The ancient town itself slumbers on as peace-culue as though war In its gramest agnets ully as though war in its sternest aspect and not thandered for days through its streets. The evidences of the fierce conflict are everywhere. Marks of shell, round shot and musket balls are visible in all parts of the town, and the landscape south-ward from Culp's Hill to Little Round Top, and from Outp s that to task works which still presents the line of earth works which defined at one time the position of the Fed-eral forces. On the lower ground to the west lay Lee too confident of success after Nis victories of Fredericksburg and Chancel lorville, Believing still that the Federal army was no match for his own, because of the pernicious interference with its com-mand and operation on the part of Lincoln and his Radical advisers, he rashly atinted its overthrow in a position which othing but the importance of the results coposed can account for. Had he succeedproposed can account for. first to his cause ad, Maryland would have given to his cause seventy-five thousand fresh soldiers, Wash-ington would have fallen into his hands, he North might have refused to prosecute ington would have fallen into his hands, the North might have refused to prosecute the war farther, and the separation of the South have been acknowledged by England and France. But man proposes and God disposes, has been said before, and so it was in this case. So it was in the case of the first Napoleon. He proposed Moscow as his comfortable winter quarters, intending to overrun Russin in the spring and sum-mer, but the burning of the city and the snows, broke forever the power of the great-est general the world over saw.

ed they will cure so many different diseases A moment's reflection will expose the shallow-ness of such an argument, for there is scarcely a medicinal drug of any kind that is not used or more than one disease. The reason why

MISHLER'S HERB[•]BITTERS ares so many diseases is found in the fact that it invigorates the entire human system, strengthens all the nervous fibres, elevates the standard of all the vital forces, and sustains a lealthy tone of man's organism. Medicine heating tone of main constraints that will cure any disease for the simple reason that nature will do the rest. Now, the vital principle of life is siways and everywhere in danger, and it suffers continu-ally from the successful attacks of diseases. Hence, it has become a question of very grave importance as to what is the true course to be importance as to what is the true course to be pursued in fortifying this vital principle against disease. Enlightened judgement as the result of long experience, and aided by the light of practical science teaches us that the old methods of the medical faculty are not only valueless, but really dangerous, because they value(less, but really dangerous, because they war against the little remaining strength of the invalid and too frequently hurry him into a premature grave. It has been proved a thousand times over that depletion is invaria-bly attended with bad results-sometime fatal but always more or less perilous. It stands to reason that this is so, when we consider how disease meets with less opposition on its corroding march in a system reduced by bleeding, purging, etc. Untold numbers of persons afflicted with intermittent, remittent and other malarious fevers have submitted to this baneful process, and paid a fearful penalty for doing so. But where the opposite course has been adopted, and a generous Tonic like
