THE FIRST OF APRIL.—The long-expected first of April duly arrived and brought with it large numbers of persons from the country and neigh-boring towns on their annual business visit. We saw large amounts of money visit. We saw large amounts of money visit. We saw large amounts of money change hands at the banks and even on the

THE VALLEY.—The Winchester News states that there is no country on this con-tineant that possesses more attractions for those purchasing lands than the Shenando-ah Valley. Old exough to have a settle society, it at the same time has lands noted for their fartility and hills rich with minner phere pure, the water plentiful and good the soil rich and productive, the society charming and refined; and, taken alto-gether, it is almost paradise. It combines the advantages both of a new and an old country. The Valley is the place for at of peep pure bears the states the discovery popule desiring to purchase comfortable change hands at the banks and even on the pavement; which probably caused many violations of the commandment re-garding covetonsress. The vendors of blackening, patent medicines, etc., held forth in Centre Square both in the English and German, in most instances to large audiences; who have doubtless purchased these infallible remedies, &c., in a quantity worthy of the merits so elo-quently claimed for them. On inquiry at Police headquarters, we are informed, that as far as ascertained, but comparatively little'pocket picking was committed. The team drivers and those persons who had to move made the most of the splendid weather and the first of April passed with a less amount of worry and unpleasantness than is usual on such occasions.

After the transaction of the usual current business, and the election of several new members, the Society was entertained by an essay, read by Prof. S. S. Rathvon, upon "The Cultivation of Taste." The lecturer "The Gultivation of Taste." The lecturer contended that taste was a quality of the organization of man which could be culti-vated, and he did not believe that the sense existed in the substance tested, but rather in the experimenter. A. Harris differed on this point with the lecturer, and remarked that in his opinion taste was the effect produced upon the palate by the atomical constituents and the elementary formation of plants and vegetables, and he contended that there was something inherent in the organization of the thing tasted, which constituent taste to our sensual system.

thing which could be changed little by cul-tivation. Before the conclusion of this discussion, S. S. Rathwon read a plan, in which he de-talled his views as to the propriety of es-tablishing, under the auspices of the So-ciety, a horticultural magazine, and the proposition seemed to meet with universal navor annong the members. On motion of II. K. Stoner, the chair ap-pointed a committee of three, who shall, at the next meeting, report as to the feasibility and method of establishing such an enter-prize. In Tunis (the city) which is the Capital of the Regency of Tunis and has a population of about 300,000, the mortality from starvation alone has for two months been between 100 and 200 per day, and during the 40 days ending February 16, during which space the famine was at its beighth and as yet no assistance had been given, 8,200 persons perlahed. In the sur-rounding country the mortality was even greater than in the city, but there have been no means to estimate the numbers who have perlahed. During this time the secrets fully realized and even rivalled in their horrors the accounts we read in ancient history and the Bible of the plague and famines that have visited different nations, which is owing, it must be remembered, to a form of government which in fact is the same in its effects as the governments of those nations of antiquity. Were we not assured of their truth, the accounts would seem fieltious, so borrible are they. It was at one time impossible to walk through thestreets with-out meeting at almost every turn one or more dead bodies. In the city these were removed every morning by the 'dead cart'; but outside the gates no such measures were taken, and the oppese were so numerous that not the shiftest excursion could be taken without meeting the most sckening and disguisting t slights. Some bodies were found half de-n voured by the dogs, and thesethings, if you remember, are the 'aboninations' of the Mohametan religion.

Mohametan religion. Efforts have been made to relieve the people, but none have had any marked success. The Jews in the city have done a great deal, and the Christians all in their 5 power, but they are few in numbers. On Christmas day my Uncle distributed at large quantity of meat and bread at the Consulte Gates; but though he had em-ployed eight guards to enforce some regu-ing wretches that they were not to be re-itrained; but overpowering the guard they threw themselves upon the food with a ferce-ity and recklessness that passed description; uttering load cries they fought with each other like wild beasts, and the scene in the consulta court was horrible and disgust-ing, and yet at the same time beartrending. This year there have been abundant rains, and the country which was brown and parched is beginning to assume a green ap-pearance again. But as no crops can be taken in until June or July there is still staryieton staring the people in the face. Subscriptions have been raised in England, but subscriptions are too tardy a relief where two hundred people die per day of staryation. J. W. HORNOR of Parkersburg, West Va.' says that Dr. Hi Anders' Iodine Water cured him of Scrofula. He had 37 runing Ulcers when he commenced taking the medicine. Persons afflicted should make a note of this, and send to J. P. Dinsmore, 33 Doy Street, New York, for a circular concerning this remarkable remedy.—Communicated.

ATTEMPTED ARSON, 2A short time ago, some person attempted to set fire to the public school house at Christiana in this county. There is a cellar under the build-ing, where wood and ceal is kept; and in this way the incendiary had piled some wood and set it on fire. The person who attends to keeping up the fires, came there in the evening, and on opening the school house door, found the room filled with smoke, and upon examination he found that it proceeded from the cellar. Repair-ing to that place he discovered the fire, and extinguished it just in time to save the building.
