Notes For Datry Farmers.

The following notes are selected from report of the discussion at a late ting of the Little Falls (N. Y.)

The following notes are selected from the report of the discussion at a late meeting of the Little Falls (N, Y.) Farmers' Club: Currying Cocs.-Mr. Whitman gave an instance of a farmer who curried bis cows occasionally through the winter. Their condition was greatly improve by the operation, and they came out looking finely in the pring. He thought looking finely in the pring. He though to collego-as it is, and still more as it may be and ought to be-looms into view. the solution of the model is solution of the first magni-goes should do as much "currying" as possible on their 'own account. He would furnish them with perdeting posts. He would give them a hemlock stock, set in the earth, with projecting imms, and a pole firmly placed on post-them to pass under. Pastare for Couv.-Mr. Willard said it was thought it would take in Herki-two acress of pasturage to feed one cow. In some very fine pasturas marer would suffice. Mr. Van Valkenbergh kept forty-two head on forty-five acress. He
