Society, by their friends in this community. They were made by Christian Widmyer, Esq. of this city, and are gotten up in the finest style. The design of the ladies was to surprise the Society, and well they succeeded, for we are informed that no member was acquainted with the project. As it was hour for the regular meeting of the Society, a graduate member entered the Hall and secured an adjournment, the members being requested to remain in the Hall. The chairs were ther carried in, followed by a number of the ontributors, and were presented in a short nd neat speech by Rev. A. H. Kremer, who stated that inasmuch as twenty-seven dollars had been deducted from the price of the chairs, he was able to present, in addition, that sum of money in cash. He was responded to on the part of the Society by Sheaffer, who expressed gratification that the Gotheans held so high a place in the estimation of our citizens. The occasion was a very pleasant one, and passed off satisfactorily to all parties. The Gotheans have recently furnished their Hall with an elegant Brussels carpet and after they have procured proper curtains, which we understand will be soon

ogie. Councilmen—T. R. Supplee, D. Mullen, A.S. Green.
We are glad to see that J. G. Hess has been appointed Chairman of the Committee, as he is an active and energetic man and will take hold of the matter in the right manner. Let the different committees go to work immediately and have everything to work immediately and have everything in readiness to lay before the Legislature at the opening of the session. If the parties now owning the right of way do not intend doing anything, have the charter annulled and a new one secured to persons who will immediately commence operations. Give the whole matter into the hands of Senator Fisher, and he will push it through, for he well as everytholy else, is aware that the as well as everybody else, is aware that the rebuilding of the bridge will be of incalcu-lable benefit to Columbia.

New Buildings.—Taking a stroll around town a tew days ago, we were surprised to find so many signs of decided improvement. The building of Mr. Samuei Grove on Cherry street, is a very handsome structure and excels any private residence built during the present year. It stands back, having a front yard enclosed with a neat and substantial tion railing. stantial iron railing.
M: J. B. Bachman is also busily engaged upon a brick building, on Second street. He is at present erecting the back building only, into which he intends moving in the During the next year he will, in on with M. M. Strickler, build double front.

Mr. Emanuel Fry has nearly finished a

SALE OF A TAVERN STAND -The Cros Keys Tavern stand, in the village of Intercourse, this county, has been sold by J. D. Warfel, Esq., to Mr. Wm. Blair of New Holland for $6,100.

MOUNT JOY AFFAIRS.—The Herald of this iorning has the following: Hog Cholera.—This disease made sad havo among the hogs in this vicinity, but it seems to be abuting. At J. E. Kreybill's distillery where about 100 hogs died this full, the disease has almost entirely left.

Started Up.—The renper works of Marsh Grier & Co., which stood idle for sometime, during which time they have been fully re-paired, have been started up this week. paired, have been started up this week.

The Exchange.—Our readers are aware that Mr. A. D. Reese lately offered his Exchange Hotel at public sale. The snuglittle sum of $13,500 was offered, but this not being considered an adequate price for that valuable property, the numerous friends of the proprietor will be pleased to learn that he was resolved to hold on to it and to apply his usual energy to increase its already liberal patronge.

Hoggicznerski, -The regular monthly meeting of the Lancaster County Horticul tural Society was held pursuant to adjournment at the Lancaster Athenieum Rooms Dec. 3d, 1866. The minutes of the last meet ing were gread, and on motion, adopted after which S. S. Rathyon, chairman of the committee appointed to draft rules of order proceeded to read the rules prepared by the committee, and the society thereupon adopted them, as reported, for their future gov ernment.

D. K. Wolf and Jacob Graybill were then on motion, elected members of the Society Pursuant to invitation extended to Jaco Stouffer at a previous meeting, he proceeded to read an essay upon the subject of Agriultural Chemistry, for which he was hon ored by an unanimous vote of thanks, and was asked for a copy of his able essay for publication.

Some pleasant interchange of sentimen now took place, being elicited by views maintained by Mr. Stouffer in his essay. S. S. Rathyon then read a letter from Beni, D. Walsh, editor of the Practical En tomologist, in which he gave some views apon the advances of a new potato bug of the Western States which seems to be approaching nearer and nearer every year towards the Atlantic coast, which the editor thinks its destination to be,

A gentleman who came up from Kenn county yesterday states that on Monday night another gentleman stopping at the hotel in Millington, in that county, was robbed of his pocket book by a party who roomed with him, named Connor, and on Tuesday morning it was discovered that the guilty party had gone to Crumpton to take the steamer for Baltimore. Sheriff Cilbin at once not into the burger and drove Race Between a Sheriff and a Steamer take the steamer for Baltimore. Sherin Gilpin at once got into the buggy and drove down the road, knowing that the boat would leave Crumpton, five miles down, shortly after 6 A. M., but when he reached that point he found he was a few minutes too late. The sheriff was not to be outdone, and knowing that the boat would stop at Chestertown, fifteen miles further down the river he took the road for that place, and Chestertown, fifteen miles further down the river, he took the road for that place, and succeeded in reaching there ahead of the boat. When she landed Mr. Gilpin had no difficulty in procuring his man, and found on him the stolen pocket-book and money. Sheriff Gilpin thus succeeded in heading off with a horse and buggy a Chester river steamer, and also had the satisfaction of landing his prisoner in Kent county jail.—Raltimore Sun.

A RARE CHANCE.—VALUABLE HOA TEL PROPER: Y AT PRIVATE SALE.
—An opportunity is now offered of securing one of the most desirable Hotel stands in the Sate. The property is located at the Railroad Depot in Shipponsburg, Cumberland county, and is worthy the attention of a 1 who wish to keep a first-class Hotel; or of the capitalist, who may Jesire to make a good speculation. The Cumberland Valley, it is almost universally conceded, is as fertile, if not more beautiful, than an other portion of our State, and is rapidly improving; developing new sources of wealth, and is the resort of strangers from all parts of the Union. Shippensburg has a population of over two thousand inhabitants, and bids fair to be an important point at no distant inture.

The HOTEL BUILDING is the largest and most commodious in the town, and on account of its proximity to the blengt is also the best The HOTEL BUILDING is the largest and most commodious in the town, and on account of its proximity to the Depot, is also the best business place there. It consists of a large three-story BRICK HOUSE, in which are two fine Store Rooms, in addition to the Hotel; a good street lee House, stabling, Cisterns, and a neverfailing well of good Water are connected with the same property, and on the same lot are a number of small buildings, which rent to good advantage.

This property will be sold at any time, and possession given on the lst of April next.

For At the same time and place, will be sold aftine DRUG STORE, with all its fixtures. This establishment is also doing a fine business.

For particulars address B. K. KELLER, on the premises, or A. J. SANDERSON, Esq., Lancaster, Pa.

PUBLIC SALE OF A SHENANDOAH
VALLEY FARM.—At the October Term, 1885, of the Superior Court of tisrke county,
the understigned was appointed Special Commission r to seil, under a decree of said Court, the farm belonging to the estate of Dr. C. B. R.
Kennerly, deceased, lying about one mile south of the village of White Post, Clarke county, Virginia, and containing about 753 ACRES,
from 70 to 75 Acres in Timber, and the balance under critivation. I shall, therefore, on THURSDAY, 2 th DECEMBER NEXT, offer said Farm at public auction to the highest blidder.

der The Land is limestone, of good quality, well singted tograin and grass. The DWELLING HOUSE is of stone, with a recent framed addition. The Barns, Stabling and Corn house are sil new and well constructed. Two neverfailing wells of excellent Water between the dwellings and stables, and a beautiful pond of clear water within thirty rods of the buildings. This is the best lee-producing pond in the neighborhood.

This is the best ice-producing pond in the neighborhood.

T. ere was a few years ago a Tannery upon this property, which could, with but little outlay be re-established, as the vats were carefully filed and covered with the refuse tanbark; a STONE BUILDING used for finishing and storing leather stands in the yard. The great demand for leather would indicate the advantage of re-establishing thi-Tannery.

The law requires one-fourth of the purchase money on the day of sale, and the residue in one, two and ture years, with interest, I am authorized by the Court to sell the whole together, or by separate parcels, and shall be governed by the wishes of those desiring to purchase. The title is periect.

The Land will be surveyed and a plot made by the day of sale. For further particulars address the subscriber at White Post, Clarke county, Virginia.
