A West Virginia Tragedy.

A west virginin triged). (From the Wheeling (w. Va.) Register, July 4 (On last Fraday afternoon there was en-acted, mear Central Station, Doddridge county, the last scene of a terribletragedy, Noah James, Esq., member of the West Virginia Legislature in D68, and a man of alth and influence in his neighborhood weath and influence in his neighborhood, having committed suicida to escape the the penalty of the law. The particulars of the crime are as follows: Last March a man enancel Rogers, for-merly living on the edge of Tyler county, was found lying dead in the woods near his own house. He had received a bullet wound in his plotomen, and another in the word, in the red witch would have proved yound in his abdomen, and another in the teck, neither of which would have proved atal. By various circumstances suspicion was directed against Isaac Owens, a desper which interfet against teste oversit, interpot-ado in the neighborhood, who was then un-der indictment in Ty her county on thochurge ot having burned property of the mur-dornd Rogors. Owens was arrested on the charge of murder. The evidence was halady circumstantial, but was sufficiently conclusive as to his guilt. He was convicted on the 29th of April last, and a few days ed on the 20th of A pril last, and a few days later sentenced to imprisonment in the Ponitonitary for life. Soon after Owens' ar-rest some suspicion of complicity in the murdler of Bogers was directed against Noah James. There was a long standing and bitter fend between the men; they had had several lawsuits, and James had been heard to say that Regers ought to be shot. If p to the time of his arrival at the Peni-t-phary, Owens had preserved a stubborn silonce with regard to the nurder. A few days after his incarceration, however, he made a full and circumstantial contession made a full and circumstantial contession of the erime. He stated that on several occasions Noah James had said that Regars ought to be shot; that on Friday, March 10, he was en-gaged, in company with his son, in grab-bing a field for Mr. James, when the latter came to him in the field, took him a short distance apart from his work, had a long take with him about Regars, and offered to give him $25 if he would keep Regars from appearing against him (James) ha a case then pending in the Doddridge Coun-ty Court; that he objected to the proposi-tion at first, hut"James then offered to give him $25 and lend him $50 more if he would kH Regars. Furthermore, James agreed him song powder, lead and caps, him gos him some time roots, James agreed to got him some powder, lead and caps, and promised that if he was arreated he (James) would take care of his family, go ins buil, get him lawyers, pay his witnesses and swear him out of the scrape, and final-ly agreed that he would himself assist in the contemplated murder. Owens con-sonted.

onted. - On Wednesday, March 15, Owens was re ting from the r Rogers coming along the road on lifs way home. Hastening home as rapidly as pos-dble, Owens went over to Noah James and told him that Rogers was coming along the path toward his toose, when they immedi-ately hastoned to the woods and placed themselves in ambush to await the arrival of Rogers. Noah James fired the first shot themselves in amount of Rogers. Noah James fired the first snot of Rogers. Noah James fired the first snot from his rifle, the ball taking effect in Roghe path and started to run. Owens then ired his pistol, the bull taking effect under fired his pistol, the ball taking effect under Roger's right jaw, when balamined at by foil, and has few moments died. After Owens's arrest and some surplises of James's com-plicity in the crimic began to be circu-lated, the latter refused to have anything to do with Owens, to furnish him any money or give him any assistance what-over; on the contrary, turnished some ev-idence against him at the trial. But he failed to put to rest the suspicions that had been circulated concerning him in the neighborhood, Public opinion had been neighborhood. Public opinion had been aroused, one circumstance after another earns to light, all trending to weave a web of guilt about the unhappy man. At length it was thought that sufficient evidence had been found to anthorize his arrestas an ac-cessory to the nurder of Regers, and on hast Saturday the warrant was to be served. On last Friday, Noah James, who lived about two miles from Contral Station, ate yory little dinnor, and complained of feel-ing unwell. Soon after dinner he took his gun and proceeded up a little run that llows through a ravine near his house. He had only been absent a few minutes when his wife heard the report of the gun, and sent one of the children to see what had been shot.
