THE LANCASTER WICHGIT NUTLIFORNCIBLE WEDNESDAY, OCTUBED OF BOOK

THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY States; a jealousy of the creditor States; and a sense of injury which harms the national credit. This annies distribution of the currency lies at the foundation of much of the feeling in certain sections of our country and institution of the feeling in certain sections. It is no unusual thing to see it stated in the papers of Chicago and other Western cites that currency which rightfully belongs to that currency which rightfully belongs to that extremely which rightfully belongs to that currency have been ussailed far and wide through the part of our rulers. [Applianse,] But the ovil does not stop here. When the currency has been used to place the agricultural products in the markets of the East, and is no longer needed for those purposes, it piles up in yeast volumes in the cities of New Yorkand Boston during the winter months. Those who hold are imputient to have it proflutably sumployed. They invite borrowers to use it for purposes that end in those wild and demogrance. The proceeding procedures the condition of all this denumerations and in a deliberate for the right of the part of the states of the part of the states of the states of the contrive and when the currency has been declaimed against as a great revolutional procedure of the part of the states of the states of the states of the contrive and when the currency has been declaimed against as a great revolutional procedure of the part of the states of the stat took the ground that Congress having viola-ted the Constitution, and that the Presiden-having sworn to maintain the Constitution, moralizing speculations that have done se much to corrupt the morals and destroy the habits of industry, which can alone make a people truly presperous. Not unfrequently it is used again to buy up the been process. The commercial cities; and to put their prices and in the warehouse of our commercial cities; and to put their prices against the laboring poor, the tolling mechanicand the consumer of the East; in this way, too, checking the exportation abroad, and destroying the commerce of our land. (Cheers.) Now, if with wise statesmanship: "near had been used to place this capital where it was needed, the share which would have been given to the Volente States of the Union, and the former have remained idle or have been employed for hurtful purposes. There would always have been use for that capital there which would have promoted prosperity and advanced the healthy enterprises of great and growing communities. This error of our rulers is attended with another great evil. There was no provision made for the South, no care taken to revie her prosperity so that its people might aid in advancing the prosperity of our land. It is for our interest as well as theirs that their pursuits should again be made prosperous. Weighned that this error in the distribution of our currency is cursing our husiness with enrices which the farmer gets for his prosperities which the farmer gets for his prosperity to contain the prices which the farmer gets for his prosperities. zing speculations that have done so such to corrupt the morals and destroy the in advancing the prespectly of our land. It is for our interest as well as their stath trist pursuits should again be made presperous. We find that this error in the distribution of our currency is cursing our business with prices which the farmer gets for his produce, injures our curriers and harms both our domestic and foreign commercer, fine great flagrant national evil should have been corrected; but it has not over received the attention of the party in power (Choera.) There are other great wrongs to which I will briefly allude, and which I will be allude to remain upon the statute books? How and who who believe that they mean what they have all when the greated and purpose of paying the pensioners and any ampressed to high in the marked of the world that purpose of paying the pensioners and form that the public possion of the public should put the nation's credit so high in the marked of the world that the public ordion. They have unsurped that authority to themselves, and declare now that nobody in the South shall be pardoned except by a two-thirds vote of this rump, fragmentary party, known as a Congress. You know what sort of people they extend pardons to: (A voice—"Joe Brown.") I knew that these words would spring to the mouth of levery Democrat. The committee recommend that, inasmuch as the case was brought before Synod by reference and fully heard a year ago, and inasmuch as the case was brought before Synod by reference and fully heard a year ago, and inasmuch as the judgment arrived at by the Synod was that the whole case be referred back to the Presbytery of Northumberland for action as best acquainted with the facts of the case, the appeal and complaint be dismissed without further hearing. The recommendation was not adopted, and the Synod resolved to take up and hear the case to a committee.

Saturday Morning.—Synod met pursuant to adjournment at 0 c'clock, and was opened with prayer by Rev. R. M. Wellace. The members of the Judicial Commission to hear and issue the case of Dr. Isaac Grier and the Presbytery of Northumberland were nominated by the several Presbyteries and appointed as follows:

The unfanished business, Judicial Case No. 4, that of persons calling themselves members of the First Presbyterian Church of Wilmington against the action of the presbytery of New Castle was then resumed, and the Committee to defend the action of the lower judicatory was further heard. Other members of the inferior judicatory were also heard in explanation of braised on the back of the head, and the blood was oczing out of her mouth and nose, but her injuries about the head were not sufficient to cause her death. It is supposed, from the braises, that she fell backwards down stairs, but whether her death was caused by a stroke of apoplexy, or whether her neck was dislocated by the fall, and her death caused by that, is not known. She had been remarkably hearty and active for one of her age.

Proposed Endowment Fund.—The Rrpress states that at the afternoon meeting on last Thursday of the Snyod of the German Reformed Church of the United States, now in session at Hagerstown, Md., the endowment of Franklin and Marshall College, of this city, was under consideration. The learned president of the institution, Dr. J.
W. Nevin, presented its claims very forcibly, and was listened to with deep interest.
All the pastors in the bounds of this synod were requested to devise ways and means to secure one dollar from each member of their congregations. This scheme, if earlied out, would bring into the treasury of the that college $200,000. The amount nimed at is $100,000, and the different; classes are directed to see that the request made be complied with by all the pastors.
