ERIN'S BRAVE SONS

AT BAYONET POINT

LONDON, Sept. 19,-Describing the four days' battles around Mons, a wounded noncommissioned officer says that the wonder was that the British troops came out of it as well as they did. Referring to the retreat of the British and the loss of some heavy guns, he said:

Halted out in the open, with weak infantry supports doing their best to stay the onward rush of the bluish gray clouds of Germans, the artil-lerymen suffered terribly. German marksmen picked off the horses one by one, and then when the German cavalry swooped down the men could not get the guns away. In one case not get the guns away. In one case, where the German Lancers swooped down and killed the last man of our battery, the situation was saved by a couple of companies of an Irish Fus, ilier battalion-the Munsters, I think -who rushed at the Germans with fixed bayonets and put them to flight, while the enemy's artillery poured a merciless fire on them. Many of the Germans around the battery were killed, and, of course, the losses of killed, and, of course, the losses of our men were not light. The Fusiliers were furious when orders came that they were to aban-don the guns, as no horses were available. You could see them cast-ing loving eyes on those guns all the rest of the day, and at night when the time came to fail back the poor devils were dragging the guns with them, having captured a few German them, having captured a few German horses and supplemented them by men who were willing to become beasts of burden for the time.

Glowing accounts of the beroism of the inferent Irish regiments are supplied to the newspaper correspondents at the front and the consensus of opinion is that the home rule bill just conceded police station today, has had another fall. them has been richly deserved. # JEWISH NEW YEAR BEGINS TOMORROW AT THE SET OF SUN

Day of Rejoicing as Well as of Fervent Prayer for Welfare of Family and Friends.

Devout Jews throughout the world are preparing today for the Jewish New Year, or the Feast of Rosh Hashanah which begins tomorrow at sundown and ends on sundown Monday.

This year, in addition to offering prayers for the safety of loved ones here, a fervant prayer will be offered for the safety of those who are in war-ridden Europe

There will be happiness and sorrow is the messages borne to every Javia the messages borne to every Javia household today on the New Year card, and the postman, especially in the Ghetto, will be anxiously awaited. It is possible, too, that the conflict across the sea will figure largely in the messages. On account of the toll of war there are many here waiting with war there are many here waiting will much foreboding for greetings which

It will not be necessary for carrier to ring the bell or knock at door of the homes in the Ghetto. too long for the eve of the New Year. Those loved ones abroad who do not write at any other time never forget to end greetings today.

When the evening star makes its apwhen the evening star makes its ap-pearance in the heavens tomorrow, thus marking the beginning of the worship, those who did not receive the customary annual greeting will lift their eyes to-ward heaven and invoke the divine Providence to protect those who have per their last messages. The Postoffice force is working over time so that the mail may be distributed before the advent (according to the Jew-ish calendar) of the year 5675.

Tomorrow night at sundown, in accord-nce with an old Jewish custom, the beloved Jewish grandfather or the older member of the family bleases the rest of the family before leaving for the syn-agogue. This custom is observed in every orthodox home throughout the world. At the synagogue all will kneel in prayer, giving thanks for gifts of the last year and asking divine blessing for the engaing year. The observance of the Jewish New Year as a holy season is commanded in two passages of the Five Books of Moses. In neither passage is there any specific command as to how the day is to be observed second the injunctions to blow the trum-set, to hold a hely convocation and to engage in no servile occupation. The day is the first of the seventh month or the day of the new moon of that month. The new moon was observed as hold season by the Jews of old; the sevent nonth was a particularly holy month, e the seventh day was the holy day of the week. The new moon of the seventh month was therefore invested with a significance of far holler import than the other new moon days of the year. The injunction to blow the trumpet on this day ways to call the people to remem-
