John B. Schlaegelmilch, of Springville plead guilty on two indictments; one for selling liquor to minors, and the other for selling liquor on Sunday. Sentence in each to pay $10 fine and undergo 12 days im-

Com'th ys, Samuel Weaver, Rapho. Two indictments : one for selling liquor on Sunday, and the other for selling to minors The jury found him guilty of the first men tioned charge, and not guilty of the second but directed him to pay costs. He was sentenced on the first charge, to pay $20 and to be imprisoned 15 days. Amwake for de fence.

Com'th vs. Jacob Eberly. Larceny. The defendant, who is a boy only ten years old, was charged with stealing a watch belonging to William Schoenberger, about the 1st of January, from a place in which it had teen laid in Schoenberger's brewery. The only evidence was the confession of the boy to Constable Baker when he was arrested The watch was not found in his possession Mr. Amwake, for the defence, asked for his acquittal, because the law held him not to doti cepax, or capable of distinguishing between right and wrong, on account of his tender years. Jury out.

Monday Afternoon, -- Com'th'vs. Geo. W. Althouse. Bigamy and adultery. In behalf of the Commonwealth it was proven that defendant married Mary Thomas in August, 1855, and that his wife being still living, he married Catharine Montgontery on Decomber 24th, 1866; also, that he re mained two hights with his second wife The defence affected to prove that defendant was a minor, and that the second wife knew that Althouse was a married man before she married him. The Court refused to admit the evidence. Verdict guilty. Mr. shank, for defence, moved for a new trial. The jury acquitted Jacob Eberly of steal ing the watch from Wm, Schoenberger, Com'th ys. Daniel Erb. Larceny. The defendant is charged with stealing a beehive. ife, however, claims that the hive belonged to him. McPhail and Reed for defence. Verdict not guilty. Conwith vs Frederick Uester. Selling

CALL FOR A STATE TEMPEBANCE CON-VENTION .- The following call has been sent to us for publication. It has been numerously signed. We find appended to it the names of Governor Geary, Francis Jordan, Secretary of State, Speaker Hall of the Senate, and a long list of members of the Legislature, together with nany ministers and other prominent citizens. A letter which accompanies it states that the Convention will be held under the auspices of the Order of Good Templars, Sons of Temperance, Temple of Honor and other temperance organizations, with representatives from the various churches in every part of the State. The call is designed to invite all friends of Temperance to par ticipate in the proceedings. We notic among the numerous signers of the call Senators Fisher and Billingfelt, Rev. J. F. Crouch, James Black, Esq., S. E. Wright Rev. C. J. Thompson, and Rev. G. W. Gotwald, all well known citizens of this county:

county: THE CALL. Intemperance is running away with the nation. It is estimated that sizty thousand die annually, one hundred thousand go to prison, one hundred thousand to the alma-house, five hundred murders and four hun-hundred internet compilitied awary year dred suicides are committed every year What a fearful record of crime and death What a fearful record of crime and death What unoid misery, disorder and discord, woe and weeping, attendant upon such a Earth has no ambition that is not engulphed by it, nor hope that is not blasted; no the that is not broken; no sanctuary that is not invaded; no friend, kinsman, brother, is not invaded; no friend, kinsman, brother, wife or child that is not forgotten; and no fibre of human agony which is not wrung. God has created no mind that can sa(sely challenge combat with the appetite. How would he be esteemed a benefactor who would deliver a sinking nation from famine, pestilence or the sword? But here is an evil that surpasses either, in the com-prehensiveness of its devasations—destroys more lives, produces more mixery, consumes more substance, and ruins soul as well as body—an evil that is constantly at work, more substance, and ruins soul as well as body --an evil that is constantly at work, while they are but occasional visitors; and instead of wearing itself out as they do, or of growing weak with age, this giant of Intemperance but grows the stronger and more active, spreading everywhere in his track, wounds and tears, death and perdition. To suppress such an evil must be the highest philanthropy. If Peter the Hermit was fired with indignation because of the was fired with indignation because of the descenations which the infidel had brough upon Jerusalem, and marshaled and h upon Jerusalem, and marshaled and led on a mighty host for the rescue of the Holy land, shall not we arm for the rescue, because of the desolations wought by this greates, occause of the desolations wrought by this greatest foe of humanity? CHESTER COUNTY ITEMS .- We clip th following from the Chester county journals: Collector of Internal Revenue.—Charles D. Manly, of Media, Delaware county, has been appointed Collector of Internal Reve-nue for Chester and Delaware counties, in place of Col. Talley.

In the U.S. Senate, the Hou

Good Prices for Cattle.-At the sale of Eli Morgan, in West Whiteland township, on the 6th inst., cows sold as follows: $1, $72, $75, $70, and $66. The sheep brought $25,50, $25, $23, $22, $18,50, $16, and $14 each; were of the Cotswold breed. SAVE YOUR OIL --- We find the following receipt for saving oil--we presume coal-oil in our exchanges. Try it :

Put the wick into the lamp, and fill the latter about half full with coarse salt and then put in it about an inch of oil, and it will be found that a great saving will be the sult. The salt wastes away gradually during the burning, and must, therefore, by renewed from time to time. The light is purer and more brilliant than without the alt, and the wick, requires no snutting.

In Memoriam.

In Memoriam. In this peculiar and perilous juncture of her affairs, Maryland might better have spared many another citizen before Henry S. Magraw. His remarkable natural gifts, his high and various attainments, his sin-gular genius for political combinations, and his great personal influence with the cheff men of the nation, made him one of her safest and ablest counsellors. In this tran-sition period of our history, where a desition period of our history, where solid and trampled commonwealth is about to right herself before the country, and liberate the oppressed within her bor-ders, the delicate and trying trust of shaping her policy should be committed only to wise and cautious hands. To this work, of such Transidity Morring.—Cont in Vs. sound Keiffer. Fornication and Bustardy with Ann Holbein, Dickey for defence. Ver-dict not guilty, but defendant to pay the costs. Com th vs. Pius G. Crowninshield. Ped-ding without license. The defendant plead not guilty, but admitted the fact that he sold without license. The Court instructed Multitles there in host of many time to the mould of ordinary men. Not a single common-place feature was to be found in any part of his mental or moral constitution. If he was nobly endowed in an intellectual point of view, his heart was, at the same time, so generously blest with all those warmer and liner feelings which do honor to our com-mon manhood, that Burns, in all the glow of his love and funcy, never pletured them in more absolute possession of a human heart than they were of his. His was a "royal" and princely bosom—an unfailing fountain of bouytiful kindness and gener-osity. exercise. fountain of bogotitui kindness and gener-osity. In early manhood Mr, Magraw became a Pennsylvanian, and at Pittsbarg achieved distinguished success at the bar. He sub-sequently spent a few years in California, where again, to the extent of his choice, professional houors and profits awaited him. To the day of his death he enjoyed a large share of the confidence of the people of the Pacific const, and though latterly reluc-tant to make professional engagements, the docket of the Supreme Court at Washing-ton shows Mr. Magraw to have been charged with the conduct of great causes, and the protection of vast interests for Cal-ifornia clients, As a politicina he had few or no ambi-tions of his own to accomplish, but he was courte abrease. I avera hunded contributor ifornia clients. As a politician he had Tew or no ambi-tions of his own to accomplish, but he was nearly always a large handed contributor to the success of his party and the fortuness of his friends. He was an irresistable or-ganizer. He took in a great field of strug-gle with a master's eye. He seized the strong points of advantage with intuitive quickness, and projected those swift, silent, resistless combinations which confound and amaze both friend and fee. While his judg-ments on points of expediency and policy were as unerring as those of Dean Rich-mond himself, they were framed with great-ter rapidity and more perfect nicety. His mind was quite as fertile in subtle sugges-tions and wary expedients, but in him it was united with legal learning, high politi-cal culture and refined accomplishments. But of this remarkable gift Mr. Magraw himself seemed scarcely conscious, and only exercised it when pressed to save a cause or relieve a triend. He could attain almost any sort of suc-cess with scarce an effort. He could have been a great lawyer, a great parliamen-tarian, a great projector of business enter-prises, or a great leader in public life. Though a profound thinker, a logical, ana-lytic and close reasouer, the main attributes of his mind were rupid conception, activity, reach and grasp. We shall not venture to speak of Mr.

South. The bill was also amended to give the President the assignment of military commanders in the districts. In the House, the Civil Appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1863, was reported. A NEW COUNTERFEIT QUARTER .- A new and daugerous counterfeit of the twenty-tive cent issue has recently appeared. It is almost perfectly engraved and well calculated to deceive the most practical eye. Upon close examination it may be detected by noticing that the scioll work around the figures "25," on the upper left hand corner, touches the fine lines around the edges of the note which form the bor dering, while on the genuine no part of the scroll work touches the line. When these notes become worn and dirty they will defy idection.

lytic and close reasons, including activity, reach and grasp. We shall not venture to speak of Mr. Magraw's inexpressible tenderness as a husband and a father. The family relations, in the presence of un affliction so fearful as this, are holy and awful ground to tread upon. The wounds there made no human heart can conceive, no human tongue des cribe, and no human sympathy assuage. But we may say that abundant benevolence seemed to overflow in the man, and that the "savor" of his "alms," the report of his good deeds, the story of his general and hearty kindness linger about wherever his feet have trod upon this distressed earth. helpiess a helper! The rich and the poor, the great and the humble, will units in one common sorrow for the loss of Henry S. Magraw-the fault-less friend, the ready benefactor. His rare wit, his rich humor, his happy and sug-gestive vain of conversation, made him the respected and honored companion of the great men of his day, lying and dead. How many of these might repeat the exquisitely touching passage of Ourran's address to Lord Avonmore, pained and softened fancy recalling those happy meetings, where the innocent enjoymant of social mirth became expanded into the nobler warmth of social virtue, and the horizon of the board became enlarged into the horizon of man-where the swelling heart conceived and commu-nicated the pure and generous purpose, and where many sienderer tapers borrowed their light from the more matured and re-dundant fountain of his. Yes, we can re-member those nights without any other re-gret than they can never more return-for "We spent them not in toys, hustor wine; But search of deep philosophy, Wit, eloquence and poesy-Arts which I loved, for they, my friend, were thine."

constitutional amendment, in addition to those communicated in his report of Feb-ruary 5. After the presentation of the peti-tions, etc., the House proceeded to the con-sideration of the bounty bill. Mr. Schenck, Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, explained its provisions. The only difference between this bill and the one passed last session is that this pro-posed to a certain extent to equal-ize bounties, whereas the other only gave additional bounties to all soldiers. Mr. Schenck declined to allow any amend-ments, but the House baving seconded the previous question, refused to order the main question by a vote of 76 to 85, and the bill was open to amendments. Mr. Rollins, of New Hampshire, moved to amend by striking out the clauses making deductions for local bounties. After a long and spirit-ed debate the amendment was lost by a vote of 74 to 85. The vote was purely sec-tional, the West voting solidly against it, and the East generally for it. The bill was finally passed by a vote of yeas 95, nays 68. REPARATOR CAPILLI, For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have as-seried that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living wit-nesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But meany will say, how are we to distinguish the genutine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult as nine-tenths of the dlf-erent Preparations divertised for the bair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may invessing the given away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would asy, try the iterator Cappilit; it will cost you nothing unless it fully oomes up to our representations. If your Druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, postpaid, twgether with a receipt for the mon-y, which will be re-turned you on application, providing entire satisfaction is not given.
