We appeal to the Democrats of the rural districts of Lancaster for what may be the last time before the all important election which takes place on Tuesday next.

The campaign is almost at an end Less than a week remains for the completion of the great work before you; but, short as the time is, it is long of the credit will be due to conscientious order that he may be able to make a enough for energetic men to accomplish all that remains to be done.

The time for argument is past. What is needed now is active, energetic work, so directed as to insure a full poll of the Democratic vote in every election district.

Have a complete list of the Democratic voters in your district made out, if not already done, and have a pertered.' fectly reliable man to take charge of it at the window, who will check off the name of every Democrat as he votes. Let it be generally understood that all reliable Democrats are expected to vote early in the day. That will enable you to tell who are absent and to and the announcement of their candi send for them early in the afternoon. Take plenty of teams to the polls, so that not a vote shall be lost which can be secured. Work as becomes freemen ! Work as charter amended two or three times the gallant and indomitable Democracy | each winter for several years past. So | of Lancaster county have heretofore done; and you will do your full share in securing the great victory which we believe is surely to come with the setting of next Tuesday's sun. Remember that with a full poll of the Democratic vote, Packer and Pershing will certainly be triumphantly elected. They can only be beaten by the most inexcusable apathy in our ranks. Work then, and make the victory sure, the triumph overwhelming ! our Next Issue.

The Interest on the State Debt. During the years of Democratic rule n Penusylvania, the Commonwealth paid 41 and 5 per cent. interest on its loans. These rates were maintained until 1867, when on the recommendation of Gov. Geary and State Treasurer Kemble, a new loan was negotiated to replace the old, and this new loan was made at 6 per cent, interest. Now, there mentary proclamation did not help Co-rode, though he appended the broad seal of the Commonwealth to what was in reality only a private letter, and the arts of petty rascality which Covode has systematically practiced on a small scale, it is now discovered, cannot save (Geary from an overwhelming defeat.-Covode sees that Packer is bound to be elected, unless some desperate means are at once resorted to. THE CASE OF HENRY SENIOR. When John W. Geary first assumed the duties of the executive office, he announced to the people of the State, in a proclamatory paper published in all the journals of his party from the Delaware to Lake Eric, that he would grant pardons only on certain conditions. The public breathed freer as this announcement came to their knowl-edge, and the friends of law and order were greatly encouraged. The requirements named in this pronunciamento as neceshamed in this pronunciamento as neces-sary to the securing of pardons, were really such as gave hope to those who longed for the approach of that better era in the ad-ministration of our State government, which should be distinguished by the rigid en-forcement of the penal code and a special care for the good order of society.
