COLUMBIA NEWS .- We clip the following om the Herald. The Fourth Annual Pic-Nic of the Columbia Fire Company will be held in Heise's Woods on the Fourth of July.

A spirited and interesting lecture was delivered at Temperanco Hall, on Saturday evening last, by Rev. Jno. Cromlish. The Friendless children from the Lancaser Home gave an exhibition in Union chool Hall on Monday evening, and were well patronized. The Hall was filled and the exercises were creditable alike to the the exercises were creditable alike to the children and managers of the Home.

They remained in town over night, and were well cared for by our citizens. The streets on Tuesday morning were quite lively, as the heads of different families marched their precious charges to the depot. They left in the 8:30 A. The Coal Schutes .- The work on this The Coal Schutes.—The work on this structure is progressing finely, the coffer dam will be completed this week, when an endless chain pump some 60 or 70 feet long with square buckets about 8 by 10 inches driven by a locomotive engine, will be used for pumping out the water; the excavation will be pushed with as large a gang of workers as can be used in the basin. After the earth is removed, three piers of cut san¹ stone are to be put in, each 6 feet thick, 200 feet long and 28 feet high for the support of the wood structure. All kinds of business in our borough is in a flourishing and prosperous condition. The great competition in the dry goods line, stimulated our merchants to keep larger stocks, has attracted a large trade from the country around, which otherwise would country around, which otherwise would have gone to other places, and they are now realizing in fact, what all have taught in theory, that competition is the life of trade. Our grocers, butchers and bakers are doing an increased business, in consequence of all our mechanics and daborers quence of all our mechanics and daborers being employed on full time, and the large number of stone cutters and laborers employed by James H. Shulliban, contractor for building the Coal'Schutes for the Reading and Columbia Railroad. The demand for building timber and materials, keeps our saw mills and planing mills busy, and creates an active demand for lumber of nd creates an active demand for lumber and creates an active demand for lumber of all kinds. Our furnaces are running on full time, and turning out pig metal to their full capacity, and the Susquehanna Iron Company is making immense quantities of merhant iron of all sizes and shapes, and furnishing to the trade at as low a price as it is furnished at any place in the United States.

The flourishing condition of our larger traders and manufacturers, fills our hotels and boarding houses to overflowing, and exerts a telling influence on all our smaller traders, restaurants and saloons. All of which is the result of a determination on the which is the result of a determination on the part of our citizens to place Columbia in her proper position, and make her one of the largest inland manufacturing towns in the State. For the benefit of our slow neighbors who are complaining of a stagnation in business, we will inform them that our business men have been advertising during the last six months, about three times as the last six months, about three times a much as usual; which is the whole secret o heir success. MOUNT JOY AFFAIRS .- We clip the following items from the Herald of this norning:

Fire.—A slight fire occurred at Kurtz's Fannery on Friday morning, which was discovered before any great damage was Lightning.—During the heavy thunder shower on Tuesday the telegraph office in this place was struck by lightning, without however doing much damage. The report was heard nearly all over town.

Improvements.—The spirit of improvement is reviving in our town. We notice among others, a new office by Dr. J. L. Ziegler, East Main street, opposite the Herald office, Mr. Cobles dwelling remodded on W. Main street, Stager's carpet factory and a dwelling on W. Donegal street, and a cabinet maker shop by M. Spickler on David street. P. Frank is also painting his fine brick house and otherwise improving the premises. These, with the two new churches that are going up, gives quite a busy aspect. We are in need of a good many new houses, and we hope they will be put up.

Daring Feat.—A few days ago the most remarkable and dangerous feat we ever heard of was accomplished in this place by little Simon Cauferon Brady, son of Mr. B. H. Brady. The circumstances are these. He threw his ball on the roof of the house and it rolled down into the eaves trough. and it rolled down into the eaves trough. After having vainly attempted to get a ladder from his father, he went to the gable end of the house, a large two-story brick building; and ascended the lightning rod to the peak of the roof. After having thrown himself around the chimney, he walked down the side of the roof, picked his ball out of the eaves trough and threw it down on the payement. He then walked up to the peak of the roof, swung himself around the chimney upon the lightning-rod and descended to the ground. All this was accomplished in about three minutes time.

The Herald goes on to praise this feat of the namesake of the Winnebago Chief in such a manner as will be likely to eventuate in encouraging the youthful accrobat to turn his entire attention to tight rope exercises. If he does not break his neck, he may turn out a first-class circus performer, ying the amounts due for the cises. If he does not break his neck, he Bomberger denied shipping it as a fraud; I asked Mr. Kreiter afterwards if he shipped whisky to Harrisburg as malt; this was on the 10th day of June; Kreiter said, "You can well shut that thing up if you want to do it;" he did not acknowledge that it was his whisky; this was all about the Kreiter affair; I went to Breitigan's distillery on the alternoon of the 12th of June, went through into the mill connected with it; met Breitigan who seemed much frightened; laid his hand on my shoulder, saying, "My God, I hope you did not seize that whisky yesterday;" did not know he had shipped any whisky on the 11th until he told me so; he said he was informed by his son in the morning that I had seized the whisky; he said "I always siked your face, and as we all like money, if you do not tell Mr. Wiley I will give you $500 a month and the best part of the shipment," (twenty-three barrels); I told him that would suit me very well; but that he would have to and the best part of the shipment," (twenty-three barrels); I told him that would suit me very well; but that he would have to see the agent was right at Litiz, or where he shipped the whisky from; I done this to get the information from him; he told me Mr. Bomberger was right, and would manifest that car load oi whisky as grain; Bomberger was not present; I asked Breitigan about the whisky he shipped to Philadelphia; he said, "I shipped eight barrels;" I told him be shipped sixteen, eight on the 16th and eight on the 29th of May; he denied it; I told him I knew it; he said there was no account of that whisky; it was emptied and gone, and no one would know anything about it; before I left, Mr. Breitigan told me to come in the mill, and he would give me a check for $500; I told him to keep the check, I would call for it when I wanted it; I then took the night train, and seized the twenty-three barrels of whisky at Harrisburg, on the Lebanon Valley Railroad, which was manifested grain.

The Housekerping Book—Is the thunder cloud of Marriage. It is accompanied with the lightening of the husband's puise. Household expenses in these times are assuredly "a few," and it behooves the happy father of an interesting family to take early note of every little leak which may threaten danger to the Matrimonial Ship.

An economical Cooking Stove is a good thing to have in the house, and as such, with many other good points, we would recommend the "Barley Sheat," manufactured by the well-known Messrs, STUART, PETERSON & CO., Philadelphia. It is indeed a household gem.

LOYALTY ILLUSTRATED.

A few days since information was re-ceived by the chief of police that thieves were at work in the attic of the capitol, where has been stored for want of room elsewhere, hundreds of valuable congres-sional documents and books of reference. Very often during the past few months, books have been missed, and though the books have been missed, and though the thieves have not been detected, yet strong susplcions have been excited against certain parties, who, in their good standing as members of the "God and morality party," had obtained positions as clerks, messengers and "hangers on" about the Hill. These rapacious individuals had upon more than one occasion evined a Hill. These rapacious individuals had upon more than one occasion evinced a sort of hankering after the "spoils," but they escaped "scot free" until yesterday. The taxpayers of the Commonwealth, though overburdened with taxes forced upon them, have no idea of the amount of plundering and pilfering which has taken place. The people of Harrisburg alone know what has become of the elegant carnet set the close of each session. gant carpets at the close of each session the hundreds of old (?) desks, chairs and the hundreds of old (?) desks, chairs and other furniture, which is constantly replaced, together with the "laid aside" lumber, coal, wrapping paper, ink, stationery, &c., &c. Never has there been spublic sale of this debris since the Abolition party gained ascendency in the Commonwealth, and, we were informed yes erday, by a gentleman who is presumed to be in the confidence of the "ring," that he value of the material sold (waste paper, &c.) amounts to over $200 per week and we have never heard of one dollar o and we have never heard of one dollar of that sum being accounted for to the State. A few days ago George H. Morgan, Esq., Assistant State Librarian, found a number of covers, torn from valuable works, in the attic of the Capitol, the covers remaining, but the body of the volumes had evidently become accounted of the volumes had evidently been carried away. He at once notified officer Campbell of the fact, and the Chief officer Campbell of the fact, and the Chief commenced in his thorough and indefatigable way, to search for the stolen books. Several shops known to purchase waste paper, &c., were visited, but nothing of the kind was found, until a visit was paid by the chief, with officers Osler and Black, to the paper warehouse of Mr. Abraham Rapp, in Short street, where was discovered tone Short street, where was discovered ton in Short street, where was discovered tons of old waste paper, such as filed letters, pamphlets, &c., from the offices on the Hill, together with 180 volumes of the Adjutant General's Report for 1866, with the covers torn from them, and 200 volumes of the Statutes of the United States at large with the Treaties with Foreign Nations, &c., &c. These latter volumes were in unpened packages, having been received. opened packages, having been received from the Interior Department, Washingfrom the Interior Department, Washington, D. C., only three days ago, addressed to "The Governor of the State of Pennsylvania." The Statutes are published by Little, Brown & Co., Boston, Mass., at a heavy cost to the Government, they being valued at $5 per volume. But the above, though it would seem to have wall recompanied any ordinary this we did well recompensed any ordinary thieves, did not satiate the craving appetite of the pilferers on the Hill. Several thousand copies o the Legislative Record, which, according the Legislative Record, which, according to Mr. Bergner, were only delivered to the Librarian of the Senate on Wednesday last, were found with the plunder, as was also discovered a large number of the reports of the Board of Claims, of the Military Department, of the Executive Office, and to cap the climax, "loyal pilferers" even sold to Mr. Rapp a number of mail bags belonging to "Livela Sum!" Loyal purel, with your to "Uncle Sam!" Loyal men! with your loyalty pocket deep! Honest, virtuous, up-right men, philanthropic Christian gentle-men—adherents to the "God and morality party, has it come to this? But, to return to the "manipulations." HEARING ON THE CASE.

On Saturday morning a hearing was had on the case. Wien Forney, State Librarian, being sworn, testified that books during his term of office had repeatedly and constantly been stolen from the rooms in the attic, where they were stored away. The thieving had been going on so long that witness had Mr. Morgan, his assistant, and officer Campbell go to stores where paper, &c., was bought, to ascertatn whether books had been disposed of. The visit of officer Campbell, with George H. Morgan, Assistant State Librarian, to the paper mills of W. B. Mullen & Co.. at Papertown, near Carlisle, has developed a state of facts appalling to all honest men. Eight hundred and fifty volumes of books, consisting of volumes belonging to the State Library, and to the different departments upon the Hill, were found, consisting of all most complete files of the Senate and House for eighty years back; "Digest of the Laws of Pennsylvania, by John W. Purdon, 1831;" Canal Commissioners' reports for several years; Binney's, Dallas' and Wheaton's reports of cases argued and adjudged in the Supreme Court of the United States; "Laws of Pennsylvania, 1977, by A. The above is only what was found "on hand" at the paper mill. This may be a small matter in the opinion of some, but it approaches in our judgment a magnitude which demands the closest examination and scrutiny at the hands of the proper authorities here. But, that which has been referred to is not a tithe of the material which has been stolen. Thousands of rial which has been stolen. Thousands of pounds of Legislative Records, Senate and House files, Auditor General's Reports and other documents bave been sold and other documents have been sold to other parties than Mr. Rapp, and yet all the time that this plundering and thieving has been going on, strange to say not a State official has made information to the Mayor, or expressed a desire that the thieves might be ferreted out by the police! While the dupes who have now been detected in these robberies deserve the been detected in these robberies deserve the full punishment of the law, there are men in high places whose strange conduct, while these plunderings have been going on, has excited suspicions as to their honesty and integrity, and we hope (not only in justice to them, but the Commonwealth, whose sworn servants they are,) they may be forced to account for their strange conduct. Certain it is that unmarked and indignant Certain it is, that an amazed and indignant ublic demand that the real offenders shall be punished, and that there shall be no "hushing up" of a matter so vital to the cause of justice and security.

It is but recently we heard of a citizen of this place (an ex-superintendent of the Capitol Grounds) whose parlor floor is covered with expet exactly similar to the one Capitol Grounds) whose parlor floor is covered with carpet exactly similar to the one now in the parlors of the Executive mansion, and cut from the same piece! No one can forget what occurred with the valuable mourning material used at the Lincoln funeral obsequies in this city, which cost the State over $5,000. It was but a day or two after the corpse of the "lamented martyr" had left the city, that a prominent official was observed wearing an exceedingly stylish outfit, cut from the mourning cloth which had covered the ashes of the dead President. We have no doubt that if the Mayor would issue search warrants to dead President. We have no doubt that if the Mayor would issue search warrants to the police, that thousands of dollars worth of property belonging to the taxpayers could be found adorning the residences of "nabols" in the Abolition party at this place. CLIMAX.

A plain statement of facts. I inherited Scrofula, and many of my relations have died of it. In 1839 my case was frightful. Tumors and ulcers spread until in 1842, under the advice of my physicians I went to Avon Springs. I received no benefit—tried every medicine and did everything I could: I had to rest my arm on a cushion, and had not been able to raise it to arm on a cismon, and has to been alor traise in two ulcers was nearly a pint a day. Amputation was recommended; but pronounced dangerous. I could not sleep, and my sufferings were intolerable. A friend brought me an English physician who applied as alive with which he said he had accomplished extraordinary cures in the hospitals in England. It commenced to relieve; persisted in its use; it finally effected a perfect and entire cure. It is now 1848. It is five years since I had the appearance of a scrofulous sore, and my health has been good ever aline. I procured the receipt of his wonderful article—this blessing of humanity—and have called; it "Page's CLIMAX SALVE," and allow the public to use it or not as they choose. OBITUARY.

Departed this life on June 19th, 1807, Dr. John K. Raub, aged 39 years, 3 months and I day.

In the departure from this world of the above person the community has lost an eminent physician, an honorable gentleman, and a kind and faithful friend. But few persons have ever lived in the vicinity where he resided, and where his life terminated, who occupied so high a place in the minds of the people as the deceased. He was not only respected and oved, but the confidence of the community in his medical skill was unbounded. And when the sad duly had to be performed of placing his remains in the tomb, the grief was visibly universal. But few physicians have been more successful in their practice; and without detracting from others, we are constrained to say, that his place cannot soon be filled. He was a worthy man, a kind husband, and a devoted parent. And, although he never made a profession of his faith in the Saviour of sinners, yet in a preceding lilness, but a few months ago, he called the writer to his sick chamber to have his plous counsel and religious services, preparatory to becoming a member of the church, which important sterwas to take place about a month before his death. His religious intentions were always good and noble, but he frequently regretted his his inability and want determination to carry them out. Whatever failures and infirmities the deceased may have had, and who is free from them, they were not preconceived purposes. May his ashes rest in peace, and may his bereaved family have the gracious care of that God who knowth our frame and remembereth that we are dust.
