THE COMING OF WINTER.-Grim Winte has come at last, come with rude and bois-terous winds, with a driving anow storm, with bitter icv earnestness—and, no doubt about as if the Summer was to last all the year. The pacture lands still retained some-thing of their green, and the willow over the way was in full foliage until within two or three days. Then, just before the storm came, while the weather was still mild, as if glifed with a strange prescience, it shook down its leaves, though no wind stirred it, in a continuous shower. Suddenly, with-cu: warning, a fierce snow storm from the Northwest swart over the land. The dame n

Cut warning, a fierce snow storm from the Northwest swept over the land. The deman of winter, who must have taken up his home in the land we lately bought from Russis, came down upon us and took complete possession. The finge of his snowy mantle was shaken over us. The snow storm had expended its violence before it reached us, but down went the thermometer, with a plunge, almost to zero. How cold it was, and still is. As we look out through our window there is that peculiar appearance about the thickly-clouded atmosphere that foretells a fall of snow, and thin feathery flakes are already salling about.

Torotells a fail of show, and thin feathery flakes are already salling about. With the early coming of night, after the short chilly days, the in-door pleasures of winter will be fully inaugurated. As the family gathers about the hearth thero will be ample opportunity for read-ing and social converse. In our city there is room for pleasant festivities and the ropeated retunion of friends, which we have no doubt will be improved. In the rural districts the singing school, the sleighing party with the old inshloned country dance, and other time honored social gatherings will give zest to the life of the young. Stock Market. PHILADELPHIA, Dec 11.—The money market is with-out perceptible change, except that the pressure for discount at the bunks is not so strong. Call locus may be quoted at 64% per cent. Trade continues in a nervous and un-satisfactory condition; not so much owing to the scarcity of money as to the efforts of droakers, who create mistrust by dirculating reports touching the solvency of well known firms. There was a falling off in the business at the Stock Board, but Government loans were 1 to 5% per cent. better. State loans were also jairer, and closed at 101% bid for the war loan. City loans were quiet at 93% off the old issue. The spin-ence, and 93% for the old issue. Several of the servants connected with the establishment narrowly escaped death from the smoke. Three tenement bouses, the furniture manufactory of Patterson & Lavender, the engine and water wheel manufactory of G. E. McLaughlin, together with a currier shop on Fulton and Horth streets, were de-stroyed by fire this morning. Fifteen fami-lies were burned out of house and home. The loss is put down at $35,000. [SECOND DESPATCH.] Boston, Dec. 10.—The schooner Superior of Rockland, from New York for Boston, with plaster, was fallen in with on the 7th inst., 30 miles southeast of Cape Ann in distress, having three feet of water in the Saturday. "In the House, various Executive com-munications were received. The impeach-ment subject came up in order, the pending question being Mr. Wilson's motion to lay it on the tuble. After some "filibustering," Mr. Wilson agreed to withdraw his motion in order that a vote might be taken at once on the original resolution to impeach the President. This was assented to, the pre-vious question was seconded, and a vote was taken on the resolution. The resolu-tion was defeated, the yeas being 57 and the mays 108. The bill to prevent further con-traction of the currency was reported from traction of the currency was reported from the Ways and Means Committee, and passed—yeas 127, nays 32. THE HOLDAYS.—The holiday season is rapidly approaching, and the coming of that time of good cheer and social inter-course excites pleasurable emotions in the minds of all. It is right that Christmas should be the chief of holidays. It comes at the right season of the year, lighting up the darkest hours of winter with mirth and festivity. The custom of giving gifts at this senson is one which has been honored by immemorial usage and practiced in all Christian countries. We are glad to notice that it is becoming more universal with us each year. Our merchants provide many beautiful things especially for that occasion, ind with a proper appreciation of their own interests they advertise their wares through the columns of the now universal newspa-pers. Such as are in search of Christmas presents, and every body will want some-thing, wil; find an infinite variety of all suitable objects advertised in our columns. Go for your holiday gifts to those who ad-vertise. They are best prepared to supply you, and we can commend all whose names thus appear in our columns as genitements. Mr. Eckert was well known throughout Air, Fekert was well known throughout the county as a man of extraordinary en-ergy and perseverance. His social quali-ties surrounded him with a host of friends, who are left to mourn his loss. A friend to everybody, an active and useful man in the community in which he passed his whole life, his death will be deeply felt by those who have had the pleasure of his acquaintance, and especially by the many who have felt of his bounty and partaken of his kind counsels. A man of highstand-ing in society; a pillar of the church; an enruest Christian gentleman; a man of broad, liberal views on all subjects; en-deared to all who knew him, he has gone to his long home, with the consolation of a well spent life. The sorrow of the commu-nity at large is only less great than that of his afflicted widow and children, to whom he has ever been a most kind and indulgent husband and father. the county as a man of extraordinary en

All hearty printed, and highly embellished with steel and other engravings. We have received: Godey for January, which is a prize number, containing two very fine steel plates, a pretty tinted cut, an inimitable fashion plate, and a special piece of block printing for the ladies, being the figure of a stag in eight colors, is beautiful and worth itself the price of the book. It is the best number yet out, and "Phemie Rowland" —a capital story by Marion Harland—be-gins in this number. Peterson for January, being an excellent and unsurpassed number, containing two elegant steel engravings, exquisite fashion plate, etc., and any amount of good reading matter. A beautifully colored pattern of a bird, in Berlin work, is decidedly fine. Peterson's Magazine is one of the best and cheapest published. Ballow's for January is a good number, handsomely illustrated, enlarged consider-ably, and is filled with interesting litera-ture.

Testimony of Mr. PETER SHAW. WEST WINFIELD, N. Y., Dec. 10, 1869, Messrs, S. W. FowLE & Sox, Boston. Gentlemen,—During the winter of 1858 I was very much out of health, afflicted with a severe Cough, Pain in the side and Lungs, and a general depression of health to such an extent as great-ly to alarm myself and friends as to the result, Juring this time I tried several highly recom-mendel remedies, with little or no good result, and had concluded to try the effect of a South-ern cilmate upon my health; but, before car-rying this resolution into effect, I was induced by the urgent solicitation of your agent. Mr. rying this resolution into effect, I was induced by the urgent solicitation of your agent. Mi-Huntly, to give Dr. WisrAz's BALSAM of Wills CHERRY a trial I did so, and to my great joy found immediate and permanent relief by the use of only one bottle, and I am now in as good health as ever. I believe your Balsam one of the best remedies for Couple, Coid, and all Lung Discases, now in use, and conscientiously recommended it as such. Prepared by SETH W. OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the Frack will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty fect to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work on the rock cuttings on the western slope will continue through the whiter, and there is no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870. The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The united States grants its SIX Fer Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $46,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lion as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the fail are insued as each twenty-mile section is Anished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class road, thorough-ly supplied with depots, repair-shops, stations, and all the dired States also makes a donation of

At present, the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can is-sue, finot another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be largely be-yond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profita-ble rates. It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Rail-road is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government money' and that its bonds are issued under Govern-ment direction. It is believed that no simila security is so carefully guarded, and certain prother is based upon a larger or more valua-ble property. he New York Weekly now has a circulation of 125,000 COPIES! SOL SLOCUM: OR, THE MAID OF THE JUNIATA! From the pen of America's gifted romancer, EMERSON BENNETT. commenced in the NEW YORK WEEKLY NO. G---NOW READY : SOL SLOCUM; OR,

THE MAID OF THE JUNIATA. BY

EMERSON BENNETT, is the greatest product of his transcondantly great pen. It is a tale of the great border, and the characters which figure in it are as various as the many scenes through which they have to pass. One after another are introduced the hardy ploneer, the cunning trapper, the wily savage, the eccentric secker after adventure, the tender maiden, severed by the force of circumstances from friends and kindred, the peroic and daring youth whose aspirations are loity, whose soul is fearless, and whose deeds are daring, together with a missellaneous crowd of adventurous spirits presenting al-most every phase of human character, each of whom plays his or her part in the thrilling drama. The story is replete with scenes and ncidents which cause the blood of the reader o leap with electric force, and constantly alternating between joy and sorrow, tears and laughter, indignation and admiration, he suf fers and rejoices with the characters, absoluto-ly seeming to act with them, so intonsely is he Interested—so deeply is he spell-bound. The story never flags from the beginning to the end, and the love portions of it are expecially beautiful, and such as to enlist the sympathics of every lady reader. This great story is commenced in No.6 of the present volume, and those who desire to read it should send in their orders. Once more we say, buy the NEW YORK WEEKLY
