Another peculiarity in this testimonial is that immediately surrounding the oval containing the resolution of thanks, are containing the resolution of thanks, are eight photographs, the upper three of which are Col. Lyster, the President of the Company and Chief Marshal on the day of parade, with his two assistants on that occasion, Messrs. Blankley and Freas; the three lower cases are these of the convention. three lower ones are those of the committee who got up the testimonial, while the two on the sides are those of Messrs. Bransbury and Crout, each of whom lost an arm in the late war. Mr. B. on the left side lost his loft.arm, and Mr. C. on the right side lost bis right, arm. late war. Mr. B. on the left side lost left arm, and Mr. C. on-the right side lost his right arm.

After all had partaken of the supper set before them, the presentation took place. George Brubaker, Esq., President of the Humane Fire Company, presided at the sight and of the first table, with Mayor

Mr. Irresident and Members of the Humane Engine Company;

This Committee has been selected by the West Philadelphia Hose and Steam Fire Engine Company for the purpose of placing in your Hall a suitable token of our esteem for you all, and of our gratitude for your kindness and abundant hospitality. We came among you last October, as strangers to many of you. Your brotherly attention made us all feel that we left you as old-time friends. We never cease telling our friends and dear ones at home, the story of the happy days spent among the hospitable people of old Laucaster. We bring this frame, enclosing the counterfeit resemblances of your fifty-four guests, asking you to receive it, from no intrinsic value which it may have, but as a lasting memorial of the brotherly love and manly friendship which shall ever be maintained between our companies. The bachelors among us request me to express the modest wish that they may not be entirely forgotten by fair lady friends of the Humane, and that this memorial may help some of them to think occasionally of the poor fellows who are now without hope.

We thank you again. We had heard how

The bachelors among us request me to express the modest wish that they may not be entirely forgotten by the fair lady friends of the Humane, and that this memorial may help some of them to think occasionally of the poor fellows who are now without hope.

We thank you again. We had heard how high was your position in Laucaster as a company and as citizens. Our visut doubly confirmed the report. We would say, God speed you in the performance of your noble duties as firemen. Your continued prosperity and happiness will gladden our learnts, and whenover any of you may visit bearts, and whenever any of you may visit our beautiful home, we will endeavor to equal your kindness and hospitality. My equal your kindness and hospitality. My pleasant duty is done in handing to you pleasant duty is done in handing to you this emblematic frame.
Goo, Brubaker, Esq., -President of the Humane Fire Company, received the testimonial with the following remarks:

Mr. President, and Gentlemen of the West Photomotory.
I am glad to see you in our city again; glad to be able on the purt of the Humane Fire Company of old Lancaster to welcome you as their guests.

Although this occasion, is not important.
From Wm. L. Bear, Prothouton-tour, and the Bern Recorder and the Although this occasion is not important From Wm. L. Bear, Prothon1 the annuls of the kine Parent portant

Although this occasion is not important in the annals of the Fire Department, yet to us it marks the continuance of good feelings, kind fellowship and friendly gratitude, begun at a time when our whole people were endeavoring to receive you with all the kindness and hospitality in their power. This beautiful and costly testimonial of your regard for us and our efforts to properly entertain you, coming as it does entirely unsolicited, and coupled with the complimentary terms you have been pleased to award us, will be long preserved and cherished as commemorating an ern in our history. Our own members are plain, honest and stratghtforward, desirous to do what is right, and to be in every act and deed representatives of good, reliable, manly firemen; and when the opportunity was afforded them to receive the West Philadelphin firemen with others of their class, they endeavored to treat you with that respect, courtesy and attention all firemen should extend to each other; and this beautiful and magnificent frame enclosing the pictures of every member who favored the Humano with his presence on that memora. phia firemen with others of their class, they endeavored to treat you whit that respect, courtesy and attention all firemen should extend to each other; and this beautiful and magnificent frame enclosing the pictures of every member who favored the Humano with his presence on that memorable occasion, known as the Piremen's parade in the city of Lancaster, shows that our efforts were more than appreciated Each picture will have its own history, to recall in after times, when years small have gone by and the heads of the actors in these scenes will have been silvered over with the frosts of age, many reminiscences of pleasant times spent together, of lasting friendships formed, of langhable adventures—all to be remembered with satisfaction and recalled with pride.

Permit me again to welcome you here, without further remarks, and extend to you a true, hearty greeting to our midst. On behalf of the lady friends of the Humane Fire Company, Mr. S. A. Wylie, Editor of the Lanussier Inquirer, presented to the Committee a very lurge pound cake, beautifully decorated, on the top of which was an ivory-type picture of Mr. Brubaker, President of the Humane, surrounded in the iceing with the words "Toour Friends" and a large figure "6." Mr. Wylie in presenting the cake spoke briefly and humorously, asying that the giving and receiving of pictures were always very acceptable presents, and were especially so in the days when he was a bachelor and visited the ladies, that although they had not as many likenesses to give in return for the number they were about to receive, they were determined to present one—that of their President—with this nice cake as a sweet token of their regards, for they could eat all around him and undermine him, but would have his likeness left as a mement of this cocasion. Mr. Wm. H. Markward responded briefly and appropriately, accepting the cake and returning the thanks of the Company for the same, in conclusion saying "they were bound to eat it too." Mr. Markward then presented to the Humane Fire Company two smaller pictures with oval glit frames to hang on the right and left sides of the large frame and photographs. The one to be placed on the right and left sides of the large frame and photographs. The one to be placed on the right and left sides of the large frame and photographs. HALLOF THE WEST PHILA HOSE CO. No. 12.
At a meeting held this evening, of the members that participated in the visit to Lancaster on the 17th of October, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That our heartfelt thanks are due and hereby tendered to the Humane Fire Company, No. 6, of Lancaster, for their generous hospitality extended to us only recent visit, and that there be a committee of three appointed to have prepared a frame and photographs of those that participated in the visit to Lancaster on the 17th inst., to be presented to the Humane Fire Company as a token of esteman and successful thanks for the good of the Humane Company, No. 6, of Lancaster, for definition of the Humane Company, and the strength of the Humane Company, and the strength of the Humane Company to the Humane Company to the strength of the Humane Compa as timo itsell. I have done.

Mr. Markward was then called on for a song, when he complied with the request by singing a sentimental song, and the comic Irish song—"Terrence O'Rourke," both of which he sang well, and afterwards recuted an Irish letter connected therewith. The members of both Companies then formed in line and proceeded to Fulton Hall, where the festivities of the evening wound up in a complimentary hop, extended to the wee sma' hours of the morning.

The party was a very agreeable one, and everything passed off pleusantly. The Philadelphia firemen express themselves as highly delighted with the hospitality and kindness extended to them by their Lancaster friends, Wednesday evening, the 15th of January, 1868—will be another of the memorable events in the history of the West Philadelphia and Humane Fire Companies, an occasion never to be forgotten, but to be cherished for all time to come as the strengthening and binding link in the chain of harmony, love and friendship established between them.
