WOMAN STAYS IN HOLE TO KEEP ELECTRIC POLE OUT

Workmen Cannot Move Her, So Courts Will Decide Issue. Will the Pennsylvania Railroad Company place an ugly old post on her property? They will not, if Mrs. B. Pellicoff has anything to say about it. That is why she is established in a new post hole, dug by the employees of the company, and she does not intend to get out until they have departed. Will the policemen kindly make the lady get out of the hole, so that the men may go on with their work? Certainly not! The hole is on her property, and she has a right to stay there if she wants to, and she does want to, so that's all there is to it.

This is the situation which is holding a crowd of spectators at Twelfth and Atlantic avenues, where the Pennsylvania Railroad is erecting poles necessary to the completion of a stretch of electrified railroad. The company believes that it owns the land upon which the poles are to be erected, and Mrs. Pellicoff believes that her husband owns a particular piece of land upon which the company has designs.

Mrs. Pellicoff is sitting in the hole; she has had her lunch and says that she is looking forward to enjoying a nice chicken supper tonight. Of course it is rather awkward. In having the food brought out to her, but then it isn't so bad when you consider what would happen if she got out. The employees of the railroad say that Mrs. Pellicoff can sit there, if she feels that way about it, until the courts have decided who owns the land. They have tried every possible means to dislodge her and are now resigned to a judicial settlement of the affair.

THIEVES ON MONTHLY VISIT

Third Call on Optical Goods' Store on Schedule Time. The regular monthly visit of the unrepentant thieves who rob the optical supply store of A. H. Harrison, 250 Germantown avenue, took place early this morning. A large number of glasses and optical supplies were stolen, just why the thieves slung out the optician's place each month is a matter of conjecture. By way of novelty, the intruders entered this time through the rear window. When they called in July they gained entrance through a front cellar window, while in August was made through a side window leading from the yard. The police believe that the thieves are students.

UNDERWOOD BRINGS WAR TAX MEASURE BEFORE THE HOUSE

Liquors, Amusements and Fuel for Motors Bear Brunt of Levy—Close Imitation of Spanish War Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The Administration's emergency war tax bill was introduced in the House today by Representative Underwood, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

The bill is a close imitation of the Spanish war tax of 1898 except for the tax on beer, wine and gasoline. The stamp tax on checks is not included in the present bill. The telephone and telegraph companies are to keep account of their taxable messages and remit for them.

The principal taxes will be levied on beer, domestic sweet wines and dry wines; gasoline and naphtha and other products used in motors. Amusements will be taxed in cities of more than 5000 where theatres will be taxed $100. This includes moving picture houses.

The bill has a provision whereby retail cigar dealers will be taxed $4.50. Bonds of the United States or those of any State, county or town are exempt from taxation. Bonds and stocks of cooperative building and loan associations with a capital stock of not more than $10,000, and building and loan associations making loans only to shareholders are exempt. The taxes under the so-called "stamp tax" section of the bill, borrowed largely from the Spanish war bill, are:

Bonds, 5 cents for each $100 or fraction; stock certificates, 5 cents per $100; bills of sale on stock and bond transfers, 2 cents per $100 or fraction. Promissory notes, 2 cents per $100.

Express and freight receipts and bills of lading, 1 cent each. Indemnity bonds, 50 cents; certificates of profit, 2 cents per $100; certificates of damage, 25 cents; other certificates, 10 cents; contracts of all kinds, 10 cents; deeds and conveyances, 50 cents for first $100 to $500; each additional $500 an additional 50 cents; entry of goods at Customs House, 25 cents to $1; entry for withdrawal, 50 cents.

Life insurance, 5 cents on each $1000. Life insurance policies on weekly payment basis, 40 per cent. of amount of first weekly premium.

Marine, inland and fire insurance, one-half of 1 per cent. on each dollar or fractional part; mutual and purely cooperative fire insurance companies exempt. Fidelity, casualty and guaranty insurance one-half of one cent on each dollar.

Mortgages on real and personal property of all kinds, 25 cents if above $1000 and not above $1500, and 25 cents on each $500 above $1500.

Passage tickets on vessels leaving United States ports, 41 if costing more than $20, 33 if costing between $20 and $50, and 25 if more than $50.

Power of attorney and proxies, 10 cents; power of attorney to sell real estate, 25 cents; power of attorney to sell personal property, 25 cents; power of attorney to sell real estate, 25 cents; power of attorney to sell personal property, 25 cents.

CHAUFFEUR THREATENS HIS EMPLOYER'S LIFE

Man's Mind May Be Unbalanced Magistrate Thinks. Charged with threatening to kill his employer, John Barry, of Merchantville, N. J., is being held by Justice of the Peace Longstreth, who will investigate the man's sanity.

Barry was employed as a stable hand by Isaac Ferris, Jr., president and treasurer of the Isaac Ferris, Jr., Company, a shoe manufacturing concern of Camden, in Ferris' Merchantville home. It is alleged that Barry had threatened to kill his employer several times, and that last night he came up to the house and began destroying property, breaking two large windows. Ferris, fearing the man might try to carry out his threats of murder, caused his arrest.

JEWES CELEBRATE HOLIDAY

Synagogues Thronged With Worshippers to Hear Sermons. Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year's Day, was ushered in last night in every Jewish household in the city, and by special religious observances in all the synagogues. Today is the first day of the holiday, which will last until sunset tomorrow and will inaugurate the fall cycle of Jewish holidays. The synagogues were thronged with worshippers last night, and special sermons were preached at all the temples.

Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf preached his first sermon at Keneseth Israel, Broad street and Montgomery avenue, since his return from the European war zone. His subject was "The Failure of Our Civilization." He arraigned bitterly the Christian nations of Europe, and said that the peoples of Europe, in entering upon the bloodiest combat of history, have dealt a death blow to the structure of Christianity. The sermons in all the other synagogues were along the same line.

Rosh Hashana is followed in ten days by "Yom Kippur," the Day of Atonement, which in turn is followed, five days later, by "Succoth," the Feast of the Tabernacles.
