

Lancaster Intelligencer.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 31, 1869.

The First Month of Grant's Rule.

Nearly a month has elapsed since the inauguration of U. S. Grant as President, and the country has had an opportunity to judge of his fitness for the high office which he has been called to fill. While he was a candidate he hid himself in the obscurity of the remote western town where he was found...

Private Legislation.

There are no more bills in the Pennsylvania Legislature over twelve hundred bills, and the end is not yet. Of all this batch of laws not more than a dozen or so are of any public importance...

Gen. Fisher on Negro Equality.

It often happens that native talents are not properly appreciated, and the history of the world is full of examples of the truth of the Scripture saying...

The Pastings and Folding Swindle.

It seems that we are not done with the pastings and folding swindle yet. The Radical members of the House in their recent design which created for their excitement...

The Radical Method of Declaring Contested Elections.

The Express gets excited over our exposure of the glaring falsehoods which were the result of the Radical method of Philadelphia frauds...

Gen. Fisher's Report on the Philadelphia Election.

The opinion is very extensively entertained that a great mistake was made in the conviction of this man of the murder of Mrs. Hill, many of those who had the testimony of the Philadelphia Police...

An Example to be Established on the part of the Abolitionists.

Many of the ablest men of the present day have felt that the cause of the oppressed was gradually being crushed...

The period for action came speedily and the very first move of the newly made President was a ridiculous and embarrassing blunder. He appointed to the most responsible position in the Cabinet one who was not only unqualified for the office, but who was disqualified by law from acting as Secretary of the Treasury...

It is this private legislation, this granting of valuable privileges to parties who often could not obtain them by the ordinary course of law...

Mr. Fisher, Mr. Speaker, had not intended to trespass upon the time of the Senate with any remarks upon this question, but he has been so much impressed...

The House has passed the clause appropriating money for the payment of the claims which are held by a set of persons who are known as the "claimants"...

The Radicals of Virginia. The Radicals of Virginia have split into two contending factions. The original, Simon-Pure out-and-outers have nominated for Governor a white carpenter...

The Good Time Coming. The N. Y. Tribune exults on the prospect of seeing negroes in Congress in the following jubilant strain:

Defeat of Negro Suffrage in Indiana. When the Democratic members of the Indiana Legislature presented a ratification of the Negro Suffrage Amendment...

The House majority of the Radicals have already voted against the repeal of the Fugitive Slave Law. It is a combination of the Democrats with a minority of the Radicals that seem to have the most influence...

This thing must be remedied. The country is in a state of confusion. The President has been misled by the Radicals...

It has given us pain to prick this splendid rhetorical bubble of the gallant General, but a proper regard for the interests of the style must be given...

The Radicals of Ohio. The Radicals of Ohio have split into two contending factions. The original, Simon-Pure out-and-outers have nominated for Governor a white carpenter...
