A State-wide prohibition and a modified a state-wise prohibition and a modified single tax system are advocated as planks in the platform. The latter plank was drafted by Francis I. duPont, of the duPont family of powder-makers, of Wilmington. The Progressives also favor a suffrage plank, which has been drafted and may be incorporated into the platform. Suffragists failed to persuade Republicans and Democrats to support equal franchise in the party platforms. This is also the first time that any party has come out openly for State-wide prohibition, and shows that the Progressives are seeking the temperance rotes, with both the Democrats and Re-publicans nominating "wet" Legislative

WOMEN STAND FAST IN POST HOLES IN BATTLE OF CAMDEN

Attack by Workmen on Entrenched Position of B. Pellicoff Resisted Aroused Garrison.

All of the war news does not come from Europe, some of it comes from Camden, where the clan of Pellicoff is staunchly resisting the overwhelming forces of the Pennsylvania Railroad in a war over property rights. Latest advices from the front show that the railroad achieved a slight advantage last night when they stormed the Pellicoff's intrenched position in a series of postholes, captured it and erected a strong fortification of posts in the enemy's territory. They did not follow up their advantage, however, and it is said that although both sides are guard-ing against offensive movements, mediation by the courts will finally be resorted to to settle the battle.

The Pellicoff forces are under the command of B. Pellicoff. He is ably as-sisted by B. Pellicoff, Jr.: Mrs. Fanny Bell and Miss Ethel Pellicoff, daughters of B. Pellicoff, while effective scout duty is being done by the commander's son-in-law and nephew. The rank and file of the Pellicoff forces is composed of employes of the Pellicoff coal yard, at Twelfth street and Atlantic avenue, which was attacked by a host of Pennsylvania Railroad workmen, who stole a march on their opponent at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, attacked the Pellioff office and torthree feet from the end of the building, which, they said, encroached on the rail-road property. The concrete blocks were replaced with a wooden partition by the attacking party.

BOMBARDMENT AWAKENS

The first warning of the enemy's advance received by the clan of Pellicoff was when Mrs. Fanny Bell, who lives next to the coal yard, was awkaened by the sound of the walls of the fortress falling under the violent bombardment tions to Bosses' Program of the railroad's siedges. She quickly notified her husband of the attack and then telephoned to B. Pellicoff, whose headquarters are at 1434 Princess avenue. The latter effected a rapid mobilization of his forces, but arrived on the scene too late to save the main fortress, the

WOMEN HOLD THE FORT.

Mrs. Fanny Bell was assigned to occupy one post-hole which had been dug by the enemy preparatory to the erection of a fence, while her sister, Miss Ethel Pellicoff, was placed in another. From these strongly intrenched positions the women successfully resisted the altack of the invaders all day long. Their line of supply was kept open by privates of the Pellicoff forces, who brought meals to them at noon and again at night. Finally, however, the attack became too heavy, and, after an all-day vigil, in which B. Pellicoff and the other members of his staff allege they received rough handling, the railroad's forces dislodged them from their position and erected the posts and a portion of a tenfoot fence.

Republican Organization sponsors of the new court's expansion plans have slated the ordinance for passage in the Select The Pellicoffs, however, were not dis neartened by this temporary setback. They rallied and put up such stiff oppo-sition to the enemy's advance that they finally abandoned the attack, and it is Mayor Blankenburg has sent a personal etter to every member of Select Council, outlining his objections to the plan made rumored that they will gratefully accept any offers of mediation made by the public recently by Judge Brown, of the Municipal Court, for elaborate structures courts.

He also indicates that the project cortised by Judge Brown includes acquisition of virtually an entire city block inour property. The men began tearing the end of the office down on Monday morning before it was light, but it didn't take us long to get out there and show them that they couldn't do that sort of thing with us."

READING OFFICIALS PLANNING TO RID TUNNEL OF GASES

Working Now on Project to Impetus Already Felt in In-Blow Deadly Fumes Out to Prevent Repetition of Phoenixville Accident.

Officials of the Philadelphia and Readng Railway, when asked today what action would be taken by the management to prevent a recurrence of the accident in the Black Rock tunnel, near Phoenixville, yesterday, in which three persons were killed, two being asphyxiated by coal gas in the tunnel, would make no reply. It was learned from other sources, however, that experts of the company are making an investigation into means which can be adopted so that accidents of this sort will be impossible in the future.

Other railroads throughout the country which have long tunnels on their rightof-way have placed large blowers in them which keep them clear of all gas, or at least keep it down to a minimum, so that if a train becomes stailed in the tunnel passengers will be in no danger of as-phyxiation.

NEW EPOCH HERE AS ARMY OF MEN BEGIN WORK ON SHIPWAYS

dustrial Fields - Drydock at League Island Now Nearer Realization.

An army of men were put to work today at the Philadelphia Navy Yard to erect the shipways for which Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Director of the Department of Wharves, Docks and Ferries broke ground yesterday. It is expected the shipways will be completed in several months, and then the keel of the new transport will be laid immediately,

The start of the shipways has given as impetus to industrial fields. It means the employment of carpenters, machinists, shipwrights and a bost of other skilled laborers, to say nothing of the unwikilled laborers benefiting by the decigion of the Navy Department to build Federal ships at the League Island yard. All were jubilant today, and those employed on the work struggled manfully under a glaring sun to prove that Secretary Daniels was not wrong when he said the best skilled laborers of the country could be found in this city.

Shipping men also expressed their unanimous approval of the project and said that in addition to the work given workmen of this city the navy yard has received a wonderful boom in the transition from a repair to a shipbuilding yard. This is regarded as an opening wedge in the fight for the 1700-foot drydock, since a shippard without a drydock is greatly handicapped. After a ship is completed on the ways and launched it is essential that she be placed in a drydock for a complete over-that the nation's greatest era of pres-perity is about to dawn.

Speaking at a banquet of the Illinois Life Insurance Company last night, Dawes pointed to the great crops, the new fed-eral banking system, what he called a "natural reaction from the 1913 crists," and the accelerating force of the Euro-pean war, as factors bound to make for prosperity.

There is no reason to doubt that the United States is at the beginning of a great era of prosperity," said Dawes, "provided—and I want to refer to that "provided—and I want to refer to that which is perhaps the most important thing for all of us to consider—that that quiet, anxious, bereaved and great man.
