SALESMANSHIP COURSE IS PLANNED FOR GIRLS

New Branch in Practical Instruction to Be Inaugurated at William Penn High School.

Preparations for the inauguration of a course in practical salesmanship for girls at the William Penn High School are now under way; and it is expected that class work will begin next week. In making this announcement, yesterday, Associate Superintendent of Schools George Wheeler said that more than 49 young women had already signified their desire to enroll in Miss Evelyn Drayton, who have been spending the new course, but that the difficulty of enthe summer with Mr. Drayton's parents, Mr. , gaging a capable teacher to conduct it was and Mrs. Henry Edward Drayton, at Rocks the problem still confronting the Department

This is a new branch with us, and it requires a person to direct it who is not only thoroughly acquainted with the subject of salesmanship, but who possesses teaching ability as well. However, we expect to have a competent Serson engaged within the course

"Two of our great department stores, Wanamaker's and Gimbel's, have offered their cooperation in the new enterprise, and I understand that others will follow. The new course will not detract from the general academic training given each pupil at the William Penn As the nirls in the commercial course devotetheir afternoons to practical work at taking dictation, so the salesmanship classes will take up regular work in the department stores. This work, for which the stores will pay them. will be done under the supervision of the Inof Mrs. Charles M. Camm at 196 Gowers structor, and the theoretic side of the subject will be taught at the school."

Merchants are most enthusiastic in expressing faith in the new course, Doctor Wheeler said. as there is always a need of well-trained comfamily have returned to their home on Lyceum | petent raleswomen. In time, he did ed, the course would probably be so extended that a staff of several teachers would be required. Two years will be devoted to the salesmanning course; all girls eligible for the commercial course are also free to take up salesmanship.

"We expect a rapid increase in the number of girls destrous of taking up salesmanship." said Doctor Wheeler, "because there are really wider and better opportunities in this men than in the overcrowded one of stemographyand general office work."
