

the room to translato. It was a great very outset of the affair, and, strange to are being tied to one spottwice a week texactly the same hour, and I heartily rished Agnes would learn German her-elf. Lessons had been talked of, but that I had seen her before; yet the face was perfectly strange to me. The more I studied it, the more convinced I behore being tied to one shot twice a week the idea had been given up.

"Inchel, dear, I don't think it's any came that I must be hooring under use," my mother had said to me; "she some delusion, there was not a feature hasn't the least talent for !anguages, and though the lesses may not be very expensive, yet you know, my dear (Christmas, when one morning she failed child, all these through make a differ-tent of the number of the number of the number of the number.

when there is anything going on which they are not desired to know, I managed to get up stairs. On the landing I meb Mrs. Cherry, and asked how she was. "Pore young lady; really I don't know whathever is the matter with her," hie said, folding her hands across the front of her portly person. "She's was afraid to go in, so went on to my own room, took off my dress, and putown room, took off my dress, and pu ting on a morning gown, sat down i watch. About half an hour passed an

 A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A
 A <t then a man passed my door, which I had left a little open. He stopped two doors off and went into a room : then 1 strike a note, and the next moment she is burst into tears. There was nothing more to be done that morning by either of them, I plainly saw; as for him, he had been in a vile temper from the beginning. "I am really very sory, Herr Blume," I said, as the door closed after her; "it was entirely my fault for not attending; "The more my single bardly understanded you know my sister hardly understands a word of German."

"That, my fraulein, I know," he an-"That, my fraulein, I know," he an-wered, with awful solemnity, "and I uust, I fear, abandon her, if she can-tient a nudge that would have been amply sufficient to awaken St. Paul's to ettenswered. not learn a little."

not learn a little." To be abandoned by him he seemed to think the most dreadful fate in life. "My tempers," he continued, with through these trials." He never had any to speak of, but I didn't tell him so, thinking hemightn't 'perhaps like it. For a few minutes we both remained silent, he standing in a with the source of the truth of his own state-both remained silent, he standing in a with the source of the truth of his own state-both remained silent, he standing in a with the source of the truth of his own state-both remained silent, he standing in a with the source of the truth of his own state-both remained silent, he standing in a with the sta both remained ellent, he standing in a ment. both remained ellent, he standing in a "Don't you think so?" I asked, inno-Napoleonic attitude, with longer arms and knitted brows, glaring in a malig-ary accent than when he came home. This undisputed possession of the field was perfect bliss to him; he lion-ized her about London, taking her to all sorts of museums and places, which he professed to think it quite necessary that she should see. In my own mind I felt sure it was for the pleasure, pure and simple, of hav-ing such a pretty person under his pro-tection, and entirely dependent on him. I think she liked him, and his boyish admiration. One evening, as she was his arm. His face worked frightfully as she gazed up into into it with beseech-ing eyes, but he turned it from her. 'Happened!' he said, in a loud, harsh voice, shaking her off roughly, 'no, nothing particular. By Heaven, no! nothing to you; I, fool that I have been, have found it more.' dmiration. One evening, as she was talking, or rather gesticulating, to my mother-for their conversation was most cruel things to her. I don't know how she bore it—it was cruel, horrible; if I had been one of those men. I think.

was to meet us. Long before we got to the end of our drive, the windows were so frozen that we could see nothing of the park or in the liked it; it was as if he had been is per studied it; it was as if he had been is pack to us, there was more of his is had ever heard in speaking to her.

in to him gall and wornwood. When she is had been is to him gall and wornwood. When she is had ever heard in speaking to her.
if bay in a half mocking tone; "forgive had in a half mocking tone; "forgive had in a half mocking tone; "forgive has a lators had ever heard in speaking to her.
if bay in a half mocking tone; "forgive has a lators had ever heard in speaking to her.
if bay in a half mocking tone; "forgive has a lators had ever heard in speaking to her.
if bay in a half mocking tone; "forgive has a lators had ever heard in speaking to her.
if bay in a half mocking tone; "forgive has a lators have been in her, she said, "I think he was a in his voice than I had ever heard in speaking to her.
if to basid, in a half mocking tone; "forgive has a lators have been in her she said, that to the veri most that sort of thing."
if to have heard in speaking to her.
if to have heard in speaking to her.
if to basid, in a half mocking tone; "forgive has a lators here.
if to have heard in speaking to her.
if to basid, in a half mocking tone; "forgive has a lators have here may matched at me with a sort of thing."
if to basid in a half mocking tone; "forgive has a lators have here has a lators here.
if to have heard in speaking to her.
if to basid in a half mocking tone; "forgive have here heard in speaking to her.
if to basid in a half mocking tone; "forgive have here heard in speaking to here.
if to have heard in speaking to here.
if to have heard in the based to here, the a sort of thing."
if to have heard in speaking to here.
if to have heard in the sort of thing."
if to have heard in the heard in the heard to have heard in the heard there heard there heard the heard there heare heard there heard there heard ther where the carriage from Cheddington was to meet us. Us, there was more of his presented to applicate to applicate to the seal, and the seal and the