He stands in all the pride of pure merely to personal unpopularity. game blood, and his exultant notes pro-claim the dawn of a brighter political found in a prevailing dissatisfaction day.

The Besult in the County.

In spite of all the obstacles it enco tered, the "mule ticket" proved to be a rst class team. If it had enjoyed the advantage of an even start, it would have won the race. The majority of O. J. Dickey has been reduced more than one-half, and a little more vigorous work would have wiped it out entirely. Republicans who supported Adam K. Witmer, for Congress, will not fall back into the habit of voting for any candidates who may be set up by the ring masters. They are a pow er in Lancaster county, to-day, and will make themselves felt hereafter.

The Election in this City.

The election in this City passed off very quietly on Tuesday. The vote polled was not a full one. The Republicans turned out better than the Democrats. Every negro eagerly availed himself of the privilege of voting. The white bummers of the Radical party in some instances walked up arm-inarm with the greasiest and filthiest specimens of the African race. In the Ninth Ward the whole Republican Council Ticket would have been defeated but for the negro vote. The Radical politicians put themselves on a per fect equality with the blacks. The friends of O. J. Dickey were o fering to bet throughout the day that he would carry the city, but the returns tell a very different story.

art, of Fayette, the cotemporary in Congress of James Buchanan, Henry Clay, and the great men who made that body illustrious half a century ago. Instead of a meagre minority of six in Congress the Democrats of Pennsylvania can now hoast of having elected ten straight-out Democrats, and one Independent Republican. That is a result of which we may well be proud, The legislative contest proved to be almost equally disastrous to the Radij cals. One by one the corrupt and yena " roosters and pinchers " fell before the blows of the sturdy yeomanry of Pennsylvania, until a majority of one in the Senate and a beggarly half-dozen in the Senate and a beggarly half-dozen in the House was all that was left.
