It will be remembered that after the execution of Mrs. Surratt, Lowis Payne, David E. Harold, and George A. Atzerodt, which took place on the 8th of July, 1885 the bodies were lowered and placed in white pline boxes, and were immediately interred in graves just south of the scaffold, near the east wall of the enclosure, Mrs. Surratt being placed in the north grave, and the others in the order in which they stood on the scaffold. Subsequently a plain white head-board was placed at each of the graves, on which the names of the parties were planted in black letters. Afterwards some posts were planted and a slight fence was erected around the graves. The body-of Henry Wirz, who was convicted by a military commission which sat in the Court of Claims Rooms at the Capitol, and who was laims Rooms at the Capitol, and who w hung at the old Capitol Prison, November 10th, 1865, was also taken and buried just 10th 1865, was also taken and buried just south of the grave of Atzerodt.

On the receipt of the order for the removal of the bodies (including Booth's) on Tuesday, laborers were at once set to work and soon accomplished the work, taking them from the graves before mentioned, and carrying them to No. 1 warehouse, where a trench was dug a few feet from the north wall. In this trench the bodies were placed, and as secrecy had been enjoined, but few persons were aware that the removal had been made. Notwithstanding the length of time that the bodies have been the length of time that the bodies have been buried, the boxes containing them were so buried, the boxes containing them were so heavy, and the odor from them so offensive as to indicate that decomposition had taken piace very slowly, a fact due, probably, to the nature of the soil. It would seem from this action that the Government does not intend to give up the bodies to the relatives. The bodies of Booth, Payne, Harold, Atzerodt, Wirz and Mrs. Surratt now rest in account of the second of The Washington Star contains the following statements in regard to the body of Booth: "The body of J. Wilkes Booth, the principal of the conspirators, who was killed in the attempt to capture him at Garrett's Farm, near Port Royal, on the Rappahannock River, on the 26th of April, 1865, was buried in what was known as the surrection of the Pennentiary building that wareroom of the Penitentiary building-tha portion between the partused as a dwelling by the warden and the prison proper—and, in this connection, it seems to be the proper time now to give the following particulars, heretofore unpublished, concerning the secret interment of the remains. The body of Booth, with Harold and the captors, Lieut. Col. Conger, Lieut. L. B. Baker, Lieut. E. P. Dougherty, and a detachment of the 16th New York Cavalry, strived at the New York at 2h cleck on the mornportion between the part used as a dwelling the Navy Yard at 2½ o'clock on the mora-ing of the 27th of April, when the body of J. Wilkes Booth was placed on the moni-tor Montauk, on which others charged with being concerned in the conspiracy were con-fined, and Harold was assigned to quarters on board. No visitors were allowed on board the monitor, but during the day large numbers o persons visited the Yard and saw the body from the wharf, it being laid on a carpen er's beuch near the turret of the vesse ter's bench, near the turret of the vessel. Surgeon General Barnes, with Surgeon Todd, of the monitor, and one or two army surgeons, incde a post-mortem examination of the body, and removed two of the vertebra between which the ball which caused the death had passed. We can positively assart that this was the only portion of the body removed, and that the various reports not be circulation at that time that his nead body removed, and that the various reports put in circulation at that time that his head was taken off, his heart taken out, &c. were entirely unfounded. A pine box had been made previously, in which to bury the remains: but this was not used, and about 2 o'clock on the day of its arrival up river, the body was wrapped in a gray army blanket and placed in a boat, in which was an officer of the monitor, with four satiors, G n. Baker, and two detectives. The boat proceeded down stream, and finally stopped at the lower Arsenial wharf, on which the boat returned to the monitor, leaving Gen. Baker and his assistants in which the boat returned to the monitor, leaving Gen. Baker and his assistants in the Arsenid grounds. Some few persons employed at the Arsenid saw the body lying there during the evening; but a report having been put out that it was the body of a soldier who had been drowned, but little attention was paid to it. Two men, who had occasion to remove the body, having got some blood on their hands, came near spreadure the report that it was

Dyer, Chief of Ordnance. and Col. Benton, Communicant of the post, were on the ground, as well as Gen. Baker and his detectives. Three men of the holorers' gang were sent for, and they were first directed to dig a grave in one of the Penitentiary cells, but after taking up the brick flooring, they came to the granule foundation had in cement and they pronounced the work impracticable. A spot was then selected in the warrenom five or six feet south of the iron door opening into the prison from the warden's department, and they were directed to dig the grave to the depth of about ten feet. The grave being ready, the body encased in an ammunition box, or arms case, was brought in by four of the ordinance men, in charge of a sergeant, lowered into the grave, and it was filled, the brick flooring being mostly replaced, and the surplus earth removed to another portion of the room. The Platform Adopted by the New York Democracy.

At the Democratic State Convention in New York, the following platform was reported by the Committee:
The Democracy of New York, in Conven-tion assembled, make the following declarations:
1. That we pledge ourselves to redeem

New York from corruption and misrule, as the first great step to the restoration of the Union and constitutional government.

2. That regarding the national debt as a sacred obligation, we demand economy of the administration, honesty in the collection and application of revenues, simplication of and equality in taxation, and a currency for the benefit of the people instead of corpora-tions, to the end that the public faith may be preserved and the burdens of taxation isened. 3. That we denounce the effort of the Rad-

3. That we denounce the effort of the Radical party to retain the power it has usurped by establishing negro supremacy in the South by military force, coupled with the distranchisement of the mass of the white population, as an outrage upon Democratic principles, and an attempt to undermake and destroy the republic; and that we stigmatize the refusal of the party in this State of which the question of negro suffering to to submit the question of negro suffrage to

to submit the question of negro suffrage to the people as a cowardly evasion of a para mount issue in the pending struggle.

4. That the revelations of corruption in the management of the courts, the contessed degradation of the Legislature, the resort to extraordinary commissions to control municipalities, the demonalization of the revenue service, and the fact that a party holding power over Congress, the Judiciary, the Exceutive, and the army, has failed to bring poace, solidity, and credit to the country, demonstrate its atter incapacity to administer government, and the necessity of wresting power from such hands. ing power from such bunds,

5. That while we approve of an Excise law which shall be applicable to the whole law which shall be up/hlcable to the whole State, and secure public order, we are, as we have ever been, hostile to legislation which, under the protext of moral reterm, invades private rights, subjects citizens to vexations sourches and selzares, and interferes with social and religious: augstoms, and that the Excise inw passed in April, 1866, by the Republican Legislature should be repealed.

7. That the profound gratitude of the nation is due the gallant soldiers and sailors who won imperishable honor in the ranks of the army and navy of the Republic. Impelled by a deep and patriotic desire to maintain the Umon and the laws, they cannot be seduced into sustaining any policy that, premoves to subvert, by military desired. that proposes to subvert, by military despots m, the civil and constitutional liberties for the security and perpetuation of which they imperilled their lives.

listaken Identity or Bigamy-Which In the year 1857 an English woman named Catharine Burdick became acquainted in Montreal with a Norwegian, who said his name was Christoph Peter-son, a native of Christiana, who represented himself as a widower, and who proposed marriage to the young woman —a proposition which it would appear she eagerly accepted, very much to the disgust of her sister, "because she had some gold in her trunk."

The marriage, to prevent any inter-ference on the part of Kate's friends, was performed some miles from Mon-treal, but the pair shortly after returned and lived there, where, supplied with his wife's money, Peterson learned the art of cutting and making clothes. They lived happily together for about three years, during ,which time a boy and girl were born to them. Everything now seemed to prosper with the couple, now seemed to prosper with the couple, but that they might get along faster on the road to wealth, Peterson proposed that they should remove to a village on the Ottawa, where, he said, there was an excellent opening for a professional clothier. They then removed, accord ing to the story which the woman related this morning to Justice Mans-field, of the Essex Market Police Court, to the village, and shortly after Peterson one morning was non est at breakfast call. Inquiries were made by the anxious woman, but he was nowhere to be found, and at length she came to the sad conclusion that he had either been killed or accidentally drowned in the Ottawa. Years passed away and nothing was seen or heard of the missing hus-

Meantime, the sister of Mrs. Peterson. with her husband, removed to New York, and not long afterward, with York, and not long afterward, with her children, came the bereaved. Here she went by the name of Peterson, and it accidentally becoming known to a person who lived in the house with her that she had been the wife of a Norwegian named Christoph Peterson, a tribor and outer the person remarked tailor and cutter, the person remarked that she was acquainted with a person of that name and business, who looked not unlike the photographs in the woman's possession.

Further inquiry on the part of Mrs. Peterson elicited the fact that the Peterson alluded to worked at 154 Church street. With a bounding, throbbing, hoping, palpitating, loving heart Cath arine nastened to the building indicated, and theresaw the man whom she claims as her husband. But the man declared that he did not know her.

In reply to the woman on her meeting and claiming him as her husband, Christoph said:—"You are entirely mistaken.

1 never saw you before in my life."
"Will you deny that these are not your children?" asked Kate. "Yes, ma'am," he answered. "I never saw you before that I know of; iever was in Montreal; never lived in Canada; was never married to but one woman, and she I was united to in this city in the year 1865, her maiden name being Marie Grinewald, a native of New

The woman was thunderstruck. She could not be mistaken; and yet this man, the father of her children, impudently assured her, in face of the photo raph she held in her hands, that he ad never, seen her before! There was but one recourse; she availed herself of it. She had Peterson ar rested and taken before Justice Mans-field. In the presence of that gentleman he persisted in his utter innocence of the woman. He said he could prove he was living in Chicago at the time she said he cohabited with her, and she insisted that not only her sister but others in Montreal could identify him. The Judge was puzzled, and were it not for the photograhs, he would have dis-missed the case. As it is, he holds the accused in custody until all the facts necused in custody untit all the facts can be ascertained.

In either case it will avail Mr. Peterson nothing. If his identity is proved to her satisfaction, he is a bigamist, and will be sent to State Prison; if he is not, then she will have her trouble and her sorrow for nothing.—N. Y. Heraid.

CROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS THE CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD. THE WESTERN HALF OF THE reat National Trunk Line Across the Continent. 35 N. EIGHTH ST., COR. FILBERT. 3

CONTINENT,
Being constructed with the AID AND SUPER-VISION OF THE UNITED BTATES GOVERN-MENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WURLD, as it is the sole link between t Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Bashe over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Stem Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts or California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great mining Regions of the Far West, and will met and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Slerra Nevada. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Sait Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

Tife local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimat. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

Gross Operatiny Expenses, Earnings. Principal Portion of the Main Stem Line

Operatiny Expenses, or at the rate of two millions per annum, or which more than three-louths are net profit on less than 180 mile. worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and w. th only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line ensurad until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges. Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between san Francisco and the Missouri river, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completions of $65 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $83,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of $0,000,000 acres of the public lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnifice—tenerprise, and by waving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, this General Cooperation of Phivate Capitalists, and mis carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and vacuable portion of the through line.

Second.—Besides the fullest benefit of the Government sub-idy, (which is a subordinate lien), the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third.—Puthy half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth.—A local business already yielding three-fold the annual interest flabilities with advantageous rates payable in court Pifth.—The principal as well as the interest of Its Bonds being payable in coin, upon legally binding agreement.
