Attorney General Hoar's Opinion. One Weaver, a citizen of Texas, was some time since charged with killing a freedman. He was indicted for murder in the county where he resided, but was afterward handed over to a Military Commission at Houston to be tried. The nestion consequently arose whether the military authorities had any power to take him from the civil power and rebellion to the United States, and is to he treated by military commanders as such. The N. Y. It is to be hoped that Demorratic assessors will do as little as possible of this contemptible work assigned them by the Radical Legislature. We know it is a very naive and simple request to make of the assessors, for most petty officials endeavor to make all the money they can out of their pairry positions, that being the motive in asking for them. This registry law, if carried out in accordance with the intentions of its makers, will cost the Commonwealth not less than five hundred thousand dollars a year; as there is pretty constant work for the assessors from the first day of June until the second Tuesday in October.

But it must be remembered that no want of registry will deprive the cuttzen of his right to vote, provided he conforms to the Constitution of the Commonwealth. That law which the people themselves framed,
