He became separated from the President's party while on the platform after the inauguration, and accosting Mr. Driggs, ex-member of Congress from Michigan, asked him to conduct him out of the Capitol, saying that when he reached the grounds all would be right. Mr. Driggs replied that he would accompany him, and proceeded to conduct him out of the rotunda and through a Drivate way on the east side himself by the side of the wall down the stairs. Just at this time he made a misstap and fell backward down eight or ten stops striking his head against them and badly injuring his right hip, and sustained other damage, but breaking no bones. General inquiry was made as to who the elderly gentlemau was, and when the name of Grant was mentioned it was evident additional interest was excited in his behalf. Mr. Driggs, with assistance, carried him to a private room and procured a stimulant, which was administered to the sufferer, and

There is really nothing new in the aspect of the Stewart difficulty. It is thought, however, that before the close of the day the whole matter will be satisfactorily solved. Mr. Stewart having sent his proposition to transfer his business to trustees, and at the same time having tendered his resignation to the President that the latter may be accepted it the former is not satisfactory. with wait upon the President to-day before the Cabinet meets, so as to receive a final answer.

There is a conflict of opinion among eminent lawyers as to whether the new proposition of Stewart's meets the requirements of the law and removes his disability. Such men as Attorney-General Evarts think it does not, while some of the ablest lawyers in Congress think it does. The impression is, that while doubt exists in Grant's mind he will be inclined to accept Stewart's resignation, notwithstanding a strong desire to keep him in the Cabinet.

President Grant has prepared a message, which will be sent to the Senate immediately, recalling the message of last week, asking the suspension of the act of 1789. It is understood in this connection that the President will accept Mr. Stewart's resignation, on the ground that he is not clear, whether the transfer to the trustees meets the case. The U. S. Supreme Court has recently de and of legal obligation. Buch securities are generally valuable in pro portion to the length of time they have to run.
The longest six per cent, gold interest bonds of the U.S. (the '81's) will be due in eight years and they are worth 112. If they had thirty years to run, they would stand at not less that 25. A perfectly safe First Mortgage Bond like the Union Pacific should approach this rate.

The demand for European investment is already considerable, and on the completion of the work will doubtless carry the price to

SECURITY OF THE BONDS. It needs no argument to show that a First Mortgage of $25,500 per mile upon what for a long time must be the jonly railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States is PER-FECTLY SECURE. The entire amount of the mortgage will be about $30,000,000, and the interest $1,800,000 per annum in gold. The present currency cost of this interest is less than $2,500,900 per annum, while the gross earnings on AN AVERAGE OF LESS THAN 700 MILES OF ROAD IN OPERATION, WERE MORE

FIVE MILLION DOLLARS, The details of which are as follows:
