Artemus Ward.

"It was over ten years that Mr. Browne became the local editor of this paper (being his first experience as a writer for the public), and continued as such for some years, when he assumed a position on the Cleveland Plaindcaller, and afterwards wrote for the Vanity Fair, since which time he has been engaged exclusively in traveling and lecturing. It is a fact that Mr. Browne was at one time a 'jour printer,' and probably a 'strapped' one. He was a compositor on the Commercial before becoming its local editor, and it was while thus employed that he began to develope the peculiar talent as a writer which gave him a national, and has now given him a world-wide reputation."—Toledo Commercial.

It is true that Mr. Browne first essayed

It is true that Mr. Browne first essayed humorous writing on the Toledo Com-mercial, but his talent in that line was developed, and first attracted public attention, on the Plaindealer. While working as a "jour" on the Commercial his sense of the ludicrous was one day strongly excited by some funny occur-rence that he saw in the street, and a humorous account of it was the result The sketch was left on the editor's desk and pleased him so much that Mr Browne was taken from the printing office, and installed in a more conger position in the Sanctum. Although his first regular press writing was done on the Toledo paper, he had previously contributed some humorous squibs to ontributed some numorous squites Mr. Shellabar's (Mrs. Partington) Carpet Bag, upon which paper he worked for a time.

Mr. Browne commenced writing for the Plaindealer in the summer of ⁷⁵⁸— Mr. J. W. Gray being then proprietor. His limitless humor confined itself to no special subject, for a number of months but was constantly "cropping out," in all sorts of quaint sayings and juicy paragraphs. He finally concluded to give his writing more individuality by adopting a nom de plame. Hence the famous letters from "Artemus Ward," show. man. These letters, first merely writ ten for the purpose of "filling up," when "copy" was scarce, sprang al-most immediately into wide spread notoriety. The first one fall of '58. Here it is: The first one appeared in the fall of '58. Here it is:

To the Editor of the Plain Dealer, SIR:—
I'm moying along—slowly along—down tourds your place. I want you should write me a letter, sayin how's the show buziniss in your place. My show at present consists of three moral Bears, a Kangaroo;
(a amoozin little Raskal—'twould make you larf to deth to see the little cuss jump up and squeal,) wax figgers of G. Washing-ton, Gen. Taylor, John Bunyan, Dr. Kidd and Dr. Webster in the act of killin Dr and br. Webster in the act of killin br. Parkman, besides several miscellanyus moral wax stattoots of celebrated piruts and murderers, &c., ekalled by few, and exceld by none. Now, Mr. Editor, scratch off a few lines sayin how is the show bizniss down to your place. I shall have my hand bills dun at your offiss. Depend upon it. I want you should git my hand bills up in tennius style. Also git mp hard bills up in tennius flamin style. Also git up a tremenju excitement in yr paper, 'bowt iny onparaleld show. We must fetch the public somehow. We must work on their feelins-come the moral on 'en strong. If it's temperance community, 'ell 'em I signe the pledge fifteen minits arter ise born. Bu on the contrary, if your people take the tods, say that Mister Ward is as genia foller as we ever met—full of conwiviality, and the life and sole of the soshul Bored. Take, don't you? If you say anything bout my show, say my snalx is as harmless as the new born babe. What a interless as the new born babe. What a interesting study it is too see a zonological animal, like a smaik, under perfeck subjection. My Kangaroo is the most larfable little cuss I ever saw—all for 15 cents. I am anxyus to skewer your inflocence, I repeat in regard to them hand bills, that I shall git 'en struck off up to your printin offiss. My perlitical sentiments agree with your arrelation. My perlitical sentiments agree with yourn exackly. I know they do, becauz I never any a man whoos didn't. Respectfully yours,

P. S.—You scratch my back and He cratch your back. Mr. Browne worked on the Plain for over two years, at the end of which time he enjoyed a national repu-tution: his letters in this paper having been copied with avidity far and wide-even in Europe. In the winter of 1860, we believe, he accepted an offer from Vanity Fair, and went to New York to take a leading position on that paper He was there but a few months, he commenced his career as a lecturer which has been attended by suc uniform and perfect success, and which

A REAL SAFETY BRIDLE!!

Can be used on Single or Double Harness, or a single line; is durable, there being no gum to break in cold weather; is simple, it not requiring a Baddier to apply it; can be arranged in live minutes by any person; cannot get out of order; costs no more than an ordinary bridle, and, to sum up, is the most effectual Safety Strap and Spring in bas, it being impossible for a horse, when driven with it, to either kick, shy or run off, the Springs being impossible for a horse, when driven with it, to either kick, shy or run off, the Springs being impossible for a horse, when driven with it, to either kick, shy or run off, the Springs being impossible for his in draw when applied as some others do, but from the fac that simply drawing hard upon the relias applies the leverage from the top of the head and draws the bit to the top-of-the horse's mouth, it thus places the most victious kicker under the complete control of the fiver. This most complete "Safety Bridle" was patented November 7th, 1836.

SNOW POWDER!!!

PATENTED MAY 29, 1866.

This is an article for washing without rubbing, except in very dirty places, which will require a very slight reb, and unlike other preparations offered for files purpose, which not written than ordinary methods, without the usual wear and tear.

It removes grease spots as if by magic, and softens the dirty by coaking, so that the rinsing will in ordinary cases entirely remove it.

This powder is prepared in accordance with chemical science, and upon a process peculiar to itself, which is secured by letters Patent, it has been in use for more than a year, and has proved itself an universal favorite wherever it has been used. Among the advantages claimed are the following, viz:

It saves all the expense of scap usually used on cotton and ilnen goods.

It saves most of the labor of rubbing, and wear and tear.

Also, for cleaning windows it is unsurpassed. With one-quarter the time and labor usually required it imparts a beautiful gloss and lustre, much superior to any other mode. No water required except to moisten the powder.

Directions with each package.

And can be readily appreciated by a single trial. The cost of washing for a family of five or six persons will not exceed There centre what many useless compounds have been introduced to the public which have rotted the cloth, or falled in removing the dirt, but knowing the intrinsic excellence of this article, they confidently proclaim it as being adapted to meet a demand which has long existed, and which has heretofore remained unsupplied.
