Treasury, and requesting infor-mation as to their genuineness, has been received. After personal examination I .ubmitted the coins to our Assayer for a definite assay and report. I herewith en-close the report of Mr. Eckfeldt, the Ar-sayer, which confirms the judgment I had formed of the coins. Four are genuine, and four are counterfeit. In addition to what Mr. Eckfeldt thas said, I may say, as a further test, you will find the motto "In God we trust," a good deal larger in the counterfeit than in the genuine. The yel-low color of the counterfeit, will also afford some test, &c. This appearance is caused by the presence of zinc, which is not in the genuine. I have retained one of the coun-terfeits. The minority icels compell-ed to say also that the methods, of making purchases in the printing department, the methods of paying wages and keeping ac-ounts thereof in the bindery, and the methods of checking invoices of goods re-oelved, have been defective, and likely, therefore, to lead to losses.
