

Lancaster Intelligencer

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1868.

An Apology. In the hurry of editing our press to suit the enlarged edition of our weekly we were unable to have all arrangements as perfect as we could desire.

The Legislature. The Pennsylvania Senate organized yesterday by the election of James W. Smith, of Allegheny, as Speaker and Geo. W. Hamerlin, of York, as Clerk.

With the present issue the WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER enters upon its sixteenth volume, very considerably enlarged and otherwise improved.

Private Circular from Hon. W. A. Wallace. Quite a number of Radical journals in this State have published a circular which was issued by Hon. Wm. A. Wallace to the Chairmen of the Democratic County Committees.

John M. Cooper, Esq., of the Valley Forge, is being urged as a candidate for Governor by many prominent Democrats in the State, and especially by the editorial fraternity, to whom he has been so long and so favorably known.

For Surveor General. We notice that the Morning Post, the most liberal paper of the State, has been so long and so favorably known to the character of any man, whether public or private life, that it is not perfectly susceptible of being proven to be true.

Christians in the South. Our Southern exchanges come to us with the evidence that the holding of the Convention will be a half of our country.

The Conservative Convention of Virginia. Radical newspapers are almost compelled to lie. They tell the truth their party would disclose like an April shower.

The Negro Jury Bill. There is some speculation among Radical members of Congress as to the exact status of the bill striking the word "white" from the charter of the Grand Jury.

The Democratic Watchman. We commence to-day the publication of the testimony given in defence of Bev. W. V. Gotwald at the trial in Gettysburg.

With the present issue the WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER enters upon its sixteenth volume, very considerably enlarged and otherwise improved.

Protesting Against the Truth. For several months the Radical and slave newspapers, which were published in the North, filled their columns with reports of outrages committed on the slaves of the South by their masters.

Commonwealth Record in the Court of Sessions. J. W. Eshelberger, owner of Record, was called to the stand by the State's Attorney on the 25th of February or March, 1867.

Friday morning. He went in the direction of Hackensack—South. He returned in the afternoon from Hackensack with an additional horse, and he returned on the 25th of February or March, 1867.

The Railroad. Congress has returned to Washington full of bills, and determined to show at once their hostility to General Hancock and to the civil law of the State which he would like to sustain.

Light Breaking in Lancaster County. A glorious Democratic Victory in the Borough of Columbia. Revolutions never go backward, say the Radicals, and they are likely to learn the truth of their pet phrase.

The Meezer Libel Suit. Mr. Meezer, proprietor of the Sunday Mercury has been sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of nine months, and to pay a fine of $500 for libeling District Attorney William B. Meeker.

John M. Cooper, Esq., of the Valley Forge, is being urged as a candidate for Governor by many prominent Democrats in the State, and especially by the editorial fraternity, to whom he has been so long and so favorably known.

For Surveor General. We notice that the Morning Post, the most liberal paper of the State, has been so long and so favorably known to the character of any man, whether public or private life, that it is not perfectly susceptible of being proven to be true.

Christians in the South. Our Southern exchanges come to us with the evidence that the holding of the Convention will be a half of our country.

The Conservative Convention of Virginia. Radical newspapers are almost compelled to lie. They tell the truth their party would disclose like an April shower.

The Negro Jury Bill. There is some speculation among Radical members of Congress as to the exact status of the bill striking the word "white" from the charter of the Grand Jury.

The Democratic Watchman. We commence to-day the publication of the testimony given in defence of Bev. W. V. Gotwald at the trial in Gettysburg.

Friday morning. He went in the direction of Hackensack—South. He returned in the afternoon from Hackensack with an additional horse, and he returned on the 25th of February or March, 1867.

The Railroad. Congress has returned to Washington full of bills, and determined to show at once their hostility to General Hancock and to the civil law of the State which he would like to sustain.

Light Breaking in Lancaster County. A glorious Democratic Victory in the Borough of Columbia. Revolutions never go backward, say the Radicals, and they are likely to learn the truth of their pet phrase.

The Meezer Libel Suit. Mr. Meezer, proprietor of the Sunday Mercury has been sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of nine months, and to pay a fine of $500 for libeling District Attorney William B. Meeker.

John M. Cooper, Esq., of the Valley Forge, is being urged as a candidate for Governor by many prominent Democrats in the State, and especially by the editorial fraternity, to whom he has been so long and so favorably known.

For Surveor General. We notice that the Morning Post, the most liberal paper of the State, has been so long and so favorably known to the character of any man, whether public or private life, that it is not perfectly susceptible of being proven to be true.

Christians in the South. Our Southern exchanges come to us with the evidence that the holding of the Convention will be a half of our country.

The Conservative Convention of Virginia. Radical newspapers are almost compelled to lie. They tell the truth their party would disclose like an April shower.

The Negro Jury Bill. There is some speculation among Radical members of Congress as to the exact status of the bill striking the word "white" from the charter of the Grand Jury.

The Democratic Watchman. We commence to-day the publication of the testimony given in defence of Bev. W. V. Gotwald at the trial in Gettysburg.

With the present issue the WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER enters upon its sixteenth volume, very considerably enlarged and otherwise improved.

Friday morning. He went in the direction of Hackensack—South. He returned in the afternoon from Hackensack with an additional horse, and he returned on the 25th of February or March, 1867.

The Railroad. Congress has returned to Washington full of bills, and determined to show at once their hostility to General Hancock and to the civil law of the State which he would like to sustain.

Light Breaking in Lancaster County. A glorious Democratic Victory in the Borough of Columbia. Revolutions never go backward, say the Radicals, and they are likely to learn the truth of their pet phrase.

The Meezer Libel Suit. Mr. Meezer, proprietor of the Sunday Mercury has been sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of nine months, and to pay a fine of $500 for libeling District Attorney William B. Meeker.

John M. Cooper, Esq., of the Valley Forge, is being urged as a candidate for Governor by many prominent Democrats in the State, and especially by the editorial fraternity, to whom he has been so long and so favorably known.

For Surveor General. We notice that the Morning Post, the most liberal paper of the State, has been so long and so favorably known to the character of any man, whether public or private life, that it is not perfectly susceptible of being proven to be true.

Christians in the South. Our Southern exchanges come to us with the evidence that the holding of the Convention will be a half of our country.

The Conservative Convention of Virginia. Radical newspapers are almost compelled to lie. They tell the truth their party would disclose like an April shower.

The Negro Jury Bill. There is some speculation among Radical members of Congress as to the exact status of the bill striking the word "white" from the charter of the Grand Jury.

The Democratic Watchman. We commence to-day the publication of the testimony given in defence of Bev. W. V. Gotwald at the trial in Gettysburg.

With the present issue the WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER enters upon its sixteenth volume, very considerably enlarged and otherwise improved.

Friday morning. He went in the direction of Hackensack—South. He returned in the afternoon from Hackensack with an additional horse, and he returned on the 25th of February or March, 1867.

The Railroad. Congress has returned to Washington full of bills, and determined to show at once their hostility to General Hancock and to the civil law of the State which he would like to sustain.

Light Breaking in Lancaster County. A glorious Democratic Victory in the Borough of Columbia. Revolutions never go backward, say the Radicals, and they are likely to learn the truth of their pet phrase.

The Meezer Libel Suit. Mr. Meezer, proprietor of the Sunday Mercury has been sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of nine months, and to pay a fine of $500 for libeling District Attorney William B. Meeker.

John M. Cooper, Esq., of the Valley Forge, is being urged as a candidate for Governor by many prominent Democrats in the State, and especially by the editorial fraternity, to whom he has been so long and so favorably known.

For Surveor General. We notice that the Morning Post, the most liberal paper of the State, has been so long and so favorably known to the character of any man, whether public or private life, that it is not perfectly susceptible of being proven to be true.

Christians in the South. Our Southern exchanges come to us with the evidence that the holding of the Convention will be a half of our country.

The Conservative Convention of Virginia. Radical newspapers are almost compelled to lie. They tell the truth their party would disclose like an April shower.

The Negro Jury Bill. There is some speculation among Radical members of Congress as to the exact status of the bill striking the word "white" from the charter of the Grand Jury.

The Democratic Watchman. We commence to-day the publication of the testimony given in defence of Bev. W. V. Gotwald at the trial in Gettysburg.

With the present issue the WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER enters upon its sixteenth volume, very considerably enlarged and otherwise improved.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Your attention is also invited to the fact that the Treasury is now in receipt of nearly seven hundred dollars, is entirely unexpended, and is in a position to be able to meet all the demands of the State.

The report of the Superintendent of the Common Schools exhibits a full view of our system, which is widely diffused, and is a source of pride to the State.

The report of the Superintendent of the Common Schools exhibits a full view of our system, which is widely diffused, and is a source of pride to the State.

The report of the Superintendent of the Common Schools exhibits a full view of our system, which is widely diffused, and is a source of pride to the State.

The report of the Superintendent of the Common Schools exhibits a full view of our system, which is widely diffused, and is a source of pride to the State.

The report of the Superintendent of the Common Schools exhibits a full view of our system, which is widely diffused, and is a source of pride to the State.

The report of the Superintendent of the Common Schools exhibits a full view of our system, which is widely diffused, and is a source of pride to the State.

The report of the Superintendent of the Common Schools exhibits a full view of our system, which is widely diffused, and is a source of pride to the State.

The report of the Superintendent of the Common Schools exhibits a full view of our system, which is widely diffused, and is a source of pride to the State.

The report of the Superintendent of the Common Schools exhibits a full view of our system, which is widely diffused, and is a source of pride to the State.