In the U. S. Senate, yesterday, Mr. Willey, of West Virginia, introduced a bill relating to the Coumissioner of Patents, and Mr. Conkling, of New York, introduced a bill relating to naturalization. Mr. Trumbull called up the bill prescribing an oath of office for persons releved of legal disability, which was passed. The Tax bill was considered, and all but twenty pages disposed of.

In the House, Mr. Butler introduced a bill relative to the fisheries and trade with Prince Edward's Island. On motion of Mr. Pile, of Mo., the Commerce Committee was directed to inquire into the expediency of repealing the enaetment requiring the use of lock-up safety valves on steam vessols. Mr. Donnelly, of Mino., introduced a bill taxing United States bonds, and moved the provious question. The previous question was not seconded, and the bill went over until next Monday. John R. On motion of Mr. Kelley, of Pn., the President was requested to instruct our Minister to Turkey to urgs the removal of all restrictions on commerce in the Bosphorous and Dardanelless. Mr. Routwell, from the Judiciary Committee, reported the Sentencies in the Departments, which was passed. Mr. Monchead moved to go into Committee of the Whole, which was agreed to, and he then tried to get his Tariff Bill considered, but a quorum could not be had for action on the bill, and the committee rose. Pending a motion by Mr. Jenekes, looking to the early consideration of his Civil Service Bill, the House adjourned. Civil Service Bill, the House adjourned.

A Undical Republican State Government.

A thoroughly Radical, if not Republican, form of government has been guaranteed to Louisiana by the bayonet-inauguration of Warmouth and Dunn, as Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, by command of General II. U. Graut. Dunn, who is to preside over the State Senate and who by a contingency might be tovernor of the State. side over the State Senate and who by a contingency might be flovernor of the State, is a negro. There is no ovidence that he can read or write, but he is thoroughly loil. Warmonth is also loil. In 1860 he emigrated from Illinois to Missouri, temporarily depositing his carpet-bug in Phelps county, and, in his small way, was an active worker for the election of John C. Breckinridge. In November, 1862, he was a full blown Lioutenant-Colonel, and subsequently on General McGlernand's staff he succeeded in attracting the attention of General Grant who, for good and sufficient reasons no doubt, summarily dismissed him from the service. He managed to be him from the service. He managed to be reinstated, and, in the Missouri election of reinstated, and, in the Missouri election of 1805, supported the Conservative ticket, displaying his hostility to the Radical party by remaining all day at his regimental poll and doing his, best to defeat the Radical ticket. This service seems to have secured him a minor appointment as a Treasury agent in New Orienns, where he was also attached to the Provost Marshal's Department, and he was a link-bearer in the famous torch and turpentine procession throughout the North in 1866. This notorious chief of the government detective force during the war, who died in Philadelphia last week, was a native of New York, and born in the year 1826. His sarlier years were spent on a farm in the west, but becoming tired of agricultural pursuits he removed to Philadelphia, where he worked as a mechanic. In 1851 he went to California and became conspicuous by his connection with the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco. After a diversified career of over ten years the fortunes of war made him chief of the government detective force during the Rebellion. Charity for his memory makes it preferable to say as little as possible of the course he pursued during that period. That he way a willing tool of Mr. Signaton there appears to be no doubt. His arrests of citizens who were innocent of offence, his spy system on President Johnson, and his general conduct oventually caused his dismission from the sorvice. Since then he has resided in Philadelphia, in which city he is reported to have possessed considerable property. Serious Accidents.—On Saturday, a very serious accident occurred to Christian Miley, aged about fourteen years, a son of Mr. Amos Miley, saddler on North Queen street. It appears that young Miley was engaged in company with some other boys, in firing off a pistol, when the weapon prematurely exploded, wounding his haud in a shooking manner, carrying away the first finger of the left hand at the first joint and shattering the second finger in such a manner that Dr. Levergood was compelled to amputate it close to the hand. On Sunday it was exceedingly hot, the sun seemed to have all the power which it is said to possess at the torrid zone, and made all rooms not entirely accessible to the lattle air that was stirring as warm as an oven. It was also very warm yesterday and made in consequence the labors of the printer anything but pleasant. But what does the Public, the curions and insatiable Public care for the Printer or Reporter? The Daily must be promptly on hand for their syening's entertainment, and no consideration of the labor incident to the selection of the articles it contains, and the number of type set, for a moment mars their enjoyment. If any comment respecting the paper be made at all, it is to abuse all connected with its management for not furnishing matter impossible to print for want of time to prepare it for publication.

THE LANCASTER LYCEUM.—This association met at the usual hour last evening. OHIO BASS IN THE SUSQUEHANNA.—The Harrisburg Patriot states that on Thurs-day, the 2d inst. Mr. Augustus Zimmer, man, the host of the United States Hotel man, the host of the United States Hotel' with some gaptlemen associated, with him, placed in the Susquehanna river ten fine black bass from the Ohio river. This was done with a view of stocking the river with that noble fish of the games pectes. If fishermen study their interests they will protect these fish, and in three years the Susquehanna will be stocked with thousands. It is in contemplation to place a hundred more of the same kind of fish in the river in a few days.

The exact site for the depot has not as yet been selected, and quite a contest provails between the citizens of upper and lower Marietta, and the company is considerably bored by committees endeavoring to impress them that their interest depends on the selection of the point they propose. The opinion prevails that it will be located in Upper Marietta, as this point will accomodate the greater number of persons, in the town and vicinity.

A New Depot.—A correspondent of the Inquirer states that the Penn'a R. R. Co., contemplate erecting a new depot in Marietta. The exact site for the depot has sons, in the town and yicinity.

THE STORM.—According to the Harrisburg Patriot, the storm which passed north of this city on Sunday evening extended generally throughout the country, and did considerable damage to the growing grain crops. In various sections of Dauphin county, houses and barns were unroofed, fences blown down, and trees uprooted. In some localities the storm was accompanied by hall, and at other points copious showers of rain moistened the parched earth. The lightning played some singular freaks, but no loss of life or damaging conflagrations are reported.
