against Jay Cooke & Co., bankers, for the recovery of eighteen $1,000 seven-thirty Transury notes, which notes, after pay-ment by the Transury Department, were found, as is alleged, to be counterfeit. The total chained to be thus paid amounts to 530,000; the action in the present case be-ing for the recovery of eighteen notes, pre-sented by the defendants, Jay Cooke Co., Among the other parties against whoin similar actions are pending are Vermilyea 4 Co., of Boston. The facts are that the seventy-thirty notes in question were presented to the Sub-Trensury at New York and accepted, and paid. The notes sevenity-thirty more in spaces are specified to the Sub-Treessury at New York and accepted, and paid. The notes were some after transmitted to the Department at Washington, and were found to be counterfeits. All the spurious notes were found to the Nub-Treasurer, who demanded restitution on the part of the Gov erument. The defendants with the other bankers, refused to make restitution. The Government, in answer to this, controls that the Sub-Treas-ury at New York, is merely an agency es-tablished there for the convenience of busi-ness, and that an acceptance by the Sub-Treasury of these particular notes, and pay-ment thereof, cannot be considered a final parlament of the for a first accounter of a until after examination at edemption Washington they receive final cancellation redenption until after examination at Washington they receive final cancellation at the Treasury Department. If as assert-ed by the defence, it was a mere contract between these defendants and the Sub-Treasury, the very discovery that the notes were fraudulent acted as a repeal to the contract, inastinuch as there was no consideration. Judge Blanchford, after a patient hearing of argument, de-cided the question as to the liability of the defendants, saving that inas-much as the United States Sub-Treasury or the Treasury Department itself had no right to take any but good notes, the con-tract must be null and void, that the de-fendants, in presenting these notes to the Sub-Treasury, represented that they were genuine notes, and accepting that represen-tation the Sub-Treasury had poid the iev of the Government upon them. The money of the covernment upon them. The next question which is still in dispute is whether the notes are really gemine or spurious notes, and this will be determined before a jury at one or Philodelphot Ledger. Political Troubles in Pennsylvanla... Republicanism in Danger.

Political Troubles in Pennsylvania-Republication in Danger. The skrewdest among the Pennsylvania politicians, it is believed, are averse to the appointment of a resident of that State to a Cabinet office. If there were any vacancies among the President's advisors it might be reasonable to discuss the political pro-priety of restoring to the Keystone State a Cabinet office; but that is not the way the subject is talked of. It seems to be the comion of knowing ones that the President is really to make a vacancy when the Penn-sylvanians shall decide upon the man. -Western Pennsylvania Republican to en-dorse the policy of the venerable Scena-tor Cameron's influence, and refuses to en-dorse the policy of the venerable Scenator. Eastern Pennsylvania Republicans do not bilievo it to be good policy to cause disaf-fection in the ranks of the party; and, white all admit and realize that is oncething must he down to keep the State intext dur-ing the next two years, the way is not so elear. The number of voting pre-incets in the State is as great as the univerty of the clear. The number of voting pressures in the State is as great as the majority of the party, or 15,000 precincts altogether, and the tendency scenis to be toward decreasing the tendency scenasts botoward docretsing that majority—that is, in the opinion of the knowing ones. The President has been warned that the loss of a single Republican vote at each precinct throughout the State, will lose the electoral vote of Pennsylvania for the Republican nominee for the Presi-dency in 1872. It is generally conceded that the only thing that can be done is to give the office of Commissioner of Internal Comments the science of the result. That the only uning that etc is a wave scale give the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue to the present Acting Commis-sioner, J. W. Douglass, and trust to the wisdom of shrewd management to hold the State within the party at the next election. Senator Cameron is credited with having said that it was the greatest misfortune that more Republicans were not defeated for Congress at the recent election. A large representation without any influence with this administration would have the tenden-w to site up the authorite and bring out the y to stir up the apathetic and bring out the antire Republican vote in 1872,—N, Y, Her ut the
