

The Release of Jefferson Davis.

Two years ago the announcement that Jefferson Davis had been released from prison would have raised a terrible howl from the Radical party throughout the North. Now it meets with universal approval. There has been a great change in public feeling. The animosities engendered by the war have been largely forgotten...

Let Us Send Food to the Famishing.

We have seen in the columns of this paper the authenticated accounts of the appalling destitution which prevails throughout a large portion of the South. There is no doubt that many hapless women and children have died of actual starvation...

Another Radical Lie Refuted.

A set of men less deeply steeped in falsehood than the leaders of the Radical party would long since have been detected in the propagation of infamous lies without number...

Corruption in High Places.

The New York Times, in the course of an editorial upon the prevalence of corruption in Albany has the following: "If corruption for the next ten years gathers strength and impurity as it has done in the past, it will be a national disgrace..."

To Revise the Code.

Governor Davis has appointed Hon. David Dickinson, of Meadville; Wayne McVeigh, of West Chester; and William M. Hall, of Bedford, as commissioners to revise the penal code under the act passed at the last session...

Confession and its Consequences.

Senator Wilson and Congressman Kelly are now engaged in a strange contest to the Northern papers all agree in declaring that the whites stand aloof from these incendiaries, only hanging on the outskirts of the crowds of negroes to whom inflammatory speeches are made...

Let Us See the People of Pennsylvania.

We ask the people of Pennsylvania to see carefully this comparison between the expenditures of 1859 and those of 1866. If nothing else will move the masses, it is very sure that the time is not far distant when they will be thoroughly aroused by the pressure of the taxation which is necessary to meet the extravagant and wasteful expenses of the party now in power...

The Political Reaction.

In the last, or thirty-ninth Congress, the Congressional representation in the two States of Connecticut and Kentucky, was elected as follows: Democrats, Radicals, Connecticut, 5; Kentucky, 4.

The Inquirer Out for Negro Suffrage.

The Inquirer of this city has heretofore pretended to be somewhat Conservative, and its proprietor, George Brubaker, Esq., has represented it as such. It is now, however, a different matter. It is now a Radical paper, and its proprietor is a Radical fanatic...

A Clean Sweep in Kentucky.

The gallant Democracy of Kentucky will be overthrown in the State election of the State officers and every member of Congress. That is a specimen of the way the tide is running throughout the entire country...

A Test Case.

Since the delivery of Underwood's disemphatic and disgraceful address to the United States Grand Jury at Richmond, a negro man attempted to force his way into one of the few cars which are set apart for the use of white ladies and children...

The Gettysburg Asylum Lottery Swindle.

The swindling lottery concern which we exposed a few days ago has since come prominently before the public. Extensive advertisements, admirably adapted to gull the unsophisticated, have been inserted in the Philadelphia daily and other newspapers throughout the State. There is a wonderful array of jewelry, watches, &c., all set down as the genuine stuff...

The Political Reaction.

In the last, or thirty-ninth Congress, the Congressional representation in the two States of Connecticut and Kentucky, was elected as follows: Democrats, Radicals, Connecticut, 5; Kentucky, 4.

The Inquirer Out for Negro Suffrage.

The Inquirer of this city has heretofore pretended to be somewhat Conservative, and its proprietor, George Brubaker, Esq., has represented it as such. It is now, however, a different matter. It is now a Radical paper, and its proprietor is a Radical fanatic...

A Clean Sweep in Kentucky.

The gallant Democracy of Kentucky will be overthrown in the State election of the State officers and every member of Congress. That is a specimen of the way the tide is running throughout the entire country...

A Test Case.

Since the delivery of Underwood's disemphatic and disgraceful address to the United States Grand Jury at Richmond, a negro man attempted to force his way into one of the few cars which are set apart for the use of white ladies and children...

A Radical Judge and Court.

A proud old Commonwealth, once made sacred to liberty by the lofty deeds of her revolutionary heroes, the birthplace and burial place of Washington, the fruitful mother of Presidents, the nurse of great statesmen, the cradle of Virginia ceased to exist. She has been rudely thrust out of the Union which her sagacious and patriotic sons were chiefly instrumental in forming...

Jefferson Davis in Richmond.

Jefferson Davis, May 11.—A large crowd gathered on the wharf this morning to witness the departure of Davis. A large crowd of people gathered on the wharf to witness the departure of Davis. A large crowd of people gathered on the wharf to witness the departure of Davis...

Underwood's Grand Jury.

The following is a list of the present Grand Jury of the United States Circuit Court at Richmond: John Minor Botts, foreman; Joseph Sagar, Lewis W. Beckley, Joseph Linton, Peter Cook, Geo. Seton (colored), John Harris (colored), John H. Haxthorn, Thomas Davy, T. S. Pennis, Wm. Bartlett, Geo. W. Simms (colored), John H. Haxthorn, John O. Oliver, Gillet F. Watson, Michael Unberger, Jacob M. Froth, John W. Greig, Joseph T. Sullivan, H. G. Don, and Wm. G. Mansfield.

A Desperate Race for Liberty.

On Wednesday evening a prisoner who was in the hands of Sheriff Gray, of Venango county, made a desperate attempt to regain his liberty. He succeeded in getting out of the window of the steamer Ida Bess, No. 2. It appears that the prisoner had charge of four persons who were sentenced to the Penitentiary. Their names were William Riley, John W. Hays, and Edward Bennett, officers of the steamer, and Samuel L. Simon, sentenced to two years for larceny. When the boat was near Trenton, Riley, who had just finished washing himself, was seen standing on the gangway with his feet made a desperate leap over the board and was heading into the water. The boat was immediately stopped, and efforts were made to recover the missing prisoner. He was not seen until he was high and his feet were chained with irons by a man named Kelly, of Trenton. It was a possibility of his escape, Sheriff Gray, offered a reward of two hundred and fifty dollars for his capture. Riley was about twenty-one years of age, five feet six inches high, and had a fair complexion. It appears that upon another occasion he made his escape from a train of cars moving at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

The Habeas Corpus Case.

Davis Released on $100,000 Bail to Appear in November.—Twenty Sureties of $5,000 Each.—Horse Greedy Heads the List. Richmond, May 13.—Judge Underwood entered the court room at half-past eleven o'clock this forenoon, and the case of Davis vs. the United States was called for trial. The case was called for trial, and the case was called for trial...

Underwood's Grand Jury.

The following is a list of the present Grand Jury of the United States Circuit Court at Richmond: John Minor Botts, foreman; Joseph Sagar, Lewis W. Beckley, Joseph Linton, Peter Cook, Geo. Seton (colored), John Harris (colored), John H. Haxthorn, Thomas Davy, T. S. Pennis, Wm. Bartlett, Geo. W. Simms (colored), John H. Haxthorn, John O. Oliver, Gillet F. Watson, Michael Unberger, Jacob M. Froth, John W. Greig, Joseph T. Sullivan, H. G. Don, and Wm. G. Mansfield.

A Desperate Race for Liberty.

On Wednesday evening a prisoner who was in the hands of Sheriff Gray, of Venango county, made a desperate attempt to regain his liberty. He succeeded in getting out of the window of the steamer Ida Bess, No. 2. It appears that the prisoner had charge of four persons who were sentenced to the Penitentiary. Their names were William Riley, John W. Hays, and Edward Bennett, officers of the steamer, and Samuel L. Simon, sentenced to two years for larceny. When the boat was near Trenton, Riley, who had just finished washing himself, was seen standing on the gangway with his feet made a desperate leap over the board and was heading into the water. The boat was immediately stopped, and efforts were made to recover the missing prisoner. He was not seen until he was high and his feet were chained with irons by a man named Kelly, of Trenton. It was a possibility of his escape, Sheriff Gray, offered a reward of two hundred and fifty dollars for his capture. Riley was about twenty-one years of age, five feet six inches high, and had a fair complexion. It appears that upon another occasion he made his escape from a train of cars moving at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

The Habeas Corpus Case.

Davis Released on $100,000 Bail to Appear in November.—Twenty Sureties of $5,000 Each.—Horse Greedy Heads the List. Richmond, May 13.—Judge Underwood entered the court room at half-past eleven o'clock this forenoon, and the case of Davis vs. the United States was called for trial. The case was called for trial, and the case was called for trial...

Underwood's Grand Jury.

The following is a list of the present Grand Jury of the United States Circuit Court at Richmond: John Minor Botts, foreman; Joseph Sagar, Lewis W. Beckley, Joseph Linton, Peter Cook, Geo. Seton (colored), John Harris (colored), John H. Haxthorn, Thomas Davy, T. S. Pennis, Wm. Bartlett, Geo. W. Simms (colored), John H. Haxthorn, John O. Oliver, Gillet F. Watson, Michael Unberger, Jacob M. Froth, John W. Greig, Joseph T. Sullivan, H. G. Don, and Wm. G. Mansfield.

A Desperate Race for Liberty.

On Wednesday evening a prisoner who was in the hands of Sheriff Gray, of Venango county, made a desperate attempt to regain his liberty. He succeeded in getting out of the window of the steamer Ida Bess, No. 2. It appears that the prisoner had charge of four persons who were sentenced to the Penitentiary. Their names were William Riley, John W. Hays, and Edward Bennett, officers of the steamer, and Samuel L. Simon, sentenced to two years for larceny. When the boat was near Trenton, Riley, who had just finished washing himself, was seen standing on the gangway with his feet made a desperate leap over the board and was heading into the water. The boat was immediately stopped, and efforts were made to recover the missing prisoner. He was not seen until he was high and his feet were chained with irons by a man named Kelly, of Trenton. It was a possibility of his escape, Sheriff Gray, offered a reward of two hundred and fifty dollars for his capture. Riley was about twenty-one years of age, five feet six inches high, and had a fair complexion. It appears that upon another occasion he made his escape from a train of cars moving at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

The Habeas Corpus Case.

Davis Released on $100,000 Bail to Appear in November.—Twenty Sureties of $5,000 Each.—Horse Greedy Heads the List. Richmond, May 13.—Judge Underwood entered the court room at half-past eleven o'clock this forenoon, and the case of Davis vs. the United States was called for trial. The case was called for trial, and the case was called for trial...

Underwood's Grand Jury.

The following is a list of the present Grand Jury of the United States Circuit Court at Richmond: John Minor Botts, foreman; Joseph Sagar, Lewis W. Beckley, Joseph Linton, Peter Cook, Geo. Seton (colored), John Harris (colored), John H. Haxthorn, Thomas Davy, T. S. Pennis, Wm. Bartlett, Geo. W. Simms (colored), John H. Haxthorn, John O. Oliver, Gillet F. Watson, Michael Unberger, Jacob M. Froth, John W. Greig, Joseph T. Sullivan, H. G. Don, and Wm. G. Mansfield.

A Desperate Race for Liberty.

On Wednesday evening a prisoner who was in the hands of Sheriff Gray, of Venango county, made a desperate attempt to regain his liberty. He succeeded in getting out of the window of the steamer Ida Bess, No. 2. It appears that the prisoner had charge of four persons who were sentenced to the Penitentiary. Their names were William Riley, John W. Hays, and Edward Bennett, officers of the steamer, and Samuel L. Simon, sentenced to two years for larceny. When the boat was near Trenton, Riley, who had just finished washing himself, was seen standing on the gangway with his feet made a desperate leap over the board and was heading into the water. The boat was immediately stopped, and efforts were made to recover the missing prisoner. He was not seen until he was high and his feet were chained with irons by a man named Kelly, of Trenton. It was a possibility of his escape, Sheriff Gray, offered a reward of two hundred and fifty dollars for his capture. Riley was about twenty-one years of age, five feet six inches high, and had a fair complexion. It appears that upon another occasion he made his escape from a train of cars moving at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

The Habeas Corpus Case.

Davis Released on $100,000 Bail to Appear in November.—Twenty Sureties of $5,000 Each.—Horse Greedy Heads the List. Richmond, May 13.—Judge Underwood entered the court room at half-past eleven o'clock this forenoon, and the case of Davis vs. the United States was called for trial. The case was called for trial, and the case was called for trial...

Underwood's Grand Jury.

The following is a list of the present Grand Jury of the United States Circuit Court at Richmond: John Minor Botts, foreman; Joseph Sagar, Lewis W. Beckley, Joseph Linton, Peter Cook, Geo. Seton (colored), John Harris (colored), John H. Haxthorn, Thomas Davy, T. S. Pennis, Wm. Bartlett, Geo. W. Simms (colored), John H. Haxthorn, John O. Oliver, Gillet F. Watson, Michael Unberger, Jacob M. Froth, John W. Greig, Joseph T. Sullivan, H. G. Don, and Wm. G. Mansfield.

A Desperate Race for Liberty.

On Wednesday evening a prisoner who was in the hands of Sheriff Gray, of Venango county, made a desperate attempt to regain his liberty. He succeeded in getting out of the window of the steamer Ida Bess, No. 2. It appears that the prisoner had charge of four persons who were sentenced to the Penitentiary. Their names were William Riley, John W. Hays, and Edward Bennett, officers of the steamer, and Samuel L. Simon, sentenced to two years for larceny. When the boat was near Trenton, Riley, who had just finished washing himself, was seen standing on the gangway with his feet made a desperate leap over the board and was heading into the water. The boat was immediately stopped, and efforts were made to recover the missing prisoner. He was not seen until he was high and his feet were chained with irons by a man named Kelly, of Trenton. It was a possibility of his escape, Sheriff Gray, offered a reward of two hundred and fifty dollars for his capture. Riley was about twenty-one years of age, five feet six inches high, and had a fair complexion. It appears that upon another occasion he made his escape from a train of cars moving at the rate of thirty miles an hour.